If the new system is passed on favorably by the voters at the annual meeting, work installing the plant will be started at once. The plant wil be in a separate building from the school structure, but the building will not be large enough to prevent the erection of another school house on the Park place side of the property, should that become necesary. The plans of the proposed system were prepared by Edgar Serrell.

ORDINANCES OPENING UP LIGHT STREETS PASSED

The several ordinances providing for the opening up of Manson place, McDowell, Halsey, Bergen streets, Lenox, Cameron avenues and Laramie road were passed on final reading at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, after public hearings were granted. No one appeared to speak for or against the proposed improvements. In the case of Lenox avenue, Cameron avenue and Laramie road the grades of those thoroughfares will be established.

Sometime ago, the New York Telephone Company communicated with the Common Council requesting that the city take over several poles which will carry fire-alarm wires. Last night, upon the advice of Acting Corporation Counsel Harry C. Runyon, the Council voted to take charge of the poles.

Councilman Duncan W. Taylor, chairman of the fire and building committee, offered a resolution, which was adopted, authorizing the committee to purchase a 30 horse-power automobile for the use of the chief of the fire department at an expense not to exceed $900. It is understood that the car at present used by the chief is to be turned in on the deal as in the first instance. The committee will buy a roadster, as previously announced, and the new car will be so arranged with a box on the rear that it will be possible to carry extinguishers, rubber boots, coats, etc. The Council adjourned to meet on Monday night, March 18. The arrangement for the meeting was made to take care of anything that might come up in connection with the water or sewer questions.

—Only five days more and the present location of The Paris closes its doors to go to its new store.

STORE AND APARTMENTS FOR EAST SECOND ST.

The refusal of the Common Council to renew the Findlay license and the subsequent closing up of the East Second street saloon, will shortly result in a desired building improvement in that locality. E. S. Alpaugh, of East Ninth street, who owns the large vacant lot directly opposite the former cafe, stated today that he will shortly begin the erection of a store and dwelling block, a project he has had under consideration for several years but which he deferred because of the proximity of the drinking place. It was pointed out that it would have a tendency to place a ban on high class apartments and might influence the tone of the business places.

These obstacles are now removed and Mr. Alpaugh is completing plans for the kind of structure to be erected. It will probably be three stories, with stores on the ground floor and flats above. Work will be started either late in the spring or early in summer. The lot has a frontage of sixty feet and a depth of 100.

GREAT BLIZZARD WAS 24 YEARS AGO TODAY

When snow began falling late last night, the more timid of the older residents began to fear lest the blizzard of March 12, 1888, was to be repeated. On the afternoon of March 11 that year there was a downpour of rain which later turned to snow and was accompanied by a gale that leveled trees, tore roofs from buildings about the city and piled the snow in drifts more than twenty feet high in some sections of the city, before the storm abated late the following day.

All communication in and out of the city was cut off. Trains were stalled all along the Central Railroad from Easton to Jersey City. More then 500 Plainfielders were obliged to remain in Elizabeth several nights, seeking shelter in churches and other buildings thrown open to them.

The late Peter A. Emmons and T. H. Pittis walked to this city from New York, which they had reached on the first train out of here on the morning of March 12. Many commuters leaving on later trains walked back to Plainfield from all points along the Central Railroad, where the trains were snowbound. Those who remained in the cars suffered intensely with the cold and had nothing to eat for nearly three days.

It was several weeks before business in all branches was fully resumed and in many instances the effect of the blizzard did not disappear for several months. Those who were in reminiscent mood today have been relating stories of the storm and say that while the weather is bad it is much preferable to that of twenty-four years ago.

KEEN INTEREST IN SCHOOL ELECTION

Coming District Meeting in Boro One of the Most Important in Years.

FOUR SEATS TO BE FILLED

And $18,000 Bond Issue to Be Voted On—E. A. Overton, Trustee For 11 Years, Doubtful Whether He Wants Re-election.

This year's annual meeting of the North Plainfield school district is in several respects one of the most important held in a number of years, and interest among the voters is correspondingly great. In addition to the election of four trustees the voters will be obliged to pass upon the installation of a ventilating and heating plant that will require an $18,000 bond issue.

The four members whose terms expire are Hiram A. Woodruff; Charles I. Nash, serving the unexpired term of Rev. George A. Warner; E. A. Overton, elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Nelson A. Miller, and Francis L. Sill, who has been a member of the board only since the first of the year, when Mr. Rushmore resigned on account of his election to the Borough Council. Three members will be elected for three years and one for two years.

All of the trustees whose terms expire, with the exception of Mr. Overton, have signified their willingness to stand for re-election. Mr. Overton said to a Press reporter last night that in view of his having previously served the borough as a school trustee for eleven years, he did not know whether he would care to stand for re-election or not. He had been asked regarding his candidacy by a number of friends, but up until today had not given a definite answer.

HER IMPERSONATIONS DELIGHTED AUDIENCE

Miss Marian Wilson, of New York, delighted a small, but appreciative audience with a number of character sketches at the Park Club, last night. The entertainment was worthy of generous patronage and those present felt well repaid for being present. Among the best sketches given by Miss Wilson was "A Romance," of the colonial period; "The Bootblack," which his criticism of a play he had seen, and one entitled "Po' White Trash."

The impersonation of Mrs. Abraham Lincoln was received with much interest. Miss Wilson also impersonated other well-known characters. The affair was under the auspices of the entertainment committee of the club. The next social event at the club will be the Easter dance on Tuesday night, April 9.

THIS CLUB'S OBJECT IS TO SAVE MONEY

There is about to be established in Plainfield a club in which everyone is eligible for membership and the benefits of which are open to all. It is to be called the Christmas Savings Club and its headquarters will be at The Plainfield Trust Company. The object of the club is to provide a simple and systematic method of saving money for Christmas, and this object will certainly appeal to everyone who realizes the joy of giving but whose generous impulses are often checked by a scarcity of funds.

Members may be enrolled on and after April 1. The plan will be fully explained in these columns before that date and further particulars will be furnished by The Plainfield Trust Company.

Dress Rehearsal Tonight.

Those who take part in "The Old Country Skewl," to be given by the Philathea Junior and Baraca Junior classes of the Temple Baptist church, at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night, will have a dress rehearsal tonight. In addition there will be a thirty minute sketch, "Fun in a Wig Makers' Shop," written by William Richards, which will be presented by Miss Tryphena Mattox, Charles Mumford and George Simon. A flashlight picture of the group will be taken tonight.

For Trackless Trolleys.

Trenton, Morch 12 (Special)—Senator Smalley, of Somerset, introduced in the Senate last night a new bill to provide trackless trolleys. His former bill on the same subject has been withdrawn, as there was objection to some of its provisions, and the new measure will take its place.

PASS BILL EFFECTING COUNTY SCHOOL SUP'TS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 12.—In the face of some opposition, the Senate last night passed the bill by Senator Smalley, of Somerset county, increasing the salary of county school superintendents from $2,000 to $3,000 and requiring them to devote all their time to the office.

The measure would affect both Superintendent H. C. Krebs, of Somerset county, and Superintendent A. J. Savitz, of Union county. The former is supervising principal of the North Plainfield schools and the latter is supervising principal of the Westfield schools.

UNION CO. G. O. P. WANTS WARREN OUT OF 5TH DIST.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 12.—The Republican plans for redistricting of the State to provide the two new members of Congress were upset again last night by a protest from Union county. County Chairman Frank Smith, of Union, was on hand and objected to including a part of Warren county in the Fifth District with Union and Morris counties. The objection was that the proposed arrangement would give the Fifth District a population of about 240,000, while the proper ratio is only 211,000, and also that Warren county is strongly Democratic and hence would pull down the Republican majority in the district.

The Union county proposition is that Union and Morris counties be made a district and that Warren county be put with Sussex, the northern part of Passaic and Bergen counties.

CITY MUST PAY MORE FOR CRUSHED STONE THIS YEAR

Bids for furnishing the city with crushed stone, culverts and crosswalks were received at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night. The various crushed stone dealers here have combined under the corporate name of the Plainfield Trap Rock Company, and there was only one bid for supplying crushed stone. The company offered the finer grade of stone at $1.40 a ton, the coarser grade at $1.25 and the medium grade at from $1.30 to $1.35.

These prices are about ten cents higher than those of last year, when the lowest bid was $1.30 for the finer grade, $1.15 for the coarser grade and $1.20 and $1.25 for the medium grade. The leaders claim that heretofore they have lost money on public contracts.

Two bids were received for furnishing culverts, crosswalks, etc., one from the Watchung Stone Company and the other from the Plainfield Blue Stone Company, of which J. W. Manhattan is the principal stockholder. The latter's bid was the lowest as follows:

Culverts, 22 cents, linear foot; curbing, 4x16, 33 cents; 4x20, 40 cents; crosswalks, 24 inches, 58 cents; thirty cents, 60 cents. The bid of the Watchung Stone Company follows: Culverts, 24 cents linear foot; curbing, 4x16, 37 cents; 4x20, 41 cents; crosswalks, 24 inches, 74 cents; thirty inches, 86 cents. These are also higher than last year.

The bids were referred to the street committee and they will be reported back at a future meeting of the Common Council when contracts will be awarded. It is expected that the Plainfield Trap Rock Company will furnish the crushed stone and the Plainfield Stone Company the culverts, crosswalks, etc.

SPRING FASHIONS BROUGHT OVER HERE FROM PARIS.

The North American's special Paris Fashion Section for Spring will be issued as a part of the Sunday edition of that paper on March 17.

For several years The North American has issued twice during each year a compendiumh of the Paris styles brought up to date by the special Paris staff which is maintained in Paris by The North American, whose duty it is to bring the fashions of the French capital first hand to the women readers of the paper.

The reputation of the women in Philadelphia territory for being the best dressed can be in no small measure attributed to the admirable service of fashion news which The North American maintains. The woman who reads the paper is in direct touch with all of the news of the world so far as it affects dress. With this knowledge she can always be depended upon to keep absolutely in the lead when changes of styles come about.

The special fashion numbers of The North American are always in great demand, but the management promises to supply all those who order early.

Court Union, No. 3277, Independent Order Foresters, has decided hereafter to meet on the second fourth Mondays of each month in the Coward building on Park avenue.

Miss Margaret Dunn, of East Millstone, has returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VanCleef, of Grant avenue.

SQUARE DEAL IDEA

the way of support, but has made earnest partisans of representative citizens in every walk of life in each and every district.

Some of the friends of the candidates are inquiring into the plans and methods being, and to be, pursued in the conduct of the contest, with a view of assuring themselves that the candidate whom they are supporting is to have a "square deal."

The Square Deal Idea.

This is eminently proper, and the Daily Press is not only pleased to see that such interest is being displayed, but is glad of the opportunity to show that the methods being pursued are fair and impartial to each contestant, and that such fairness is to continue right through the contest. This campaign was not begun nor is it being carried on in any haphazard manner. It is run on a system complete in every detail, carefully planned to safeguard the interests of every contestant, and which broad experience in other fields has demonstrated to be the very best that can be devised for the purpose. The manager of the Tour Department is not new to the business but has conducted many similar contests for other newspapers in a manner that has secured their hearty approval, and no charge of partiality or unfairness has ever followed his work.

Contest Closes April 6.

Among some of the questions asked are these: "Is the contest to close—that is, will the voting stop—at a certain fixed time, or will the polls be held open for some one to come in at the last moment with the necessary amount of money to win one of the trips?" Also, "Will a committee be present to see the wind up?"

As to the first question, the rules state that the contest will close on Saturday evening, April 6, at 10:30 p. m. When that hour is reached the doors will be closed, and as the actual labor of taking in cash subscriptions and issuing receipts and votes for the same is considerable, all those who are inside and waiting to be attended to will be waited upon and permitted to deposit their votes in the ballot box before it is opened. At the time the ballot box is unlocked and the counting of the vote commenced, no one will have any knowledge as to what it contains, what the various contestants may have deposited, or how many votes it will take to win out in any district.

The Committee.

The rules also state that a committee of not less than three business men will have entire charge of the ballot box at the close of the contest, count the votes, and declare the winners. We take this occasion to say that the personnel of this committee, when announced, will carry conviction to the minds of all that the result will be arrived at in perfect fairness to every interest involved, and their verdict will be final. The close of the contest is still over three weeks distant, and an enormous vote is certain to be polled at the finish. The pace is continually becoming more rapid, therefore it behooves every contestant to improve each shining hour.

"Fun" and "Fashion."

In addition to the 16-page book called "Fun" which will be given as usual with next Sunday's World, there will be a splendid Fashion Supplement, edited by that Great Fashion Authority, May Manton, who contributes to the evening edition of the World three days a week all the year round. This fashion supplement will be in colors, and its eight pages handsomely illustrated. The fashions are for Easter and are right up to the day of issue. On account of the great demand, the Sunday World should be ordered in advance from newsdealers. There will also be a continuation of the now famous James Montgomery Flagg Picture and Story Series, entitled "The Adventures of Kitty Cobb," drawn by that celebrated artist especially for the New York Sunday World. There is also a big Sunday Magazine and a "comic sheet" for the children.

PEARY AND AMUNDSEN.

Contrast the conduct of Amundsen since he reached the South Pole with that of Peary after the latter's credited discovery of the North Pole. The American explorer would not allow a white man to make the last few miles to the axis with him, not even the loyal and brave Captain Bartlett, for his selfish spirit was so pronounced that he greedily coveted all the honors for himself. Then when he was heard from almost his first message was a string of abuse against his rival, Cook. Instead of maintaining a dignified silence and letting the world find for itself, as it inevitably would that Cook's claims were untrue, Peary started a campaign of denunciation and continued to wage it until a large part of the public sickened of both of them.

Now for a moment consider how praiseworthy has been the deportment of the Norwegian. As soon as he got into communication with the world, he cabled a dignified story, with not one word about his rival, Captain Scott. Of the latter, he has since cabled that he had hoped the the Britisher did also attain the goal. More commendable still was his action in sending word that he had allowed four of his party, all white men, to share with him the honor of reaching the pole and that he wished their names to be inscribed on the honor roll.

Amundsen is a world hero; his conduct has made him one. Peary never will, despite all the geographical, geological and other scientific bodies of the globe. Not even the action of our Congress in making an admiral of him in recognition of his reputed achievement, could make him popular, much less a hero in the eyes of the people who admire a manly man.

Sentiment in favor of the Federal Government building a boulevard connecting the National Capitol with the battlefield of Gettysburg as a memorial to Abraham Lincoln is growing rapidly. At first it was proposed that an architectual form of memorial be erected at Washington, but the rather unique and serviceable scheme of a great highway between the scene of one of the most momentous struggles of the Civil War, a spot where the Emancipator delivered one of his most memorable speeches, and the seat of the Union's Government, is now so warmly supported that it is altogether probable that it will be adopted.

The proposed boulevard, according to the tentative plans, wolud be forty feet in width, with a twenty-four foot of macadam. As closely as can be figured, the undertaking would cost $1,500,000. Its up-keep would be in the neighborhood of $750 per mile, including the renewal of the road surface, every ten years.

As the martyred president was a man who disliked show and was intensely in earnest for things sound and serviceable, it would seem that the boulevard would be more suitable as a memorial; vastly more so than a monument or other ornament.

Of course you enjoyed reading what Rev. Dr. Charles A. Eaton had to say as the contributing editor last Saturday. You will miss a treat if you do not peruse the editorial column next Saturday. The once-a-week contributed editorial is an original feature of the paper whose view is that it must be truly representative of the people to hold the people's confidence. In short, it affirms that a real newspaper is a public institution.

Should you have any doubts as to whether women really demand the ballot, a visit to the State House at Trenton today would convince you how deadly in earnest they are for equal rights and equal privileges. From all parts of the State the fair sex went by special train to tell the lawmakers of their demands and it was no window-smashing expedition either.

It seems that we are carried back to days of long ago when we read United States Senator James E. Martine's "reasons" why he was among the three Senators who voted against President Taft's proposed treaty with Great Britain. Fortunately, in this enlightened age, our fellow townsman does not reflect the sentiment of the sensible people of New Jersey when he opposes the ratification of the pact with George the Fifth's ministry.

The trolleyman whose leg was amputated following an accident of which he was the victim while in the performance of his duties may find some consolation in the fact that New Jersey has an employer's liability law. He does not have to ask for a favor; he goes into court asking for justice as is written on the statute books.

From Washington come statistics of the gigantic achievements in the excavation work on the Panama Canal. There's a lot of digging being done at Washington, too, and though delegates and not dirt is what is being sought there is a general fear that mud will fly before the machines stop running.

When the City Councilmanic finance committee meets tomorrow night to ponder over a proposed budget, of course it will include as an item the first cost of a municipal garbage collection and disposal system. Oh, yes!

No local barrister is more deserving of the tribute than Nelson Runyon, who is to be the guest of honor at a banquet to be given by the Plainfield Bar Association. The event will mark Mr. Runyon's fiftieth year as a practicing lawyer.

Yuan Shi Kai will be called the father of his country, just as we refer to George Washington as the father of ours, and Yuan will have the same trials and tribulations in this day of grace that our George did in his.

The New York World mentions the fact that in Brooklyn lives a man who never heard of Roosevelt. Bet the circulation manager of the World cussed when he read that item in his paper.

OVERSEERS OF POOR UNDER CIVIL SERVICE?

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 12.—The term of office of overseers of the poor is abolished under a bill introduced in the House last night by Assemblyman Ford in municipalities having not less than 10,000 population and such officials are to be removed only for cause. To wilfully circulate a false report about the solvency of any banking institution would be a misdemeanor under a bill introduced by Mr. McAllister, who would also have the railroad tax in each county so apportioned that there would be a portion of it for the school pension fund. To use or have in one's possession a whip known as a blacksnake while driving a horse is made a misdemeanor in the bill Mr. McAllister presented.

AMUNDSEN'S MEN PRAISE LEADER

His Courage Needed to Reach Pole, They Say.

EXPLORER ADDS TO STORY

Says He Found Dogs Preferable to Ponies—Men Say Polar Temperature Was Less Severe Than That Experienced at Christiania, Norway, at Times.

London, March 12.—Captain Amundsen, the discoverer of the south pole, who is still at Hobart, Tasmania, issues a standing invitation to any one wishing to do so, to partake of his hospitality at the Bay of Whales, where he left a cookstove and a supply of food and fuel, according to the Chronicle, which prints a further interview with the captain and some of the men of his party relative to the polar trip.

Amundsen gives in detail his views of the superiority of dogs over ponies for polar work. The dogs he preferred because of their better ability to cross ice bridges, as they were so much lighter than the ponies. During his entire trip he lost but two dogs by falling into crevasses.

Amundsen said that he took many film photographs at the pole. He thought that Shackleton was mistaken in supposing that the plateau which he had named for King Haakon of Norway was the same that the English explorer had called after King Edward VII. of England. He said that he thought his success was chiefly due to the fact that he had been fortunate enough to find an easier pass through the mountains than the one which Shackleton followed. He intimated that his winter camp might soon be made the base for a geographical exploring expedition. In the meantime, he thought that perhaps the Japanese polar expedition might have made use of it.

The Chronicle has also interviewed Lieutenant Prestrud and the others of the party which explored King Edward's land. They did not say much of interest, but were unanimous in their praise of Amundsen for his energy, foresight and ability. Their view of the explorer was confirmed by his four companions who went with him to the pole.

They said they did not find it very cold. At times they were able to go without their furs. All had experienced severer weather, so far as the temperature was concerned, at Christiania. Nevertheless they admitted that the trip was not a picnic. They also declared that without Amundsen and plenty of dogs the pole would not have been reached.

CURTAIL TARIFF REVISION.

Democrats of House Will Speed Up For Early Adjournment.

Washington, March 12.—Curtailment of the Democratic tariff revision program with a view to "speeding up" congress to permit adjournment before the national conventions is now the expressed aim of the Democratic majority in the house.

Republicans and Democrats in the senate and house are chafing over delay in actual legislation that threatens to crowd congress. The Democratic leader, Mr. Underwood, chairman of the house ways and means committee, indicated that the wool tariff revision bill, which is to be reported probably within ten days, will be the last of the revision measures at this session of congress. Leaders of both parties have expressed the view that congress was likely to be away from Washington before the gathering of the Republicans at Chicago on June 18.

"I think our tariff revision bills will end with the woolen schedule, which we expect to report within ten days," said Mr. Underwood. "There is no use for us to go any further until we find out what the senate is going to do with the bills already passed and what the president is going to do. We have passed a steel bill and a chemical bill. We will pass a sugar bill, and then we will have a wool bill."

FITZHERBERT'S FATE IS STILL IN DOUBT

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 12.—Senator Richard Fitzherbert, of Morris county, who was found guilty by a majority of his colleagues last week of conduct unbecoming a Senator, is still in doubt as to his fate. No action was taken up to a late hour this afternoon on his case.

Senator Fitzherbert was in the State House late yesterday afternoon. He did not appear during the session last night. The Senate galleries and lobbies were filled with spectators, most of them attracted by the expectation that the case would be reopened and there would be another lively party debate.

Not having the votes to expel Senator Fitzherbert, the Republicans are searching for some method of punishment. There was some discussion last night that the majority might instruct the Sergeant-at-arms not to permit Senator Fitzherbert to take his seat and that the secretary be instructed not to call his name. It was held by some that this course would not be legal, as it would be equivalent to depriving Morris county of representation. Another proposition was that he might be removed from all committees to which he has been appointed and in other ways might be ignored by the majority.

It is certain that Senator Fitzherbert will be ostracized by the Republican Senators.

HOPEFUL OF SETTLEMENT.

Striking British Miners Agree to Meet Mine Owners In Conference.

London, via Glace Bay, March 12.—The most hopeful sign thus far for settlement of the coal strike came when the convention of mine workers agreed unanimously to accept Premier Asquith's invitation to meet the representatives of the government and the mine owners in a joint conference. The latter have not yet agreed to the conference, but two-thirds of their number are on record as favorable to the proposition.

Old Machinery to Canada.

Perth Amboy, Mar. 12.—To equip a plant in Hamilton, Ont., without paying duty on the machinery taken there from the United States, the Standard Underground Cable Company is moving much of the machinery in its Perth Amboy plant. It crosses the border as used or second-hand material. The Hamilton plant has been in course of construction several months and is nearing completion. New equipment will be provided for the local plant.

TO RAISE RATTLESNAKES.

Massachusetts Station Agent Says There Is Fortune In Industry.

Great Barrington, Mass., March 12.—"Doc" Cole Miles, New Haven station agent in Great Barrington, has bought a farm of twelve acres in the western part of the town, where he is to raise rattlesnakes. The land is covered with stubble and rocks and is in every way well adapted to raise reptiles. Miles says there is a fortune in rattlesnake skins and oil, which is worth $5 a pint. One hundred reptiles from the Schaghticoke hills in Connecticut are to be imported to start the farm, on which there is now a rattlesnake den where four rattlers were captured last summer.

WOMEN JUDGE AND JURORS.

Unique Scene Presented In Colorado County Court.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., March 12.—With Mrs. L. B. Teague as judge and half a dozen women jurors among the venire summoned for the present term, the county court of Eagle county at Red Cliff presented a scene never before witnessed in Colorado. Mrs. Teague is the only woman judge in the state, and this is the first time in her one year in the office that women have been called for jury service.

Among the cases to be tried are those of several men charged with boot legging.

OUR OPENING SHOWS OF SPRINGTIME
MILLINERY, FROCKS, SUITS BLOUSES and COATS

Point the way for the woman of fashion and indicate clearly what she can wear and be in proper form and good taste.

Every season brings its extravagant styles, of course, and we show some of them, but in the main the millinery styles we have most favored and which the best posted folk approve this season are notable for their simplicity. Most of the hats have only the merest dash of trimming—a feather, a spray of flowers, a row of ribbon or bit of applique. There is an advantage in this simplicity if one picks her hat with judgment. The strong, bold lines of the hats are most effective and add a deal of character to a woman's appearance.

The use of lace and straw applique to form a band for a straw crown, or, perhaps, an underbrim for the larger hats, is giving us many of the prettiest hats.

It is a season for folks who trim their own hats—and we've such a fine collection of untrimmed hats and all the paraphernalia that is needed for trimming.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

EASTER CAKES.

ANGEL food or angel cake is appropriate for Easter. It is a cake that every one likes.

When the angel cake rises above the top of the pan the oven must be made hotter. When done it will fall back to the level of the pan when it may be taken from the stove. You may turn the pan upside down and let the cake cool. Then loosen with a knife and take out of the pan.

Reliable Recipes.

Angel Cake.—Sift a cupful of flour, mix with a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and sift several times. Take the whites of ten eggs and beat until stiff.

Add to the eggs ten ounces of granulated sugar and a teaspoonful of extract of vanilla.

Beat again. Now stir the flour in with the eggs to make a batter. This must be done quickly and deftly.

Take a cake pan having a funnel, cover the funnel and bottom of the pan with paper, pour in the mixture and bake about forty minutes.

Take out of the oven, loosen the cake and remove from the pan.

Rich Angel Cake.—Take one cupful of flour to one cupful and one tablespoonful of sugar, add one teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a pinch of salt. Put all in a sieve and sift six times.

Beat the whites of twelve eggs very stiff. Slip the eggs off the platter into the mixing bowl, lightly stir in the sifted ingredients, adding one teaspoonful vanilla. Pour into an ungreased pan with a funnel. Do not let it stand after it is thoroughly mixed.

Bake Carefully.

Bake fifty or sixty minutes in a slow oven. Do not open the oven door until the cake has been in twenty minutes.

Do not jar the floor while cake is baking. When baked turn upside down until cold or until cake falls out.

This recipe calls for fewer eggs and is therefore a less expensive cake:

Plain Angel Cake.—Beat the whites of four eggs very stiff and add half a cupful of sugar, one and a half cupfuls of pastry flour, sifted several times to make it lighter; a little salt, a teaspoonful of vanilla, half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar.

Don't grease the tin, but when the cake is done stand tin on two dishes upside down until it falls out. Put a towel or soft cloth under it to drop on and turn it right side up at once.

Anna Thompson.

MODISH FANCIES.

Sunshades in Star Shaped Effects Are New.

The star shaped sunshade with more points than appeared in last year's designs is a favorite this spring. The canopy shape still holds its own, and one of the half egg shapes was seen in an odd material resembling the covering of a Japanese tea chest.

There is a strong feeling for red, which becomes more strongly evinced as the season wears on.

The blouse made with a vestee is very smart this spring. The model shown is excellent for either a separate waist or for an entire gown.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes from 34 to 42 inches bust measure. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7354, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

STOLEN BASE RECORD NOT BROKEN IN 1911

No world's records in the matter of base stealing were broken or equaled in 1911. The most noteworthy performance of the season was by Outfielder Cobb, Detroit, who set a new American league record with 83 stolen bases in 146 games. During the 1910 season William H. Zimmerman, Newark, outfielder on the Utica team, of the New York State league, broke the record for base-stealing in organized baseball for the last 15 years. In the 1910 season he stole 105 bases in 135 games.

There have been only five times from 1899 to 1910 when more than 100 bases have been stolen in one season by a player. In 1890 Stovey, of the Players' league, stole 136 bases, and Hamilton, of the National league, stole 115 bases, and Brown, of the American Association, stole 110 bases. In 1896 Lange, of Chicago, stole 100 bases. From that time until 1910 no player in any league made a century of stolen bases.

MORE DOUBLES AND SINGLES THAN QUINTETS ENTERED.

A peculiar feature of the sixth annual bowling tournament of the National Bowling Association in progress in Paterson, is that the proportion of two-men and individual entries far exceeds that of the five-men. So much more of these entries has been received that the tournament management found it necessary to devote three Saturdays to the running off of two-men and individual events exclusively, taking in those who do not roll in the five-men competition.

Time is also allowed for the annual convention of the National Bowling Association, which will be held in Entre Nous Auditorium there on Saturday afternoon, March 23, at 2 o'clock. Greater New York will have about 50 delegates and Paterson itself 35, while 40 or more city associations of the national body will have from one to a dozen delegates each, so that the convention to consider a number of important changes including the consideration of the loaded ball, will be one of the largest of its kind ever held.

CRAVATH, DOOIN DAISY, NICKNAMED, "GRAVY."

The nickname of Cravath, the Minneapolis slugger who arrived at Dooin's camp in Hot Springs last Monday night, was learned by the team yesterday. Jack Hayden, outfielder, of Louisville club, who is training with Fogel's team, has known Cravath for several seasons and he it was who used the nickname. Hayden said: "'Gravy,' I want you to meet a friend of mine." Cravath arose and walked over to Hayden for introduction.

"Gravy," mused some of the players, "is that his nickname?" "Yep," said Hayden. So "Gravy" Cravath it will be from now on.

SOME DIFFERENT FROM PHILADELPHIA CAPON.

"Cy" Morgan, the Athletic's pitcher and something of a wit, was eating dinner at the San Antonio hotel the other day. One of the things he had ordered was chicken.

Cy took a bite at the bird and then said to the waiter, "What did they do to this rooster?"

"Dey kill him sah," responded the bowing darkey.

"If they had waited a week he would have surrendered," said Cy as he pushed it away from him and ordered a dish of ham and—.

Half-Minute Interview.

Charley Newhouse—Manager Dorflinger ought to wire Amundsen to bring the pole along and plant it on Crescent Oval for his pennant.

—Experience is the best teacher, especially in telling us what fools we have been.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

Base Ball.

Saturday morning on Hait's field, Spooner avenue, Warren Rice's nine defeated Edward Serrell's nine by a score of 43 to 12. Chauncey Burt and Berry Egan were the Rice battery and Fred DeCamp and Edward Serrell occupied the points for the other team. Burt struck out sixteen antagonists and the nine that supports him now issue a challenge to play any other nine of boys under 14 years of age.

The principal features of the game were the hit of Charles Angleman's over centrefielder's head and a hot liner by DeCamp which started the base runners, but the ball was held by shortstop John Kirkner and a double play resulted. Mr. Charles Murray acted as umpire and gave entire satisfaction. (Daily Press, Monday, April 30, 1888).

ATHLETICS $100,000 INFIELD NOW INTACT.

The best news of the Athletics' training trip broke when Manager Connie Mack anounced that the injured right arm of Jack McInnis, the star first baseman and member of the $100,000 infield, had entirely healed.

Ever since a ball pitched by Mullin, of Detroit, injured the arm last September, cracking one of the bones of the wrist, a fear has been entertained by many that McInnis would not be right for this season.

McInnis had hoped to get in the world's series last fall, but could not throw, though he was permitted to play long enough in the ninth inning to make the put-out that ended the last game and the series.

JERSEY CITY WILL SHOW TALLEST PITCHER IN THE GAME

In addition to introducing the Bermudians to the great American game of baseball, as played by professionals, the Jersey City Club will exhibit the tallest athlete in the business in the person of Miles L. Mains, of Flint, Mich.

The Michigander, who is said to throw a ball with cannon-ball velocity, stands six feet five inches in his little barefoots. Some length, eh? Walter, as you may imagine, isn't very wide across, but that's an advantage, as vicious hitsmiths will find it difficult to slam him in the gizzard with balls batted through the pitching box.

COX AND WRIGHT WON TWO-MAN TEAM MATCH.

Out of five games rolled last night on the Olympia alleys in a two-man team match, the Cox and Wright combination took four games from the Schaub and Wisterberg duet. The match was for the best out of seven games. The scores follow:

Cox	168	138	170	175	152
	325	311	338	338	360
Schaub	216	186	221	187	235
Wist'b'g	192	183	146	121	167
	408	369	367	308	402

MORRIS AND KREGER WINNERS AT DUCK PINS.

Morris and Kreger took two games from the Montross brothers two-man team in the Olympia alleys' duck pin tournament last night by the following scores:

Morris	76	83	72
Kreger	117	107	94
	193	190	166
S. Montross	103	86	87
E. Montross	81	71	107

THE GINGER JAR

As we romp to press Winter's back is not even bent, although yesterday lead us to believe it was broken.

It is to his veterans that the leader of the World's champions must look for a repeat, he concedes.

Now that the pole has been found the fight for the pennant should be the exact opposite to the weather in it's locality.

When a rookie is sent back to the minors and the manager says it is for the best, the chances are that it is.

Since September, 1, 1911, when the New York State Athletic Commission was created, more than 5,000 bouts have been pulled off in the various clubs in and around New York city. The gross gate receipts from same totals $450,000.

The Elks' team is not scheduled for a match in the tournament until next Thursday. Next Monday the big five will roll at Paterson in the National Tournament.

Indian athletes are gradually earning fame for their race in the world of sport. Deerfoot was the first of the line of great red athletes. Longboat, the Canadian Indian, made a remarkable record as a long distance runer. Simpson is another who distinguished himself on the cinder path, and Tewanima, the diminutive runner at Carlisle, is making all the long distance runers go their best. He will probably have a chance at the Olympia games next year. Thorpe at the same school, is also coming strong.

"Charley Dooin's Phillies will bear watching during the coming season, and I really believe that is the team we will have to beat out to win the pennant," Larry Doyle, second baseman and captain of the New York Giants, made the the above statement recently while talking over the coming race in the National League.

Manager Harry Davis of the Naps feels that he is a competent coach for first basemen since he developed Jack McInnis, and will give special attention to the big Ed Hornhorst this spring.

John Onslow, the Tigers' recruit catcher, is said to bear a remarkable resemblance to Oscar Stanage in looks, talk and walk. If he carries out the part in catching Jennings will be happy.

In Emerson, Connie has a promising recruit. Emerson is a former Dartmouth college player. He is very fast in the field, with a splendid throwing arm, but he has a habit of pulling nearly all his drives down the right field line.

"Baseball," says Ty Cobb, "is 50 per cent. brain, 25 percent. eye and 25 per cent. arm and leg." And baseball reporting is 10 per cent. facts, 5 per cent dope and 85 per cent. imagination.—B. L. T. in the Chicago Tribune.

Few ball clubs have been in such fine physical condition to start spring training as the Giants. There isn't a man on the team more than four of five pounds overweight, and most of them were so active at one sport or another during the off-season that they need little hardening.

What league his Rochester Hustlers are champion of gets the goat of Owner Chapin. Rochester won the pennant in the Eastern League last season, and then the name of the league was changed to international. How a team can be champions of a league that has not had a season, and how it can be champions of a league now out of existence, caused Chapin's nanny to roam.

Assistant manager is a new wrinkle in baseball, but it is catching on fast. Among the former big league stars who will "assist" the coming season are Willie Keeler, with Brooklyn; Monte Cross, with the St. Louis Browns; Kid Gleason, with the White Sox, and Duke Farrell, with the Boston Nationals.

Platt and Ben Adams, well know locally, who represent the New York A. C. tied for first honors in the all-around standing jumping event at the Mohawk A. C. games last Saturday night in the Twenty-second Regiment Armory. In the jump-off Platt won.

AFTER "BASEBALL TRUST."

Representative Gallagher Wants Congress to Investigate the Game.

Washington, March 12.—Charging that baseball is dominated by a combination in restraint of trade, Representative Gallagher of Illinois introduced a resolution in the house creating a committee of seven members to investigate the sport from grand stand to bleachers. The Gallagher resolution recites that baseball players are enslaved; that central bodies apportion territory, fix prices and otherwise conduct the sport for "pecuniary gain."

GARRY HERRMANN SAYS RESOLUTION IS JOKE.

Cincinnato, O., March 12.—Congressman Gallagher's resolution for an investigation of the so-called baseball trust was characterized as a joke today by August Herrman, president of the national baseball commission.

"I don't know what he means," said Herrmann, "unless it is a joke. There is no baseball trust, and from the nature of the game there never can be. The commission doesn't fix prices. Different prices are charged in different cities. There can be an investigation at any time without any objection from the national commission."

Ban Johnson Strikes Back.

Chicago, Mar. 12.—When informed of the Gallagher resolutions, President B. B. Johnson, of the American League, said: "We would be glad to have an investigation. There is no baseball trust and competition is not stifled. Any one who desires is welcome to get in the game. So far as men being enslaved is concerned a large number of the players are drawing salaries in excess of what is paid to congressmen. That does not look much like enslavement."

"Invite Investigation," Says Lynch.

New York, Mar. 12.—"So far as the National League of baseball clubs is concerned, we invite an investigation," said Thomas J. Lynch, president of the league, when told that Representative Gallagher had introduced a resolution for an investigation of the "baseball trust."

FIGHTER DIED OF FATIGUE.

Opponent Released After Absence of Skull Fracture Was Established.

Paris, March 12.—An autopsy shows that the pugilist Belli, who died Saturday after a ring battle with Evernden, suffered from excessive arterial tension, due to overfatigue, and not with a fractured skull, as was at first believed.

As a consequence of the finding Evernden was paroled.

Coast Olympic Tryouts.

The Olympic tryouts on the coast will be held on May 18 on the track at Leland Stanford university. This will be the first of the American tryouts. The trials at Boston and Chicago will not be held until the first week in June.

HELD FOR GIRL'S REATH.

Two of the Three Accused Are of the Medical Profession.

Camden, N. J., March 11.—Accused of having been implicated in the death of Miss Olive Butcher, or Baker, twenty-two years old, of this place, who died in St. Agnes' hospital Saturday night, Dr. S. Wilmer Tunnell, William B. Stratton and Mrs. Margaret Sharrett, a trained nurses, all of Philadelphia, have been arrested and are under bail for a further hearing before Magistrate McFarland in the Central police station.

Two Philadelphia detectives made the arrests. They were told a girl was dying in the home of Mrs. Sherratt, and they found Miss Butcher in a critical condition. She was taken to the hospital, where she died a few minutes after being admitted.

According to the detectives, they found another girl in the house whose condition is critical. She also is in the hospital, and the detectives said additional arrests will be made in connection with her case.

DIES IN ROLLING CHAIR.

Heart Failure Caused Unidentified Man's Death In Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 12.—A small boy playfully shoved a rolling chair in which reposed an unidentified man, sending it clear across the boardwalk into the opposite rail. The occupant did not move. Visitors smiled as the little joker repeated the shove. When this did not arouse the man the attendant looked into his face, then tried to awaken him.

Instead of being asleep the man was dead. An ambulance was summoned and the body was taken to the hospital, where it was discovered that life had been extinct for at least two hours. During that time the body had been propped up in a rolling chair at New Jersey avenue on the boardwalk, in plain view of hundreds of promenaders who brushed by believing him to be asleep.

Nothing was found on the body to identify the dead man. Heart trouble caused his death.

BOMB INJURED BAKER.

Was Dropped Into the Chimney of His Shop While He Was Working.

Newark, N. J., March 12.—Thomas Mistretta, who has a bakery in the rear of 35 Adams street here, was taken to St. James' hospital suffering from injuries received in a bomb explosion.

He and his sixteen-year-old son, Vito, and Salvatore Macaluso, a helper, were working in the shop when a bomb was dropped into the chimney of the bakery about midnight.

It tore out part of the wall, wrecked the chimney and partly demolished the oven. Mistretta was struck by flying bricks, but the other two escaped injury.

Mistretta's shop is nonunion, but whether his theory that this had something to do with the bomb is correct the police have been unable to learn.

SPECIAL SERVICE ON AT MT. OLIVE CHURCH

The special services were continued at the Mt. Olive Baptist church last night, when Rev. Mr. Sturgis, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion church, delivered a strong sermon on the theme, "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death and I Will Give You a Crown of Life." Mr. Sturgis emphasized the importance of continuing to be faithful in serving the Lord for only in this way would it be possible to win the crown of life.

The chorus choir of the Shiloh Baptist church, under the direction of Prof. Holding, furnished the music, and there were several anthems, solos and duets. The service was largely attended. Rev. F. D. Tildon, pastor of Bethel chapel, will preach tonight, Rev. G. W. Bailey, of the Calvary Baptist church, will preside and the choir from that church will sing.

Big Battle at Proctor's.

There is an attractive vaudeville bill at Proctor's theatre this week, including a sketch, "The Battle of Bunco Hill," the Four Harmonious Girls; Ellen Tate, a singer of popular songs; The Aerial Fosters, in feats of strength, and Fred Dale, the eccentric comedian.

Peter Garretson, formerly of East Millstone, but now of Paterson, has been visiting in town for a short time.

PRAISES MARTINE FOR VOTING AGAINST TREATY

Jersey City, Mar. 12.—Congressman James A. Hamill, presiding at a celebration here in honor of the 134th anniversary of the birth of Robert Emmet, declared that the people of New Jersey owe to United States Senator James E. Martine a debt of gratitude for his stand against the proposed arbitration treaty with England, which was successfully amended by the opposition last week. Mr. Martine, he said, held to the last against the ratification in any form and time would prove the soundness of his judgment.

The Emmet celebration was held at the Majestic Theatre under the auspices of the Wolf Tone Club. Congressman Richard E. Connell, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was the speaker of the occasion. He lauded the life of Robert Emmet, who gave his life for the cause of Ireland. Incidentally, Mr. Connell declared against the recent effort to obtain world peace through treaty with England. He urged a continuance as national doctrine of Washington's principle of "No entangling alliance with foreign nations."

FLOOD SCARE OVER IN BOUND BROOK

Water Recedes After Submerging Main Street as Far as the Post Office.

MERCHANTS GET A FRIGHT

Rumor Has Carnegie Dam Going Out and a Section of the Raritan Canal Swept Away—Highest Mark Since 1906.

Bound Brook, Mar. 13, (Special).—Bound Brook had a flood scare this morning when the Raritan overflowed its banks and submerged Main street as far as the postoffice under several inches of water. As the waters kept backing up there was considerable activity on the part of merchants in removing goods from the basements of their stores.

A rumor that the dam at Carnegie Lake, in Princeton, had given way and the water had carried away a section of the Raritan canal bank, thus turning the whole volume into the river chanel, lent speed to the preparation against expected total submersion in the lower end of Main street.

The water reached its greatest heighth shortly after 11 o'clock. It was then at the highest mark since 1906. Shortly after 1 o'clock the water began receding and the residents breathed easier. The water is reported to be still going down and the worst is considered passed. The conditions were never as bad as some wild reports pictured them.

During the high water the tunnel under the Central and Lehigh Valley tracks was filled, cutting off all travel in that direction on Main street. The Bound Brook Hotel was surrounded by water which prevented the running of the New Brunswick cars. The ball field and all other low lying property in the eastern end of the town was under water to a considerable depth. Main line cars were able to run on schedule.

There was no ice running in the deluge and this fact probably accounts for its rapid recession and also kept the damage at minimum. The rumor that the Carnegie dam was washed away lacks confirmation.

MORE COMMISSIONS FOR PUBLIC TELEPHONE AGENTS

The New York Telephone Company announces today a revised and more liberal schedule of commissions to its public telephone agents on receipts from slot machine telephones. The present rate of commission is 10 per cent. The new schedule, which goes into effect March 15, is on a sliding scale, ranging from 10 per cent. to 20 per cent, depending upon the amount of daily receipts, those stores doing a large amount of business getting the higher rates of commissions.

W. F. Baker, division commercial manager of the New York Telephone Company, stated today that the new schedule is the result of a careful study of the situation by the company and will be effective throughout its entire territory. It will apply to all classes of public telephone agents whose stations are equipped with the multi-coin box telephone, to cigar stores, candy stores, cafes, restaurants and other places where these stations are installed. The company states that the increase in commissions to be paid will amount to about $115,000 a year over that paid on the present scale.

SENATE PRESIDENT CUTS FITZHERBERT

Prince Ignores Morris Senator For Sending Dinner Invitations to His Colleagues.

OSTBY DENIES CONSPIRACY

No Plot Between Him and State Treasurer Voorhees, Says Acetylene Sales-Manager, to Bring About the Downfall of Fitzherbert.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 13.—The first indication of the treatment to be accorded Senator Richard Fitzherbert by his Republican colleagues is a pointblank "cutting" socially of the Morris county Senator by Senate President John D. Prince. President Prince will entertain the Senate at dinner at the University Club in New York, Thursday evening.

Contrary to the usual custom, Senator Prince has not issued a general invitation to the Senate to be his guests, but has sent a formal written invitation to each Senator, except Senator Fitzherbert. President Prince does not hesitate to say that his object in the new arrangement is to show Senator Fitzherbert that he is not invited.

The Senate did nothing with the Fitzherbert charges yesterday. While it is known that the Republican Senators have talked over informally the question of the punishment to be meted out to Senator Fitzherbert, they disclaim any conference on the question. As one Republican Senator put it yesterday afternoon, "To call a conference on the question would be like injecting politics into to, and that we wish to avoid."

Notwithstanding this feeling, the Republicans, or some of them, have had an informal conference with the Attorney General on the matter to discuss the proper procedure. After the talk with the Attorney General it was decided not to hurry the matter.

Senator Fitzherbert was not at the State House yesterday and it was said he would not appear formally in the Senate until the Senators have acted finally on his case.

It is plain to be seen that whenever the question does come in the Senate there will be a red hot partisan fight. Some of the Republican Senators are outspoken in their declarations that Senator Fitzherbert should be expelled, and that lacking the votes to expel him, the Republicans should find some other punishment. The Democrats will resist any move for punishment.

Oscar F. Ostby, sales manager of the Commercial Acetylene Company, who made the first charges against Senator Fitzherbert, denies that there was a conspiracy between his company and State Treasurer Daniel S. Voorhees for the downfall of the Morris county Senator. He says he visited the State Treasurer at Morristown in the case only because Dr. Ridner had given the Treasurer's name as reference. Ostby claims that Senator Fielder, the Democratic leader in the Senate, and Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to the Governor, knew as much about the charges in advance as did Senator Edge, the Republican leader, and Mr. Voorhees.

Mrs. Aaron Reed's Funeral.

The funeral services for Mrs. Aaron Reed, whose death occurred at her home on Fritz place, Monday morning, will be held at her late home at 8:30 o'clock and from St. Joseph's church at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Death Of An Infant.

Michael Capona, the sixteen months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Capona, of Lake street, died this morning at his parents' residence. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon, burial being made in St. Mary's cemetery.

William B. Tunison.

William B. Tunison, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Tunison, of 52 Harrison avenue, the borough, died yesterday. The funeral will be held at the residence of the parents tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. The burial will be in Somerville.

Seven Days To Get Right.

John Higgins was sentenced to serve seven days in the borough jail by Recorder M. F. Gano, this morning, when arraigned on the charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Marshal Hermann made the arrest last night.

WHAT THE WATER COMPANY CONTENDS

Its Charter Antedates That of the City, Bergen Tells Attorney General.

CLAIMS 195-MILE RADIUS

Corporation Asserts Its Right to Sell Plainfield Water Over That Expanse of Territory—But Plainfielders Leave Hearing Encouraged.

The hearing before the Attorney-General at Trenton, yesterday, in which the city, through its attorney, Albert C. Wall, of Jersey City, is seeking to have the rights of the Plainfield-Union Water Company established, esuecially in regard to supplying water to other towns, brought out some interesting facts pertinent to the city's plan to undertake condemnation proceedings in securing a municipal water supply.

It is the contention of the water company, through Frank Bergen, its representative, that the original water company received its charter prior to the time that the city received its charter, while the city maintains that both charters were granted the same day in 1869.

It appears that steps were taken in 1867 to issue a charter but the matter went by default through the failure to put the question to a vote of the people.

Mr. Bergen claims that the company has the right to supply water from this city to points within a radius of 195 square miles under the provision of the term "adjoining towns." The point as to whether "adjoining" or "adjacent" was meant or intended was also argued.

The Plainfielders who attended the hearing feel encouraged by the weight of the argument. It is now for the Attorney-General to decide whether he will allow the use of his name in the condemnation proceedings against the water company.

Mr. Bergen presented a map at the hearing yesterday showing the territory which it claims it has a right to serve with water. This includes a portion of Warren township, Rahway, Elizabeth and a point as far south as Perth Amboy, as well as all intervening territory. Until a decision is made by the Attorney-General nothing further will be done in the matter.

SALLY BY MRS. FOX FAILS TO ROUT UNGALLANT MEN

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 13.—Probably never in the history of the State House have such scenes been enacted in the Legislature halls as marked the equal suffrage hearing, yesterday, when all the seats had been taken the women squatted on the steps of the lower flor and the chairs used by the pages in front of the Speaker's desk were quickly appropriated.

Mrs. Hugh Fox, of Plainfield, interrupted the proceedings once and asked if it was right that the men should crowd about the speakers so that others could not hear them.

Senator Edge responded that they were mostly members of the Legislature who wished to be enlightened, and the men held the fort.

The women were made the object of jokes by groups of men who gathered in the hall, and talked so the women could hear them. A member suggested that their husbands would not get any dinner today.

When the hearing closed the chamber buzzed with conversation of the antis and pros who debated among themselves the strength of the arguments that had been advanced. Senators Edge and Fielder and Assemblyman McAllister were the only members of the committee who went on the stand for the hearing. Many of the other legislators, however, stood around to witness the unique scene.

The members of the committee gave no indication of their action on the resolution.

Rev. Dr. Anderson in Demand.

Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, of the First M. E. church, will be the principal speaker at a rally of the Plainfield and Elizabeth groups, Epworth League, to be held in the M.E.church, Westfield, Thursday night, March 21. Tomorrow night he will speak before the Brotherhood of the M. E. church, at Port Jervis. Last Friday night Dr. Anderson addressed the Epworth League of the M. E. church, at Englewood. He was formerly pastor of the above named churches.

"The Patriotism of Peace."

Samuel H. Davis, a widely known lecturer of Rhode Island, will speak Monday night at the Seventh-Day Baptist church on the subject of "The Patriotism of Peace," in which he will treat with some of the phases of patriotism which should be practiced in times of peace. While Mr. Davis will speak under the auspices of the Men's Club of the church, both men and women are invited to attend.

DROP PLAN FOR SMALL HIGH SCHOOL ADDITION

Board of Education Says Enlargement to Capacity of School Lot, Adding About Twenty-One Class Rooms, is Called For.

The following self-explanatory statement regarding the plans of the Plainfield Board of Education for an enlargement of the High Schol building was given out for publication today.

"At its meeting Monday night the Board of Education decided to reject all bids for erecting a six-room addition to the High School and prepare plans for a much larger addition in order to meet the large growth in the school which has recently developed. When the question of addition was first taken up, two years ago, it seemed that six rooms would meet the needs of the school for several years and could be erected for a comparatively small amount, leaving the board free to go on with the erection of a new school in the south part of the city without making a large financial demand at one time, but the erection of the addition was delayed through the action of the State Board of Education, and the High School has increased very much in the meantime. Within the last two months, the board has again gone over the matter very carefully, determined that it would save the city quite a number of thousand dollars if the school was enlarged now to its ultimate capacity instead of making a six room addition at the present time and another larger addition two years from now.

"The increase in the school two years ago was 60, a year ago it was 80, last fall it was about 100. The school now numbers about 500 and the prospects are that next fall the increase will be 100 or more, making the school 600. If six rooms were added now, the school would fill them as soon as ready, and a year from now it would be just as crowded as it is at present. If the school increases only 80 pupils a year, it is apparent that in five years the building will contain 1,000 pupils. It seems, therefore, to be true economy to increase the building to that size at the present time, rather than increase the capacity to 600 now and then make another addition a few years later, since the addition could be made at much less cost in one con-

OLIVE BRANCH TO FRANK KATZENBACH

Wilson Men Want Him to go to Chicago as Delegate at Large.

HIS ATTITUDE UNCERTAIN

Former Candidate for Governor Not Rated as an Enthusiastic Wilson Man Although He Refused to Head the Anti Forces.

Trenton, March 13.—The administration of Governor Wilson and his candidacy for the Presidency were unanimously indorsed at a conference held at the Democratic State committee headquarters in this city to select Wilson delegates from the Fourth District.

The delegates chosen were Sheriff Walter Madden, of Mercer, who was formerly Mayor of Trenton, and former Assemblyman George M. La Monte, of Somerset. Senator William C. Gebhardt and Assemblyman Oliver C. Holcombe, of Hunterdon, were selected as alternates.

The conference also went on record as favoring the selection of former Mayor Frank S. Katzenbach Jr., of this city, as one of the four delegates-at-large from the State. Mr. Katzenbach expressed his appreciation for the honor sought to be conferred upon him, but asked to be given time to consider whether he should permit the use of his name.

State Chairman Edward E. Grosscup had already asked Mr. Katzenbach to run as a Wilson delegate, but had been unable to obtain any definite answer. Mr. Katzenbach would neither say yes nor no and his attitude last night was one of uncertainty.

The situation disclosed by the invitation to Mr. Katzenbach is politically interesting. Some time ago when the opponents of Governor Wilson were discussing the possibility of running anti-Wilson delegates Mr. Katzenbach was frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for delegate-at-large on the anti-Wilson ticket.

Since the convention of 1910 at which the present Governor was nominated Mr. Katzenbach has not been rated as an enthusiastic Wilson man. He has made no open attacks upon the Governor, but his position toward the Executive has never been politically cordial. This led to the belief that he might be induced to become a leader in the anti-Wilson movement. When efforts in that direction failed the Wilson supporters set about adding Mr. Katzenbach to the Wilson ranks, but thus far with indifferent success.

As a vote-getter, not only in his own county, but in the State at large, Mr. Katzenbach has already demonstrated his ability. As the candidate for Governor against John Franklin Fort he was defeated by only 5,000 plurality, a small margin, considering the strength of the Republican party in the State prior to that time. Should Mr. Katzenbach consent to become a Wilson delegate, is is believed that such action would result in healing many of the sores which followed his failure to reecive the Gubernatorial nomination in 1910.

Prior to the district conference the Mercer County Democrats had a conference of their own, at which the selection of Mr. Katzenbach was indorsed, as well as the administration of Governor Wilson. There was some talk of the possibility of an attempt to select delegates opposed to Governor Wilson.

It was mutually agreed that as a matter of courtesy and political expediency the Governor's delegates in his own district at least should receive the unanimous support of the party. Although this would not necessarily preclude the possibility of an independent movement on the part of some of the Governor's opponents, it will, in all probability, put an end to any such plan which may have been under consideration.

MR. AND MRS. STILLMAN GIVE AN EVENING PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Stillman of 827 West Sixth street, gave an "at home," last night, the affair being attended by about eighty relatives and friends from this city and distant points. Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were assisted in receiving by the latter's sister and her husband, Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Arnold, of Norwich, Conn.

Those who poured and assisted in the dining room were Mrs. Frank J. Hubbard, Mrs. William C. Hubbard, Mrs. T. F. Budlong and Mrs. Ira N. West.

The decorations were attractive in the dining room the color scheme was yellow and white, daffodils and sweet peas being used. In the parlor the colors were pink and green, the arrangement being pink carnations and greens.

Mr. and Mrs. Stillman were married on Christmas Day of last year at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Arnold, in Norwich, Conn., the ceremony being performed by Rev. H. T. Arnold, her brother-in-law. The bride's former name was Mrs. Annie Louise Birge. Shortly after the wedding the couple removed to this city, where the bridegroom resided.

Mr. Stillman is a member of the Plainfield Board of Assessors and has been employed by the Potter Press Company for many years. The couple are members of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, and among the guests at the "at home" were Rev. and Mrs. Edward Shaw and many members of that church. Mrs. Henry Johnson was the caterer.

MUHLENBERG ASKS FOR MORE MONEY

Governors Request the City to Increase Its Yearly Appropriation to $5,000.

APPORTIONMENT NOW $1,500

Sum Too Small, Governors Say, In View of Large Number of "Day Treatments" — Heavier Expenses to Follow Proposed Improvements.

The Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital met with the councilmanic finance committee last night and made a formal request for an increased appropriation the coming year. Heretofore, the city has been appropriating $1,500 a year to the hospital covering the care and treatment of indigent patients. This, the governors say, does not cover the expense and the want the city to make the yearly appropriation $5,000.

During the past year the hospital furnished about 5,000 day treatments, and estimating this on a basis of $2.50 a day for each patient, the governors contend that $1,50 is far from sufficient.

All those at the meeting agreed that the question is a pertinent one. In view of the proposed added facilities there will be increased expenses to be met by the governors. The finance committee agreed to take the matter under consideration in making up the annual budget. Mayor G. W. V. Moy and Acting Corporation Counsel H. C. Runyon attended the meeting.

LENTEN SERVICES DRAWING GOOD-SIZED CONGREGATIONS

Good attendances are reported at the churches of Plainfield where Lenten services are being held during the week. A report from Holy Cross church, where the rector, Rev. William S. McCoy, is holding daily services, Saturday excepted, is to the effect that an excellent attendance and spirit has characterized all the services.

At the beginning of Lent a volunteer vested choir, of boys and young women and girls was organized, the membership of which has not fallen below 26, and has been as high as 39.

At the service yesterday afternoon, Mr. McCoy gave an address in the series on the Apostles Creed on "The Holy Spirit." On Friday afternoons at 4:30 o'clock the addresses are on the Lord's Prayer, next Friday's subject being "Our Daily Bread."

COMMON COUNCIL TO HEAR FROM NETHERWOODITES

Additional police protection, the trolley equipment, the mail delivery, the sidewalks and crossings and the question of additional lights in the streets were among the matters discussed at the meeting of the Netherwood Residents' Association at Truell Hall, Monday night. As a result resolutions were drawn up and presented to the Common Council by the committees to which they were referred.

The meeting was the regular quarterly gathering of the Netherwod residents and many of them were present. The discussion of the various improvements to be requested was of a nature that made the meeting a lively one and if the same enthusiasm prevails at subsequent meetings, the success of the association will be assured.

In the routine business several new applications for membership were acted on. Since the association was organized its growth has been steady.

The library of the Pontifical Biblical Institute will soon be opened in Rome. This institute was established by Pope Pius X. in 1909. The purpose is to make it international and to make known to the world that the Vatican is interested in science as applied to religion. The Biblical Commission appointed by Leo XIII. has already begun its work in connection with this institute, and has issued several books of the Scriptures with full notes. The present Pope has ordered that no one should give biblical instruction in Catholic seminaries who has not received a diploma from the Biblical Commission. Instruction has been committed to the Jesuits. The director, according to regulations, is named by the Pope after consultation with the general of the Society of Jesus, and the nominations of professors is to be made by the general of that society. Applicants for any course must be already doctors in philosophy and divinity. It had been believed that the Dominican order would have charge of the Biblical Institute, and it was the intention that the Dominican Biblical Review would be the organ of the Biblical Commission. But the Jesuits have control.

CONTINUES RESTRAINING ORDER IN BANKER'S CASE.

Trenton, Mar. 13.—The proceedings involving the appointment of a receiver for Max Rosett, the Perth Amboy private banker, came up before Vice-Chancellor Walker yesterday when the injunction restraining him from continuing the banking business was continued. Assistant Attorney-General Nelson B. Gaskill appeared for Commissioner Vivian M. Lewis, of the banking and insurance department, who instituted the proceedings against Rosett, who was not represented in court.

Vice-Chancellor Walker suggested that Mr. Gaskill submit a number of names to him for the purpose of selecting and appointing a receiver for the institution.

When the banking department had Examiner Conklin going over the books of Rosett there was a constant run on the bank for three days and it was found that the institution did not have sufficient funds to meet the demands of the depositors. It was also learned that there existed a deficit aggregating $40,000.

BOROUGH GETS A LESSON ON THE NEED OF SEWERS

Last night's rain following that of all day yesterday emphasized the need of sewers in many sections of North Plainfield. The residents inconvenienced the most are probably those in the DeLacy avenue, Somerset and Greenbrook road sections.

At Greenbrook road the water covered Somerset street, Summit avenue and Greenbrook road to a depth of several inches. Passengers on the Somerset street trolleys were put to much inconvenience at this corner, and the cars were used by many pedestrians to get across the flooded district.

In the DeLacy avenue section, the downpour from the roofs caused the cesspools to overflow and flood the cellars. The North Plainfield Board of Health has taken charge of the situation and will use every precaution to prevent danger from the unsanitary conditions.

Former Freeholder Absolved.

Roselle, Mar. 13.—Justice of the Peace John Gazey, of Roselle Park, has decided that the Board of Health of the borough failed to substantiate the charge made against Noah Woodruff, for many years a member of the Union County Board of Freeholders and police judge in Roselle Park, that he had sold milk without a license. The case has been dismissed. Mr. Woodruff keeps one cow. It was alleged that on several occasions he sold milk to neighbors. He did not deny that he supplied neighbors occasionally but declared that he did not sell milk without a license.

The accident at the Washington avenue crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad, Saturday night, has once more directed the attention of residents of New Market to the danger that lies at this point. For years it has been a source of worriment to the village and though all precautions are taken, fatalities or near fatalities continue to occur. "LIAR!" SAYS SENATOR TO LOCAL OPTIONIST LEADER

Trenton, March 13.—There was an exciting few minutes in the side lobby of the Senate yesterday afternoon as the result of a colloquy between Senator Harry D. Leavitt, of Mercer County, and Rev. Edward I. Stearns, superintendent of the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League, over the speedy reporting in the Senate of the local option bill. The tilt was the sequel to the one between the same gentlemen about two weeks ago.

Yesterday Senator Leavitt discovered in "Justice," a State liquor organ, a column article containing statements from Mr. Stearns that reflected upon the Senator and intimated that he was under the domination of the liquor interests. There were hints that this alleged domination had led Mr. Leavitt, as chairman of the committee, to 'railroad" the measure out of committee.

Going over to where Mr. Stearns was sitting, Senator Leavitt pointed to the article and said: "I care not whether or not you are a minister, if you said that you are a liar." In other strong words he resented the accusation and challenged Mr. Stearns to prove his charge by the Senator's record.

The Rev. Mr. Stearns did not deny that he had made the statement, in substance, but claimed he had been told the charge was true. Senator Leavitt insisted that Superintendent Stearns state who told of the charge, but he later refused to give the information.

DOCTOR, FALLEN ON EVIL DAYS, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Dr. John Miller Kennedy, for many years one of the best known physicians in New York, and an uncle of Duncan Kennedy, of West Front street, this city, died yesterday in Bellevue Hospital, New York, of pneumonia. Recently he had been stopping at Mills Hotel No. 1 in New York. When he walked into Bellevue Hospital last Saturday night and said he was suffering from influenza, he was quickly recognized by Dr. Rutledge, the physician in charge.

"Aren't you Dr. Kennedy?" Dr. Rutledge asked. Kennedy said that he was, and that if anything happened to him the doctors might communicate with his wife, Mrs. Ada Kennedy, of New York, or Duncan Kennedy, at Plainfield.

Dr. Kennedy was forty-nine years old, and for many years had a large practice in New York, especially on the West Side. He was a graduate of Johns Hopkins University and the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York. A year ago last June his daughter, Jean, was drowned at Ocean Grove, and since that time the doctor had never been the same. He is survived by a wife and daughter, Susie; also two sisters, the Misses Mary and Janet Kennedy, of Asbury Park.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Park Presbyterian church, New York, and the burial will be in Woodlawn cemetery.

WOMAN HELD FOR HUSBAND'S DEATH

Police Charge Mrs. Ciccone With Murder.

PUT POISON IN HIS FOOD.

Woman's Daughter Said to Have Admitted She Bought Rat Poison Containing Arsenic—Drug Given In Small Quantities and Presence Found Only After Death.

Newark, N. J., March 13.—Mrs. Madelina Ciccone was formally charged with the murder of her husband, Leonardo, and held without bail. The police now allege they have found where she obtained the poison she is said to have administered to her husband for several days in gradually increasing doses until it caused his death last Thursday.

The police allege that Anna, the twelve-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ciccone, has confessed that she purchased rat poison, the main ingredient of which is arsenic, for her mother.

That was before Mrs. Ciccone was arrested on a charge made by her husband. The woman at that time threatened to commit suicide and was frustrated. The police believe she kept the poison hidden until her release on bail, which was obtained by her husband. Then while thanking him for his forgiveness and he was planning to leave this city and start life anew it is thought she was administering the poison to him, mixing it in the food she served him.

According to the authorities, the poison was first given in small quantities. These doses were then increased, and in this way the system absorbed it. Thus when the autopsy was performed no trace of the poison was found. It was not revealed until the organs had been subjected to chemical analysis.

Several times since her arrest Saturday night the woman has become hysterical and threatened to kill herself. The fact that these attacks of hysteria only appear when she is being questioned by the authorities lead the police to believe she is shamming.

H. C. KREBS ILLUSTRATES GENERAL LEE'S STRATEGY

H. C. Krebs, supervising principal of the North Plainfield schools, delivered an address on General Robert E. Lee before the Men's Club of the Congregational church, last night. The storm prevented many from attending, but those present made up in interest what they lacked in numbers. Following the address a social time was enjoyed.

Mr. Krebs traced the career of the Confederate commander. To illustrate Gen. Lee's strategy the speaker used a blackboard to show the positions of the Union and Confederate armies in many of the more important of their engagements.

Mr. Krebs has made an exhaustive study of the period of the war between the States and has visited a number of the battlefields.

ANDERSON BILL PASSES IN FACE OF OPPOSITION

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 13.—Although a fight was made on Assemblyman Anderson's bill to make illegal the granting of rebates on liability and other grades of insurance in the House yesterday the measure was passed. Mr. Watson held that the effect of the bill was to do away with competition, the insurance companies have a combination to make rates. He said the word rebate was a misnomer, the rates are not fixed by law.

Mr. Birch and Mr. Beard both declared that the bill should not be approved. Mr. Lowy asserted that new legislation would not affect the receipts of the companies as it was the agents who made the difference in price, the home companies all getting a uniform return.

Mr. Lowy said there are already laws preventing rebates for life and fire insurance and it would be discrimination not to include other grades. He maintained that the business had deteriorated to such an extent that the change was necessary. Mr. Anderson held that the rebating was a deceitful way of doing business and Mr. Martin also spoke for the bill.

The Work That Pays.

Lord Kelvin, the famous Scotch scientist, used to tell the students in the Glasgow university that the thing that made him make up his mind to get an education at all costs and to work with his head and not with his hands was a remark made by a Scotch minister.

"In Scotland," he said, "you can get all the labor you want for half a crown a day, but there is no country in the world where you can hire mind for half a sovereign a day, and some of it costs a hundred pounds an hour."

BUT THREE MORE DAYS

is one of the crucial periods of the entire contest. The pace is growing so hot that the whole thing has settled down to the survival of the fittest. The important bearing of the special period on the vote for the tours is shown in the large amount of business turned into this office in the past two or three days. The candidates realize that now is the time to "do or die."

There are just three more days before the close of the special prize period, and then three weeks more of the European contest. Many things may happen in a day, and stranger things may happen in three weeks. Numerous fairy tales are going around, but the winner will hear nothing or see nothing but a straight road to the coveted goal. Idle rumors count for naught. Votes are the things that will tell the tale.

When a candidate approaches a prospective subscriber and asks for his support, a not uncommon answer is "I'd be glad to help you if I throught you would win." You have heard how some people answer these foolish questions. No candidate can tell whether or not she is going to win, and it's a certainty she can't win if they all say that. Better give the candidate your subscription now and help her to win. If a contestant lost out by one subscription and you failed to give yours, it would surely make you feel like hiding. If you do not care to take one out for a long time, take it for ten weeks; it will only cost a dollar, and you will more than get your money's worth.

It looks now as if all contest records for this section of the country will be broken before the close. The fact that the party will be in charge of Thomas Cook & Sons during their two months' trip is a factor which has had no small influence in the results, showing, as it does, that the very best in every line is none too good for the Daily Press party.

The itinerary as heretofore announced in the Press excels all competition in every way, being the most comprehensive and complete which could be secured for the time spent on the continent. In addition to this, the party will travel under conditions strictly first-class in every respect, every provision possible having been arranged for their comfort and convenience. The six countries which will be visited are the ones admittedly the most interesting, and upon the return of the party the members will be in a position to talk on any subject connected with the principal points to be found in these countries and cities.

There is not a shadow of a doubt that the winning contestants will be many times repaid for their work in the contest. So each one should make sure that her name appears among the list of winners when the votes are counted for the last time on the evening of April 6. The importance of the special period cannot be too strongly impressed on the minds of the candidates, for it is right now that the chances of the candidates are strengthened or lost. Do not lose any time at this stage—make every minute count, and there will be no regrets.

QUALITY, NOT NAME.

The Trenton Times points out to the consumers why it is a mistake these days to purchase coal by name and why and how they would be benefitted to judge anthracite by its heat units. Many householders have observed that some coal does not give out the heat that it should and that instead of it becoming ashes remains in big chunks resembling white stones. The coal is more than likely bought because of its widely advertised name and not because of its good qualities. The inefficiency of the coal is not due to any fault of the retail dealer as a rule although in some instances he does deliver an order with an unusual proportion of slate, dirt and dust. But the trouble is the extraordinary large percentage of cinders and slag as we have noted.

"It has become apparent," says the Trenton Times, which complains of the way cities are mulcted in this way, "that a new standard must be adopted for the purchase and sale of coal. It is no longer safe to buy by name, for the buyer seldom gets the name he pays for; nor by size, for the size ordered is not delivered; nor has the buyer any guarantee that when he orders by the ton he will get the 2,000 pounds charged for on his bill. The dealer may be perfectly honest, but as he orders large quantities by sample, he may be deceived by the mine-owner or shipper, and find himself with an inferior stock on hand, and no recourse, for, as is well known, the operators have a close corporation that enables them to completely control the situation.

"The consumer must find relief in the purchase of or payment for coal on the basis of heat units contained therein as shown by analysis, the plan that has been adopted in general by the various departments and bureaus of the United States government, and as the Municipal Journal says, by more than twenty important cities in the United States, including Atlanta, New Orleans, Kansas City, Grand Rapids, Buffalo, Philadelphia, New York, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Syracuse, Norfolk, Omaha and Toronto, Ontario.

"A standard is fixed by the municipal authorities, say of 14,000 thermal units and a percentage of ash to the pound. Samples are furnised by the bidders, who guarantee a certain standard. If his coal falls below this standard it is either rejected or a reduction made in the price; if it excels the standard he is paid a higher price. There are different standards for various kinds and sizes of coal. The plan is fair —the municipality pays for what it gets, and the dealer is paid for what he furnishes.

"Cadillac, Mich., estimates that it saves 25 per cent.; Grand Rapids and Omaha, 10 per cent.; New York city, 'many thousands of dollars;' and Syracuse does not look for a saving, but to 'bring the coal purchased up to the standard of the money paid for it,' which certainly means a financial saving. All of the cities named have specifications, and some of them embody in them instructions for collecting samples and making the analysis."

For the amusement of our readers, we reproduce this morsel from the editorial columns of Justice, the organ of New Jersey's liquor interests:

"Mayor Moy and his fellow officials in Plainfield seem to be running things as close to the prohibition line there as they think safe. The local authorities have just refused to renew a license because the applicant wouldn't make his place fit for their artistic eyes with a new coat of paint; and a little dispatch from that awfully exclusive Union county city tells how even the hackmen of the town cannot get a license to drive horses unless they 'sign the pledge' for the year.

"Think of a large-souled citizen trying to be comfortable in a town run on such small-souled lines! The dealers of the municipality would be in better position to protect themselves against the oppressions and exactions of the super-Puritanical town rulers if they were part of an organization strong enough and active enough to force terms for them.

"Those engaged in the liquor industry are so harshly and so uniformly ruled against, and so eternally being crowded with all the handicaps venomous holier-than-thous can plan for them, that unless they stand together and help each other, they are powerless to protect their interests as they should be protected."

Professor John B. Smith, of Rutgers College, who died yesterday, had been State entomologist since 1894. In that position he had won a reputation that made his name known far and wide, for it was through his work that New Jersey was rid to a large extent of that pesty little critter, the mosquito. His crusade to exterminate this insect was highly successful for he wisely concentrated his efforts against the breeding spots. To the seashore resorts especially the entomologist's efforts proved a big boon and it may be said without fear of contradiction that New Jersey no longer deserves the title, "The Mosquito State." The professor was a member of many distinguished scientific bodies in various parts of the country as well as in Canada. He had contributed several hundred valuable articles to technical and government publications and was the author of some highly important works on insect life.

It is only right that all the surviving veterans of the Civil War, not solely those who actually participated in the battle, sholud be sent by the State to attend the fiftieth anniversary of the Gettysburg fight. The observance will take place on July 1, 2 and 3, 1913, and will be in charge of a commission appointed by the Governor of Pennsylvania. In its original form as passed by the Legislature and signed by Governor Wilson, the resolution provided that a part of the National Guard and the veterans who fought on that historic battlefield compose New Jersey's representation, but as has been said it was afterwards considered only fair that all the veterans be given an invitation. No patriotic Jerseyman can possibly see any objection to the Legislature's action in appropriating $25,000 for this purpose.

THE FORUM.

Telephone Rates.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Sirs:—I notice in the Daily Press of March 10, 1912, editorial comment on an article from the Newark Sunday Call in regard to the toll charges for telephone service. I also note your opinion in regard to rental charges in Plainfield. You failed to suggest a remedy. The toll service in Plainfield and most all other towns in New Jersey are too high and this fact can be easily proven by looking over the published rates in the subscribers' lists, but as long as the public will stand for it the telephone company will keep the rate up or raise them higher still if they dare to. But this is only one of the ways the telephone company robs the public. Every town has it in its power to make the telephone rate what it should be and a firm stand by the citizens of Plainfield would accomplish results very quickly. All you have to do is to give the facts to the public and this the Daily Press can do. In New York State the Public Service Commission has done good work for the general public and the same could be done in this State. All that is needed is to have a paper with the influence of the Daily Press start the ball rolling. Every householder will be interested and help the work along and in the end the general public will receive the benefit, for not only will the toll rates come down to a point where it will be an advantage to the public to use them but the exchange rental will be reduced to a point never before dreamed of by the general public not only in Plainfield but throughout the whole State. Proper information placed before the public through the columns of the Daily Press and the Public Service Commission is all that is needed and you can easily get the facts.

DROP PLANS FOR ADDITION

tract than if separated into two contracts at different times.

"It has also developed that the capacity of the gymnasium is entirely inadequate and that it needs enlargement immediately. It now accommodates only a portion of the two lowest classes. The benefit of the gymnasium instruction has proven to be of such value to the pupils that it is a real loss to the children who are deprived of it, so that it seems a necessity to provide increased room immediately. This can be done only by enlarging the building much more than was contemplated in the six room addition.

"When the High School was erected, the limitation of the appropriation made it necessary to cut out the heating provision down to the bare requirements of the building as it now stands. Erecting a six room addition would require large expense in making new provisions for heating and ventilating. A twelve-room addition two years from now would require similar additional expense. If the building is now increased to its ultimate capacity, the whole heating and ventilating system can be revised and made a unit at very much less expense and yet much greater efficiency than if enlarged piecemeal.

"The auditorium is already too small for the music festivals, the physical culture exhibits, the grammar school graduation, and other general school exercises. The full enlargement of the building at this time would make the auditorium adequate for these exercises, and also for the graduation exercises of the High School itself.

"After careful study of all these facts, the board was forced to the conclusion that as wise stewards they could do nothing else than to drop the plans for a six room addition and go to the Board of Estimate for an increased appropriation which would permit enlarging the High School to the capacity of the school lot. This means approximately an increase of twenty-one class rooms, giving the school a seating capacity of about 1,100 people. It will include an enlargement of the auditorium to the same capacity, also the provision of a new gymnasium room so that all pupils of the school can have physical training, the labratory and commercial rooms will be improved, and space will be afforded for development of the Domestic Science Department for the girls. Work has already begun on the plans, and it is hoped to have the addition ready for use about the middle of the new school year."

MISS MILLER FOUNDER OF GIRLS LUNCHEON CLUB

The working girls in the neighborhood of Fifth avenue and Thirty-sixth street, New York, at noon yesterday, started out to find a place in which to satisfy their large appetites by a small outlay of their weekly wages. They discovered a new and attractive lunch room which has just opened its doors especially for them.

The Neighborhood Luncheon Club, at No. 5 East Thirty-sixth street, began its career with a list of more than one hundred customers, and the capacity of the two basement rooms which it occupies was taxed almost to the utmost to seat the hungry girls from nearby shops, department stores and offices.

Miss Emma Miller, of Plainfield, is responsible for the new luncheon club. She suggested to Rev. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church in New York, that it would be an excellent idea for the church to do something practical for the working girl by opening an inexpensive lunch room and he approved the idea, and immediately appointed a committee, whose members belong to one of the church societies, to choose a location, install equipment and get the domestic machinery of a lunch club in running order.

The new lunch room is supported by the church; the rent is paid by one of its members. The luncheon club is open from 11 until 2.

PENSION MEASURE EVOKES ORATORY FROM MARTINE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 13.—Senator Martine, in a characteristic manner, interested the Senate Monday in a speech in favor of passing the bill to grant service pensions to the veterans of the Civil and Mexican Wars. The McCumber amendment proposed by the Senate committee to the Sherwood bill passed by the House was under discussion. As reported by the Senate committee, the bill involves an estimated expense of $20,410,000 against an estimated $56,600,000 outlay involved in the Sherwood bill.

It was a characteristically Martinean orator, in which the "southern" and the "rising" sun and other flowers of rhetoric blossomed. He closed with this peroration:

"Senators, I urge you to vote for this measure and I believe as I live that a just God and a generous people will bless and advance our country's welfare."

DOG'S VICTIM TAKES CURE.

Hartmeier, Bitten by Rabid Terrier, Takes Pasteur Course.

West Nutley, N. J., March 13.—John J. Hartmeier, residing here, who was bitten in the right leg by a mad dog Monday at his home, entered the Pasteur institute to begin an eighteen day course of treatment. Hartmeier was formerly vice president of the Hartmeir & Sons company, furniture manufacturers, 29 Bridge street, Paterson.

It was said yesterday at the institute that there was no cause for worry about Mr. Hartmeier, who is responding to the treatment. An examination of the dog's head proved that the animal had one of the worst cases of rabies the physicians have discovered since last August.

The dog, a bull terrier, tried to bite other persons and bit a valuable collie and a Newfoundland, both of which were shot to death by police. Mr. Hartmeier's son killed the bull terrier with a shotgun.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS.

Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, Mrs. Louise Bryan Dorr, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, Mrs. Vernona Henry and Mrs. Zoe Bateman.

"WOMAN SUFFRAGE AS A SUBJECT FOR DISCUSSION."

Mrs. C. L. Riley

No subject is more fruitful of discussion than woman suffrage. If a lunch party is dull or an afternoon tea lacks lustre one has only to mention "Votes for Women" and the dullness is at once dispelled by the advent of a real live topic of conversation.

There is hardly a magazine or newspaper today without its article on the woman question and the names of those who have piped to that tune are too numerous to mention. Lately in the Outlook, Theodore Roosevelt wrote a very thoughtful article called "Women's Rights." He said, "I believe in woman's rights. I believe even more earnestly in the performance of duty by both men and women." A little further on, speaking of women voting, he says, "It is so much less important than many other reforms that I have never been able to take a very heated interest in it." Just here is food for discussion.

There is no doubt whatever that women ought to peform their own special duties and suffragists will agree with Mr. Roosevelt that their "prime duties are those related to the home and family." To properly care for the family, however, we women ought to have a vote on the water question, the sewer question and many such, and I believe that the apathy said to be shown by the men of Plainfield in regard to these matters would be a thing of the past if the women became interested. To properly play the part of mothers we women ought to have a direct influence in keeping public places clean. Take for instance the Plainfield postoffice, where, I am confident, our children can catch a thousand or so germs to the second—my apologies to the bacteriologists if the estimate is inadequate. Again, as housekeepers, it is our business to ask with the authority of voters for city scaries and a city incinerator to dispose of garbage after it has been systematically removed. And since the education of children has always been considered part of woman's duty we women ought to have a vote for school trustees and ought to serve as such ourselves.

"What in de name of goodness," as Uncle Remus would say does the "Cunnel" think we want the vote for if not to take part in the other reforms which he deems "important?" Returning to the subject of education, it is noteworthy that the foremost psychologist and educator in the country, Professor John Dewey, stands out strongly for equal suffrage, and I have ofen marvelled that all educators do not realize the educational value of political responsibility the women. A little girl born into a world for which she is expected to be responsible to the same extent as her brother will surely attain a larger development than the same little girl given the great opportunities that she has today and expected to do nothing with them.

Ida Tarbell says that women have been given education and liberty. So they have, but these privileges used only for their own pleasure produce just the irresponsible women who are dangerous to the community.

Of course there are some women taking very seriously their share of responsibility, but they are sadly hampered by not having a vote. Miss Janet Richards tells us that the legislators are more than likely to throw women's petitions into the scrap basket because they are not voters. When we needs must petition—it is the only right we have—Miss Richards advises signing initials and writing like men.

I hope to see the day when we shall not have to disguise our woman's handwriting. I look for the time when our women of the Eastern States will rival the women of the Western States and of Scandinavia, who, without losing womanliness, lend all that there is of woman in them to help move the world onward toward the good day a coming for all.

The woman who has her good day now the "protected woman" does not realize, says Mrs. C. B. Alexander, "how much her unprotected sister needs the ballot."

What holds the good cause back is this very failure on the part of the majority of women to realize the practical uses of the ballot. Yet every day the number is growing less of those who fail to realize its value. Yesterday one thousand women went to Albany to ask for an early hearing on their woman suffrage bill and in Trenton the first hearing ever granted on woman suffrage marked an era in our own State. Thus it is apparent that the day is passing when it can be said that "women do not care to vote"—and so falls the last stronghold of those who oppose the political infranchisement of women.

—"Life is full of paradoxes," remarked the Wise Guy. "That's right" agreed the Simple Mug. "I once knew a professional strong man who sued his wife for support."

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SPRING ONIONS.

ONIONS are coming in from the south now, and the fine new Bermudas are with us, so that this wholesome if somewhat odorous vegetable has a special excuse for appearing on the bill of fare.

The Easter table may be adorned with a handsome pond lily cut out of a Bermuda onion and served on lettuce leaves. The yellow center can be represented by mayonnaise dressing.

Green Onions.

Green onions may be served fresh with salt or after this fashion:

Green Onions on Toast.—Chop a bunch of green onions, put into cold water and set the pan on the stove. When the water comes to a boil remove, drain and cover with cold water. Boil for ten minutes more and drain. Season with a small piece of butter rolled in flour, a quarter saltspoonful of pepper and a little milk—just a few spoonfuls.

Have slices of buttered toast and place a spoonful of onion in the center of each.

Fried bread may be used instead of toast. Garnish with slices of hard boiled egg.

Cooked in the Oven.

Baked With Cream Sauce.—Take a quart of onions, a cupful of milk, a tablespoonful of butter, two cupfuls of fresh breadcrumbs, a tablespoonful of flour, one and a half teaspoonfuls of salt and a dash of pepper. Peel the onions and lay in cold water. Put in a saucepan over the fire, with boiling water enough to cover. Add one teaspoonful salt and boil until tender without a cover.

Brush a bake dish with melted butter, lay the boiled onions in and cover with the cream sauce made as follows:

Cream Sauce.—Put one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan over the fire, melt, add flour, one-half teaspoonful salt and pepper. Then add the milk slowly. Stir until smooth and creamy and boil two minutes. Pour this over the onions, melt the remainder of butter, mix with the breadcrumbs, stir them and spread over the onions. Bake until light brown.

Baked Onions—Peel and boil onions and arrange them side by side in a baking pan. Strew salt and pepper over them, cover them with a cream sauce made by directions already given, sprinkle crumbs over the top, bake for fifteen minutes covered, uncover and brown.

VOGUE POINTS.

Lace Flounces on Frocks Revived This Season.

The lace flounce is to be considerably used on summer dresses.

Two materials are combined in a large percentage of the new frocks.

Many of the new tailored suits show belts sometimes extending across the front or back, sometimes running all around the waist. As for the girdles, they range from narrow to the very wide.

Double box plaits are seen on the backs of some of the new spring skirts, plaits also being set into the sides of the skirt below the knee.

The skirt that gives a tunic effect is one of the very latest. This one is exceptionally attractive and economical as well, for two short lengths of materials may be used.

THE FRIENDS OF CHILDHOOD

They Supply a Large Part of a Youngster's Education and Should Be Chosen With Care and Discrimination.

WE are learning that ease and grace are qualities that must be cultivated in childhood. For this reason the "seen but not heard" type of child is going out of favor. After all, was it a type of childhood worth the careful fostering that it enjoyed for so many years? It is now agreed that self possession and good manners may very well go together. So instead of the self conscious, awkward youngsters of a decade ago it is required that our juniors know their places and be able to fill them becomingly.

Children naturally reflect the thought, the speech, the manners, of those who whom they are most closely and most frequently associated. The boy or girl who comes from a home where rudeness flourishes and where loud talking or bad English is the rule will be an impertinent child, with habits of speech to exclude him or her from the society of refined children, at least if the latter's parents have any choice in the matter.

For this reason the associates of the small boy or girl should be carefully chosen by parents. It may not be mere snobbishness on the part of the parents of little Alfred to object to his making an intimate of Tony, the son of the Italian fruit dealer, or Patsie, the teamster's son. Worthy persons as these boys' parents are and diamonds in the rough though Tony and Patsie may be, the lads have certain uncouth manners and tricks of speech which the parents of Alfred do not care to have their son acquire, as he might very well do if he were constantly in the company of the sons of an illiterate fruit vender and teamster.

While in these days of public schools there is a certain inevitable companionship, parents should try to know as much as possible of those boys and girls whom their children choose as special playmates.

It is natural that children should prefer the society of their own kind to that of any adults, and the boy or girl who has learned to choose his or her friends with discrimination has mastered one of the most useful lessons of life. The art of keeping friends is another accomplishment that should be drilled into the small boy and girl.

GIRL'S DANCING SCHOOL GOWN.

The shy child is a serious problem. He is generally an unpopular and an unhappy child. Teaching the boy or girl to think of others and accustoming him or her to the company of others is one of the best means of overcoming this handicap. It should be given early treatment, for as the child grows older it will be found harder and harder to conquer. Boys and girls of this sort should be given all the social advantages possible. They should be encouraged to invite their little friends to spend an afternoon or an evening often, and the parents should see that the visitors are of the kind to be helpful.

Children's parties and the dancing class have their uses in the social education of the child. They encourage the spirit of friendliness and of hospitality. The dancing class is an excellent school of manners, and dancing as an exercise has done more to make little boys and girls easy and graceful than all the calisthenics in the world.

The child's garments for any social affair should be as simple as possible. The overdressed child is always self conscious. Illustrated here is a design for a modish little dress which may be worn to the dancing class or to a party. The gown is of eyelet embroidery and has a belt of fancy lace, while the yoke is of lace and insertion combined. The points around the edge of the skirt are finished with lace insertion and a lace edge.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

The Hipprodrome spectacle, "Around the World," has passed the three hundredth mark. More than that number of performances of the big show having already been given this season. The great Durbar pageant, the Sandstorm in the Desert, the beautiful Ballet of Butterflies and Forest Fires, are but a few of the popular features, and scenic visits may be paid to every interesting country on the face of the earth. A number of circus specialities are interpolated throughout the various scenes. Hassen Ben Ali's troupe of Berber acrobats is among these, while others are Van Cleve and his funny performing mule Pete, the Mirano Brothers, etc. Besides the big company of players numbering nearly 1,200, there are animals ranging in size from baby lambs to elephants, all of these being introduced in the scenic representations of the lands to which they belong. On Sunday evening, March 10, at 8:15, the celebrated Jewish Cantor will be heard at the Hipprodrome concert.

SAYS CUBAN VETERANS READY TO FIGHT U. S.

Camaguey, Cuba, Mar. 13.—General Fernandez de Castro, during the assembly of the veterans, which lasted throughout the night, declared that should the United States attempt another intervention the veterans of Cuba would fight as they had fought against Spain. He was enthusiastically applauded.

The general assembly, which was convened yesterday, discussed for many hours a resolution to demand an investigation into the sources of the wealth of all the members of the administration, including the President of the republic, and this was finally agreed to.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

REV. R. G. BOVILLE TELLS OF BIBLE VACATION SCHOOLS

Mrs. Isabella Charles Davis, mother of Mrs. Henry C. Irons, of West Eighth street, was the hostess at a Lenten affair at the home of the latter, Monday afternoon, when she invited a company of friends to meet Rev. Robert G. Boville, of New York, who is founder and a national director of the Daily Bible Vacation Schools.

Dr. Boville was requested to explain this unique work and tell of the remarkable results. The speaker said that last summer 28,000 children had attended these schools, which are taught by college men and women. It is really a college and church ministry to children, and it has been said that during the six weeks' session of the schools in the summer the children get more Bible instruction than during a whole year in the ordinary way.

His hearers were much interested in Dr. Boville's talk. Among those present were Rev. Dr. J. S. Zelie, of the Crescent Avenue church, and Rev. William S. McCoy, of the Holy Cross church. Mrs. Davis, who is the founder of the International Order of The King's Daughters, has been much interested in Mr. Boville's efforts for some time and it was her desire to acquaint Plainfielders with the work.

ENTERTAINMENT FOLLOWS M. E. LADIES' AID SUPPER

The Laidies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church gave one of the series of suppers at the church, last night, followed by an entertainment in Vincent chapel, which was furnished largely by the men of the church. Despite the stormy night the attendance was unusually large. Mrs. Maurice E. McGrath was chairman of the committee of women in charge of the supper.

The entertainment comprised singing by a women's quartet, Mrs. S. H. Tugwell, Mrs. Guy Bender, Mrs. H. R. Moyer and Mrs. W. A. W. Burnet. "Bud" Rolston, whose impersonations of Harry Lauder have attracted much attention, sang a number of Scotch songs and told Scotch stories. One of the features of the program was the presentation or the prologue from "Midsummer Night's Dream," by several men of the church. Piano solos by Miss Julia Rowley interspersed the other parts of the program.

—Somehow or other we always know what other people ought to do.

—"I don't feel quite like myself today, complained the Old Grouch. And he wondered why everybody said "Hurrah!"

JOHNNY M'GRAW VOUCHES FOR THIS BR'LLIANT SHOT.

How's this for a three cushion billiard shot? If you don't believe it ask John McGraw. The manager of the New York Giants is a good three cushion player, and he says he not only made the shot once, but did it again to show that it was not a scratch and to convince the skeptics that it could be done. The cue ball is marked A, the first object ball B and the second object ball C, and the arrows show the flight of the cue ball.

"I massed the cue ball to the side rail," says McGraw, "hitting it with great power on the left side and making it take the side rail first. It went from the rail to the first object ball and then back to the same side rail. Owing to the force it came off the rail the second time with speed and then down the table and doubled the corner for a count."

MORAN BEATS MOORE.

Englishman, Showing Improved Form, Outpoints Quaker City Lad.

New York, March 13.—Owen Moran, the English lightweight, showed improved form when he outpointed Pal Moore of Philadelphia in a red hot ten round bout at the Fairmount Athletic club. Moran did the forcing in a majority of the rounds, also outpunching the Quaker in numerous rallies. Moore did not begin to warm up to his work until the last two rounds of the fight, when he did so well that he got an even break in each. Moran did not have a mark, while Moore's face was badly bruised.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

The Y. M. C. A. nine will have a practice game of ball on the new grounds located on East Front street, where the toboggan slide stood, this afternoon. (Daily Press, Saturday, April 28, 1888.)

OLD BATTERY PARTNERS DISCUSS GAME'S OUTLOOK

The baseball situation in Bound Brook is in a desperate condition, to make use of a fan's expression after asking Manager Charley Newhouse was the chances for a nine were this season. That fan was none other than Charley's old time battery partner, Charley Brampton, who dropped into the Berkeley Hotel yesterday for some fanning near the radiator.

Brampton and Newhouse were the battery for Bound Brook for a number of years and served Dunellen in the same capacity for a season or two. They also performed on the West End grounds in Somerville back in the days when "Rube" Daily, the only Central New Jersey League umpire to last last season out, was shining as a mask and wind pad wearer in the Somerset county seat.

Charley told "Brammy" the story more or less familiar to all the fans of this locality which in effect is that the Pillar of Fire sect bought the Main street grounds for building purposes and if building operations are started this spring Bound Brook will not have a ball club. Even if the religious society postpones the erection of a church on the property and consents to lease it for baseball purposes, the franchise owners do not feel strong for another season of league games.

SHORT DISTANCE RUNNER SAYS HE CAN "COME BACK."

George Forster, of Westfield, widely known as a fleet short distance runner, has announced that this summer he will take up longer distance work on the cinder paths and will make a try for the American team at the Olympiad in Sweden. He has been out of athletics for a year, but has expressed himself as feeling confident that he can come back, especially in the longer distance sprinting.

While active as a runner, Forster made his best marks in 110 yard dashes. He now purposes taking up 220, 440 and 880 yard runs, none of which he has done in competition although often advised to do so. He will also enter in 110 yard events but will not restrict himself to this limit, as previously.

Baseball Judgment Won.

New Brunswick, Mar. 13.—Seiffert Brothers obtained judgment in the district court against the New Brunswick Amusement Company for $143 for baseballs and other sporting goods used by the company last year. Four of the former directors have suits against the company for money lent and services rendered. Joseph L. Broffe claims $125.85, George Seiffert $25, Hugo Wasserman $131 and James Manning, $26. The suits were tried Monday in the district court. The defense was that the men had no contract. Decision was reserved by Judge Freeman Woodbridge.

Jennings Likes His Infield.

Monroe, La., Mar. 13.—Manager Jennings opined that the Tiger infield would be stronger than last year, even if Bush insists on his holdout, for on arrival in camp Jim Delehanty assured him that the leg injured in 1910, and which spoiled his playing all last year, had finally healed completely. With Gainer also in his old-time form, the starboard side of the diamond will be impregnable. Summers, Casey and Davey Jones have reported. Crawford, Stanage, Mullin and O'Leary and perhaps Donovan will soon be in making almost a complete roster.

THE GINGER JAR

No recruit is as good today as he says he will be tomorrow.

A bush leaguer is a player who has never met the ball he can't do without.

Manager Wolverton, of the New York Americans, has instituted an institute for his players with himself as the chief lecturer. Looks as if he didn't have much faith in baseball acquired in correspondence schools or otherwise.

If some explorer would just discover the rain pole and take it away he would back Amundsen, Peary and Cook off the front pages of the sporting sections.

It's practically impossible for a rookie to form an impartial opinion of himself. And don't the managers know it.

It's no easy task for a minor league manager to get a classy team, for the best he can hope for is a chance at the bargain counters of the majors.

The ambitious ball players in the southland hear "don't" so often that they doubt the number of the commandments.

A rejected phenom arouses a fan's curiosity about as much as a last year's almanac.

A couple of Wolverton's pitchers have developed sore arms, the kind that bloom in the spring. Johnny Warhop and Clark are among those according their whips tender consideration.

Likening young players to veterans is a well known habit and in Martin, the Yankees California pitcher, members of the Highlanders say they have a twirler who has much the same delivery as "Joe" Wood, the speed-boy of the Boston Red Sox.

All the veterans, including McGraw, speak highly in praise of Groh. He is a fightning fielder and at the bat steps into the ball like an old-timer.

"Any batter that looks over Ames' curves for the first time imagines he sees things that do not exist," said Chief Bender the other day after Leon had left a swath of bewildered bushers in his wake.

Plainfield Elks are game at any rate. Rolling against New Brunswick, Elizabeth and Hoboken during the last weeks, they have lost the first two games of each match, and yet they come back with a victory in the third.—New Brunswick Home News.

WESTFIELD YOUTH TO BID FOR "WHITE HOPE" HONORS

Westfield has the latest "white hope." He is "Bill" Sands, a lineman in the employ of the P. S. C. Recently he put away the last of the amateurs to try conclusions with him in the squared circle and has declared through his manager that now he is ready to go after bigger game.

Sands weighs 180 pounds in fighting trim and will not be out of his 'teens yet for another year. He has been advised to wait a year or so before taking up the white man's burden, but argues that as there are no more foes worthy of his skill it would be a waste of valuable time and he might slow up without the exercise and practice.

The fight field in New York offers some tempting marks, he thinks, and some that a meeting with would be instructive and seasoning. The best of them will not be taken on at first unless he shows a class that makes trying conclusions with them advisable to accomplish the desired end—perfection in ring generalship and boxing ability.

Among those who have gone against Sands is Jack Payne, who received considerable instruction in the manly art from Bob Fitzsimmons when the latter was boxing instructor to the local police force, of which Payne was a member at the time. Payne has seen some of the best men of their day in action and says Sands is capable of giving a good account of himself with any of them in their prime at his weight.

P. H. S. GIRLS DEFEATED IN FAST GAME AT WESTFIELD

The girls' basketball team of the Plainfield High School lost to the Westfield High School girls' five at that place yesterday afternoon. The score was 14 to 13 and tells the story of a contest that kept the many pupil enthusiasts at fever pitch throughout. In addition to the play being fast, at times it became very rough and was marred by numerous fouls.

The line up: P. H. S.—Stewart and Mehl, forwards; Douglas, centre; Rodenbaugh, (Moy) and Phillips, guards. W. H. S.—Gladwin and Pearsall, forwards; Tice, centre; Lightfoot and Wittke, guards.

Fans to Vote On Starting Time.

John T. Brush, owner of the New York Giants, has decided to leave the question of time for beginning the baseball games at the Polo Grounds to the fans, and to this end he has instructed J. J. O'Brien, secretary of the club, to make the test early in the season. A rather novel plan has been devised to settle the question. No regular votes will be cast, but followers of the team can express their opinion by passing through one or the other of two gates, marked 3:30 o'clock and 4 o'clock. The vote, if such it may be called, will last through a series between the Eastern clubs, and the regulars in this way will have an opportunity to emphasize their choice by voting on each day.

Change Name of "Pool."

Chicago, March 13.—The word "pool," as applied to billiard tables and which has rioted women's clubs and divided church organizations throughout the country, has finally passed from American vernacular. The next revisers of dictionaries will omit the word and in its place substitute "pocket billards," according to several hundred billard-room keepers from all parts of the United States, who assembled here Monday.

Hockey in Quebec.

Quebec, Mar. 13.—Quebec defeated Moncton at hockey in the first game of the Stanley Cup series at the Quebec Rink Monday night by the score of 9 goals to 3. Both teams were troubled with the soft ice.

"GRAVY" A FENCE BUSTER.

That Horace Fogel, in landing Cravath, of Minneapolis, has hooked one of the greatest hitters in the game, is the opinion of Jack Hayden, Indianapolis outfielder and former Athletic, who accompanied the Phillies west for the training trip.

"That boy Cravath is one of the greatest hitters I ever saw," said Hayden enthusiastically. "Every time he comes to the plate he gives me heart failure. Hit! Why he can naturally whale that old ball any place he likes. It don't make any difference to him. He bats right-handed and he slams as many into right garden as a good southpaw hitter.

"They say he can't field. That's not so, not by a jugful. I've seen him play for two years years and I've yet to see him fall down. He isn't heavy, either, just about Magee's build, but not as fast on his feet as 'Mac.' I tell you what, Minneapolis thinks a whole lot of that boy. There isn't a place in the town he don't own. They were some sorry to see him go, but it was a cinch to them that Cravath was fast enough for the big leagues."

MOOSE BOWLERS TOOK TWO GAMES FROM ELKS

The Moose bowling team took two games in a Fraternal League match with the Elks last night on the Olympia alleys. This does not change the standing in the record as the Elks held first place by a safe margin. The Bills lost heart after the fifth frame in the last contest when the score was against them by 110 pins. The finish showed that the game was lost by but 28 pins and had they grooved a few more balls the result might have been different.

NEW BRUNSWICK ELKS DEFEATED IN TWO GAMES.

Rolling on their own alleys, last night, the New York Elks took two games in the match with the champion New Brunswick quintet. Starr, of the metropolis five, showed a mark of 228 in the second game. He is second in the individual standing and had he hit them better than 155, his score for the first game, he would have passed Miller for first place. Markey was the only other New Yorker to reach the double century. He shot for 201 in the last contest.

He expects to be in good condition when the time arrives for him to take charge of the American candidates for Olympic honors this summer in Sweden.

Apology Not Enough.

Roselle Park, March 13.—Although he had been invited to attend the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night and explain charges he made reflecting on the integrity of the school trustees, Fred Douncey failed to appear. Instead he sent a note saying that if he had said anything that could be construed as reflecting on the school board members he was sorry for it. The board, however, instructed the clerk to notify Mr. Douncey to attend the next meeting.

He is charged with saying that the owners of proposed sites for schools had been "tipped off" by certain members of the board, resulting in an advance in the prices of these sites.

Very Pretty Hats at Popular Prices

Opening days are largely given up to the show of the more expensive millinery—naturally we put our best foot forward. Just as naturally, you look for our prettiest hats, for the most elaborate things we can produce, and if we did not show them you might imagine that our business ideals were waning, and that we lacked the ambition to do the best we knew how. Besides, we have many patrons who want the very best we can produce, and many of these buy the more elaborate hats at the opening times.

We want today, however, to direct your attention to our more popular lines of hats—those priced so moderately that they appeal to the masses and are often bought by the classes because of their beauty and utility.

At $4.75 we produce remarkably pretty hats, copied from much more expensive models, trimmed to duplicate them almost exactly in style and color, yet made with less expensive materials, thus bringing to you all the style you want, all the color you want without the extravagance the finer qualities necessitate.

Our $4.75 hats are wonderfully varied in style. We keep bringing out new ones every day, so that there is a continuous panorama of syles, and what you see here this week will probably not be seen next week; there is little or no duplication.

At $7.50 we offer still prettier hats, trimmed with somewhat finer materials—models copies from hats that have been selling for two and three times as much—very satisfactory dress hats for some folks, and very useful for those who like to save their finer hats for rare occasions.

Still on up the price ladder we reach hats at $9.50, prettily trimmed, distinctive and in goodly variety.

Other lines at $12.50, and still higher priced hats at from $15 to $75.

New Fancy Braid Hats in the most wanted shapes, in burnt or natural straw, with different colored underbrims, at only $1.95.

New Flower Stick-up Effects with foliage; all desirable colors; the regular 50c kind for only 29c.

Beautiful Dresses

FIRST SHOWN OPENING DAYS—SELLING CHEAPLY

SAYS THEY BROKE LAW OF MOSES

Wise Charges Sugar Men Violated Commandment.

PARSONS' TRIAL IS ON.

Numerous Letters Between Sugar Men, Looked Upon by the Government as Valuable Evidence For the Prosecution, Produced In Court, but Not Introduced.

New York, March 13.—That they were in reality guilty of violating the Tenth commandment was charged by District Attorney Wise in his opening remarks for the government at the real beginning of the trial of John E. Parsons and other defendants on trial in the United States circuit court for conspiracy under the criminal section of the Sherman law.

Mr. Parsons received more mention than did the other defendants, because he, as counsel as well as a director of the sugar trust, had much to do, Mr. Wise charged, with arranging the deal, the purpose of which, the government charges, was to close up a rival refinery.

Throughout most of the day Mr. Parsons sat apart from the other defendants. Washington B. Thomas, president of the American Sugar Refining company; Arthur Donner and George N. Frazier, codefendants with Mr. Parsons, sat with the lawyers and frequently consulted with them.

Letters of two men now dead are relied upon largely by the government to convict Mr. Parsons and the other defendants. These men now dead are H. O. Havemeyer and Gustave E. Kissell, the latter the man through whom, it is alleged, the loan of $1,250,000 was made to Segal which resulted in the closing of the Pennsylvania refinery. Mr. Havemeyer's letters were produced by the secretary of the sugar trust and Mr. Kissel's by his son, Thorne Kissel, an executor of his father's estate. Many letters of Mr. Parsons were also produced and marked for identification, though none of the letters were introduced in evidence.

In his opening Mr. Wise referred to the case as being an extraordinary one because of the character of the men involved. There was no novel application of law to the facts, he said.

"It is not necessary," said the district attorney, "to talk about the Sherman law or about any made law. It is simply charged against these men that they collated a law which was handed down by the Lord to Moses in the Tenth commandment, 'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house nor anything that is his.'"

COAL SUPPLY LOW.

Immediate Distress Would Be Felt In Case of Strike, Says White.

New York, March 13.—John P. White, head of the Coal Miners' union, returned to New York to direct further negotiations with the operators for a wage increase.

President White asserted that his investigation in the Pennsylvania field proved that the supply of mined coal was so short that immediate distress would be felt by the public in the event of a strike.

Upon his arrival White and other representatives of the United Mine Workers went into conference on the program to be followed at today's meeting with the coal presidents.

SHIPS, COLLIDING IN FOG, BADLY DAMAGED

But Navahoe and Savannah Were Able to Reach Dock.

New York, March 13.—The Savannah liner City of Savannah, which sailed from her pier bound for Savannah, collided during a thick fog in the Narrows with the Clyde line freighter Navahoe. The Navahoe smote the City of Savannah almost "square on her bow." The port bow of the Navahoe crumpled against the stronger steel stem of the passenger boat.

There were only a few cabin passengers aboard the City of Savannah, and none were hurt.

The Navahoe made her way to her dock unaided. Two tugs that were sent to the aid of the City of Savannah accompanied her to her dock. She was badly damaged forward, her stem being dented in and shoved back nearly ten feet.

PRIMARY BILL IN HOUSE.

Both Roosevelt and La Follette Men Expected to Join In Its Support.

Washington, March 13.—An expression by the house on the subject of presidential preference primary laws is sought in a measure introduced by Representative Norris of Nebraska, a progressive, who favors the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt. Practically all the house progressives, including Roosevelt and La Follette men, will throw their support to the Norris bill. The bill provides for the establishment of the presidential preference primary system in the District. While the bill itself applies only to the national capital, progressives believe it is of the highest importance in view of the fact that Roosevelt and La Follette approve the principle involved to secure an expression on the subject from the house of representatives.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

(Somerville Unionist-Gazette).

Assemblyman Weart, of Mercer county, has introduced a bill permitting the use of the National Guard armories for meetings of agriculture and horitcultural societies and granges. This is an excellent idea, but it should be extended to all meetings of an educational character. It was one of the arguments in favor of the Somerville armory that it could make a place for gatherings of a public nature. As the people of the county contributed for the site, for the furniture, and now for maintenance of the armory, it ought to be available for many purposes without charge except for janitor service or lights. Farmers' meetings, high school exercises and meetings for charitable or educational purposes of a public character ought to have free use of the armories.

MINISTER TO RETIRE AFTER HALF CENTURY.

Chester, March 13.—On account of impaired vision and poor health, Rev. Dr. Edward P. Gardner, pastor of the Presbyterian church, tendered his resignation Sunday, and it will be presented to the presbytery at its April meeting. He has been in the ministry fifty years.

The official board of the church has given Dr. Gardner a month's vacation and at the end of that time he will preach his farewell sermon, thus rounding out half a century in the ministry. He has been pastor of the Chester church nearly eight years. He and his family will continue to occupy the parsonage during the summer.

RAILROAD IS SUED FOR SHORE HOTEL BLAZE.

Jersey City, March 13.—Testimony was taken in the Circuit Court, here, Monday in a damage suit by the Janch-Illen Company for $25,000 against the Central Railroad of New Jersey for the destruction by fire of the Hotel Normandie, at Seabright. It is alleged sparks from a locomotive fired the hotel.

Life savers testified that ten minutes after a passenger train had passed the hotel on the night of April 12, 1908, they saw fire on the roof. It is alleged a spark from a locomotive caused the fire.

MRS. CRAGIN IS DENIED SOLE CUSTODY OF CHILD.

Trenton, March 13.—Deciding that the happiness and welfare of five-year-old Marguerite Cragin, daughter of William B. Cragin, Jr., of this city, indoor tennis champion, had been carefully considered by Vice-Chancellor Walker, the Court of Errors and Appeals refused Monday afternoon to modify the Chancery order under which Cragin is allowed to have the child for one week each month at his siter's home in Metuchen. The court reached its decision after hearing only one side of the argument—that presented by counsel for Mrs. Cragin.

Mr. Cragin obtained a divorce from his wife, Maysie Bruce Cragin, upon the ground of desertion. The custody of the child occupied a conspicuous part in the litigation, the vice-chancellor at first deciding that the mother should have continual charge of the little girl, but permitting the child to be visited at certain times by her father. Later this order was modified so that the husband might take the child to Metuchen for one week in each month. The latter order was strongly opposed by Mrs. Cragin upon the ground that the child's condition and nervous disposition were such that the visits to her father were injurious to her health.

Since her separation Mrs. Cragin has been living with her mother, Mrs. Bruce, and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Donald, the latter Mrs. Bruce's sister. Mr. Donald is first vice president of the Hanover National Bank of New York and has a country home near Trenton Junction. In the testimony it was shown that in this country home the girl receives the best attention, has the attendance of a regular nurse and the benefit of country air and a quiet life suited to her nervous disposition. These facts were all urged before the Court of Errors as a reason for modifying the order permitting the child to be taken away to its father one-fourth of the time.

AN HISTORICAL SHILLALAH.

President Taft May Carry It During Parade In South Boston.

Boston, March 13.—Mayor Fitzgerald received from ex-Mayor J. F. Hurley of Salem a shillalah made by S. I. E. Graves of that city and accompanied by a note requesting that it be given to President Taft to carry on March 18 during the parade in South Boston.

The shillalah was made from a tree cut on May 11, 1911, which, it is claimed, was grown from a slip of the weeping willow that grew over the grave of Napoleon at St. Helena. Fitted in the end of the shillalah is a piece of wood taken from the Washington elm in Cambridge and on which is carved the letter "W." There is also a piece of wood taken from the Paul Revere belfry in Lexington and on which is carved "R." Inside the shillalah is a token from the historic battlefield at Lexington, and in commemoration of Lincoln a Lincoln penny has been imbedded in the stick.

GRACE'S STORY IS NOW DISBELIEVED

Sentiment Changes In Favor of Accused Wife.

WOUND IS NOT FATAL.

Ex-Chief of Police In Atlanta Sure That Mrs. Grace Will Be Acquitted. While Confined In Jail She Still Pro-Protests Her Love For Her Husband.

Atlanta, Ga., March 13.—Public sentiment has suddenly turned in favor of Mrs. Eugene H. Grace, who is held in jail on a charge of drugging and shooting her husband and leaving him to die. This charge follows disclosures concerning the marital relations of the couple.

These disclosures indicate that Grace has never had any money except what his wife gave him, and her attorneys produced canceled checks to show that she has lavished thousands on Grace in the last few months. So strongly has sentiment veered toward Mrs. Grace that her husband's story that he was drugged and shot by his wife now is generally questioned.

Former Chief of Police Bell in an analysis of the case bluntly states that Grace has not told the truth and that Mrs. Grace is sure of acquittal, because there is no legal evidence against her.

The physicians state that Grace will recover, as an X-ray examination of the wound shows it is not fatal. The bullet is lodged against the spine, but the spinal column is not shattered, as was feared.

Mrs. Grace still protests her love for her husband.

EXPLORER'S SHIP BACK.

Dr. Mawson's Aurora Returns After Leaving Two Parties In Antarctic.

Hobart, Tasmania, March 13.—The Aurora, the ship on which Dr. Douglas Mawson, the Australian explorer, steamed out of here on Dec. 2, 1911, on his way to the antarctic, has returned. She reports that Dr. Mawson and his party were landed at Adelie land. Another party was put ashore on Wilkes land.

The Aurora vainly sought to find the Clairie coast, which was supposed to have been discovered by Durville in 1838. The officer in charge of the Aurora says it is now assumed that Durville mistook the ice barrier, which has since disintegrated, for land.

Captain Amundsen says it will be impossible for him to comply with the request from the United States to have his ship, the Fram, at the Panama exhibition at San Francisco in 1915, as she will be in the arctic region at that time.

MISS DUKE TO WED PRINCE.

Engagement, Denied When Recently Rumored, Now Said to Be a Fact.

New York, March 13.—When recently the engagement of Prince Ludovic Pignatelli d'Aragon to Miss Mary L. Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Newton Duke, was rumored a denial was authorized by Mrs. Duke. After Prince Pignatelli had sailed for Europe it was learned that close friends of his and of the Duke family had been informed that the engagement was now a fact and that the marriage would take place within the next few weeks in Paris.

Mrs. Duke and her daughter will sail for Europe within two weeks. There has been one obstacle to the marriage growing out of a question of religion, the prince being a Catholic and Miss Duke a Protestant, but it is said a special dispensation has been obtained.

ASKED $5,000 DIVORCE FEES.

But Referee Says Mrs. Georger Need Pay Only $1,500 to Attorneys.

New York, March 13.—A divorce proceeding in New Jersey that was conducted so quietly and speedily that the attorneys for the plaintiff asked fees of $5,000 formed the basis of a suit before Hamilton Odell as referee, in which Gennert & Gennert, lawyers, of New York sued Mrs. Florence E. Georger to recover the balance, $4,500. Mrs. Georger had contended that $500 was enough. Referee Odell awarded $1,000 in addition to the $500 paid.

Mrs. Georger was the wife of Francis F. Georger of the real estate firm of Brooks & Georger. She is the daughter of William E. Emery, head of Emery, Bird & Thayer, a dry goods company, and niece of Vice Chancellor Emery of New Jersey.

Mine Owners at Conference.

London, March 13.—Following the joint conference of Premier Asquith and members of the government with the mine owners and miners, the outlook was regarded as more hopeful. South Wales and Scotland mine owners, who are disinclined to make further concessions, accepted the invitation to attend the conference which will reassemble today.

Snowbank Exploded.

Nashville, Tenn., March 13.—Tennessee Republicans tendered their standard bearer, Governor Ben W. Hooper, a unanimous nomination for a second term. His fellow townsman, Hon. H. N. Cate of Newport was given the nomination for appellate court justice.

No other nominations were made, thus leaving vacancies to be bid for by the independent Democracy in coalition.

KIDNEY OF ANIMAL TO REPLACE A MAN'S

Remarkable Operation Planned For W. E. D. Stokes.

New York, March 13.—William E. D. Stokes, owner of the Ansonia hotel, who was the target for the bullets of two girls in the early summer, is building up these days for an operation which will be performed on him as soon as he gets strong enough. It is planned to remove one of his kidneys and substitute the kidney of an animal for it.

Mr. Stokes' health has not been good since he was shot.

MAY CRIPPLE NAVY.

Strike Outlook Brings Demand For Higher Coal Prices.

Washington, March 13.—The coal strike in England and the prospective coal strike in the United States on April 1 threaten to deal a blow to the American navy.

The navy department has called upon its coal contractors for heavy advance deliveries of fuel only to be met with the demand that the price in the existing spring contracts be advanced from $2.50 to $2.70 per ton delivered at Newport News. This demand was flatly refused by Secretary of the Navy Meyer in a conference with a delegation of leading representatives of the West Virginia smokeless coal operators, by which are carried all the navy contracts for New River and Pocohontas coal.

A Very Polite Letter.

The politest intimation ever addressed was probably that of the governor of the Bombay prison to the man about to be hanged. The execution was fixed for 1 o'clock, and the governor was to sail for England on leave two hours later. But the time for the boat's sailing was changed from 3 o'clock to midday. The governor was equal to the occasion. He addressed an official communication to the convict as follows: "The governor presents his compliments to Mr. X. and desires to know whether it would suit his convenience equally well to be hanged at 10 a. m. instead of 1 p. m.?" —London Chronicle.

HOUSE PATRIOTIC OVER BABCOCK FLAG MEASURE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 13.—Without opposition and with a considerable display of patriotism, the Senate yesterday afternoon passed the Assembly bill by Mr. Babcock, of Union county, requiring the display of the American flag at polling places on primary and election days. It was advanced by Senator Pierce. Among the other important bills passed were:

Authorizing the use of armories for poultry exhibits; requiring municipalities situated upon waters within the port of New York to report improvements to such lands; requiring firms selling fertilizers in this State to designate the number of pounds, address of manufacturer, etc., on each package; regulating the sale of foods and drugs containing methyl or wood alcohol; regulating the use of motion picture machines; authorizing condemnation of lands for propogation of fish and game; the Martin bill concerning failure of a municipal corporation to pay principal or interest on bonds; the Martin bill creating a commission to consider the erection of a bridge across the Hudson river; regulating the signing of certificates of incorporation by married women; amending the inheritance tax act; authorizing villages to lay out curbs, gutters and sidewalks; regulating the adoption of minor children; concerning the construction of sewers and drains; fixing an open season for black bass; authorizing towns to appoint pound keepers.

SENATE AGAIN FAILS TO CONFIRM MAHLON PITNEY

Washington, March 13.—For more than three hours last evening the Senate in one of the stormiest and most protracted secret sessions in the recent history of congress, debated the confirmation of Chancellor Mahlon Pitney, of New Jersey, whom President Taft has nominated to succeed the late Justice Harlan on the supreme court bench, and then finally agreed to resume debate today and vote on the confirmation at 4 o'clock.

When the discussion began Senator Culberson, of Texas, led in the attack, and in his speech, and those of other Senators, the New Jersey judge was assailed in bitter language upon his general fitness for the bench. The fight was mainly based upon Chancellor Pitney's decision in the glass blowers' case.

The decision restrained journeymen green glass blowers, their officers and the members who struck against a glass works in New Jersey some years ago from using persuasion to urge employes to leave their work.

Senator Cummins, of Iowa, declared that the decision was oppressive to American labor.

Senator O'Gorman and Senator Reed both characterized the decision as showing a dangerous trend of thought. Senator Wiliams and Senator Shively joined in the attack on Chancellor Pitney. Senator Bailey; Senator Clark, of Arkansas; Senator Root, and Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, spoke in his favor.

PASS BILL PERMITTING FREE RIDES TO THE POLLS

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 13.—With the Democrats opposing it as an attack on the new reform election laws, the Senate yesterday afternoon passed the Leavitt bill permitting any volunteer, acting without compensation, to transport voters to and from the polls. The vote was a strict party line-up, 11 to 9.

Senators Johnson, of Bergen, and Gebhardt, of Hunterdon, both Democrats, led the opposition to the measure. Senator Edge insisted that the Geran election law was not a sacred idol that could not be touched.

He said the bill was a good one and should be passed. Senator Smalley, of Somerset, also advocated it. The friends of the bill said the old evil was due to the hiring of vehicles for the transportation to the polls, while this bill merely permitted a man to take his neighbor to the polls in his own wagon or allowed the transportation of helpless voters.

TRANSPORTATION FOR ALL VETERANS TO GETTYSBURG

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 13.—Plans for the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg were laid before the Legislature yesterday afternoon by Colonel Lewis E. Beitler, of the staff of Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania. The celebration will take place in July, 1913. Colonel Beitler showed the magnitude of the celebration which is to commemorate the world's greatest battle and urged New Jersey to prepare for a proper participation, commensurate with her part in the great struggle. He stated that most of the States are planing to send large delegations, including many of the old Confederate States.

Senator Nichols introduced a new bill providing for the transportation to Gettysburg on this occasion of all the New Jersey veterans of the Civil War. It will take the place of the bill already passed which provides only for transportation of those veterans who fought at this battle.

TEST OF EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY TO SERVANT.

The question of the liability of an employer for injuries sustained by a household servant while in the performance of duties will come before the courts under the new employers' liability law for the first time when the petition of Winifred B. Patten for compensation from her former employers, Mr. and Mrs. Forest B. Wood, of East Orange, is heard by Judge Osborne, in the Common Pleas Court, at Newark, April 19.

It is significant that the defendants are named as "Mrs. Charlotte Wood, and her husband, Forest B. Wood." The damages claimed amount to about $165, representing $70 per week for ten weeks, the period the petitioner alleges she was laid up; doctor's fees and the cost of medicines. Beecher & Bedford represent the petitioner.

The petitioner, who was a cook in the Wood home, states that on November 3 a shelf in the pantry broke, and, in falling, seriously injured the limbs and body of the plaintiff. Her wages, she sets forth, were $25 per month.

PENSION PLAN ADOPTED BY PRUDENTIAL COMPANY

Newark, N. J., March. 13.—President Forrest F. Dryden of The Prudential Insurance Company has announced that The Prudential, in recognition of the loyalty of its Industrial field staff as well as the Home Office force, had put into effect a plan for the recognition of its older employes through service retirment allowances, the cost to be borne by the company and no contributions whatever to be required from employees.

President Dryden belives there is no more loyal organization in the world than the Prudential's and the company desires to recognize this loyalty in a substantial way. Those employees who become eligible to the retirement allowances must be members of the Prudential Old Guard, now comprising five thousand employees.

Male employess age sixty-five, as well as female employees age sixty, who have had twenty-five years' consecutive service with The Prudential will be eligible for retirement, with allowances running from $30 to $100 per month for the balance of their lives. These allowances cannot be assigned, but the retired employee may undertake other employement, if so desired, not detrimental to the company's interest. All male employees reaching age seventy, and all females reaching agfie sixty-five shall be retired. These service retirement allowances will be granted only to employees who shall have received a stated and regular compensation and the plan will not apply to the field employees of the Ordinary Department whose compensation is entirely on a commission basis, nor to Medical Examiners rendering service on the basis of fees, nor to the officers of the company.

The rate of service retirement allawance shall be, for each year of service rendered, one per cent. of the average earnings in wages or salary, exclusive of compensation onaccount of Ordinarp Insurance, new or renewed, received during the ten years of employment preceding the retirement.

The computation of service retirement allowances in illustrated in the following example: Assuming an employee to have attained the age of sixty-five years and to have been continuously twenty-five in the company's service and his average earnings for the previous ten years of service to have been $1,440 per annum — the retirement allowance would be 1 per cent. of $1,400, i. e., $14.40 multiplied by 25, the number of years of service, of $360 per annum. If the length of service had been thirty years years, the retirement allowance for the remainder of life would be $432 per annum, or $36 per month.

COAL FAMINE FEARED AT WASHINGTON, N. J.

Washington, N. J., March 13.—A coal famine threatens Washington, and unless a supply reaches one or both of the local dealers today the stock of all grades will be practically exhausted.

For several weeks there has been difficulty getting the smaller grades, but there was a supply of the larger sizes. Now that is about gone. Residents have been getting the grate coal and breaking it up. Cartmen are hauling the coal from the ten or twelve huge heaps stored by the Central Railroad at Hampton. From Washington, although the distance is four miles, the heaps have the appearance of mountain-tops.

The supply at the Washington Public School was nearly exhausted, but one of the dealers was able to deliver a quantity of grate coal Saturday, and it will not be necessary to close the schools.

PURE MILK ORDINANCE ADOPTED BY SUMMIT.

Summit, March 13—The ordinance providing that milk sold in this city must come only from tuberculin tested cows was given a third reading and adopted at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Health. The measure goes into effect July 1.

Following the reading of an editorial which appeared in the Neighborhood Editorial Corner column of the News Monday night, in which this city and the Health Board officials were commended for the adoption of the tuberculin tested milk ordinance, the board decided to have the article published in both local papers.

The reading of the article, the members of the board believed, will convince those who have been skeptical, of the real benefit to a city of having milk from cows which have passed the test.

Assistant Health Officer Carl Pomeroy reported that his inspection of the barber shops had revealed in some places conditions which are not sanitary, and on his recommendation a resolution was adopted providing for the licensing of the barbers.

An analysis of the city water supply was ordered made. The work of spraying pools and fumigating cellars in the annual mosquito crusade is to be started next week.

The assistant health inspector reported that his inspection of the bakeries showed that all but two were being kept in good condition. The proprietors of the two unsanitary shops have been directed to remedy conditions.

The butcher shops were all found to be in good sanitary condition.

—And New Year's resolutions still unfractured? It's a long time.

COLLEGE HONOR FOR PLAINFIELD GIRLS

Miss Joy and Miss Evelyn Wells Are Made "Scholars" at Wellesley.

BOTH HARTRIDGE GRADUATES

Other Former Hartridge Girls Win Distinctions at Vassar and Smith—Miss Marjory Woods Will Help Carry the Famous "Daisy Chain."

Honors have just been awarded young women from this city and the borough who are pursuing collegiate courses in various colleges, and the fact that they were prepared for their advanced studies at the Hartridge School in this city, is particularly gratifying to Miss Hartridge as well as the many friends of the young women.

Miss Helen Joy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Joy, of North Plainfield, and Miss Evelyn Wells, formerly of Plainfield, have been made "scholars" at Wellesley College, where they are members of the junior class.

This is one of the highest honors at Wellesley, being awarded for efficient work, and entitles the winner to a scholarship if desired. Miss Helen Besler and Miss Alice Ross, also of this city, are juniors at Wellesley.

Miss Julia Fiebeger, daughter of Col. Fiebeger, of West Point, formerly of the Hartridge School, was graduated at Vassar College, last year, at the head of her class. Miss Marjory Woods, of Sewickley, Pa., a sophomore at Vassar, has been chosen for the "daisy chain," the honor being accorded the most popular and attractive young women. Miss Carita Doggett, of Jacksonville, Fla., a junior at Vassar, led the "daisy chain" last year. Miss Ruth Stanley-Brown, of Cold Spring Harbor, a freshman at Vassar, has been chosen a member of the hockey team; also for the character of "Lionel," in the forthcoming outdoor production of "Joan of Arc."

Miss Edith Foster, of Plainfield, a freshman at Vassar, has been chosen a member of the basketball team. The Misses Fredericka Mead, Blanche Buttfield and Ellen Burke, of this city, who were graduates of Smith College last year, were members of Alpha Society, of which Miss Mead was the president.

WOODLAND MUSIC IN LECTURE ON BIRD LIFE

Edward Avis, who has appeared here on two other occasions, delighted a large audience at the Washington School, last night, with his illustrated lecture on "Our Wild Song Birds." For years Mr. Avis has made a close study of all kinds of birds, and he imitates their notes accurately.

Among the birds described by Mr. Avis were the meadow lark, whip-poor-will, pee-wee, brown thrush, oriole, screech owl, canary and many others. Mr. Avis not only imitated the songs of these birds, but he displayed many fine views of birds and scenes showing their favorite places of habitation.

During the lecture Mr. Avis rendered several popular selections on the violin, with whistle accompaniment. These included Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." After the lecture many of those present remained to talk of birds with Mr. Avis.

Planning for Annual Meeting.

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church is now settled in his new home on West Eighth street and he had charge of the prayer-meeting at the First Baptist church, last night. It was announced that the annual church meeting, at which written reports of every department will be made, will be asked Wednesday night, March 20. Efforts will be made to have at least 200 persons at the meeting.

Reports from Great Council.

Miantonomo Tribe, No. 118, Improved Order Red Men, at its meeting, last night, listened to an interesting report of the great council's proceedings at Trenton by John T. Green, the tribe's delegate. Several propositions were acted upon and it was decided to confer degrees at the next meeting of the tribe.

To Celebrate Anniversary.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the West End Tabernacle, will celebrate its fifth anniversary tomorrow night at 8 o'clock Rev C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, will deliver the address. The offering will be for the society's work.

—All odds and ends will be gotten rid of at The Paris final sale.

—With the advent of spring Neuman Bros. are receiving choice fruits and vegetables. The firm will have a large and choice assortment for tomorrow's trade.

MAYOR IS PREPARED TO ATTACK SOFT COAL EVIL

Many Complaints From Residents Along the Railroad and in Factory Neighborhoods Reach the Ears of the City's Executive.

Mayor G. W. V. Moy has received so many complaints from residents of Plainfield, especially those who live along the line of the New Jersey Central and in the vicinity of local factories, of smoke from the burning of soft coal, that he has decided to take steps to abate the nuisance. This matter has been considered by the Common Council in times past but no definite action has been taken.

Nearly every State in the Union has passed laws aimed at the soft coal smoke nuisance, and in many cases cities and towns have adopted ordinance prohibiting the burning of soft coal. It is claimed that a majority of the factories in the city as well as some of the engines on the New Jersey Central use soft coal, especially those used for freight and coal trains.

Just now there is especial activity on the railroad, the coal companies being engaged in rushing coal from the mines to tidewater, as well as various points along the line of the railroad. As the spring and summer season is coming on when householders will want to open their doors and windows they will be more or less affected by the burning of soft coal. For this reason Mayor Moy plans to take the matter up as early as possible in order to put a stop to the nusiance.

SOME IMPORTANT BILLS INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Trenton, March 14.—Municipalities are authorized to issue bonds to pay a portion of the cost of the removal of railroad grade crosings under a bill introduced in the House yesterday by Assemblyman Ogden, of Bergen County.

Mr. Hennesey, of Bergen, would make it illegal in second class counties for the Board of Freeholders to name any person to an office, who is at that time or within one year prior to his appointment, a member of the board. Bergen County is having trouble with its board of freeholders, who were discredited at the last election.

A bill by Mr. Taylor will permit the State to reject bids for construction work on State buildings when it is believed to be the State's interest to do so.

WILSON GARY VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA AT THIRTY-FOUR.

Wilson Gary, aged 34 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Gary, died this morning at the home of his parents following a three weeks' illness with pneumonia. He had been a resident of this city about twenty years. He was a painted, employed by Woolston & Buckle for a number of years.

Surviving beside the parents are nine sisters, Mrs. Harry Werner, Mrs. Fred Korner, Mrs. Lillie Brunn, Mrs. Andrew Lane, the Misses Lizzie, Maggie, Daisy and Addie Gary; also one brother, George Gary, of this city. The announcement of the funeral will be made later.

EXPERT LECTURES ON HOW TO PULL USELESS TEETH.

Dr. James F. Hasbrouck, of New York, at the regular meeting of the Plainfield Dental Society last night, read a paper on extraction, and the surgical treatment of the mouth afterwards.

Routine business of the society was transacted and a dinner enjoyed at the Homestead where the meeting was held. Following the reading of Dr. Hasbrouk's paper the subjects explained were discussed, all the members present taking a part. The meeting broke up after a social time later.

Revival Services to Continue.

The revival meetings will be continued the rest of the week at the Shiloh Baptist church. The pastor, Rev. E. W. Roberts, will be assisted by Rev. Mr. Coverton, of Newark, and Rev. D. W. Cannon, of the First Baptist church, Cranford, will attend tomorrow night.

Moose Dance April 8.

The second annual ball of the Loyal Order of Moose will be held at Saengerbund Hall, Monday night, April 8. A typographical error in last night's paper made the date read "March 8."

St. Patrick's Day Party.

The Sigma Gamma Kappa of the N. P. H. S. will give a St. Patrick's Day party in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A. Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged.

SHARP SPURTS BY TOUR CONTESTANTS

Three of Them Make the Effect of Quiet, Unremitting Activity Felt.

MISS ATKINSON HEADS DIST. 2

Miss McGinley Takes a Big Jump Toward the Front—Just Two Days Remain In the Hot Sub-Contest For Prizes.

THE LEADERS.

District 1.
Miss Henrietta Hansen.
District 2.
Mrs. E. Atkinson
District 3.
Miss Elizabeth Kiernan.
District 4.
Miss Ida C. Smith.
District 5.
Miss Florence Stevenson.

SPECIAL INDUCEMENT OFFER:

ONE Solitaire Diamond Ring, Pure White Perfect Stone—over ¼ karat, any setting, now on exhibition at store of Charles E. Vail, 238 Park avenue.

FOUR Ladies' Solid Gold Watches, choice of Elgin or Waltham movement, now on exhibition at the stores of J. Hervey Doane, 115 Park avenue; Carl Silbert, 219 West Front street; L. Moraller & Son, 219 Park avenue; P. F. Delgyer, 130 Park avenue.

The contestant in each of the five districts whose vote shows the greatest gain during the three weeks, which began Monday morning, February 26, and continues until Saturday evening, March 16, at 10:30 o'clock, will be awarded one of these handsome jewelry prizes.

The contestant polling the highest vote in all districts during this period will receive the Diamond Ring.

The leaders in the other four districts will be given the Solid Gold Watches.

All votes cast for the special prizes count also for the tours.

Evidences of tireless efforts on the part of some of the candidates in the Daily Press European Tour Contest who have been staying in the background and saying nothing have been shown continually during the past week. Take the jump made by Miss McGinley in District Two, for instance. That was accomplished in just one week, and shows what can be done.

Today, Miss Louise Meyer of District Four, takes a big jump, which places her in a good position to make the leaders hustle for the honors, although Miss Ida Smith cast enough ballots to keep her well in the front. Mrs. Atkinson is now ahead in District Two by virtue of a deluge of coupons and ballots relased yesterdoy.

Anticipation of the two pleasure-filled months which will be spent in Europe by the Daily Press party is an inspiration which should cause the most prosaic candidate to cast off lethargy and hustle for subscriptions, in order that she may come out ahead when the final count is made and the curtain rung down on the contest.

But two short days now remain

Will Present "Snowball."

The Probasco Bible Class of the First Baptist church, has decided to give the play entitled "Snowball," for its first entertainment, on Friday, March, 29, at the Park Club. Francis K. Anderson, who has coached the class in other plays, will have entire charge of the coming production, which promises to exceed previous efforts. The various characters will be taken entirely by members of the class.

Juniors to Entertain G. A. R.

Plainfield Council, No. 293, Jr. O. U. A. M., will entertain the members of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. G., on Monday night, March 18, at its rooms on West Front street, according to the annual custom. The juniors are planning an attractive program to be followed by refreshments.

—Abrams' clearing sale is still on. See adv. in this issue. 3 14 2

—Attend the odd and end sale of The Paris, 214 West Front street.

ONLY DOLLAR A DAY FOR TREATMENT OF THE POOR

As told in this paper yesterday, a committee of hospital governors met with the Councilmanic finance committee on Tuesday night for the purpose of explaining that the appropriation of $1,500, which the city had given the hospital for the last three years was not sufficient to reimburse the institution for the amount of free treatment given the city poor. One of the governors has consented to make a statement as to the precise situation. It follows:

The Hospital asks that the city will pay $1 a day for each free day treatment, given to an inhabitant of Plainfield, who is unable to pay the usual $1 a day ward charges, and that a sufficient sum be appropriated by the Common Council to cover this annual expense which the hospital will incur for the care of the sick of Plainfield, who by reason of their circumstances are absolutely unable to pay themselves.

On the basis of the free treatment given by the Hospital during the last twelve months, it is a fair estimate that during this present year it will cost the Hospital in the neighborhood of $5,000 for the treatment it will be compelled to give to the poor of Plainfield.

The Hospital does not ask that the full sum of $5,00 be paid over by the city, but rather, that the city pay $1 each day for the city's patients, not to exceed in the year the sum of $5,000.

STRONG OPPOSITION TO GRADE CROSSING BILL

Trenton, March 14.—No hearing this session in the House has developed a greater contest than that on the Pierce Grade Crossing bill, which was continued yesterday by the Committee on Railroads and Canals. The railroads have marshaled many of the shippers in their ranks and they were to tell of the injury that would be done if the railroads were elevated and their sidings taken from them. East Orange, Phillipsburg, Paterson, Elizabeth, Morristown, Trenton, Asbury Park and Passaic were present to urge that action be taken to abolish the crossings.

Included among the speakers for the manufacturers were Captain Randall, of the N. Y. Ship Building Co., Camden; Charles Farnan, of Stone Harbor Improvement Co.; William J. Foster, of Trenton, representing the State Manufacturers' Association; Gene Dubon, of Perth Amboy; Wiliam L. Gedden, of the McAdanms, Forbes Co., Camden; Joseph Brakely, Freehold; D. V. Perrine, Camden; W. A. Doolen of Long Branch.

Edward Nugent and P. J. McGurn, of the City Council of Elizabeth, spoke for a bill that would relieve the municilipalities of any part of grade removal and Mayor Gregory, of East Orange, told of the urgent need of relief in his municipality. Paterson is satisfied with the bill. Railroad lawyers spoke against the measure on the ground of expense.

LECTURE ON THE Y. M. C. A. AS THE CHINESE SEE IT.

An interesting account of Y. M. C. A. work in China as conducted by the Students' Volunteer League, was given at Hydewood hall, the home of Mr. F. deL. Hyde, last night, by Arthur Rugh, a young man recently returned from the Orient. It was heard by a gathering of friends of Frank Hyde, on whose invitation Mr. Rugh came to Plainfield and whose guest he was until today.

The talk was mostly on the plan of campaign adopted to reach the boys of China and teach them healthful pastimes in addition to giving Christian instruction. The boys readily grasp American sports, such as baseball and football and rapid progress is being made in organization. Mr. Rugh is seeking to secure sufficient funds for a Chinese Northfield before he returns to the Orient next fall. A series of excellent photographic views were shown.

SCOTCH PLAINS VISITED BY BURGLARS AGAIN.

The homes of Tax Collector John Z. Hatfield, Samuel Hollingsworth and Henry Demarest, in Scotch Plains, were entered Tuesday night. In general only money in small amounts and trinkets of little value were taken. Mr. Hollingsworth lost an overcoat. Entrance in each instance was gained by forcing a rear window and the burglar took no pains to clean the mud from his feet before entering.

The residents are aroused over the number of bold burglaries committed in the locality during the past several weeks and and are clamoring for better police protection.

A Great Offer.

SOFTENED ICE ON TIER'S LAKE BOY'S DEATH TRAP

Seven-Year-Old Joseph Hart's Game of "Tickley-Bender" Ends Tragically--Companion Escapes the Same Fate.

The softened ice on Tier's pond offered too tempting an opportunity for playing "tickly bender" to Joseph Hart, the seven-eyar-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, of Harmony street, yesterday afternoon With no realization of his danger, the boy ran out on the yielding ice. It broke, and the lad sank to his death in the frigid water.

Playing at the same risky game with him was Harold Englund, about the same age, who also sank through the treacherous surface, but managed to drag himself safely to the shore.

Helpless from fright and the chilling he had received, young Englund was slow to realize the seriousness of his companion's plight. When he did his shouts attracted a number of pedestrians and were also heard by Miss Ida Tier. None of those who first reached the scene in response to Englund's cries for help did more than to run along the bank and add their shouts to those of the terror stricken lad. Once or twice the boy in the water cried out.

Ambrose Smalley, at work in his carpenter shop near Miss Tier's home was called by her and ran to the pond. He secured an old canoe that was tied near the dam and with the aid of Lawrence Sundae managed to reach the lad in the water, who by that time had ceased struggling. Mr. Smalley carried the limp little form to the shore and later to the home of William Kane, on Watchung avenue.

Miss Katheryne Stryker, a nurse, who resides on Pearl stret, saw the commotion and hearing the shouts hastened to the scene, arriving as the lad was being carried into the house. She told onlookers to call doctors and while waiting for them to arrive resorted to first aid methods. Dr. P. J. Zeglio was the first to arrive and Dr. C. B. Lufburrow came a few minutes later, closely followed by Doctors D. C. Adams and J. H. Carman. The combined efforts of all the physicians to revive the lad were unavailing.

The boy was in the water more than fifteen minutes, although he did not go to the bottom to stay, his grip on the flimsy ice supporting his body after he had ceased to struggle.

The boy was viewed by County Physician Westcott last night and the burial permit issued.

Frank Hart, the drowned lad's father, is in the employ of the Watchung Spring Water Company. He was for a number of years a driver in the fire department. Joseph was the youngest of several children. The funeral service will be at his parents' home at 2:30 o'clock and at St. Joseph's church at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

LAKE RUNS WILD IN SO. PLAINFIELD

Sluiceway Gate Carried Away and Rushing Waters Inundate Fields For Miles.

DROWNING CATTLE RESCUED

Village Boys Get Big Haul of Fish in Shallow Pools Left by Flood in Its Rush Over Fields—Raritan Overflows its Banks.

The sluiceway gate at Spring Lake, South Plainfild, gave way under the pounding of large cakes of ice yesterday afternoon and as a result the released waters inundated fields and meadows in a territory covering several square miles, before finally making its way to Greenbrook and the Raritan river.

James Thornton put out on the flood in a row boat and managed to save the lives of several cows and a calf belonging to Frank Miller, William Smith and P. F. Kane.

After the waters had receded boys with baskets went over the flooded area and picked up the fish that had been stranded in the shallow pools. The large volume of water swelled the Raritan below Bound Brook so much that it flowed over the banks into the canal.

KING VICTOR ESCAPED ANARCHIST'S BULLETS

Rome, March 14.—An unsuccesaful attempt was made today to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel. The assailant, an anarchist, fired three shots, all of which missed the King, but one wounded Major Langas, in command of the King's cavalry escort, and another shot killed a trooper's horse.

The attempt upon the King's life caused the wildest excitement. The Queen, who was riding with him, fainted when the shots rang out. The party was on the way to the Pantheon to attend the memorial mass in honor of the birthday of his father, King Humbert, who was killed by an assassin in 1900.

The assailant was roughly handled by the crowd before he was taken into custody by the King's escort. The man gave his name as Antonio D'Alba and boasted that he was an anarchist.

MT. OLIVE SERVICES GO ON, LARGELY ATTENDED.

The special services were continued at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, last night, with a large attendance of members and friends. Rev. P. W. Ross, pastor of Bethel Baptist church, Westfield, presided, and the address of the evening was by Rev. D. W. Cannon, pastor of the First Baptist church, Cranford. Mr. Ross was accompanied by the choir from his church, and it furnished the music for the evening.

Rev. Jesse Benderson, of the Second Baptist church, Roselle, will preside tonight, and the choir from his church will sing. The address will be by Rev. D. Y. Campbell, pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist church, New Brunswick.

"The Neglected Hero."

Rev. Dr. George C. Wilding, of Newark, will occupy the pulpit at Grace M. E. church at both morning and evening services, Sunday, March 17. Rev. C. C. Cain will assist at the morning service, and in the evening will preach at Wilson Memorial chapel in Watchung. Dr. Wilding will tell the story of "The Neglected Hero" at the morning service.

Men's Club Service.

The Men's Club of Grace M. E. church took charge of the weekly prayer meeting last night and featured the service with special music and speeches by a number of the members present. On Tuesday night the association met and listened to a discourse on the peace treaties, now being considered by Congress, by Rev. Dr. H. K. Carroll.

Fire Does $75 Damage.

An alcohol lamp set fire to a curtain in the home of J. H. Uhler, on Denmark road shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon and before the spreading blaze was extinguished by the firemen summoned from No. 4 house on South avenue, it did damage estimated at $75.

ROOSEVELT BOOMER GETS SIGNATURES TO PETITION

The work of securing signatures to the nominating petition of Theodore Roosevelt has been started in this city by Wallace Pierce, of 673 Essex street. He is working under the direction of the officers of the Roosevelt League, of Newark, and although he started out only yesterday with the paper he has succeeded in obtaining a large number of signatures.

Mr. Pierce says that although there seems to be a strong sentiment in this vicinity for Taft, he has found a number of people who favor Roosevelt. Anyone wishing information about the Roosevelt movement and the petition can secure it from Mr. Pierce at his home.

REV. E. V. STEVENSON ON SAMARIA AND SAMARITANS.

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, gave the third of his series of four illustrated lectures at the church, last night, on "The Land and the Book." The lecture covered "Samaria and Samaritans," including the district of Samaria with its shattered remnants of once royal splendor and its memories of Jacob, Joshua, Elijah and Jesus.

The talk by the rector was one of unusual interest and the views, being originals, gave a faithful portrayal of the country and the people described in the lecture. The fourth lecture on "Jerusalem As It Is," will be given Wednesday night, March 20.

Observe Birthday Anniversary.

John Walker, of West Fourth street, celebrated the fifth anniversary of his birthday, yesterday. He was born March 13, 1837, in London. For many years he was engaged in business in New York, but is now retired. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Walker returned from a pleasure trip to Canada.

LATTER WAKES TO DANGER

Roused By Distress Resulting From the Fumes, She Saves Husband and Herself—Both Suffer From Effects of Gas Poisoning.

The failure of Frank Ianson, of Westfield avenue, Scotch Plains, to fully turn off the gas jet in his bedroom Tuesday night, almost resulted in the death of his wife and himself. Mr. and Mrs. Ianson had been asleep more than a hour, when they were awakened by a feeling of suffocation.

Mrs. Ianson was aroused first, and presence of mind prompted her to open a nearby window. Then quickly discovering the cause of the poisoned air, she turned off the gas get. Mr. Ianson was awakened by his wife. He appeared to more affected by the gas than the latter, and it was several minutes before he was to get out of bed. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ianson suffered from headache, and they didn't fully recover from the effects of gas poisoning until yesterday.

In an adjoining room slept Mr. and Mrs. Ianson's two sons, one ten and the other fourteen years of age, but the fumes of the gas did not reach that room and they experienced no ill effects from the leaking jet.

JOURNALISTIC OPINIONS.

New Jersey's Inconsistency

The decision by Attorney-General Wilson, that a blind child is of unsound body, and under the provisions of the law of 1907 "to regulate the importation of dependent children," can not be brought into New Jersey raises an interesting question. Will New Jersey, while forbidding the importation of blind children, continue to farm out its unfortunates to institutions in New York and Pennsylvania?

According to last report of State Treasurer Voorhees, the State during the last fiscal year paid out for the care of fifty blind children in the New York Institution for the Blind, the Pennsylvania Training School for Feeble-Minded Children, and the Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, more than $13,129.56. The only justification for saddling the care of these unfortunates on other States was the neglect of the Legislature to provide for their care in New Jersey.

But what will be New Jersey's reputation in the eyes of the world when the fact is advertised that the State sends its blind children, "inhabitants of this State," as they are described in the State Treasurer's report, outside to be cared for, and forbids the bringing in of other children to be fed and clothed and educated in institutions in New Jersey?

The act of 1907 was never intended to have that effect. It was meant to apply to dependents in the common meaning of the word, and to incorrigibles, those of unsound mind, and crippled physically. If the blind are to be barred out, why not also those who lack the sense of smell or of hearing?

Senator Pierce, of Union County, has introduced an amendment to the 1907 law, exempting from its provisions "children under the age of twelve years." It should be adopted, even if the charity workers of New Jersey do fear that "it will hinder institutional work in this State." Until New Jersey takes care of its own blind children, which it now sends to other States to be maintained and taught, it is no position to forbid the importation of blind from those same States.—Trenton Times.

Hats in Politics.

Mr. Wilson wanted to knock Mr. Bryan into a cock hat.

Mr. Roosevelt's hat is in the ring. Not his Panama one, however.

Mr. Bryan's hat is lying innocently in the middle of the road to Baltimore, filled with bricks.

Mr. Clark's hat has been spoken of by his admirers as picturesque.

Mr. Taft's hat is being spoken through, it seems to us.

Mr. La Follette will eat his hat if he has withdrawn.

Mr. Harmon has a bee in his bonnet.—Newark News.

THREE SHOCKS NEEDED FOR AMBOY MURDERER.

Trenton, March 14.—Three shocks were aplied to Maxiano Bellini, the Perth Amboy murderer, because the physicians and State Executioner Davis were in doubt after the second shock, that the man was dead. Bellini killed two men while they slept and badly injured a third last August because of a feud that started ten years ago in Sicily.

Everything is promised to be spic, span new and the company surounding Honey Boy embraces many of the best minstrel artists in America. Of course Honey Boy Evans heads the comedians and then comes John King, Sam Lee, Charles Hilliard, William Cawley, Lew Gilmore, Pierce Keegan and James Castle. The important singing corps embraces Vaughn Comfort, James Meehan, Sam Lloyd, Al-Fontaine and Master George Koty. The dancers are headed by Tommy Hyde, the world's greatest soft shoe dancer. Of course the organization presents an orchestra of excellence and the musical portion of the program is thus assured.

MAXIM SAYS THAT ARMOR IS ABOUT AS GOOD AS CHEESE.

Pittsburgh, March 14. — Hudson Maxim, while visiting the Carnegie mills, made the astounding statement that:

"Armor plate is no better today than cheese for naval vessels.

"By 1920 we will have cruisers traveling forty miles an hour with 16-inch guns mounted on decks. With such craft armor plate is not alone useeless, but it is a hindrance.

"The United States battleships can fire shells which penetrate any known armor plate and explode after passing within a ship. Then what is the use of armor plate? The government knows this—all progressive governments admit the truth of it."

PERTH AMBOY WOMEN AGAINST EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Trenton, March 14.—Perth Amboy women sent to the Senate and through Senator Silzer a petition against the passage of the resolution amending the State Constitution giving women the ballot. LITERARY.

The April St. Nicholas has two fine stories of adventure—very different, but with a brave lad the hero of each. One is Ford Walsh's "The Return of Okakok," the story of an exiled Eskimo lad's hard journey home. The other is Frank B. Elser's "Wireless Peter," in which a plucky lad, fascinated by the magic of wireless telegraphy, wins out in spite of many discouragements.

There is something bold and attractive in the cover page of the March National that inspires one with the very temperament and spirit of the month named in honor of the Roman war-god. The sturdy sailor on the forecastle by the windlass is a splendid reproduction of the type of sailor of the bygone days when the American flag was found on every sea where civilized commerce or remunerative employment could be found. There is the usual flashlight on affairs at Washington, calling attention to the fact that the next March winds that blow will witness another inauguration at Washington. The opening of Presidential headquarters and the clearing of the decks for the campaign of 1912 are described by the editor, Joe Chapple, who seems to be here, there and everywhere—wherever there is a breath of political air stirring.

Four remarkable children appear in the early chapters of John Fox's serial, "The Heart of the Hills," which begins in the April Scribner—a boy and girl from the mountains, and a boy and girl from the plains of Kentucky. "The Heart of the Hills" is of a rather later period than Mr. Fox's previous Kentucky novels, this one dealing with some political and social events that are still vividly remembered. From time to time there is a positive announcement that a branch of the Grand Trunk Pacific will extend from the middle west of Canada to James Bay, at the foot of Hudson Bay, and there a great seaport will be built which will convey the grain from Western Canada directly to Liverpool. George T. Marsh describes the country through which this railway is likely to run in an article, entitled "The Albany Trail to James Bay." He made the journey of thirteen hundred miles by canoe.

Hit by Railroad Gate; Wins Verdict.

Perth Amboy, March 14.—Before Perth Amboy District Court, a jury awarded Mrs. Mary Wade a verdict for $250 against the Central Railroad of New Jersey. Mrs. Wade was injured in May 1911, when a gate at the New Brunswick avenue crossing of the railroad was lowered as she was pasing under it. As she approached the crossing, Mrs. Wade testified the gates were down. Then they were raised, but suddenly lowered as she was under them. Witnesses who were talking to the gateman at the time corroborated Mrs. Wade's testimony.

Nurse Bonus Is Proposed.

Westfield, March 14.—A branch of Resident Nurse Association here to aid in supporting a nurse. The organization proposes to pay a nurse a bonus of $50 a year. Mrs. Henry Wade Evans is president of the association, Mrs. J. T. Tubby is vice-president and Mrs. Edward Shield is treasurer. Subscription list for the fund will be circulated soon.

ICE SAVES MANY LIVES.

Wrecked Train, Thrown Into River, Held Out of Water by Thick Coating.

New York, March 14.—Ice and steel saved the lives of probably most of the passengers of the first section of the New York Central's Twentieth Century limited when a broken rail snapped five cars of the flier over an embankment that edges the Hudson river a few miles above Poughkeepsie. The heavy river ice stopped the plunge of the cars, bore their weight and gave time for passengers to escape drowning. The steel cars withstood a shock that would have broken and splintered wooden coaches.

Twenty-five were injured, a few seriously, but none fatally.

SAY GRACE CAN'T LIVE.

Surgeons Say Septic Poisoning Has Resulted From Wound.

Atlanta, Ga., March 14.—The condition of Eugene Grace, who claims he was drugged and shot by his wife, formerly Mrs. Daisy Opie of Philadelphia in furtherance of a plot to get $27,000 life insurance he had just taken out, changed for the worse, and the surgeons are quoted as saying they do not see how he can recover.

The surgeons now say the bullet which is lodged against his spine, has probably caused septic poisoning. They are considering a desperate operation in a last effort to save Grace's life.

BARS UP AGAINST MEXICAN REVOLT

President Empowered to Stop Shipment of Arms.

$4,000,000 BEHIND REBELS.

Report of Giant Plot Against Madero Arouses Taft, and Immediate Steps to Prevent Help For Revolutionists Coming From American Soil Are Taken.

Washington, March 14.—Report of a giant conspiracy on the part of old leaders under the Diaz regime to overthrow the Madero government in Mexico by aiding the rebels caused the United States government to take decisive action to thwart the plot.

A sum of money, said to be $4,000,000, has been deposited in El Paso banks for the purpose of purchasing guns and ammunition and shipping them from the United States to the Mexican rebels. On the basis of this information President Taft called together the members of the Texas delegation in congress and the senate committee on foreign relations to consider measures.

A joint resolution was presented to the senate by Senator Root of New York, empowering the president to issue, in his discretion, a proclamation preventing the shipment of arms and ammunition from the United States into any foreign country. This resolution was introduced in the senate, referred immediately to the foreign relations committee, promptly reported back favorably and unanimously passed. A similar resolution introduced in the house by Representative Littleton of New York will be passed today.

RANK FOR DIPLOMATS' WIVES

King George Removes Red Tape In Court Precedence For Sake of Women.

London, via Glace Bay, March 14.—A change in court precedence has been ordered by King George whereby wives of ambassadors will take rank with their husbands.

Hitherto the wives of ambassadors to the court had no rank of their own. If they attended the courts unattended by their husbands they were obliged to take a low position in the procession.

The continued indisposition of Whitelaw Reid, the American ambassador, as well as the illness of Marquis Imperiali, the Italian ambassador, placed the wives of these two diplomats in a delicate position.

King George immediately cut this red tape so that Mrs. Reid could be able to personally present her country women.

NEW STEAMER ASHORE.

Vessel Mistakes Fog Alarm For Boat's Whistle and Hits Rocks.

Halifax, N. S., March 14.—The British steamship Isleworth, built only eight months ago, is ashore on Chebucto Head, close to the lighthouse, and will likely be a total loss. She left Boston Thursday and on Sunday in running through field ice broke three propeller blades. She was about entering Halifax harbor for repairs when she struck within 100 yards of the lighthouse. The crew of forty got ashore.

The steamer mistook the fog alarm for a steamer's whistle.

MICHIGAN'S GOVERNOR TILTS AT BREWERIES.

Lansing, Mich., March 14.—Governor Osborn, in seven special messages sent to the Legislature, opened the way for legislation at the present session as follows:

To prohibit breweries owning saloons.

To curb the Michigan Bonding Company and take from it the monoply in furnishing bonds to saloonkeepers.

To provide for the nominations of all State officers by the primary system.

To enact a corrupt practises act.

To submit to the people the question of adopting the initiative, referendum and recall.

To submit to the people an amendment to the Constitution establishing woman suffrage.

To authorize State banks to pledge qualified assets for postal savings deposits.

Presenting figures to show the number of saloons in Michigan, the Governor says:

"It is estimated that two-thirds of the saloons in Detroit and more than one-half of those are brewery-owned. This number of saloons has been made possible because the big breweries of Detriot, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee and elsewhere are in the business of starting, encouraging, capitalizing, owning and controlling saloons. Examinations will show that eighty-five per cent. of dives are brewery-owned saloons."

CARELESS HANDLING OF BILLS MARKS SESSION.

Trenton, March 14.—Governor Wilson, President Prince and Speaker McCran are all displeased with the carelessness with which bils have been handled in the Legislature this sesion. Three or four more bills had to be recalled from the Governor Tuesday afternoon owing to technical or typographical errors that should have been detected while the measures were pending in the respective houses. Four bills had to be recalled from the Governor Monday night.

President Prince voiced his displeasure Tuesday afternoon after the Senate had concurred in a resolution to recall Senator Johnson's Bergen County small board of freeholders' bill. An error in the title prompted the action. Another bill recalled yesterday was by Senator Smaley providing for the retirement of school teachers after thirty-five years' service.

Plainfield, N. J., March 14, 1912.

Few people realize the magnitude of the moving picture industry. An article in the March issue of the Review of Reviews presents figures which are astounding, showing the growth of this great method of amusement. Men who had hardly a dollar five years ago have become millionaires; $100,000 has been spent in preparing a series of films on a single subject; Sarah Bernhardt has reproduced Camille before the clicking shutter, having received $50,000 for the one performance; other famous actors and actresses have posed in the same way, and it is said that the managers of dramatic productions ascribe the poor theatrical season in New York to the great growth in popular favor of the "movies." Nothing in the way of expense is spared to present the best plays and improve the scope of these "picture plays." They have developed into the greatest amusement attraction of the day. When the New theatre was abandoned in New York, it is said that one moving picture operator offered to rent it at $125,000 a year and another offered to buy the building outright, without loss to the original backers. With all this in mind, the Review of Reviews is probably right when it says that "it is not prophesying too much to say that it will be in magnificent playhouses that the photoplay of the future will be presented, reproducing for the masses, with all the latest inventions and the refinements of science, the splendid art of the Bernhardts and the Salvinis."

For several years we have frequently referred to the utter lack of proper police protection in the Netherwood section. Now the Residents' Association of that district has taken the matter up and petitioned the Common Council to remedy the alarming condition which has been allowed to exist for years. There is no use "locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen," and apparently there is little use of pleading with the police committee. Chief Kiely has repeatedly tried for more men, but in vain. The fault is nowise his; unless he is given proper support he cannot be expected to prevent burglaries. Last night, alone, there were three burglaries in that section. How, in the name of common sense, can they be prevented when there is but one solitary policeman who must cover a nine mile beat; that is, one to patrol nine miles of streets. The Police Committee should wake up.

President John D. Prince is to be commended for his action in not inviting Senator Richard Fitzherbert to the dinner he tenders his colleagues of the State Senate tonight. The Morris county Senator, having been found guilty of conduct unbecoming a senator, has been branded as an unworthy member and as such is entitled to no consideration, much less respect, from the members of that body. As he persists in his refusal to resign his seat, he should be absolutely ignored; he should be given "the silent treatment."

In a communication published in these columns today, Rev. Cortland H. Mallery, the rector of Heavenly Rest church, strongly advocates a system of municipal collection and disposal of ashes. We would like to hear from others on this subject because it is clear that the city fathers will take no action until impressed with favorable public sentiment. We say this since for the last decade, in its annual reports, the Board of Health has urgently recommended that some such sanitary system be adopted.

Attention of the public is called to an interview with a hospital governor published on the first page today. Therein is a lucid and convincing explanation why the institution should receive better compensation from the city for its treatment of the poor. Tersely stated, all that the hospital authorities request is that they be paid one dollar a day for treatment of an indigent patient. This is certainly most reasonable when it is considered that the actual cost to the institution is $2.50.

Because the Rev. Edward I. Stearns, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, had spread stories reflecting on his reputation as a legislator, Senator Harry D. Leavitt passed the "short and ugly word" to the reverend gentleman. Rev. Mr. Stearns is evidently getting in as bad at Trenton as did his predecessor, Rev. J. Frank Burke, who was expelled from the floor of the Legislature because of his conduct.

An Atlantic county Assemblyman has introduced a bill at Trenton which if made law will allow hotels in that resort to sell liquor with meals on Sunday. Why the formality is considered necessary, in view of the continued ignoring of the law in that community, is hard to understand. There has never been a time when all the liquor wanted could not be secured in this most notorious of law-breaking cities.

There should be no objection to the hospital governors' request for an increased appropriation from the city. When one considers the large number of poor who receive free treatment at the institution, which, were it not for the hospital's generous policy, the municipality through its charity department would have to provide, it is only proper that there should be a fair compensation.

The New Jersey Senate's judiciary committee has acted more graciously towards the "votes for women" petitioners than has New York State's similar body on the same matter. Yesterday, as stated in the news dispatches today, the former's committee unanimously decided to favorably report the Gebhardt resolution amending the State Constitution to permit women to vote.

THE FOURTH ESTATE.

Plainfield has produced other great men than bankers, brokers and lawyers who have made their mark in New York. It has furnished some big newspapermen for the metropolis.

There were the Chamberlain boys for instance. Wilbur Chamberlain, better known in "Newspaper Row" as "Jersey" Chamberlain, was one of the best men the Sun ever had. The way he "covered" the Boxer uprising in China made him famous. So did his book "On To China."

Ernest Chamberlain gained a great reputation as a member of "The Fourth Estate." At the time of his death he was editor of the New York World. Then there was Walter, by no means the least of the three bright Chamberlain boys. On the Sun and on the World he did some splendid work.

And then Arthur Brisbane. He got his education in the "Three R's" at the little old Jackson school up in the Netherwood section. Now he draws about $72,000 a year as editor of the Hearst papers. He's not only the highest paid editor in the world, but his opinions are read by more people than those of any other editor of today or any other day.

There is still another local man who is making a great reputation as a journalist. He's George T. Hughes, the 'squire of Watchung. Maybe, you don't know him. Well, that's because he's just as unassuming as were the Chamberlain boys. But you will learn something about him very soon. On Saturday Mr. Hughes, who holds down the city editor's desk in the New York Globe's office, will be the contributing editorial writer for this paper. He's one of the best trained and most gifted newspapermen in New York today. He teaches journalism at Columbia University and he practices it on one of Gotham's greatest papers.

The Daily Press is lucky in getting Mr. George T. Hughes to consent to join its staff of contributing editors. If you doubt it, read what he will have to say on Saturday.

THE FORUM.

Garbage and Ashes.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Allow me space to heartily endorse your editorial efforts towards influencing our Common Council to seriously consider the matter of garbage and ash disposal.

It appears to me to be the question of supreme importance to the citizens of Plainfield at this time, for however important the questions of water and sewerage may be, these at least we have, while garbage and ash disposal we have not. The cost to the taxpayers of installing and maintaining it has been shown by you to be almost a negligible quantity, in fact not a cost at all but on the contrary a large actual saving, i. e., if the data upon which you base your conclusions be correct. Thus as a plain business proposition your recommendation ought to carry great weight.

Finally, and as I see it, most important of all is the question of health which is bound up with this matter.

The well-to-do of the city can, and do pay the private concerns which now handle garbage and ashes to remove them. But what are the poor doing? No doubt in many cases storing them up about their premises until time and place make it convenient to get rid of them, and when the opportunity does arrive, dumping them in the various open spaces kindly provided by property owners desiring their land filled in or in other places adjacent to their homes. The action of time and the elements upon such places has been from time to time made known to us by physicians, and that such spots are a menace to the health of the community no one can well dispute. We have yet to hear from anyone who can maintain an argument against these considerations. Is there one?

Sincerely yours,
(REV.) CORTLANDT H. MALLERY.

SEIZE FOUR BOYS ACCUSED OF STEALING C. R. R. ENGINE.

Phillipsburg, March 13.—Charged with breaking into the Central Railroad roundhouse Monday night, boarding a locomotive, starting it and causing much damage, four boys were arested in their homes this morning. The youngsters, who are John Middleton Charles Lincoln, Raymond Cole and Harry Gorman, were committed by Squire J. S. Bowers to the Belvidere jail for trial in the Juvenile Court.

Middleton, Lincoln and Cole are accused of stealing a bottle of whiskey from a delivery wagon in Main street soon after their escapade, and the trio became intoxicated. Lincoln is also wanted for breaking and entering the fruit stores of several foreigners of this place. Recently when arrested for the charge he managed to slip out of his coat and left the empty garment in his captor's hands.

When the boys started the locomotive it badly damaged a freight car and the company's snow plow, which were on the same track. The frieght car contained a number of barrels of oil, which burst open, and the contents were spilled along the tracks. The boys managed to escape from the locomotive unhurt.

The boys, who range in age from eleven to fourteen years, were arrested by Central Railroad Detective A. J. Gray and former Sheriff Wetter.

REDISTRICTING PLAN IS INTRODUCED IN SENATE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 14—The Republican plan for the division of the State into twelve Congressional districts so as to provide for two new Congressmen is contained in a bill introduced in the Senate yesterday afternon by Senator Edge, the party leader. The re-arrangement of the lines are in North Jersey, South Jersey being left untouched. The bill has the endorsement of the Republican State committee and it is expected it will be put through as a party measure.

The First, Second, Third and Fourth Districts are left as they are, the First containing Camden, Gloucester and Salem counties; the Second, Burlington, Atlantic, Cumberland and Cape May counties; the Third, Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean counties, and the Fourth, Mercer, Hunterdon and Somerset counties.

Warren county is cut from the Fifth District and it is left to comprise only Union and Morris counties. The new Sixth District is made up of Warren, Sussex and Bergen counties and Pompton and West Milford townships, Passaic county, this being the extreme northerly section of Passaic.

HIGH WATER SHUT DOWN MILLS ALONG THE RARITAN

Somerville, March 14.—Swollen by the heavy rains the Raritan River rose fifteen feet yesterday and threatened to reach the high-water mark of 1896. The mills along the river at Raritan closed down on account of the flood and hundreds of operatives were made idle.

The lower floors of the Raritan Woolen Mill were flooded and much damage was done to the machinery.

All travel betwen this place and South Somerville was cut off by the flood. Thousands of acres of farm lands and also a large portion of James B. Duke's 3,000 acre park was inundated.

Sidewalk Rider Fined.

George Wilson, of Somerset street, arrested some time in the borough for riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, was re-arraigned before Recorder M. F. Gano this morning and fined $3. At the former hearing Wilson denied the charge made by Marshal Giddes and as the latter was not in court an adjournment of the case was allowed until this morning.

MARTINE WINS SUPPORT FOR PITNEY; CLOSE VOTE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Mar. 14.—With only four votes to spare the nomination of Chancellor Pitney as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court was confirmed yesterday afternoon in executive session of the Senate. The vote was 50 to 26, the number required for confirmation being 46. Yesterday's executive session lasted two hours.

The final remarks on the subject of confirmation were made by Senator Martine, the junior member from New Jersey. In fact, Mr. Martine was the only member to speak in favor of the confirmation yesterday.

Mr. Martine said that as he was not a lawyer he could not enter into a discussion of the opinion written by Chancellor Pitney, in connection with the action of the Court of Errors and Appeals in determining the case of the Jonas Glass Company against the Glass Blowers' Union, which was the subject of very bitter criticism and attack by a number of the Senators during the time the nomination was under consideration. The New Jersey Senator said that he was entirely out of sympathy with the principle of law laid down in the Chancellor's opinion, but notwithstanding, he believed Mr. Pitney to be thoroughly qualified for the Supreme Court and a man who, if elevated to that position, would serve the country in a most able and conscientious manner.

Two Senators are said to have told Mr. Martine after the session that his speech won their votes for confirmation. They went into the session, they are reported to have told the New Jersey Senator, intending to vote against Chancellor Pitney.

PERTH AMBOY TO SAFEGUARD ITS HOME-KILLED BEEF.

Perth Amboy, March 14.—Under the provisions of a code upon which the Board of Health acted favorably last night, hereafter no animal can be legally killed for food in this city until it is inspected by Dr. A. P. Labach, the veterinary adviser of the board. A number of small meat shops sell nothing but home killed beef and it has been freely charged by the health inspectors that no regard has been paid to the condition of the animal to be killed.

Acting as a committee, the board of seven health commissioners will appear before the aldermen at their next meeting to ask for sufficient funds to employ an additional inspector.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning March 10, 1912.

Topic.—Christian testimony that counts. —John i, 29-42. (Led by the prayer meeting committee.) Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The purpose of all testimony is that it may count. In fact, all testimony does count on one side or the other. The life of every professed disciple of Christ counts for Him or against Him in proportion, as it is a true or false representation of what Christ wants His disciples to be. Regardless of the fact that a false profession of Christianity should not count against Christ, in that He was never false, nevertheless it does. The testimony of a patient who neglected his physician's medicine could not properly be used against him. But in religion men fail to make the proper distinction between Christ and professing Christians. How vitally important, therefore, that our lips and lives testify in a way that counts for Christ and not against Him.

The supreme aim of Christian testimony is to win souls for Christ. Christ dwelt but a brief time upon the earth, but He gathered about Him a band of men who after His departure from the earth were to bear testimony of Him and thus win others to Him. The purpose of His teaching and of the special revelation of Himself to the apostles was that they might testify of Him to others and these others to still others, and thus by an endless chain of testimony the world was to be evangelized and Christianized. This fact is strikingly illustrated in the examples selected of testimonies that counted in winning others. The testimony of John the Baptist won Andrew for Christ. The testimony of Andrew won his brother, Simon Peter, to Christ, and thousands were led to accept Christ by the testimony of Peter, His great apostle. The end of Christian testimony, so far as we are concerned, is not reached when we are saved. We also are to be witnesses for Christ. We also are to tell others the story of Jesus and His love in order that they may be saved and that they in turn may become witnesses for Him who saves them.

Personal testimony counts. John testified personally to Andrew and John the Apostle and they were won. It was the personal testimony of Andrew that won Simon Peter. Face to face testimony is the most effective of all testimonies in winning souls. The salvation of the soul is an individual matter. Men cannot be saved en masse. They are won one by one, and what Christian does not know some one to whom he can go and say: "I have found the Saviour. Will you let Him save you?"

Testimony that exalts Christ counts. John the Baptist did not speak of himself, but pointed out Christ and said, "Behold, the lamb of God." When Andrew became a follower of his Lord, he did not speak to Simon of anything in himself, but simply said, "We have found * * * the Christ, and he brought him to Jesus." If we would be successful soul winners we must obliterate self and exalt Christ. Nor need we hesitate to testify because we realize our own infirmities and weaknesses. We are not asking men to come to us, but to come to Him, and, while we may be weak, He is strong; while we are imperfect, He is perfect; while we are unable to save ourselves, much less others, He is able "to save unto the uttermost all who come unto Him." "He that winneth souls is wise."

UTAH PRISON WORK.

A Life Transformed by Christian Endeavor In Utah State Prison.

For twenty-one months the writer of the following stanzas, L. McPherson Shockley, a Missouri boy, lay under sentence of death in the Utah state prison. He was condemned to die for killing two street car men in an attempt to hold up a car one night six years ago. At that time he was a desperado.

His sentence was commuted to imprisonment for life. In prison he came into touch with Christian Endeavor work and has completely changed under Christian influence. He has been given an important clerkship in the prison and has won the entire confidence of the authorities.

We quote three stanzas from a poem from his pen on "Does Death End All?" a theme on which he doubtless found time to meditate while waiting to learn his fate:

The blushing flower that droops and dies,
But, dying, scatters seeds
To reproduce a thing of joy,
God given for our needs;
The fading bloom a lesson gives—
The teaching then it negatives
That death ends all.

Did God His greatest work complete
To perish at the tomb,
The plaything of a few brief days,
Days full of grief and gloom?
Ah, no; the One omnipotent,
The perfect One from heaven sent,
Saith, "Death does not end all!"

He is the one resplendent light,
More radiant than the sun,
That robs death of its victory
When this life's race is run.
From manger bed where He was born
We pass to resurrection morn.
Oh, death does not end all!

Mrs. G. Stuart Simons, Mrs. Jos. Smith, Mrs. Wm. M. Sandford, Jr.

New subscriptions for the Child Welfare Magazine will be taken for two years at the regular price, fifty cents per year until April first; after that date, the price will be one dollar a year. Names may be sent to Mrs. Joseph Smith, 517 East Seventh street, or direct to the magazine, 227 South Sixth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Parent-Teacher Extension Committee assisted in organizing a Parent-Teacher Association at the Lincoln School, of New Brunswick, this week. Miss March was made president. Over seventy members joined the new association.

A number of calls from cities and towns in the State have come to the Parent-Teacher Extension Committee for help in organizing Parent-Teacher Associations, among them Bound Brook and Jersey City. An early date has been set to comply with the requests. Volunteer speakers from the local Parent-Teachers' Association would be greatly appreciated by this committee of the Mothers' Association.

The annual State council of Presidents of Parent-Teacher Associations and Mothers' Clubs of the State will take place at Trenton, March 30. The following presidents of the Plainfield Associations are planning to attend: Mrs. J. C. Pierson, Mothers' Association; Mrs. Stephen Voorhees, Franklin-Stillman-Whittier Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. Hervey Doane, Bryant Parent-Teacher Association; Mrs. G. O. Stevens, Irving-Jefferson Parent-Teacher Association.

Parents who wish helpful suggestions in telling "The Story of Life" to their children will receive free literature on the subject by writing for sample literature to the American Purity Alliance, 156 Fifth avenue, New York city.

Dr. Alfred E. Shipley, of the New York Bureau of Municipal Research, and Dr. Philip VanQugen, of the American Medical Association, will be the speakers at the Public Child Welfare meeting to be held at the High School, Tuesday, April 2, at 8 p. m. These eminent speakers will surely make the meeting exceedingly profitable. All members of the Mothers' Association and Parent-Teacher Associations will receive further notice by postal or the usual method of notification for regular meetings. All who are interested in child welfare are cordially invited to attend.

At the re-organization of the Plainfield High School Association, Mrs. Walter LeRoy Smith, of Malden, Mass., will be the speaker. The committee in charge has been most fortunate in securing Mrs. Smith for this meeting, as she is the chairman of the National Parent-Teacher Association and an unusually gifted as a speaker. Those who heard Mrs. Smith at the National Congress in Washington last April will be glad to hear her again. Those who have not heard her should avail themselves of this opportunity. The date of the meeting will be announced in this column next Thursday.

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Franklin - Stillman - Whittier Schools, Mrs. Stephen H. Voorhees president, will hold a meeting next Wednesday afternoon in the Stillman School building. Parents and teachers are invited to bring their sewing and suggestions for next year's work. Entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

Berlin is already planning for the reception of the German-American Teachers' Association which will visit that city next August. An official reception will be given in the new City Hall.

There is a law in France prohibiting a mother from leaving her own baby, to nurse another, before her own baby is seven months old.

The National Congress of Mothers will meet in St. Louis, Mo., March 20-25. Delegates from Eastern States may secure material reduction in rates when ten travel together. The official train will leave New York at 10 a. m., March 18, on the Baltimore and Ohio and will arrive in St. Louis at 6 p. m., March 19. The fare is $19 from New York. The general topic for this conference will be "The Home's Responsibility for Child Welfare."

The Ohio Congress is preparing to give an entertainment to raise funds to promote the work in cities throughout the state where there are no Mother's Clubs.

A Big Sisterhood has been organized in Portland, Oregon, along the lines of the Big Brothers. Its keynote is help for wayward, delinquent or needy girls.

Mrs. R. N. Tate, president of the Oregon State Congress, was kept busy during February presenting the mothers' work to various outside clubs.

CHARMING NOVELTIES FOR THE CHILDREN'S JOLLY PARTIES

NOVELTIES for the children's Easter party are shown here. One of these is a large paper rooster intended as the surprise pie and to contain the eggs or other souvenirs for the little guests. The rooster may be shaped out of heavy millinery wire covered with muslin and then have the rows of crape paper scallops that make up the plumage of the fowl stitched or pasted to the muslin. Red paper or red flannel can be used for the comb and wattles. Yellow paper is used for the beak and beard. Candy eggs attached to fancy ribbons are thrown over his back, and a tiny plaster or papier mache rabbit is mounted on the rooster's back and holds the ribbons that go about his head.

Surprise Pies For Juvenile Parties

A rooster, feathered as in life, is mounted on a bundle of sticks piled up to look like a cord of wood. The wood pile is set on the paper covered dish that contains the pie.

Plaster rabbits and poultry are made to be used as candy boxes.

THE EASTER DINNER.

FOR the Easter dinner have the decorations in the Easter colors green and white, yellow and white or purple and white.

Duchess Soup.—Put three teaspoonfuls of butter into the frying pan and when it is hot add two slices of onion and two of carrots. Cook three minutes without browning.

Easter Lily Salad.
Easter Fruit Cream.

Turn in four cupfuls of white stock with a blade of mace and boil fifteen minutes. Strain. Add two cupfuls of milk.

Blend two tablespoonfuls of butter with two tablespoonfuls of flour and thicken the soup with it.

Season with a saltspoonful of pepper and a teaspoonful of salt.

At last stir in a quarter of a cupful of grated cheese, cook two minutes and serve at once with croutons.

A Decorative Salad.

The lily salad is attractive and delicious. It is made as follows:

Easter Lily Salad.—Take the shells from as many hard boiled fresh eggs as there are to be people at the table. Beginning at one end of the egg, slit the white almost to the other end, taking care that the knife does not go deep enough to pierce the yolk.

Make five of these cuts lengthwise along the egg and turn back the strips of white thus formed for the petals of the lily.

With a fork score the yolk of the egg to look like the yellow center of a lily. Place the lilies on crisp green lettuce leaves in a shallow glass dish. Serve with mayonnaise dressing.

An Attractive Dessert.

Easter Fruit Cream.—Pass the contents of a can of apricots through a sieve. Add one cupful of sugar, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of dissolved gelatin, one cupful of whipped cream and one-half cupful of cold water.

Pour into individual molds. Turn out when set and garnish with yellow flowers. Place a large spoonful of whipped cream on top of each mold before serving.

VANITY'S VISIONS.

Oddly Placed Seams In Spring Costumes—The Russian Note.

The smartest features of the spring tailored suits will be noted not so much in actual trimming as in oddly placed seams and in the dexterous use of materials, especially where stripes are employed.

The belted peasant blouse is another Russian note that will be observed in the fashions for the coming season.

SKIRT WITH SCALLOPED FLOUNCES.

Pique gives promise of popularity for beautiful morning costumes, and bands of soutache are favored as a trimming for this fabric.

The two piece skirt is a pronounced favorite, and the scalloped flounces in the model illustrated are the last word in fashion. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Got There All Right.

Many years ago, at the beginning of November, a missive bearing the St. Albans postmark reached St. Martin's. The envelope was addressed "lud mar funding." Neither tail nor head could be made out of this by the staff, so the envelope was opened for a clew. It read "kenyolianosfogosbc bil igs." The practiced St. Martin's decipherer of puzzles promptly made out the signature as "Bill Higgs." With the key this afforded the rest was deliciously easy. The message was, "Can you buy a horse for your show?" and "lud mar" meant "lord mayor." So the letter, with an official translation considerately appended, was delivered to the lord mayor elect.—London Mail.

PARK SIDE BOROUGH BILL CAUSES DIVISION.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 14.—Union County's representatives in the House divided yesterday on Mr. Groves' bill to incorporate Park Side Borough, Union County. After the introducer explained the advantages of a borough from a standpoint of the taxes, Mr. Otto, of the same county, said that he could not agree with his colleague on the merits of the bill. His objection was based on the contention that the borough lines would make some school children take long journeys to reach the schools and another bad feature, he said, was that no referendum was inserted.

Mr. Groves replied that no change was to be made in the school districts as at present constituted and that the referendum was unnecessary because a majority of those affected had already signed for the borough. But Mr. Taylor, of Monmouth, here entered the discussion and said that every borough should have a referendum.

After conferring with some of the lawmakers near him, Mr. Groves saw that the measure would be defeated unless the referendum clause be inserted and asked that the bill be placed on second reading in order that hem ight make the chang.e

LAW MILL TO SHUT UP ON TUESDAY, MARCH 26.

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, Mar. 14.—Signs of the approaching close of the 1912 session of the Legislature are contained in the resolution offered in the House yesterday by Majority Leader Whyte prohibiting the introduction of bills after March 18. This resolution means that after next Monday no new measures can be introduced without unanimous consent of the members, excepting the appropriation bills.

The probable result of the conference of the Republican members of the Senate will be that adjournment sine die on March 26 is everything can be disposed of by that time. Five days will then be allowed the Governor to pass upon all measures and the Houses will then reconvene on Monday, April 1, to decide upon the action to be taken on possible vetoes of the executive.

While at work carrying household goods into one of the apartments over Nagle's drug store, Grove and West Front streets, yesterday afternoon, Antone S. The body was removed to Cole's undertaking establishment where it was viewed by County Physician Westcott, who issued the burial permit.

District Court.

Judge Walter L. Hetfield sitting in the District Court this morning reserved decision in the case of the Apple Electric Co., of Dayton, Ohio, against the Rushmore Dynamo Works of this city. The suit grew out of the return of a dyname the Rushmore company returned without alleged just cause. The amount sued for is $100.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

GOLF CRITIC TELLS OF PLAYERS HOBBIES

Many Peculiar Mannerisms Discovered Through Observing Enthusiasts on the Links.

SOME OF THEM ARE DEFINED

As Men Differ in Speech and Otherwise so do Golfers Adopt Different Methods—Full of Fads and Superstitions, Says Critic.

As men differ in walk, mannerism and speech, so do golfers adopt different methods in pursuance of their favorite game. In fact, it has been claimed—and it is probably so—that no two golfers in the world have exactly the same kind of a swing. An hour's observation as the players drive off their first tee will surprise almost any onlooker, who will soon notice that the golfers with totally different methods may achieve their object—to drive the ball a reasonable distant in a desired direction. The observer may likewise notice that he of the graceful style is not always rewarded by the happiest results.

The young slasher, who has been decapitating buttercups with reckless abandon may turn "ball shy" at the fateful moment, and unconsciously aim as if to flick a fly from the summit of the globe. In spite of his spectacular atleticism, he finds himself in a worse position than his staid opponent, who, ostrich-like, takes care to keep his head "down among his feet.' Style in golf denotes the man.

As the preliminary waggle foreshadows the swing, so the swing betrays the temperament. One can almost estimate each player's handicap without moving from the first teeing ground. Here is a red-faced player who stands square,firm and stiff. His constrained attitude, staring eyes and unnatural immobility suggest that he is hypnotized into impotence by mere sight of the sphere. The onlookers watch with breathless apprehension.

Suddenly the player seems to arouse himself by a great effort of will. The machinery is set in motion. Ever so slowly and correctly the wrists communicate the initial movement to the clubhead and are followed by forearms, body twist and left-foot pivot in gradual accleration. The expectant players can stand the strain no longer.

Already he seems to see the ball fly straight and sure and in his mind he hears the murmur of applause. The crisis comes too soon. Every muscle is relaxed into warring commotion. The poor player is whirled about by his rebellious members and the ball alone remains serenely unaffected. Then comes the storm, not of applause, but of execration. If his handicap is twenty-four, twelve strokes are due to his ability to control his feelings.

Next will come, perhaps, a middle aged man, full of excellent intentions, born of book learning. He adjusts his distance according to an imaginary diagram, carefully attends to his grip, watches his wrists as they go up in trial half swings stops to think, alters his position, painfully slows back and perseveres with an exaggerated follow through, although he knows that he has foozled the ball. "There," he exclaims, "I clean forgot to remember maxim number thirty-nine."

Golfers are full of fads and superstitions. One considers that a certain pair of stockings or a tie or a coat keeps him out of bunkers. Another must waggle exactly seven times before hitting the ball. Very precise players provide themselves with accessories which could possibly aid them in winning a match—gloves for wet weather, chalk for club faces, tape measures for stymies, etc., and they consider that all is lost if any one of these articles should be forgotten. One of the most unjustifiable supersitions to which some of the golfers cling is that which states that it is unlucky to win the first hole. It belongs to that class of false consolation which is expressed by such phrases as "might have been worse," etc.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

A Great Game of Ball Tomorrow.

The Crescent ball nine of this city expects to wear their new suits of grey and maroon to victory tomorrow on the East Front street grounds. A grandstand is in course of erection to be ready, if possible and the public is cordially invited to be present. Those who attend will witness, probably, one of the most exciting games for the local team of the season.

The visiting nine will be the Rosevilles, a club well know as one of the most expert of amateur teams of the State. Their battery, Gates and Chandler, occupy the points very effectively, but they will have some strong batters in the Crescents against them.

The following will be the composition of Plainfield's nine: Pitcher, William Cadmus; catcher, George Cadmus; shortstop, A. R. Dills; first base , James MacMurray; second base, S. St. John McCutchen; third base, J. Hervey Doane; fielders, George Cornwall, J. W. Murray, Jr., and A. W. Demarest. (Daily Press, Friday, May 11, 1888).

DUBUC AND PERRY IN HOT AIR DUEL.

Down in Louisiana Jean Dubuc has been telling inside stories on Hank Perry and in turn Hank has been telling things about Jean. These two Tiger recruits, both of whom played in the International League last year, on different teams, and who are now trying for jobs in Jennings' outfit, give a pretty fair line on one another's distinct baseball assets. Dubuc twirled for the Royals and Perry stabbed flies for the Clams.

Jean thinks that Perry is a great batter. He says Perry has powerful arms and shoulders, that nature has fitted him especially for the task of smashing the sphere in the national game. Perry believes that Dubuc is a finished pitcher and that Jean possesses a cunning that will get him through any league in the country.

HOGAN DISQUALIFIED.

Referee White Stops Bout With Leach Cross Before End of First Round.

New York, March 14.—A big crowd was disappointed at the Madison Athletic club in Harlem. Before the first round of the much talked of battle between Leach Cross and "One Round" Hogan had been going on two minutes Referee Charley White suddenly stepped between the men and pushed Hogan to a corner.

"I have disqualified you for holding and hitting on the breakaway," exclaimed White as he made a dive through the ropes. The crowd made a noisy demonstration, but White was obdurate.

Albany to Get Wolverton's Yans.

Albany N. Y., Mar. 14.—Manager Tamsett, of the local New York State League team, is to get the pick of the New York Americans castoffs, as a result of the deal whereby Outfielder Tom O'Hara, of the locals, was turned over to the Yankees as scout. Tamsett is dickering for Zinn, whom Manager Wolverton promised to Scranton. Manager Tamsett has announced that he was unable to make satisfactory arrangements at Princeton, and will train his team at Chadwick Park, Albany.

McGinnity is After Seymour.

Manager Joe McGinnity is trying to get Cy Seymour, of the Orioles, to affix his name to a Newark contract. Manager Jack Dunn, of Baltimore, has given the local leader permission to negotiate withe Seymour. McGinnity wants the outfielder to sign a conditional contract, and this Seymour has refused to do.

THE GINGER JAR

Harry Stout, who referred the bantamweight championship fight at New Orleans between Frankie Burns and Johnny Coulon, and made many enemies by declaring Coulon the winner, has quit as a referee. Stout gave as his reason that he intends to secure a position as a baseball umpire in one of the minor leagues.

While sojourning in California, Frank Chance has picked up a successor to Joe Tinker in a youngster named Smith, of Redlands, touted as one of the classiest shortstops on the Pacific Coast.

There is a difference of only a few hundred dollars between the New York Americans and Catcher Ed Sweeney. Wolverton, in a letter to President Farrell, says that Sweeney is becoming reasonable and doubtless will report before the Highlanders leave Atlanta.

Manager Harry Wolverton has on his Highlander pitching staff four spitters, a southpaw, an underhand thrower and a slugger. How is that for a freaky array of talent?

Nash showed rare form in the Elk League contests last week. Keep up the good work Bill.

The No. 10 pen has been nicknamed Jack Johnson on account of being so hard on some hopes.

Umpire Tom Connolly, of the American League, has been elected a member of the Citizens' party committee at Natick, Mass. Even umpires are throwing their hats in the ring.

The Pittsburgh team will do the most traveling of any of the sixteen major league clubs during the coming season. Allowing twenty-five men on each trip. Barney Dreyfuss will have to buy 346,673 miles of transportation.

New York fans will probably come arcoss with an automobile for Christy Mathewson some time during the coming season. Ty Cobb, "Nap" Lajoie, Frank Schulte, Ed Walsh, Eddie Collins and Sherwood Magee have all been presented with speed wagons, and "Big Six" is surely entitled to one.—North American.

Johhny Willets is going to take up boxing again. His broken jaw is all right now and he has started training.

It is reported that Battling Nelson broke both of his hands in the bout at Dayton, O., on March 1 with Sammy Trott.

Jumbo Wells has made a world's record for breaking engagements. He has disappointed Philadelphia boxing club managers more times than any other man in the boxing game.

Homer Hillebrand, the old Pittsburgh utility man, who could play any position from catcher to right field until his arm went back on him, is now running a successful stock ranch in Day county, South Dakota.

So confident is Jimmy Callahan of e-aling, if not bettering his great record of 1911 that he is releasing all but the most phenomenal youngsters picked up last season to get trials in the outfield of the Sox 1912 outfit.

United States athletes have shown superiority in every Olympic games revival since 1890.

SPICY SPORT CHATS

By TOMMY CLARK.

Hughey Jennings says that the managers who are touting golf, tennis, handball and cross country walking as valuable aids to ball players during the spring training trips are on the wrong track. The Tiger leader holds to the opinion that the stay in the south should be devoted to work and not play, and he classes the various games with which other clubs experiment this season under the latter head.

The auburn haired general's contention is that a ball player gets all the work necessary by giving his attention to the program of two daily practice sessions on the diamond. By playing baseball a man renews his knack of handling and hitting the ball and at the same time builds himself up physically and improves his wind, while if he fools around with other games he may be conditioning himself, but he is learning nothing of the pastime at which he makes a living.

Jennings is right in his contention. The time in the south which the average team spends is much too short to devote any part of it to anything but baseball. Here and there an exception occurs, for a player like Ty Cobb is not benefited by a long siege of training, because he is never out of condition.

Bombardier Wells, the English heavyweight champion, says he will open the eyes of the American fight fans when he tackles Al Palzer some time next July in Frisco. England's leading pugilist also adds that he will take on one or two of the lesser lights before he meets Palzer to give us a line on his real ability. True, Bombardier must amount to something or they would not have arranged a match for him with Johnson in England.

But, unless Mr. Wells shows up well in his bouts with the lesser lights he will have his battle with Palzer called off.

Just how long Bender, Plank and Coombs are going to be the mainstays of the Philadelphia Athletics' pitching staff no one can guess, but it is certain that they cannot go on forever, and whenever the break comes Connie Mack's team is going to take a tumble.

There is no question that it has been the brilliant work of this trio which has held the team up in the race for the pennant. Even though it is strong in other departments it could not win if it were not for the splendid work of its pitchers. But the three have gone quite a route.

They have been doing a lot of work in past years, and sooner or later the turning point in their careers must come.

A Japanese hammer thrower seems almost an anomaly to us, who have rarely seen a large man from Japan, and if it is really true that John Flanagan is going to the orient to teach the art of throwing the hammer it will be a most interesting experience.

The Japanese are apt students in anything they undertake, and John is such an expert in style as well as in execution that he ought to make a good coach.

Racing boat men seem to have gone hydroplane crazy. Speed and more speed is being developed every day. The French are now building a motorboat with a 300 horsepower engine. It is expected the boat will travel between sixty and seventy miles an hour.

SEVEN CONTESTANTS TIED FOR FIRST IN DIVING EVENT

The running high dive was the weekly athletic event of the Junior boys' class in the local Y. M. C. A. Tuesday. There was a large number of boys out but owing to the nature of the event comparatively few entered the competition. The running high dive is one of the few events that is included in boys' athletic programs and requires considerable ability for proper execution.

There are only three more events remaining on the athletic program arranged by C. Wiliam Bingaman, the boys' secretary, and as the season draws to a close the keen rivalry that has existed from the first seems to increase. The program has served to promote team work among the youngsters and each is working hard for his respective team, realizing that everything he does adds a number of points towards his team's standing. A loving cup, suitably engraved will be presented to the team having the highest average in athletics, swimming, basketball and the membership contest.

In order to prevent injury to any of the contestants the contest was called off after the heighth of 5 feet 8 inches had been reached. At this mark Foster, Ryder, D. McNamee, Berse, Ball, Seals and Thickstun were tied. Brownlee and Stout were next with a mark of 4 feet, 4 inches and Beekman was in third place with a dive two inches less to his credit.

Rosenson missed at 4 feet. Cartwright cleared at 3 feet 10 inches. A. Brownlee went over at 3 feet 6 inches in company with Bagger, Starkweather, Crone, Tomlinson, Murphy and S. Smith. The other contestants and their marks were as follows: Pennoyer, 3 feet 4 inches; Bradford, Stevens and V. Smith, 3 feet 2 inches; Cantor, Cooper, Condict and Taylor, 3 feet even.

CARTY TO BE AWARDED THE DISPUTED MEDAL.

The controversy over the disposition of the seventh silver medal in the city basketball championship series, which has been keeping the athletic faction of the Plainfield High School in constant turmoil for the last two weeks, has been satisfactorily settled and Joseph Carty will receive the award. When the series between the Y. M. C. A. Ajax and the Plainfield High School teams was proposed, the Y. M. C. A. offered a set of seven medals for the players on the victorious quintet.

In winning the two straight games of the series the High School team used but six players and the question immediately arose regarding the distribution of the odd medal. Carty was the only P. H. S. substitute who appeared at either contest ready to play if called upon and based his claim on this fact. On the other hand, Fred Thorn was also a claimant for the medal on the grounds of his work in the capacity of manager during the past season.

Carty played centre for the P. H. S. team during the past season and made good in every game he played. This is his initial year in the game and he will without doubt prove a valuable asset to the team next year. He is extremely popular in all branches of school life, having played for two years on the baseball and football teams.

McInnis Hurts Ankle.

While trying to stretch a hit into a double Tuesday at San Antonio, First Baseman Jack McInnis, of the Philadelphia Athletics, twisted his ankle so badly that he will be compelled to rest for several days. In the sixth inning of the game, which the Athletics lost to the Texas Bronchos by the score of 10 to 9. McInnis, twisted his ankle and had to be carried off the field. The first sacker had hit the ball safely, and in trying to stretch the hit to a two-bagger slid, feet first, into the sack. His ankle hooked into the bag and was twisted.

Return Game Tommorrow.

The Plainfield High School Girls' basketball team will play the Nufley High Schools girls on the local gyn tomorrow afternoon. The contest will be the second between these teams and the P. H. S. five are confident of victory. They lost the first contest.

Boxing Bill Defeated.

Trenton, Mar. 14.—Assemblyman Ford's bill to permit limited boxing bouts was defeated by the House yesterday on a vote of 26 to 27. Mr. Ford changed his vote with the intention of bringing up the bill again when more of the members are present.

—Our language old should be condensed,

TWO TEETH KNOCKED OUT OF WOMEN'S WORK BILL

Trenton, March 14.—By passing, by the vote of 19 to 0, the Edge bill limiting the hours of employment of women, the Senate went on record as favoring one of the most important measures of this session. Interest in the bill has been State wide ever since its introduction, and the hearings on it were among the liveliest held this winter.

The measure in the amended form in which it passed the Senate, provides that no female shall be employed in any manufacturing or mercantile establishment, bakery, laundry or restaurant, more than ten hours in any one day, or more than six days or sixty hours in any one week.

There is a proviso that the bill shall not apply to mercantile establishments for the six working days preceding December 25. This was not in the original bill but was secured as an amendment by Senator Fielder, of Hudson County, for the protection of department stores and other mercantile establishments during the Christmas holiday holiday rush.

Senator Nichols, before the bill passed, got in an amendment excepting from its provisions canneries of fruit and vegetables. This amendment was adopted on the ground that the session for such canning is only three or four weeks during which the work must be rushed.

The penalty for violating the law is a fine of from $25 to $50 for the first offense, and from $50 to $200 for the second offense.

GIRLS IN SILK MILLS ON STRIKE

Three Hundred Workers Demand Shorter Workday.

PICKETS SURROUND PLANT

No Increase in Wages Demanded, Although Only $3 Per Week Was Paid Workers, With No Extra Money For Overtime—Plans Are Formulated For Struggle.

Bayonne, N. J., March 14.—Protesting against conditions under which they were compelled to work, said by some to be even as shocking as those existing in the Lawrence (Mass.) textile mills, 300 girls, ranging from eight to twenty years and employed in the Schwatzenbach & Huber Co. silk mills here, have declared a strike.

The 300 girls represent half the working force. The others, most of whom are piece workers, it was said by leaders of the strikers, would join the walk out.

The announcement that the strike had been declared followed immediately after the arrival in Bayonne of two street cars filled with silk factory strikers from Union Hill. They immediately took charge of the strike and stationed pickets along Avenue E, between Nineteenth and Twenty-first streets, where the factory is situated.

At a meeting following the girls were organized by those in charge of the Union Hill strike, a tentative agreement to be submitted to the employers was drawn up and other arrangements completed.

The strikers demand an eight hour day instead of a ten hour day. Many of the girls who went on strike are under twenty and the majority are under twelve.

Their wages for a ten hour day, or sixty hours a week, was $3, or $6 for 120 hours' work. They were paid at the end of each two weeks. They were allowed no overtime, they say, and on some occasions worked as many as seventy hours a week.

The piece workers, who have also threatened to join the walkout, demand an increase in pay. They cite that they were formerly paid $2.50 for each 100 yards of silk weaved. This rate, they declare, was recently reduced to $1.20 a 100 yards, and only a few weeks ago further reduced to 90 cents for the same amount of work.

Those who walked out include pickers, weavers and warpers.

RIVERS ON RAMPAGE.

The Hackensack and Pascack Cause Trouble in New Jersey and New York.

Oradell, N. J., March 14.—Damage amounting to thousands of dollars has been done by floods along the Hackensack and Pascack rivers in New Jersey and New York, and hundreds of men were at work trying to prevent dams, houses and mills from being swept away by the still rising waters. Not in nineteen years has the Hackensack river been so high.

Much of the loss has been occasioned near here at the junction of the Hackensack and Pascack rivers, where the Hackensack Water company is expending $3,000,000 in building a new dam, by which the water of Rockland county, N. Y., is to be supplied to the residents of Bergen county, N. J.

Part of the bank near the temporary dam of wood and dirt has been washed away, undermining a sawmill, which slid down to the edge of the dam. Two hundred men were kept at work there to save the dam from being washed away.

Between Oradell, New Milford and River Edge the meadows are covered with water like an inland sea, and the lowlands between Oradell and Emerson are flooded.

At Woodcliff Lake, N. J., a great part of the bank of one of the twin reservoirs which supplies Bergen county with water has caved into the reservoir.

M'FARLAND REPRIEVED.

Sentenced to Die Next Week, Governor Gives Him Thirty Days More.

Trenton, N. J., March 14.—Allison M. McFarland, convicted of the murder of his wife in Newark and sentenced to die in the electric chair next week, was reprieved by Governor Wilson for thirty days.

His case is now pending in the Monmouth county court on an application for a new trial on the ground of new evidence. The reprieve will give time to take the case to the court of pardons if a new trial is refused.

MISTAKES.

Life, like war, is a series of mistakes, and he is not the best Christian nor the best general who makes the fewest false steps. He is the best who wins the most splendid victories by the retrieval of mistakes. Forget mistakes. Organize victory out of mistakes.—F. W. Robertson.

YOUNG PIERCE ELOPES WITH HIS STEPSISTER

Son of Standard Oil Magnate Again In Limelight.

Palm Beach, Fla., March 14.—Roy E. Pierce, son of Henry Clay Pierce, the Standard Oil magnate, of New York, eloped with his stepsister, Miss Virginia Burroughs. Pierce is about twenty-four years old and his bride a couple of years his junior. The groom since coming to Palm Beach, a month ago, had a former marriage with Mrs. Irving Chapman, a Boston actress, declared void. His runaway match so upset his father, who had brought about the annulment of the former union, so it was said, by paying Mrs. Chapman $100,000, that he locked himself in his apartments and refused to see friends who came to make inquiries. The elder Pierce exclaimed to a close friend:

"Rum did it. The boy has been drinking again. I first heard of their reported engagement about two months ago, before the courts had finished with the first marriage. I wrote them about it, and they denied it. I honestly did not believe that they were engaged."

U. S. MONITOR AT CANTON.

Anarchy Prevails In Province of Kwangtung—Missionaries Escape.

Hongkong, March 14.—Anarchy prevails almost everywhere in the Chinese province of Kwangtung.

At Swatow the soldiers of the garrison opposed the landing of 2,000 Hakas, or marauding tribesmen, and several fierce encounters have taken place between them.

A battle was fought at Chowyang, a short distance to the south of Swatow, during which forty men were killed and sixty wounded.

The United States monitor Monterey is at Canton. Several of the foreign missionaries in the city have had narrow escapes from flying bullets.

Peking, March 14.—Sheng Yuan, who was governor of the province of Shensi under the imperial regime, is reported to be marching upon Peking with a force of 10,000 men to restore the emperor to the throne.

FLIERS COLLIDE IN AIR.

Machines Wrecked and Passenger Hurt, Pilots Escape Injury.

Berlin, March 14.—Two aeroplanes collided flying around the aerodrome at Johannisthal, the machine driven by the airman Schade, who was carrying a passenger named Badowski, striking violently another aeroplane driven by the airman Rettinger.

Both aeroplanes were smashed and fell to the ground, the passenger being injured, while the two aviators escaped unhurt.

Paris, March 14.—Lieutenant Seville fell 500 feet in his monoplane and was instantly killed.

T. R. STARTS WEDNESDAY.

Opens Campaign With Address at Carnegie Hall, New York.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 14.—The first speech of Colonel Roosevelt's campaign will be made next Wednesday night in Carnegie hall under the auspices of the Civic forum.

He has chosen as his subject "The Right of the People to Rule." He says he will not make a partisan address, but will discuss in a general way what he regards as the basic issues in the campaign.

Leonardo da Vinci.

Leonardo da Vinci, the celebrated Italian painter, sculptor and architect, died in 1519. He was born in 1452 and became well versed in all the sciences and arts of his time. His most famous picture is "The Last Supper," painted on the wall of a convent at Milan. He is said to have anticipated Galilei, Kepler, Copernicus and others in their astronomical theories and also some of the discoveries of recent geologists, though his views are expressed in somewhat vague language.

$2,500,000 GIFT FOR MASSACHUSETTS TECH.

Thomas A. Edison or Carnegie Believed to Be Donor.

Boston, March 14.—President R. C. MacLaurin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology informed the members of the corporation in his annual report of the gift of $2,500,000 to the institute from a person whose identity is to remain secret for the present.

It is hinted in certain quarters that Thomas A. Edison may be the man, while others suspect Andrew Carnegie. Dr. MacLaurin stated that the donor is not an alumnus of Tech, nor a resident of Massachusetts.

The gift announced is for the building fund, and it is of sufficient proportions to erect all the structures which are in the plans for the new Tech.

SUFFRAGETTES SENTENCED.

Terms of From Four to Six Months For Window Smashers.

London, March 14.—Ten of the suffragettes who were committed for trial by the police magistrate at the Bow street court on March 2 on a charge of smashing windows during the women's suffrage demonstration on March 1 were sentenced at the London sessions court to terms ranging from four to six months in prison.

The women were tried in the superior court on account of the damage caused by each of them having exceeded the value of $25.

EXPLORER IS LOST.

No Word Heard From Hubert Darrell, In Arctic Regions, Since 1910.

Seattle, Wash., March 14.—Mail from Hersch island, in the arctic ocean, received at Dawson, Y. T., says that Hubert Darrell, the explorer who went east in 1910 from the MacKenzie, has been given up for lost. No word has come from the explorer since his departure.

BATTLE IN TRIPOLI.

Italians Report Victory With 1,000 of Enemy Killed.

Rome, March 14. — An official announcement made at the war office says 1,000 Turks and Arabs were killed in fighting at Bengazi, Tripoli.

The Italian loss was twenty-nine killed and sixty-two wounded.

Another Blow For Packers.

Chicago, March 14.—Another blow was dealt the packers charged with criminal violations of the Sherman law when Judge Carpenter denied a motion for the discharge of Edward Morris and Louis H. Heyman, two of the defendants, on a technical objection to the indictment.

Weather Forecast.

MINERS DELAY A CALL TO STRIKE

Will Confer Before Answering Operators.

MAY ASK MORE TIME.

Anthracite Operators Give Men Reasons For Refusal to Meet Demands—Miners May Submit a New Proposal. Much May Depend on Bituminous Workers.

New York, March 14.—It was a short conference that the anthracite operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers held for the purpose of the operators presenting in detail their answer to the demands of the mine workers. The meeting lasted only long enough for the answer, which refused the miners' demands, to be read.

President John P. White and his associates then asked to be permitted to consider the answer until this afternoon, when there will be a further conference at which the miners will say whether they will submit a new proposal or strike.

The operators flatly turned down the demands that had been submitted by President White of the union. The operators declared industrial conditions made it impossible for them to meet any of the demands.

Speaking of the proposed wage scale—an increase of 20 per cent—the operators said they could not meet any such scale unless the price of coal was increased 40 cents a ton. "And," it was added, "the public would not stand for that."

In the statement issued from the operators' headquarters each separate demand of the miners was discussed and the reason given for turning it down.

The answer closes with the following proposition to the miners:

"Our proposition is that the present agreement between the anthracite mine workers and the operators be continued for and during a further term of three years from the first day of April, 1912.

"We urge careful consideration of our proposition and its acceptance by you.

"We trust that your demands will be withdrawn and that the prosperity which has so long obtained in the anthracite region will not be arbitrarily and unnecessarily disturbed."

While the union representatives would not commit themselves, it is understood that they may ask Friday for a further extension of time to consider the answer in order to await the result of the conferences in Chicago and Cleveland next week between the bituminous operators and their miners. It is known that the heads of the anthracite locals of the United Mine Workers will scarcely consent to a strike if there is peace in the bituminous districts, whereas united action of the entire organization claiming to control half a million miners would be effective.

British Outlook Better.

London, via Glace Bay, March 14.—The strike situation has changed for the better. It is apparent that the miners are weakening owing to a variety of causes, such as a desire of many to return, the unpopularity of the strike and the depletion of the funds of the miners' federation. The conference of miners is now discussing a proposal that if the English miners can make favorable terms with the owners they should return to work and leave their Welsh and Scotch colleagues to fight as long as they like. The movement to return to work was opposed, but the general proposal is likely to be adopted.

FINDS NO SMELTER TRUST.

Attorney General Wickersham Replies to Questioning House Resolution.

Washington, March 14.—Attorney General Wickersham advised the house, in reply to its resolution, that he has no evidence of the existence of a "smelter trust."

His investigation, he said, has revealed no indication of a combination.

Freights Smash; Boy Killed.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 14.—A westbound freight train on the New York Central collided with a string of Lehigh freight cars in the Canastota yards. George Keefe, eighteen, of Utica, who was stealing a ride, was killed, and two other boys who were with him are missing. Engineer John Long of Albany and several others were injured.

The Leatherbys' Party.

Mr. Leatherby sold children's shoes. Business became dull, so he had Mrs. Leatherby sent out invitations to a birthday party for little Lewis Leatherby, aged six. She sent the invitations to all the children in Lewis' class at school.

Immediately the mothers of the invited children rushed downtown and bought new shoes for their little girls and boys to wear to the party. It was the liveliest week that Mr. Leatherby's store had had in many years. Kindness always pays.—Newark News.

How It Looked.

"You think she married him for his money?"

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "It didn't seem to me as much like a wedding as like a speculation."—Washington Star.

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street, crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

TRAMPS MUST WORK, BUT ESCAPE BALL AND CHAIN.

Rahway, March 14. — There will be no ball-and-chain punishment, after all, for tramps caught here. But there is likely to be a week's work for them on the streets. That is Mayor Fyffe's attitude in his reply to Common Council, which urged harsh measures. The Mayor's recommendations were adopted.

It was on February 27 that council adopted the resolution dealing with the tramps. It directed the Mayor "to have the police department and the police justice to impose upon all tramps and pandhandlers arrested a penalty of working upon the streets for a period of forty-eight hours with ball and chain attached to the leg."

Referring to the resolution, the Mayor approved the motive, but said of the plan:

"It savors too much of barbarism and might well bring adverse criticism and ridicule on our city in these days when even penal institutions are refraining from any punishment that may destroy a man's latent self repect. Nevertheless, some steps should be taken to acomplish your worthy object, and I would respectfully recommend that an ordinance be passed requiring such offenders to work under guard for a reasonable length of time—perhaps a week."

George N. Alpaugh.

Whitehouse, March 14. — After a lingering illness, George N. Alpaugh, seventy-seven years old, died Tuesday at his home near Whitehouse Station, from a complication of diseases. For many years he conducted a general store at Fairmount and later was engaged in farming. His wife died several years ago. He leaves six children, who are Mrs. John Dilley, of this vicinity; Mrs. Louis Gray, of Potterstown; Titus Alpaugh, of Whitehouse Station; Mrs. Leo Kingsley, of Somerville; Charles Alpaugh, of South Bethlehem, Pa., and Isiah Alpaugh of Chicago. The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Gray. Rev. Sylvanus D. Decker, pastor of the Methodist church at Lebanon, will officiate. The burial wil be in Fairview Cemetery at Cokesbury.

Plainfield Lodge, No. 316, Loyal Order Moose, will meet tonight, when the new degree team will confer degrees on several candidates. The team will use the new robes which have just been purchased by the lodge. A social session will follow.

HIS JOB WAS SHAKY.

So Callahan Put a Couple of Nails in to Hold It Down.

This interesting narrative was revealed in a conversation between the conductor and another railway employee in the early morning hours the other day on a Smith street car:

"Is Callahan on the road yet?"

"Sure. He's got a steady run on No. 82,944."

"But I thought he got into trouble."

"He did. He struck a butcher's wagon some time ago."

"That's bad."

"Divvel a bit Callahan thinks so."

"And why?"

"You know when a motorman hits anything and it is his fault he has to pay for it, don't you?"

"Sure, the company takes a dollar a week out of his envelope until it is paid up."

"Right you are. Well, a cold winter is coming on, and Callahan thought it was time to hit something. So he hit a butcher's wagon."

"Make me wise, will you?"

"It's this way. Ever since he has been here Callahan has been shaky about holding his job. One day he did $10 worth of damage to the back of an undertaker's wagon, smashed a glass or something like that."

"Yes."

"He was told he would have to pay a dollar a week until the damage was made good."

"Sure."

"'Well,' said Callahan to himself, 'that makes me job good for ten more weeks anyway. They'll never discharge me while I be owing them money.'"

"Sure not."

"When he had all but $2 paid on the undertaker's wagon Callahan accidentally struck a pie wagon and damaged it $10 worth. That made his job sure through the summer. He had the pie wagon business almost settled when he began to think about the winter coming on and how men would be laid off after the summer rush, so he waited for a good chance and swatted the butcher's wagon."

"How much was the damage?"

"Fifty dollars. Callahan's sure of his job now for a year."—Brooklyn Times.

Hardest to Raise.

Harry N. Atwood, the aviator, was the guest of honor at a dinner in New York on the occasion of his recent record flight. Mr. Atwood's eloquent reply to a toast on aviation terminated neatly with these words: "The aeroplane has come at last, but it was a long time coming. We can imagine necessity, the mother of invention, looking up at a sky all criss crossed with flying machines and then saying, with a shake of her old head and a contented smile, 'Of all my children the aeroplane has been the hardest to raise.'"

Making Him Comfortable.

A drummer put up for the night in an out of the way boarding house. His room was under the roof. In the middle of the night, awakening from a dream that he was being drowned, he found a terrific thunderstorm in progress and the rain streaming in on him through a leak.

"Landlady! Landlady!" he yelled.

And in reply to his yells the old landlady staggered upstairs and into the room with a big washtub. She plumped the washtub down on top of the drummer, who gave a grunt of surprise and pain, and then she said as she turned to depart:

"There, son; now yer all right, an' jist as soon as the tub fills up yell ag'in, an' I'll have another empty one ready for ye."

The Joker.

In the station restaurant the ham sandwiches were piled high upon the end of the counter when the 11:30 pulled in. The passengers had ten minutes to get a lunch, and the short, fat man realized this as he rushed in and called for a sandwich. The waiter picked up one of the buns and slid it halfway down the counter to the hungry one. When the short fellow looked and saw there was no ham between the bun he slid it back up the counter, at the same time exclaiming: "Deal these over again, waiter. I got the joker."—National Monthly.

Clever Excuse.

An Irish soldier, placed on guard over a cannon, was found by his officer in a public house some distance away.

"How dare you leave your post?" was the stern rebuke.

"Ah, but it's no consequence at all, plaze yer honor," said the man. "There's no two men able to lift that gun betwane them, much less carry it off. An' if there was more than two I know I wouldn't be a match for them, so I kem away, yer honor."

Rev. C. C. Cain, pastor of Grace M. E. church, will occupy the pulpit of the Trinity M. E. church in Rahway, tonight, where evangelistic services are being held.

NEW PROVIDENCE WATER SERVICE IS EXPLAINED.

New Providence, March 14. — An explanation of the alleged poor water service given by the Commonwealth Water and Light Company was made to the council at its last meeting by William D. Clark, of the water and light committee, of the council. Mr. Clark said that one of the feed lines which comes into the borough from Summit had been shut off by the contractors who laid the pipes for the new Summit sewer line.

Mr. Clark added that the only available supply came from a four-inch pipe on Springfield avenue. He said the company could not promise redress until the frost was out of the ground.

FIRE DEPARTMENT IS UNDER A CLOUD

Charge by Subordinate Reach Councilmanic Committee by Way of Chief Doane.

SUPERIORS ARE RETICENT

Information Regarding the Case Refused, But It Is Known That Accusation Involves Alleged Serious Infraction of Departmental Rules.

Rumors of pending trouble in the Plainfield fire department took shape last night when one of the men appeared before the councilmanic fire committee to prefer charges against a superior officer. The charges were made through Chief T. O. Doane and the committee took the matter under advisement. Whether there will be a trial has not yet been decided, and will not be until full consideration is given to the charges.

Every member of the councilmanic fire committee was uncommunicative on the subject today. They even declined to admit that any charges had been made. It is understood that the charges have to do with a violation of departmental rules.

It is known that several persons appeared before the fire committee last night. The action of the councilmen gives the impression that they agreed not to give the public any inkling of the trouble for the present.

Among those who have been in close touch with fire department affairs the knowledge that charges had been made occasioned no astonishment, for they had heard of trouble among the men and as one of them expressed it: "We are not surprised."

STATE TRUST COMPANY RETAINS BORO ACCOUNT

The propositions of the State Trust Company and the Plainfield Trust Company for the handling of the borough's accounts were taken from the table at the adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield Council last night, and the proposition of the State Trust Company was accepted. The terms of each were identical.

By the change the borough will receive a larger rate of interest on stated amounts on deposit and will be loaned funds at a lower rate of interest.

The annual report of the Shade Tree Commission was received and read by the chairman, Henry Crofut White. An appropriation of $250 was granted the commission.

BORO'S PERMIT TO USE ZVOLNECK FARM RESCINDED

The North Plainfield Township Committee yesterday, at its regular meeting, rescinded by a unanimous vote the privilege granted North Plainfield borough to put its proposed sewage disposal works on the Zvolneck farm.

The permit was granted in January, 1910. A year later the borough's plans were rejected by the State Board of Health. The resolution adopted by the township committee, after meeting these facts, goes on to say:

"The Borough of North Plainfield has now, eleven months later, gone to the State Board of Health with new plans for a disposal plant on the same Zvolneck site, without having applied to the North Plainfield Township Committee either for a new permit to use the Zvolneck site or for permission to change or amend its plans, and by its failure to return to the North Plainfield Township Committee for a new permit and by its assumption of right to proceed with new and different plans under the former permit, would deprive the property owners of North Plainfield Township of their legal prerogatives."

Then follows the formal clauses rescinding the permit.

LEHIGH VALLEY TO USE JERSEY CENTRAL TRACKS

Report Published Exclusively by This Paper a Year Ago Confirmed--Change Means Much to Towns Along the Central.

Announcement is made in the New York offices of the Lehigh Valley Railroad that on and after August 1 the road would cease to use the tracks of the Pennsylvania, and has practically reached an agreement with the Central Railroad of New Jersey, whereby it would run its trains over the Central into Jersey City. About a year ago the Daily Press reported on reliable authority that this change would be made and other papers published denials.

According to the Lehigh officials, the contract with the Pennsylvania expired a little over a year ago, but a temporary agreement was put in force, which the Pennsylvania had the power to terminate at any time. Notice, it was admitted, had been served on the Lehigh Valley that this contract would be null and void August 1.

It is the opinion of both the railroad men of the Lehigh and Central that the new arrangement will mean a big opposition to the Pennsylvania.

Although the Lehigh Valley and Central officials refused to discuss where the connection would be made on the Central tracks, it is said that such connection can be made with advantage to both railroads at Bayonne. It is also possible for it to make a connection at Roselle Park with the Central line. If the connection is made at Bayonne, it would mean that the Lehigh passenger trains, after leaving the Park View station in this city, would cross the meadows over the right of way now used by the Lehigh for a freight road.

Recently activity on part of the Central Railroad in improving its ferry service and the placing of addition tracks in and around Communipaw gave color to the rumor since confirmed that the Lehigh was to run over the Central line. At the offices of the Central Railroad in New York the officials declined to discuss the coming change.

Announcement was made yesterday that about August 1 the Pennsylvania Railroad road will abandon and close its long passenger terminal station at Jersey City. The idea is to save the expense of operating that station and to divert as much travel as possible to the great tunnel terminal in New York.

SHAPING PLANS TO MAKE CHEMICAL ENGINE AN AUTO

The Councilmanic fire committee met last night and discussed at length the question of converting the chemical engine at headquarters into an automobile apparatus. Chairman Duncan W. Taylor says that it is the intention to recommend the change. It is believed that the improvement can be made for about $4,000.

There was also a discussion of the question of getting hay, oats, straw and coal for the coming year, in view of the fact that no bids were received at a previous meeting. It is the opinion of the committee that the old contract under which the city is securing coal for the department will hold, as it reads for "so many tons, more or less," and under this interpretation the city would be privileged to engage as many tons of coal as thought necessary. No decision was reached regarding the supply of hay, oats and straw.

CARD PARTY PRECEDES AN AFTERNOON RECEPTION

Mrs. Harold N. Underhill and Mrs. George W. Endicott, Jr., gave a delightful reception and bridge whist party yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Underhill, 11 Rockview avenue, the borough. There were about 50 guests, including Miss Elizabeth Slee, of New York, and Miss Edna Phillips, of Chatham.

There were seven tables in play and about thirty guests came in after the play. The prize-winners were Mrs. John T. George, Mrs. Arthur W. Kenworthy, Mrs. W. H. Williams and Mrs. C. H. Detwiller. One table was reserved for hearts and Mrs. Charles Lyman, Jr., won the prize at that table.

During the reception Mrs. A. G. Hooley poured in the dining room. The home was attractively decorated with daffodils and pink carnations. Mrs. Henry Johnson was the caterer.

Violated Ordinance.

The first arrest in the borough for driving a wagon without lights after dark was made last night when Marshal Pope arrested James Bacon, driving a bakery wagon. When arraigned before Recorder M. F. Gano, this morning, Bacon said that he did not know of the law and upon his promise to comply with it in the future sentence was suspended.

To Display Flag at Polling Places

Hereafter the American flag must be displayed in every polling place in the State on primary and general election days and on each registration day, Governor Wilson having signed the bill fathered by Assemblyman Geogre L. Babcock, of Union county, which gives this provision.

TO END BICKERING AMONG FIREMEN

Bill Arranged For the Distribution of Money Due Exempts and Paid Men.

PLAINFIELDERS IN HARMONY

Funds Apportioned to the Satisfaction of Both Organizations Here, But There are Suits Pending Against Alleged Delinquents.

In an effort to settle finally the old fight between the Exempt firemen of the State and the members of the paid fire departments, Assemblyman Pikaart, of Passaic county, has introduced a joint resolution for the appointment of a commission to devise a plan for distributing moneys now apportioned between the veterans aand the men yet in the ranks.

For six months there has been a suit in the Court of Chancery, Newark, between the Exempt Firemen's Association and the Firemen's Relief Association. The former claim that the latter has taken $90,000 during the past twenty years for the protection of the paid firemen, instead of the volunteers. It is further claimed that there has been an unlawful division of the funds. Under the law one per cent. of the money received from fire insurance companies goes to the Firemen's Relief Association and one per cent. to the pension fund.

It is the contention that the active firemen get a regular salary, and if injured or taken sick they are cared for by the city in which they are injured; furthermore that one per cent. should go to the Relief Association and one per cent. to the volunteers. In Plainfield, Jersey City and Hoboken the two classes have apportioned the money harmoniously, but in almost every other city in the State the two elements have quarreled over their shares of the fund.

The resolution introduced by the Passaic Assemblyman would authorize the Governor to appoint a commission to study the subject of properly dividing the pension fund allowance and to recommend to the next legislature a proper way of distributing the money equitably. The commission suggested in the bill is to consist of one active fireman, an exempt fireman, and a third disinterested party. Before acting on the resolution the speaker referred it to the committee on banks and insurance for consideration.

V. W. Nash, Jr., of this city, who represents both associations here, has several suits pending in the District Court against agents of insurance companies who have failed to pay the specified per cent. according to law, and they will be tried within a short time.

WRESTLE WITH SUNDAY PROBLEM IN THE BORO

Mayor Clark Has Regulating Ordinance Introduced, and Council Tables It to Consider Plans For Its Modification.

That the recent ruling by Mayor Clark of North Plainfield, permitting stores in the borough to remain open until Sunday is only a temporary measure and that the executive is desirous of establishing better means of regulating Sunday business became evident at an adjourned meeting of the North Plainfield council last night.

Councilman W. J. Butterfield, chairman of the laws, ordinances and taxation committee, at Mayor Clark's request, introduced an ordinance for consideration on first reading which, if passed, will close most of the business places in the borough on Sundays all day.

After considerable discussion, on motion, the ordinance was tabled until the next regular meeting in April.

The new ordinance is almost an exact copy of the one in force in Plainfield. It prohibits the sale of everything except milk and medicine but does not interfere with those who observe Saturday as their Sabbath from doing business providing they are strict observers of the seventh day.

In speaking on the ordinance, Coucilman Butterfield made the suggestion that the measure be modified so as to allow the merchants to supply the needs and wants of customers for several hours in the morning. Under the plan all places would be closed before the hour the churches open, would prevent any disorder, and at the same time would give residents an opportunity to procure desired articles.

The majority of the other members of the council concurred in the suggested modification, but in order to have the matter thoroughly threshed out, the motion for postponement was caried.

EDUCATOR PICTURES THE IDEAL SCHOOL

Address By Dr. Grozman Before Home and School Association of Garwood.

PEDAGOGY AND PSYCHOLOGY

Head of Herbart Hall Prefers Groups of Smaller Buildings Arranged Around Courts to the Erection of Large Palatial Structures.

Dr. Maximilian P. E. Groszmann, head of Herbart Hall, Watchung Crest, spoke to the Home and School Association of Garwood yesterday on "The Relation of the Material Equipment of a School to the Efficiency of the School."

The Doctor began by saying that speaking of a school does not necessary mean speaking of a building. A school means a place where the child may be given systematic experience and training. Even the heretofore entirely unsystematic training which the home affords is gradually becoming professional.

The school must give room for the play activity of the children, for learning through experiment, and only incidentally, so to speak, for the learning of the formal arts, which are mere methods of acquirements, but not ends in themselves. It is wrong to consider the three "R's" the fundamentals.

The ideal school should have large grounds,, school gardens, a place for the keeping of pets, playgrounds, and an outdoor gymnasium.

In the building itself the workshops and laboratories are of the greatest importance. There the children repeat the experience of the race in learning the development and use of tools, and the handling of different materials. They will recapitulate the industrial evolution thru which mankind has attained civilization. They will receive that training of the motor centers in the brain which is basic for the development of the higher thought centers.

There should be domestic education, a school kitchen and dining-room in which the children learn to prepare and serve their own lunches. There should be the opportunity for art education for the purpose of teaching the children to see the beautiful and to create beauty. For beauty is really identical with perfection; a thing that is constructed so that it serves its purpose best is the perfect, and at the same time the beautiful type. There should everywhere be an opportunity given for the development of the child's inventiveness and ingenuity, in addition to the ability to imitate correctly.

Dr. Groszmann prefers a group of smaller buildings arranged around courts, to the erection of large palatial structures. Buildings should be fire proof, simple, cheerful, easy of access and egress, with no winding corridors, no basement play rooms. He believes in large, high school rooms which are so arranged that they may be practically open air rooms for the better part of the year. Much attention must be paid to right system of ventilation and heating. The light should preferably come from above and be evenly distributed. This can be achieved by having the windows arranged near the ceiling rather than near the floor, and eventually with the use of skylights that can be protected from the direct rays of the sun. He recommended adjustable desks and seats, well ventilated wardrobes having conveniences for drying wet clothing, and rest rooms for the teachers and pupils. He came out strongly for proper medical inspection and the institution of school nurses. He also suggested that there be a pedagogical and psychological laboratory for testing the capacity of children, and the establishment of ungraded classes.

The course of study should be elastic and the daily program should be carefully arranged so that the book study alternates with laboratory, manual and outdoor work. There are periods of maximum and minimum vitality during the day which must be considered. The problem of recesses and afternoon sessions requires careful consideration.

He then spoke of the problem of discipline. The right kind of discipline depends first upon the right understanding of each individual child, and of the causes of his difficulties; secondly, upon the ability of the teacher to interprete to the child the divine laws of nature so that the child may develop a true moral character.

NEW UNIFORMS FOR NINE RESULT OF TURKEY SUPPER

The first annual turkey supper under the auspices of the baseball club of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, was held at the church, last night, and proved a success. It is believed that a substantial sum will be realized with which to purchase new uniforms for the nine.

Samuel Beekman, captain of the team, was chairman of the general supper committee, and other members of the team acted as waiters. The women friends of the club assisted in the kitchen.

The large room, where the supper was served was attractively decorated and the tables were lighted by candles. The supper was served from 6 to 9, after which there was a social hour.

CHURCHES TO TAKE A DAY CENSUS OF CITY AND BORO

As part of the "Men and Religion" movement, and under the direction of the local committee, a census of Plainfield and North Plainfield is to be taken to ascertain how many men in the city and borough attend church or are identified with churches in any way. A committee of five will be appointed from each church.

It is proposed to do this work on Saturday, March 23, and those in charge are so arranging the plan that it will be possible to complete the task with little effort or inconvenience. Already the committees of five have been chosen in many of the churches.

Pierce Tax Bill.

Trenton, March 15. (Special).—Senator Pierce, of Union county, introduced an important bill in the Senate yesterday. It supplements the 1903 tax act and provides that all local assessors in the State be appointed instead of elected by the voters. It is claimed that assessors who are elected are subject to political pulling and hauling which interferes with getting good and equitable assessments.

The names of various architects are being considered but it will be some time before a decision is reached as to the architect to be employed.

FREEHOLDERS TO INSPECT ANCIENT STINE'S BRIDGE

The members of the Somerset County Board of Chosen Freeholders and the North Plainfield Common Council will jointly examine the ancient Stine's bridge over Stony brook Monday morning, at which time the representatives of the borough will formally petition for a new bridge.

The citizens of the western end of the borough have been striving to secure a new and safe bridge on West End avenue since last summer. Owing to one new bridge being given North Plainfield on Washington avenue over Green brook, the request for the second one was withheld on the advice of members of the Freeholder Board, as the bridge appropriation was exhausted.

TEMPLE BAPTIST JUNIORS' "YE OLD COUNTRY SKEWL"

"Ye Old Country Skewl," an entertaining melange, was given at the Y. M. C. A. last night by the members of the Philathea Junior and Baraca Junior Classes of the Temple Baptist church. This was an original sketch written by William Richards, in which he took the leading part.

A feature was the singing by the Queen City Quartet, composed of Ramsey Wilson, John Page, Charles Mettler and William Cubberly. Clarence B. LaRue took the part of "ye master" and had charge of the program. The following took part in the numbers:

The PARIS

ATTORNEY GENERAL HEARS THINGS ABOUT A SENATOR

Trenton, March 15.—Further details of accusation that have been made to the attorney-general's department against a State Senator, who is declared to have tried to "hold-up" the Lehigh Valley Railroad for a retainer in return for his vote on the Morris Canal abandonment bill, have just come to light.

The accusation is that the Senator, whose name obviously cannot be mentioned, but whose identity does not seem to be in doubt, sought, once directly and once through a relative, to get such a retainer from the railroad company. Here is a brief narrative of what is said to have occurred:

When the Morris Canal abandonment bill had been gotten into fairly complete shape, the Senator in question paid a visit to a member of the legal staff of the Lehigh Valley at his office.

To this man, the Senator said that he was completely acquainted with the Morris Canal situation and was especially familiar with the topography of the canal.

The Senator gave this information and waited for a response.

The lawyer's response is said to have been a polite rejoinder that the information was interesting.

A short time afterward, the same lawyer received a visit from a relative by marriage of the same Senator. This relative recalled to the lawyer that the Senator had previously called on the lawyer.

Next the relative offered the suggestion that the Senator would be glad to be retained by the Lehigh Valley in getting the bill through the Legislature.

Again, according to the story, there was merely a polite rejoinder.

But this is not all that occurred, according to the accusers. A short time afterward, they say, the Senator himself called up the same lawyer by telephone and recalled to him the fact that his relative had seen him. Then, on his own account, he directly suggested that he would be glad to be retained.

According to the narrative, again the lawyer sidestepped.

All this information has been placed in the hands of Attorney-General Wilson by William H. Corbin, general counsel for the Lehigh Valley Railroad. The matter has been given no publicity by the railroad because it has been feared that its publication might injure the chances of the passage of the canal abandonment bill.

CORK LEG VERDICT DUG UP TO ANNOY GARRISION

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 15.—The famous "cork leg" decision is being made a prominent factor in the matter of appointing a chancellor to succeed Mahlon Pitney, who has been confirmed as associate justice of the United States Supreme Court.

Although the chances of Supreme Court Justice Charles G. Garrison for appointment to the chancellorship are considered bright, it is regarded by no means certain that he will get the place.

Through a technical error two years ago there was accredited to Justice Garrison responsibility for having handed down the "cork leg" decision, in which it was set forth that a jury in a case where a little girl had lost her leg had not taken into consideration the skill with which modern mechanical surgery adapted an artificial limb in a favorable case such as that in question.

The decision reached the office of the clerk of the Supreme Court in a bunch of other opinions. Though it was plainly marked "Per Curiam," meaning that it was the opinion of the whole court, it was nevertheless entered on the books as having been written by Justice Garrison.

This opinion is now in the hands of every anti-Wilson newspaper in New York and Philadelphia, and it has been carefully scrutinized by labor leaders.

The "cork leg" opinion was handed down October 14, 1909, in the case of Dorothy McDermott vs. Public Service Corporation, on a rule to show cause why a new trial should not be granted.

The hearing took place before Chief Justice Gummere and Justices Parker and Garrison.

Here is the opinion in full:

"The plaintiff, a girl a little past three years of age, had a leg amputated below the knee as a result of being crushed by a trolley car. The trial court properly treated the plaintiff as of such tender years that negligence in failing fully to apprehend and appreciate the dangers of the situation was not to be imputed to her. No legal error was committed at the trial court, but the jury in rendering a verdict for $8,500 entirely ignored the fundamental consideration that the parents of the infant plaintiff are legally liable for her support during her non-age, so that the gross sum awarded her by the verdict, if invested as it should be, would, at the expiration of her infancy, amount to double that awarded by the jury.

"The verdict also fails to give due weight to the skill with which modern mechanical surgery adapts an artificial limb in a favorable case such as this. We are unable to say what verdict would be rendered by a jury that gave these considerations the proper weight, and must, therefore, make the present rule absolute."

FOR GREATER EFFICIENCY IN THE ENDEAVOR FIELD

During the next six months the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union will bring to the attention of Endeavorers all over the State the subject of greater efficiency through adoption of the campaign recommended by the Society of Christian Endeavor. The matter was discussed at a meeting of the State Executive Committee held at the Y. M. C. A., Newark, and the State president, John T. Sproull, made a strong plea for participation in this definite, practical work looking to the training of workers for the church.

It was decided that the State convention dates be October 2, 3 and 4, at which time the New Jersey Endeavorers will be the guests of the Middlesex people. The convention will be held in the First Reformed church, New Brunswick.

Mr. Sproull, after reading a letter received from a former member of the advisory board, the Rev. P. T. Pockman, D. D., now located at Olean, N. Y., announced taht he had appointed in Dr. Pockman's place, the Rev. John W. Van Zanten, of Metuchen, a son-in-law of Dr. Pockman.

A successor to Miss Ida B. Stephens in the office of State secretary will be selected by the president and the vice-presidents, the matter having been referred to them with power by action at yesterday's meeting. It was announced that Miss Stephens could no longer serve, owing to the press of other duties. It was a general feeling that to choose a successor to so able and efficient officer as Miss Stephens has been during the sixteen years that she has held the office required thought and care.

A request was made that all dime banks issued for contributions towards the headquarters building at Boston be returned at an early date to Mr. Sproull, in order that settlement may be made with the Boston office.

Mrs. W. H. Dey, of Chatham, will serve as district secretary for Morris County, succeeding Miss Lucy Thompson.

The usual awards for societies and unions will be made at the State convention in October, and Mr. Sproull announced that he will also present a suitable award to the largest union having the largest porportionate number of society activity pushing the efficiency campaign.

All the department superintendents present gave good reports of the work under their care, and told of their plans for the coming month.

The committee will meet again in or early in May.

Somerville, March 15.—Reports from those places in this vicinity inundated show that the damage was not as large as had been expected. Enough warning had been given merchants and others to remove goods from cellars to places where the water would not reach them.

Between Millstone and East Millstone boats were brought into service for conveying persons from one point to another. At North Branch the water was up to the first floor of the postoffice. The flour and feed mill suffered slightly from the rising water.

PRESS OF THE EAST UNFAIR IN SPIRIT

New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Boston Papers Biased, Says Miss Richards.

BIG BUSINESS IN POLITICS

Indifference on People's Part Made It Easy for the Corporations to Taint Even Congress—Good Word for Col. Roosevelt.

Discussing questions involved in the present political situation in this country, before a large assemblage of women at the Hartridge Auditorium yesterday afternoon, Miss Janet Richards, of Washington, declared that the press of the Eastern States is not actuated by a spirit of fair play. She added that the newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington are partisan and biased, due to an alliance between the big business and special monied interests.

The speaker cited to prove her assertion, numerous instances of the way that real political news of the day is being handled by different newspapers. She named a half-dozen newspapers in New York that print nothing that is favorable to Roosevelt, while columns are filled with stories that tend to influence the readers against the former President.

Miss Richards asserted that Roosevelt's set of political doctrines originated with LaFollette, such as the plan to get the railroads out of politics and the courts away from the domination of political influence.

"When LaFollette refused to be read out of his party," the speaker said, "he was branded as a demagogue. The worst that one can say of a reformer is that he is a demagogue and a dangerous agitator. Personally, I do not believe in brass bands in politics. Reason, justice and common sense are things that appeal to nearly everyone.

"This alliance between the big business and politics has grown to such an extent that it has even tainted the United States Congress. The trouble has been that the people have allowed great corporate interests to get hold of the preliminary machinery and control it, and it is this indifference on the part of the people that has brought about the present unsatisfactory condition. But the people are waking up at last."

Miss Richards cited the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the case of patent rights, which was given with seven men on the bench. Four of the judges decided in the favor of certain interests, and not only President Taft, said Miss Richards, but the people and press of the country are disgusted. Now, she added, there is a movement to have the case re-considered by the full bench.

"Roosevelt never said that he believed in the recall of Supreme Court Judges," said Miss Richards, "but he has favored a law by which their decisions might be reviewed. In the patent rights' case the decision only strengthened the monopoly. Nearly every newspaper in New York is in the alliance of which I spoke for the suppression of certain news. The other day Senator Beveridge made an eloquent speech in which he praised Roosevelt, and yet some of the New York and Philadelphia newspapers scarcely noticed it. It is not a case of personality, but the interests that is considered."

Miss Richards touched upon the influence of the Standard Oil Company and other big corporations and the question of rebates, showing how unjust this was to the man of small business. She also referred to the part Roosevelt had in putting a stop to the rebate evil.

"While we may not all agree with Roosevelt," said Miss Richards, "let us think of the many good things that he whipped through Congress when he was President."

The last part of Miss Richards' talk was devoted to some startling information regarding the White Slave traffic. She cited several cases of which she had personal knowledge to show how widespread this traffic is and the methods employed by its promoters in getting hold of girls between the ages of 15 and 19 years. She concluded by saying that it was just this condition of affairs that is driving women to the support of equal suffrage, wherein they hope to aid in the enactment of laws which will tend to abolish such conditions.

BILL TO CUT DOWN FEES PAID COUNTY OFFICIALS

Elizabeth, March 15.—If a bill passed by the Assembly should become a law, the income from the surrogaets' offices of the State would fall far below the present mark, and in Union County the receipts would not equal the expenditures. The measure is considered most unnecessary by many who have studied it and the Union County officials and freeholders have been urged to bring their complaint to the notice of the legislators.

The bill would cut certain fees in the surrogate's office by one-half when the estate of the deceased is valued at a sum between $500 and $1,00, and by two-thirds when the estate is worth less than $500. The Union County office had a surplus at the end of 1911, although the cost of maintenance of this branch of the county goverment is not generally expected to be lower than the income.

It has been suggested by local parties interested in the subject, that if any change is desired in the surrogate fee system it be in respect to estates of large value. The fees on such, it is stated, may be well increased. A millionaire, for instance, may now leave an estate that will not have any more expense assessed against it by a surrogate's office than that for a comparatively insignificant estate.

Prior to the passage of the act of 1908, there was no distinction between the amounts charged for estates over $200 and those under $100. The charges prior to 1908 on all estates were as follows: Grant of administration, $7; probate of will, $8.50; inventory, $3; guardianship, $6; guardinan's inventory, $1.60. The law of 1908 reduced the cost of estates under $200.

Prior to the adoption of the salary act, it was the custom in the Union county office to make reductions in the case of small estates, which could not be done after the passage of the salary bill.

The bill now in the Legislature woudd reduce the fees on more than half the estates which are acted upon by the local office. In 1911 administrations were granted as follows: Up to $100, inclusive, 29; over $100 to $200, inclusive, 18; over $200 to $500, inclusive, 46; over $500 to $1,000, inclusive, 32; over $1,000, 57.

The present fees charged in these matters are in no case burdensome or in excess of what should be paid.

Further objection to bill No. 252 is in extending the reduction to auditing and stating of final accounts, filing and recording of orders of distribution, releases, refunding bonds and all other papers or making copies thereof. The costs and expenses of recording and furnishing copies would exceed the amount to be received therefor.

He told the police he believed the men live here and that he could identify them if caught.

TO FILL 5 VACANCIES AT VALLEY SCHOOL ELECTION

Owing to the resignations of two members during the year, the New Providence Township Board of Education will have five vacancies to be filled at the annual meeting of the district next Tuedsay evening, March 19. The terms of Charles Springsteen, Angelo Del Duca and Willis Fletcher Johnson expire, and so do the temporary terms of Carl Radzio and O. W. Henderson, who were chosen by the Board in place of S. P. Debbie and William Jeffery, resigned. There will therefore have to be chosen three memebrs for three years each and two for one year each.

The present outlook is that the five present members will be re-elected. They are well distributed about the Township geographically so as to give all parts of it representation.

The Republican Club of the Township has unanimously decided to support them all for re-election.

A ROYAL FLUTE PLAYER.

Frederick the Great Used to Move His Auditors to Tears.

Abdul Hamid used to amuse himself while he was enjoying life at Yildiz kiosk by strumming "Il Trovatore" on the piano. George III. was fond of shouting the melodies of Handelian choruses for the delectation of his court, but the world has seen no real royal musician since Frederick the Great played his last tune on his flute. It seems that the king excelled in adagio movements, into which he infused a warmth and tenderness of feeling that would hardly have been expected from the conqueror of Rossbach and the friend of Voltaire. "It is difficult to listen to his performances without weeping," says one musician.

One reason why he preferred adagios was that he was somewhat short of breath, which made him eschew orchestral accompaniments for the more delicate assistance of the clavichord when he was practicing.

Toward the end of the Seven Years' war he sat down to play in a quartet and at the finish cried enthusiastically, "It is as sweet as sugar!" His companions were not so sure, for Frederick had lost a tooth, and his fingers had stiffened with gout. Finally in 1778 he had to give up his flute playing, and "I have lost my best friend" was the wail of the disconsolate monarch.—Paris Journal des Debats.

Celebrated Anniversary.

The Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the West End Tabernacle celebrated its fifth anniversary, last night. Rev. C. L. Goodrich, pastor of the Congregational church, gave the children a candle talk on the subject of "Let Your Light Shine," and the members of the society gave recitations, sang songs and piano solos. George Dufford also sang several solos. The program was in charge of Mrs. Norgaard, in the absence of Robert Love, who was detained by illness.

PENSIONS FOR TEACHERS FROM RAILROAD TAXATION

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 15.—Assemblyman John E. Gill, of this city, whose activities in educational matters has been a marked feature of this Legislature, introduced two more school bills yesterday. One amends the school law by making provision for the payment of pensions to school teachers from the funds derived from railroad taxation. The other Gill measure provides for the granting of pensions to school teachers who have been employed for 35 years or more. The amount of the pension is to be calculated on the basis of one-half the salary received for the five years prior to retirement. Both bills were sent to the educational committee, of which Mr. Gill its chairman.

MORRIS COUNTY TO BUILD A TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL.

The Morris County Board of Freeholders reversed its decision of last December and voted to erect a tuberculosis hospital.

A resolution was introduced by Freeholder George Estler that the board establish and maintain a hospital under the act of 1910.

Freeholder Fancher cried, "Snap judgment!" and urged a committee to further consider the matter. Freeholder Elliott also wanted information. They were informed that their objections were met in a second resolution, which was later introduced. It provided for the raising of $35,000 by a bond issue of ten thirty-year bonds bearing interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent. and also authorizing the appointment of a committee on site and plans.

COMPLETING ORGANIZATION OF ELIZABETH TAFT LEAGUE

Elizabeth, March 15.—Arrangements have been completed for the first meeting of the Taft Business Men's League this evening, in the Young Men's Christian Association building, 1168 East Jersey street. Every effort is being extended to make the league not only the largest and strongest in the State, but an organization of live men who will take an interest in the campaign. The reports from the various districts throughout the city indicate a spirited and enthusiastic gathering tomorrow night.

Officers will be elected, and the sentiment in favor of President Taft's renomination and re-election throughout this section will be given an opportunity to assert itself forcibly. Unlike many similar organizations, the enrolling of members has not been left to chance after the league has been actually launched by an interested few. Instead, a sufficiently large number have already presented their names for membership to ensure the league's being a truly representative body. Almost 250 prominent citizens will be listed at the first session. This is due to the fact that when a Taft Business Men's League was originally suggested those who were in charge of the preliminary plans soon found that instead of it being necessary for them to solicit among the voters for members, that the voters were assuming the initiative and expressing a desire to join.

The principal speaker this evening will be Hamilton F. Kean, the candidate for Taft delegate from this district.

Miss Elizabeth N. Hughes.

Westfield, March 15.—Miss Elizabeth N. Hughes, aged 56 years, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. J Walsh, in Fanwood road Wednesday Miss Hughes was born in Scotland and besides her sister here, she is survived by a brother in New York.

ARISTOCRACY.

Recently there appeared in the daily papers a list of those who comprise the exclusive society set in Philadelphia as compiled by one spoke apparently with some authority. Instead of there being a "400," it became known that really only some thirty or forty persons were deemed qualified to be known as the real "blue bloods" of the staid, old, ancestral-worshipping Philadelphian. The publication of the list, as might be expected, caused some bitter controversy and for some days the Quaker City papers gave considerable space to the dispute.

According to Frederic J. Haskin, a writer known for his careful research preliminary to his discussion of any topic, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston and Charleston are the chief cities of the country in which family pedigree has a social importance which no amount of wealth will overcome. These four bear a striking contrast to very many American cities, particularly the smaller ones, where the millionaire has the entree to the inner circle. The newly-arrived millionaire is quickly seized upon in the younger communities, but in the more ancient cities he quickly becomes cognizant of the fact that the aristocracy in such places is based on blood and not money.

Philadelphia, socially, is governed by the old Assembly List, which consists of the representatives of families who founded it nearly 150 years ago. It matters not in what poor circumstances one may be, if he or she be the descendant of Colonial stock there's always a hearty welcome extended at all exclusive social functions. One who has to work for a living occupies the same importance socially as does the heir or heiress. So it is in Baltimore, where society is even more exacting in its requirements as to the ancestral tree. Charleston is frequently referred to as the most aristocratic of all our cities. There the government of the municipality has always been in the hands of the old aristocracy which founded the town.

In many of the newer American cities, however, good character and an appreciation of the intrinsic worth by deeds, not lineage nor wealth, are the essentials.

Don't miss tomorrow's Daily Press. The editorial columns will be in charge of a clever journalist, George T. Hughes. Mr. Hughes makes his abode among us. Like Rev. Dr. Eaton, the pastor of one of New York's most fashionable churches, he loves the scenery and the air of the Watchung section. And so, while he is city editor of the New York Evening Globe, he spends all his leisure time in the Washington valley. The Saturday Contributed Editorial, an original feature of the re-built Daily Press, is inciting general interest because local residents who have made their mark or are making their mark in various fields compose the staff of contributing editors.

When the Democrats presented a solid front in attempting to acquit Fitzherbert of the charges in the Senate, the Republican accused them of playing politics. But how about that foxy scheme of the Republicans for the Senate to take a temporary adjournment while the Governor acts

It is not surprising that complaints should have been made to Mayor Moy regarding the soft smoke nuisance. While some local manufacturing plants are the cause of annoyance in this respect, the railroad is also an offender. Some means should be found to suppress this evil.

The Democratic members of the Senate can, in a measure, restore themselves in public favor, if, as is reported, they will ask Fitzherbert to resign. Their action in unitedly voting against his being found guilty was the biggest blunder they have made since the party came into power.

Bound Brook's loyal rooters got busy right after the flood in that town to deny that the storm had turned its streets into rivers. The civic interest of the Bound Brook people has its parallel only in Paterson, where they declare there are no anarchists to be found.

Final consideration of the women's suffrage resolution will be had in the Senate next Tuesday morning. Defeat is in store for the measure, but as the silver-tongued J. E. M. is want to say occasionally, "You can never annihilate a principle."

Only two more days for the European Tour contestants to struggle for the special prizes, a flawless diamond ring and four solid gold watches. No one can tell "what the morrow will bring forth" and hence there is an equal chance for all.

See that the Newark Star this morning has an editorial on "The Wild Game in New Jersey," but it doesn't say one word about Jim Smith's gunning for Wilson.

Governor Wilson adresses the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick at their annual banquet at Elizabeth tomorrow night. But he won't meet any Hungarians there.

Note that a Newark pastor is to preach on "The Neglected Hero" in the borough on Sunday. Wonder what's the name of the statesman?

The annual story of blighted peach crops has made its appearance. It's rather later than usual but not altogether unexpected.

on the bills and then to re-convene to pass measures over his head? Isn't it "six of one and half a dozen of another?"

Wonder if some ancestor of Mrs. Pankhurst didn't inappropriately drop an "S" as the first letter of her surname?

SOCIAL SERVICE AS PART OF RELIGION

Save Men "as Well as Their Souls" From Evil, Says Bishop Williams.

SOCIETY'S CHANGE OF BASE

Day of the Individual Past, Prelate Tells Men's Clubs — Communal Rights Recognized, and a New Conscience is Springing up.

"This is the age of the social question," said Rt. Reverend Charles Williams, Episcopal Bishop of Chicago, in his talk on "The Church and Social Righteousness," before the Men's Club of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, last night. "You cannot escape it. It is found in our literature, it is thundered at us from the pulpit and the political stump.

"Even if men meet and discuss the common subject of the weather it finally ends in the social question; everyone seems to be hypnotized by it. Our grandfathers and fathers were not troubled with this question.

"Why all this change? In the terms of the army, society has effected a change of base. In the past the individual was emphasized in society, the inherent and inalienable rights of the individual were considered paramount. It breathed through the Declaration of Independence, this idea of the rights of the individual, and the whole machinery of the government was supposed to be for the sole purpose of backing up individual rights. Beyond that people had no conception of the common weal.

"This idea possessed our religion and the cry of saving souls was constantly heard. Christ meant to bring Heaven here, as He said 'It is in your midst.' Recently, there has been a transition of thought and ideas. It is recognized that the individual is developed through society.

"Society cannot get along without the producers. You cannot isolate or segregate. All are one and we are beginning to realize this fact, that society is an organic thing and not artificial. There is springing up a new conscience a new conception of morals; there are no individual rights, it is held, one cannot defend a right unless he assert the function.

"The question of the right of private property is one that affects nearly everyone, and a large percentage of the people stand on their dignity in this matter regardless of social rights. A man will say 'I've kept within the law and what I've got is mine and no one can touch it.' I am not so sure you are right in this belief. Society is helping you to get what you have and it is asking you where you got it, how did you make it, and does your wealth represent the equivalent of what you have given to society, or by special privileges? How are you using and spending your money?

"During the last few years there has been a great change even in our American legislatures in an effort to regulate wealth and business. A new note is sounding in our religion. The pulpit is talking of strange things, this thing called big righteousness.

"The 'stand-patters' are growing uneasy. They say give us the old-time religion. They don't like the new order of things. There were two systems of morals, the law of Christ on one side, with the bigger concerns of the world and the rules of the game on the other. As a result there was a double vision, a dual conscience and a double standard.

"Religion is something that you cannot separate from your life for Sunday or other special days. The 'stand-patter' will tell you that religion is saving souls, but they are now saying that you cannot separate the soul and that religion has to do with the whole body. Saving a man from all evil has its place in the plan of religion.

"There are times when you cannot save an individual unless you save society of which he is an integral part. Someone has said that they never heard of a Socialist girl going wrong because of her devotion to duty. Society has often made criminals of boys and girls.

"In my part of the country one cannot tell the truth under the system of taxation: If he does he is ruined. If we had the Angel Gabriel for Mayor we would still get graft and bribery.

"In recent years we have seen the introduction of the juvenile court, the playground and homes for boys and girls in the plan of social service. This is good, but the plan does not go far enough. There is not a path of social service but what leads to a wider field—social righteousness. I thank God that the church is entering this field that the people are beginning to recognize principles instead of policies. The church ought to set souls on fire for social service and spiritual motives alone will keep alive this desire."

The Men's Club of the church had for its guests at the meeting, the Men's Clubs of Grace Episcopal and the Congregational churches. W. Lester Glenney, president of the home church club, presided and introduced the speaker. After the talk refreshments were served.

LITTLE HOPE FOR SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION IN THE SENATE

Trenton, March 15.—Unless the suffragettes can induce several New Jersey Senators to change their minds, there is little hope for the passage of the resolution amending the Constitution so as to give women the ballot, when it comes to a vote next Tuesday. Ten Senators yesterday declared themselves opposed to the resolution, only two were unqualifiedly for it, while eight were noncommital.

The two Senators who have declared for the proposition are Gebhardt, of Hunterdon, the introducer of the resolution, and Davis, of Salem, both Democrats.

The Senators who are against it are: Edge, Fielder, Lewis, Read, Nichols, Leavitt, Silzer, Slocum, Low and Barber.

The non-committal Senators are: President Prince, Colgate, Gaunt, Hand, Johnson, Pierce, Price and Pierce.

2 WATER SUPPLY BILLS APPEAR IN THE SENATE

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 15.—Two bills were put in the Senate yesterday relating to the potable water supply of the State. One was by Mr. Smalley, of Somerset county, requiring that notice of contemplated changes in the operation of water plants, which may tend to deteriorate the potable water supply must be given to the local Board of Health and the State Board of Health.

The other was by Mr. Davis, of Salem, and authorizes the State Water Supply Commission to acquire lands, water rights, etc., for the purpose of conserving the potable waters, the cost to be met from the receipts of the Morris Canal abandonment.

There will be a special service of prayer at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, tonight, for several men, including N. O. There will be baptism after the service. Rev. Edwin Shaw, the pastor, will preach tomorrow morning on the theme, "Jesus, the Carpenter." Samuel H. Davis, of Westerly, R. I., will be the speaker at the meeting of the Men's Club on Tuesday night. His subject will be "The Patriotism of Peace."

The Get-Together Club, following its annual custom, will celebrate St. Patrick's Day by holding a banquet at the Hotel Waldorf, where Henry Windham will serve one of his fine dinners on Monday night. Prominent men will speak. George J. Tobin is chairman of the committee.

Theodore Smith.

Theodore Smith, aged 46 years, colored, of West End avenue, the borough, died at Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday afternoon. He had been ill a long time and had been under treatment at Muhlenberg Hospital since last December. Mr. Smith had been employed by Bolce, Runyon & Co. for many years, and more recently by former Councilman W. L. Smalley, of the borough. He is survived by a wife and several children. SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

NATIONS TAKING UP MARATHONING

Running Game on Boom in This Country as Well as Elsewhere.

THREE EVENTS AT OLYMPIAD

The Marathon, 10,000 and 5,000 Meter Events on the Program for The Games to Be Held in Stockholm, Sweden, Next Summer.

Distance running is on the boom in America wherever athletics are fostered. Moreover, it is on the boom in practically every country in the world. France, Germany, England, Egypt, Austria, Hungary, Sweden, Greece, Italy and even Japan are all "in the game," doing their best to develop runners who can negotiate several miles in world beating time.

For in the Olympic games at Stockholm next summer there are three long distance races programed—5,000 meters, 10,000 meters and the Marathon.

SIDNEY HATCH OF CHICAGO, WHO MAY BE MEMBER OF OLYMPIC TEAM.

It is the first of the modern Olympiads with more than two long races.

If any one nation could annex all three of these events, thereby adding fifteen points to its score, it would be greatly advanced toward capturing the team trophy. The United States is generally considered superior to any of the other countries in track and field athletics as a result of the triumphs in recent Olympiads, but there is a possibility of a surprise being sprung by any one of three or four of the rival teams. It is a practical certainty that Uncle Sam's men will not win a majority of the points, as in the past, even though they get a plurality of the points and win the big prize.

England, for one, is waking up athletically. For some time past it had appeared that the supremacy of Great Britain in the long distance events was due to become a thing of vague and remote memories, but England is coming back.

England's Olympic tryouts are set for May 18 at Stamford Bridge. F. W. Parker, coach of the London Athletic club, has volunteered his services to every man on the island who thinks he can learn to run distances. Parker is one of the most capable distance running authorities in England and has exhibited an ability to impart his knowledge to the few men with whom he was experimented, notably Lieutenant Halswell, who astounded the world by his great quarter mile running several years ago, and W. Scott of the Broughton Harriers, who became one of the best in the world over the four mile route. Already over half a hundred youngsters have sent Parker their names as being ambitious to go over the longer course in the Olympic runs.

In France interest in the distance game is also growing to national proportions. The Frenchmen have turned out a man who is capable of running any athlete in the world off his feet at five and ten miles in the person of Jean Bouin. This fellow has smashed two world's records—the one hour and the half hour run. In each he averaged close to five minutes per mile.

From present indications Bouin is the man the Americans will have to beat to get away with a victory in the 5,000 and 10,000 meter runs. Bouin has announced his intention of running both these races at Stockholm. The 5,000 meters is a little over three miles and the 10,000 is about six miles.

As for the Marathon run, there is tremendous interest abroad—more, probably, than is being shown just now in this country. The Swedes have set their hearts on winning this event, as have also the Greeks. England and Germany likewise are developing men for the nerve racking test, which will be almost a man killer under the new rules, which prohibits a man having an attendant or getting nourishment along the way.

PRINCETON HAS BRIGHT PROSPECTS IN TENNIS.

Princeton, Mar. 15.—The prospects for an unusually good tennis team for the coming season are exceedingly bright at Princeton University, judging from the number of last year's players that are still in college. The Tigers have not a few matches scheduled with other college teams, and will also enter the usual number of players in the intercollegiates.

One of the best players that will be in the squad is Dean Mathey, captain of the 1912 team. Mathey has played tennis at Princeton for the past three years, and has always been one of the most reliable men on the team, having won his "P" at the game. Last year he won every one of his matches with the exception of the Yale game. He and Dell won the intercollegiate doubles championships last spring.

The other veterans available are Butler, Magoun, Tobey, Tifft and Kuhn.

HER FAREWELL THRUST.

Baroness de Meyer, Defeated Fencer, Sails, Scoring American Fencers.

New York, March 15.—Baroness de Meyer, before sailing for her home in London, gave American women fencers a jab with a verbal sword, notwithstanding that she had been thrice defeated by them while here.

"They are not my style of fencers," she said. "I'm an artist with the foils, while they are mere fighting tyros. You might as well compare the wrestlers of ancient Greece with the catch-as-catch-can method of today."

Will Celebrate Memorial Day.

The New Providence gun club is arranging for a triple bill on Memorial Day. In the morning, under the direction of the few surviving veterans of the Civil War it will visit the two cemeteries and hold appropriate exercises. In the afternoon there will be a shooting contest, and in the evening there will be a dinner or supper, followed by a moving picture exhibition.

Boys to Form League.

The Clinton Avenue Baseball Club at a meeting Wednesday night decided to make efforts to form a league with local and out of town teams, averaging from 14 to 17 years of age. Teams wishing to enter the league are requested to communicate with James Hendry, 1179 South Second street, Plainfield.

Hope Chapel vs. Platkos.

The Hope chapel basketball team and the Platkos, composed of Plainfield Trust Co. clerks, will meet in the Hope court Saturday night.

THE GINGER JAR

Reports have many of the recruits standing 6 feet and over, sockless. All players feel big when standing on their past records.

In a ball game when the player is in doubt he should line'r out.

There are times when a good bluff is as effectual as an actual put-out.

Running the bases would be really hard work if it wasn't a part of the play.

A man can be "put out" oftener in baseball and yet make good enough not to be classed with the want-to-come backers.

One thing that attracts quite as much general attention as a sure hitter and fielder is the same combination gone wrong.

Before trial the rejected recruit pleads for just a chance. Afterwards he says he didn't get it.

No player can profit altogether on another's experience. He must get some of the bumps himself.

Manager McGraw is as near discouragement as he ever gets. He is consoling himself with the thought that the other teams are no better off in the weather line and refuses to agree with Arlie Latham who says, "this weather is just what we want for we wont feel the cold after we go north."

Johnny Kilbane, the new featherweight champion, contemplates a trip to Ireland this summer to visit the birthplace of his father at Westford, County Mayo.

Most of the recruits will probably get as far as the Polo Grounds; so you Giants fans will have a chance to look them over for yourselves inside of a few weeks.

Manager Mack, of the Athletics, has made the first reduction in his squad by sending home Piper, a young infielder from Deming, New Mexico. The lad accepted one of seven chances in a practice game.

Sammy Strang, the former Giant second baseman, is in France, where he is booming the American sport. He is president of an amateur league and will manage and play on one of the teams. In dividing his time between trying to teach Frenchmen how to play baseball and taking vocal lessons, Sammy will have a busy season.

The knuckle ball is one of Flame Delhi's favorite puzzlers. This is the way he says he delivers it: "The knuckle ball is thrown by pressing the fingernails against the surface of the ball instead of grasping it in his hand. When it travels to the catcher it doesn't make even one revolution. One can see the seam of the ball throughout the entire distance. With sufficient speed back of it it takes a quick break downward or either in or out just before reaching the batter."—And then he loses his count on the stitches, eh?

John H. Gruber has been appointed official scorer for the Pittsburg Club. This is a noteworthy news item when it is mentioned that this will be Mr. Gruber's twentieth year in that capacity. He is still able to tell a hit from an error to the satisfaction of everybody but the players concerned.

BEEKMAN HIGH MAN IN FIVE-BACK GAMES

In the weekly five back competitions at the Park club last night Beekman was the three point winner with a total score of 197, while Patterson with a total of 195 was credited with two points and Krebs, who scored 187, reecived the single point mark. The complete scores:

NEW METHOD OF FIGURES.

Irvin Howe of American League Will Make His System Public Next Fall.

When Irvin M. Howe, official statistician of the American league, makes public his figures next autumn he will rank the fielders on a new basis, which is intended to show more accurately their worth. Heretofore it has been customary to base the efficiency of an infielder upon the percentages of chances he accepted. Howe believes a better way is to ascertain the fielder's average chances accepted per game. That will demonstrate better how much ground he covers.

It is a well known fact that the man who covers little ground runs few chances of making errors, for he goes after only the easy balls. The fellow who hustles and runs all over the field is much more likely to gum up grounders.

BIG ICE HOCKEY LEAGUE.

Will Be Formed Next Year if Present Plans Mature.

There is a rumor in New York ice hockey circles that an international hockey league is to be formed next year. The Wanderers and Canadians of Canada and teams in Boston and New York, it is said, will compose the league.

The two Canadian teams at present are members of the National Hockey Association of Canada. If the arrangements go through, it is reported, a schedule will be adopted. According to the plan, the league will be composed of about eight clubs.

TRIANGULAR ROWING REGATTA

Princeton, Pennsylvania and Columbia to Meet on Carnegie Lake.

Arrangements have been completed for a triangular regatta with Princeton, Pennsylvania and Columbia as the participants, to be rowed on Lake Carnegie, Princeton, May 18.

The course of the eight oared race will be one and three-quarter miles in length.

No International Polo Match.

Major F. Egerton Green, manager of the Hurlinghame club, states that a definite decision had been reached that no polo team would be sent to America during 1912 to attempt to recover the international cup. He added, "No formal notification has been sent the American Polo association because this is unnecessary."

BASKETBALL RESULTS IN Y.M.C.A. BOYS LEAGUE

The Yale, Pennsylvania, Rutgers and Brown basketball teams of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. were the victorious fives in the weekly tournament contests yesterday afternoon in the local gym. The best exhibition was that between the Rutgers and Harvard teams, which resulted in the close score of 2 to 0. The defeat of Princeton by Brown was somewhat of a surprise. Yale won on a forfeit from Cornell.

The result of the games does not alter the standing of the team record, Pennsylvania still leading with 13 games won against three lost. The scores are as follows:

Yale won on a forfeit from Cornell.

Pennsylvania, 8; Columbia, 2.

Rutgers, 2; Harvard, 0.

Brown, 9; Princeton, 4.

There are only three more events to be run off in the tournament and these will be disposed of during the remainder of this month. As soon as this is done and the winner of the cup determined, it will be officially announced and to celebrate the presentation of the trophy, the Woman's Auxiliary will prepare and serve a banquet early in April.

The team record follows:

	Won	Lost
Pennsylvania	16	3
Yale	12	6
Rutgers	12	7
Columbia	10	9
Cornell	9	10
Harvard	6	13
Princeton	6	13
Brown	5	13

The team standing according to points in the tournament is as follows:

Yale	652
Rutgers	584
Harvard	578
Cornell	533
Brown	506
Columbia	453
Princeton	447
Pennsylvania	410

ORTLIEB WILL PITCH FOR LAWRENCE CLUB

In the latest bulletin issued by Secretary Farrell it is recorded that George Ortlieb, of Westfield, has returned a signed contract to the Lawrence New England League Club.

Ortleb intends to start the season with Lawrence, but is not sure whether he will go the entire distance. He says he can make more money at the semi-pro game playing Saturdays and Sundays and looking after his business at the newstand in Westfield during the week.

HOBOKEN ELKS TIGHTEN GRIP ON FIRST PLACE.

Bowling on their own alleys last night, the Hoboken Elks tightened their grip on first place by taking three games from the Rutherford Bills by the following scores:

Hoboken—927, 891 and 1,015; Rutherford—835, 848 and 814.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Mrs. Fiske, supported by the Manhattan Company, is at present playing an engagement at the Empire Theatre, New York, in Rudolf Besier's new comedy, "Lady Patricia" which was one of the great successes of last year in London. The play has gained a similar triumph in this country, and is especially interesting to New York threatregoers, inasmuch as it provides Mrs. Fiske with a role unlike any that she essayed heretofore, and one in which her genius as a comedienne is revealed to the best advantage.

Mr. Besier, who first became known to American audience through his earlier play entitled "Don," has, in "Lady Patricia," made a dramatic experiment which has resulted most happily in a comedy that is exceedingly novel and that is, at the same time, a model of construction. In a rescent interview Mr. Beiser made clear his reasons for casting his new comedy in a new mould—or rather using a very old mould in a new play.

"The Greyhound" is now entering its fourth week at the Astor Theatre. Every night and at the Wednesday and Saturday matinees the house has been sold out. Theatrical entertainments and the impression they make uopn the public are best attested by the box office receipts. Accepting this fact as a test of merit "The Greyhound" is the most sensational success of the year. There have been card games galore on the stage when McSherry, the detective and ex-short-card man himself goes in to trim the "Pale Face Kid" and does so by dealing a queen high straight flush against four aces with $6,000 in the pot, but this is only one of the many novel and entertaining scenes. On the Mauretania, there is something doing every minute. The faithful lover brings the rescued wife on board in disguise, carefully chaperoned by a nurse. Said lover being a detective, he camps on the trail of the Greyhound and the other crooks. Deep Sea Kitty is foiled in the attempt to blackmail the Allens through her love adventures. Whispering Alex is prevented from annexing some of the Allen coin and the sudden confronting of the Greyhound by the wife he supposed dead and buried results in his jumping overboard and losing a $50,000 check. The faithful lover and the Greyhound's widow but why detail the obvious? Excellent acting is characteristic.

COUNTY JAIL POPULATION INCREASES DURING MARCH

Elizabeth, March 15.—The registration at the county jail Wednesday came near establishing a record. During the course of the day eleven prisoners were received from different parts of the county for various offenses. Three came from Fanwood for starting a fire in a woods the previous night. They claimed they were trying to protect themselves from the March winds.

Of the trio, one was a man of 50 years, while two of his companions were under 25 years of age. They were overtaken by the sudden storm that arose after a deceptive spring-like period. The danger of lighting bonfires in the woods has been demonstrated in the past, and while the growth is not heavy now, every precaution must be taken against conflagrations.

Another new inmate who was entered Wednesday was Charles E. Knause, of Roselle. He was the agent of the United States Express Company, and betrayed himself by trying to make a complaint for the company against William Donelan, one of the suspects in the Roselle robberies. Two others were arrested as the result of an alleged elopement from Plainfield.

The other arrivals were sentenced mainly for disorderly conduct and similar charges. They brought the grand total to more than sixty, and there were only a few empty cells when the last one of the eleven had been assigned to his place.

February was comparatively light month for the winter enrolment at the county jail. March promises, however, to raise the average.

NORTH JERSEY GROWERS SAY PEACH CROP IS LOST

Mountain View, March 15.—Owing to the extreme cold wether of the past two months, the peach crop of northern New Jersey will be a failure next fall, is the prediction made by some of the largest peach growers of the section. It is asserted that the buds have been frozen to the heart and will not develop. It is also said that the trees themselves in many orchards have ben permanently injured, and that they will never be capable of again bearing large quantities of fruit.

The buds for the future crop are produced in embryo in the fall. Scarcely distinguishable, they cling to the bare boughs during the entire season of cold weather. When the warm sun and showers of April come these buds swell up and burst into flower; that is, providing their vitality has not been sapped by excessive cold. This budding may be hastened by breaking twigs from the trees and keeping them partially immersed in lukewarm water for several days. All healthy buds will, under this condition, burst into flower the same as if left on the tree until the regular flowering time.

To determine the prospects for the coming crop, Frank Van Duyne, of Passaic Valley Farm, in Montville Township, Morris County, has secured small peach tre branches from numerous trees in his own and other orchards. Instead of blossoming when placed in water, the greater number of buds so treated have remained apparently dead. Those buds which did not appear sickly, immediately turning black and falling off. Only about one bud in 100, and those taken from especially favorable localities, have shown vigor and vitality which would indicate that they would eventually produce fruit, it is stated.

In some orchards, Mr. Van Duyne says, the bark on many of the younger peach trees has split open. Where this has hapened, especially if the split is a serious one, he declares, the tree's usefulness is past. Such trees, he asserts, should be perfect specimens if the owner expects to ever realize any profit from the orchard.

The following local realty transfers have been recorded in the office of County Registrar F. H. Smith, Elizabeth:

Storm Damage at Califon.

Califon, March 15.—The heavy rain and high waters did considerable damage in this vicinity. The South Branch of the Raritan River was the highest in years. Fields and highways were inundated and badly washed out. Traffic on the river road from Crestmoor by way of Califon to High Bridge was cut off. Many cellars were filled with water. Mountain roads are reported badly washed and impassible. It is estimated it will cost the townships several thousand dollars to put them in good condition.

STRIKE INEVITABLE, SAYS HEAD OF UNION

Miners Will Go Out Unless Operators Make Concessions.

New York, March 15.—"In their reply to the anthracite coal operators this afternoon the miners will not make any counter proposition, but will stand by the demands already made. Unless the coal operators change their present attitude and make concessions to the miners a strike on April 1 is inevitable."

This statement was made by President John P. White of the United Mine Workers of America. The delegates of the miners will refuse to listen to the counter proposal that the present agreement, which expires March 31, be renewed for three years.

GERMAN STRIKE WORSE.

Two Miners Killed—300,000 Men Are Out, and Trouble Is Spreading.

Berlin, March 15.—The government authorities admitted that the coal miners' strike is becoming very serious. Riots have broken out at many places, and some of the miners have been killed. Three regiments of infantry and four squadrons of cavalry have been sent to the strike region.

The police at Hamborn, where there has been considerable unrest, are searching all men suspected of having firearms.

Two of the miners have been killed at Herne and Buer.

The strike is spreading rapidly, and, according to estimates, 300,000 men are out.

London, March 15.—The negotiations between the mine owners and the miners in the coal trade dispute appear to be taking a favorable course. Progress is slow, but deliberations are being held again today.

Collieries Tied Up.

Pottsville, Pa., March 15.—Efforts of United Mine Workers to strengthen their organization in anticipation of a strike has resulted in tying up one-third of the collieries of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company in the Panther Creek valley of the anthracite regions. The trouble was caused by the union men refusing to work with men who do not wear the union button. Last week several hundred men quit work and the trouble has spread until 3,500 mine workers are now idle.

CHAOS IN CRETE.

Executive Government Deposed and Occupied by the Military.

Khania, Crete, March 15.—The situation on this island is chaotic. The executive government has been deposed, and the offices have been occupied by the military.

The assembly was not convoked owing to the seriousness of the situation. Order is being maintained.

The personal and political rivalries existing between the various leaders are the greatest obstacle in the way of an agreement as to the future form of government.

LAWRENCE STRIKE OFF.

Seven Thousand Operatives In Woolen Mills to Return to Work Monday.

Lawrence, Mass., March 15.—The strike of 7,000 operatives at the Washington, Wood, Ayer and Prospect mills of the American Woolen company, the Atlantic cotton mills and Kuhnhardt worsted plant, was formally declared off.

The strikers will return to work next Monday.

"Bathtub" Jury Disagrees.

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—The jury which has been trying the case of the government against the so called bath tub trust in the federal court here failed to reach an agreement and was discharged by Judge Angell.

THINGS STIRRING AROUND BAYONNE

Girls on Strike and Women War on Executive.

MAYOR AFTER THE DOGS.

And Between Them All, Strike Riots, Fight Against Establishment of Soap Plant and the Crusade of Extermination of Muzzleless Canines, There Is Plenty Doing.

Bayonne, N. J., March 15.—Bayonne is on the map with both feet, so to speak. That suburb of the Standard Oil plant has a big strike on its hands. The Women's Political Study club has declared war on the mayor, and the mayor has ordered all unmuzzled dogs shot.

Not only that, but one-fourth of the police force, amounting to fourteen men, has been detached from regular patrol duty and put on guard around the silk mills of Schwarbenbach, Huber & Co., where 750 girls are on strike. A mob of strikers attacked the mill with stones and broke some of the windows, and attacks were made on girls who remained at work.

Four of the striking girls were arrested and arraigned in the recorder's court. They were discharged with a warning to be good.

The Women's Political Study club has joined hands with the Bayonne Civic federation in a fight on Mayor Cronin over the proposition to close First street and turn a portion of the thoroughfare over to the American Cottonseed Oil company, which seeks to add to the salubrity of the Bayonne atmosphere by establishing a soap works. First street furnishes the only remaining open way from Bayonne to the Kill von Kull.

The Women's Political Study club held a mass meeting in Opera House hall and denounced the proposal. Resolutions were adopted calling upon the city council to balk the plan to seize part of a city street for a works. Mayor Cronin was warned his influences were under suspicion. He was also denounced for not allowing the Women's Political Study club to use the high school auditorium for the mass meeting.

As for the dog shooting matter, Mayor Cronin's action is popular. There have been mad dog scares in Bayonne of late. An ordinance calling for the muzzling of dogs has been disregarded. The board of health, on the mayor's initiative, has decided dogs not equipped with muzzles must die, irrespective of breed or ownership.

TO SELL LIQUOR WITH MEALS?

Atlantic City Hotel Men Are at Trenton to Interview Senators.

Trenton, N. J., March 15.—Headed by Mayor Harry Bacharach, a delegation of Atlantic City hotel men came here to interview the senators in the interest of the Richards bill permitting their hotels to sell liquor with meals on Sunday. The measure passed the house.

Mr. Prince, president of the senate, received a telegram from the New Jersey conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, in session at Asbury Park, asking for a hearing on the bill before it was considered in the senate. Senator Leavitt, chairman of the committee on municipal corporations, arranged the hearing for next Monday afternoon in connection with the hearing on house bill No. 344, permitting wholesalers to deliver liquor in "dry" territory.

The hotel men of Atlantic City met most of the senators in the senate lobby and were introduced by Senator Edge of that place. The necessity of approving the bill to meet the peculiar conditions in Atlantic City was urged by them. Senator Edge also spoke and pointed out that the bill contained a referendum, so that the people of Atlantic City could vote upon it before it took effect.

SHOOTS TWO AND HIMSELF.

Discarded Sweetheart Kills Woman and Wounds Suspected Rival.

Camden, N. J., March 15.—Miss Mazie Stockwell of this place was murdered in her home near here by Charles Ford, her rejected sweetheart. After killing Miss Stockwell, Ford went to the home of Robert M. Wilson, an engineer, at Laurel Springs and shot him. Leaving Wilson dying in front of his house, Ford fled to his home, where he barricaded himself. When the police came for him he fired two shots into his own head. Both men are dying in the Cooper hospital here.

The murdered woman discarded Ford several weeks ago, and he thought Wilson was attentive to her. It was not until this morning that Ford found her living near Laurel Hill. When she opened the door of her home he shot her. He then went to Wilson's home and found Wilson alone. When Wilson ran into the street Ford fired at him, the bullet entering his head. Wilson has a wife and several children and was well thought of by his neighbors. Ford is a Camden saloonkeeper.

State Senator Guilty of Graft.

Columbus, O., March 15.—State Senator L. R. Andrews was found guilty of accepting a bribe of $200 to kill a bill.

RAPS TRUST CASES.

T. R., on Business Control, Tells Why Wall Street Opposes Him.

New York, March 15.—Colonel Roosevelt has discovered that Wall street has "inspired and entered upon a campaign of violent denunciation of him" because he believes in rigid governmental control of big business rather than prosecution under the Sherman law.

He announces his discovery in an article entitled "The Conservation of Business—Shall We Strangle or Control It?" in the current number of the Outlook. He finds that the Standard Oil trust and the tobacco trust have positively benefited by the supreme court decisions ordering their dissolution. He says that a succession of such lawsuits is a "source of constant uneasiness and alarm to honest and upright business men, whose anxiety is to find out the law and then to live up to it."

The colonel quotes from a newspaper alleging that Standard Oil insiders have made big profits at the expense of the stockholders by reason of their knowledge of the extra dividends to be paid by subsidiaries. He says:

"When such a state of affairs results from a successful suit under the anti-trust act it is small wonder that Wall street regards the act with derision and turns its batteries on me, for my proposals would result in a rigid control which would absolutely put a stop to these antics."

KING RESTORES TITLE.

Son of Infanta Eulalie, Who Married Without King's Consent, Forgiven.

Madrid, March 15.—King Alfonso has issued a decree restoring to the Infante Alfonso his titles, position and perogatives.

The infante, who is a son of the Infanta Eulalie, was deprived of his titles for marrying without the king's permission. He has been serving recently with the Spanish troops at Melilla, in Morocco, and was promoted to the rank of lieutenant.

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Corporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come. Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crops and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

GANG WIPES OUT VIRGINIA COURT

Judge, Sheriff and Prosecutor Killed.

OUTLAWS FLEE TO HILLS.

Posses of Seven Counties In Pursuit of Murderers—Governor Offers $3,000 Reward and Sends Militia to Scene. Three Others Are Fatally Wounded.

Hillsville, Va., March 15. — Seventeen outlaws opened fire in the little Carroll county courtroom, killed Judge Thornton Massie of the Carroll county court, William Foster, commonwealth's attorney, and Lewis Webb, sheriff, and fatally wounded Dexter Goad, clerk of the court; J. H. Blankenship, a juryman, and John Mason, a spectator. Today they are being pursued in the Virginia mountains by posses from seven counties with a price of $3,000 on their heads, offered by Governor Mann.

The tragedy occurred in the little court at Hillsville, just as Judge Massie had passed sentence on Floyd Allen, convicted of aiding a prisoner to escape. Allen was given one year in the penitentiary at hard labor, and Judge Massie had hardly finished passing sentence when from somewhere in the courtroom came the words, "That is hell, ain't it?"

Then there was the sound of a pistol shot, and in less than a minute the courtroom was resounding with the snapping of pistols, the curses of the outlaws and the cries of the wounded. The first shots were fired by Sidney and Jack Allen, brothers of the man on trial. Hardly were the words, "That is hell, ain't it?" uttered before these two men, who were standing close up to the rail where Floyd Allen was seated, whipped out their revolvers and began firing. Judge Massie, after the first shot, appeared to rise, but dropped back into his chair and fell dead. State Attorney Foster appeared like he was endeavoring to reach the Allen brothers, but he had not made more than two steps when he sank to the floor, dying almost instantly. He is said to have been shot seven times. Sheriff Webb made a frantic effort to get at the Allen brothers, but by this time bullets were flying from all directions, and the sheriff had taken but a few steps when he sank down and died within a few minutes. John H. Markson, who witnessed the shooting, declares it appeared to him like every man in the room was shooting.

The trouble started over a year ago. Two nephews of the Allens were arrested by a deputy sheriff. They were met on the road by Floyd Allen, who released them. Allen was indicted by the grand jury and tried.

The Allens, it is claimed, have long been considered the most dangerous men in this section. They have a large following, and every citizen is afraid to interfere with them in anything they attempt to do.

Richmond, Va., March 15.—Governor Mann lost no time in ordering that state troops be rushed to Hillsville. The first troops were ordered from Roanoke. More will be sent from other places if necessary to control the situation. Governor Mann has offered a reward of $3,000 for the capture of any of the outlaws.

Raleigh, N. C., March 15.—Governor Kitchin received a telegram from Governor Mann of Virginia saying he believes the seventeen Carroll county bandits had crossed the mountains into North Carolina. Governor Kitchin has ordered the sheriffs in the mountains to be on the lookout.

Bristol, Tenn., March 15.—Governor Mann wired to Radford, Va., urging the sheriff of Montgomery county to proceed with a posse to the scene and proceed to capture the outlaws. It is reported that the outlaws are barricaded in a barn near Hillsville and that they will fight to the death rather than surrender.

HONOR NEW REPUBLIC.

Chinese Diplomats of All Europe Dined by European Chinese Republicans.

Paris, March 15.—A luncheon for 300 guests was given at the Hotel Continental under the auspices of the European Chinese republican committee. This was the first official ceremony in honor of the new republic, and every Chinese embassy and legation in Europe was represented. The French government had no representative present.

Song Lien, the Chinese minister at Rome, presided. In his opening address the minister praised Dr. Sun Yat Sen for his work in making a republic possible.

Waterloo, Ia., March 15. — Twenty persons were injured in the wreck of a Chicago Great Western passenger train near Dunkerton. Three coaches and a sleeper left the track and went into a ditch.

The train, bound from Chicago to Kansas City, struck a broken rail.

Convention Gets Rates.

7 Days' Wonder Sale Men's Clothing

An Event That Sets the Pace in Clothing Selling---Values Positively Unequaled by Any Offering Anywhere in Months

Not since last fall, when we held our great sale of Men's Clothes, has there been a sale like the one we've planned to start tomorrow—a sale so broad-gaged and sweeping in its character as to stir every one who knows the sort of clothing that forms its foundation to a high pitch of enthusiasm. What we purpose doing is so extraordinary as to be almost revolutionary, but we don't ask you to credit a statement we make if you will only give us an opportunity to do as they do in Missouri—"show you."

The Unusual Features of This Sale Are These---

1.—All the clothing is our regular high Grade new SPRING STOCK—carefully selected, conscientiously made garments, fit for wear by men in all walks of life, business and professional men, office workers, storeworkers and men in the trades and industries.

2.—ALL THE CLOTHING is fresh, fine and new; of dependable cloths in smart and conservative patterns, cut on lines of the most approved models, and are so perfect in fit as to make it more than a match for custom-made clothes.

3.—Perhaps MOST UNUSUAL of all—we will not quote a comparative price—no regular selling figure, no estimate of value, no exaggerated claims—simply telling you what we are going to sell the suits for and guaranteeing you the

MILADY'S FAVORITE FLOWERS FOR BOUTONNIERE OR BOUDOIR

LILIES, ORCHIDS AND ROSES.

THE pretty boutonniere of orchids and lilies of the valley forms a dainty and effective finish to the Easter costume. Orchids come high, but roses or daffodils may be just as effectively combined with tiny lilies, which give the requisite Easter tone. The boutonniere or a box of flowers for the adornment of my lady's boudoir makes a handsome Easter gift. The gift may be made more costly, perhaps more acceptable, if a handsome vase goes with the blossoms. Any flowers are suitable for use, but the spring blossoms like daffodils and narcissuses are the most appropriate.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HOT CROSS BUNS.

QUITE as much because of the novelty as because it is the custom we eat hot cross buns on Good Friday.

The origin of this delightful hot bread is attributed to the effort of King Henry VIII. to win back the popularity which he had lost by defying the church in putting away Katherine of Arragon in order to marry Anne Boleyn. Henry ordered that loaves of bread marked with a cross should be baked and given away at his expense on Good Friday.

Loaves of bread in time were reduced to buns, which bakers made as delicious as possible, and sold to their patrons instead of distributed free to the poor.

Made With Yeast.

Hot Cross Buns.—Take two pounds of sifted flour, a generous half cupful of butter and a pinch of salt. Knead these together. With a glass of fresh yeast combine a pint of milk which has been slightly warmed. Mix this with the flour and butter to make a thin batter.

Cover the bowl and put in a warm place and allow the batter to rise.

Take half a pound of currants, a scant cupful of sugar, half a grated nutmeg, half a teaspoonful of allspice and one egg. Stir these into the batter, working with a stout spoon, and let this mixture stand until it forms a nice sponge.

Then shape into buns, cut a cross on the top of each, cover with sugar and bake fifteen to twenty minutes.

The English Way.

Here is the real English way of making the time honored bun. The quantities named here will make about two dozen buns:

English Hot Cross Buns.—Mix together two pounds of sifted flour, half a pound of granulated sugar, a teaspoonful of mixed spices and a pound of currants.

Make a hollow in the flour and add a wineglassful of thick yeast and half a pint of warmed milk. Make a batter with the flour, cover the pan and place it before the fire until the yeast begins to work.

Add half a pound of melted butter and enough warmed milk to make a paste of all the flour.

Dust with flour and let the mixture rise again, this time for half an hour.

Knead the dough into buns and place on buttered pans to rise for half an hour.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

Pique Much Used For Wee Folks' Frocks.

Children's dresses are shown made of pique and trimmed with real Irish lace, inserted in medallions. These have a sash of pink or blue satin ribbon, which relieves the stiffness of the pique. They are always satisfactory, for they wash well.

Eyelet work is easy and most effective and gives a decidedly French touch to a dainty little batiste or nainsook frock. It is interesting work to be picked up.

Hemstitching is another pretty hand touch for the children's dresses and can be used for hems, collars and turnback cuffs, also belts. And now that so many deep knife plaited ruffles are being used around neck and sleeves nothing could be more simple or stylish than to have these hemstitched.

Here is a novel suit for the small boy. It gives a double breasted effect and may be used with or without the shield. The pattern is good developed in linen or wool material.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut in sizes for boys of six, eight, ten and twelve years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7361, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

WHO GETS THE DIAMOND RING

diamond ring or one of the solid gold watches, but it will come into greater prominence than before after these winners are announced. After all, it is the European trip which appeals most strongly to the candidates, and it is natural that it should. One source of satisfaction to all concerned lies in the fact that the contestants know just what they are going to receive for their efforts; they know the itinerary of the trip; they know the company under whose charge they will travel, and they know that everything is arranged for the sailing on the 22d of June.

Those from out of town who cannot be present tomorrow night had better mail their subscriptions at once in order to insure their getting in the Press office in time. Do not wait until late before turning in big subscriptions, as the work of making them out takes considerable time, and it is desired to finish the count as soon as possible after the opening of the ballot box.

The results will gladly be furnished to all who are interested if they will call 'Phone 1300 Plainfield at any time after 11 o'clock.

LIVELY TIME EXPECTED AT WARREN'S SCHOOL ELECTION

Warren Township voters are expected to take part in a lively contest over the election of seven members of the Board of Education next Tuesday. The election of seven members is necessitated by the action of Horace Codington last year in protesting against the election which was then held on the ground that the polls were not kept open for the full hour required by law. The election was nullified on that technicality, and the County Superintendent thereupon appointed for the year the four men who had been irregularly elected. The successors to these four appointees must be elected, together with three others to take the places year.

Minard Smith, Adam Betzold and Herman Myers announced some time ago that they would not accept re-election. Accordingly last week the "Circles on the Square" selected W. H. Rogers, George Irving and Mr. Gregory to run in their places, and also nominated John F. Mundy, John Flammer, Augustus Schumacher and Oliver Kline for re-election.

A faction organized in opposition to the "Circles" has aranged another ticket. This ticket is said to bear the names of Messrs. Flammer and Mundy, for re-election, and also those of Messrs. Scott, Nishwitz, Gregory, Edward H. Cooper and John Tatum. Messrs. Flammer, Mundy and Gregory, being on both slates, seem pretty sure to be chosen, but over the other four there will be a first class battle.

Miss Harriet Mattison, register of vital statistics in the employ of the Board of Health, has removed from East Seventh street, to No. 2 Grove street, corner of West Front.

Picturesque Fire Fighting In The Capital of Fair Japan

THE accompanying illustration is not of a troupe of circus performers, much as it resembles the exhibitions sometimes given "under the big tent." It is a photograph of a fire drill which was part of a big parade and demonstration in Tokyo. The bamboo ladders on which the firemen (who belong to the regular municipal force of the Japanese capital) are seen balancing themselves are of the type used in fighting the conflagrations which are so frequent in Japanese cities, with their multitudes of flimsy wooden buildings, which offer little opportunity for the placing of ladders against their walls. The ladders shown in the photograph, it will be observed, are held upright by ropes which the firemen on the ground keep strained taut. The uniforms of the Tokyo fire fighters when they are at work carrying hose to the tops of these improvised water towers are not so ornamental as the dress parade garb shown in this picture, but even their workaday clothes are sufficiently picturesque to western eyes.

BULLETS IN BATTLE.

Death Wounds and Flesh Wounds and the Feeling When Struck.

In "Serving the Republic" General Nelson A. Miles says that, like every other soldier who has seen much active service, he is often asked how it feels to be wounded. He himself was wounded four times and twice almost fatally, so he is able to speak from experience. He says:

"One is often asked how it seems to be wounded in battle. The flight of a bullet is quicker than thought and has passed through a flesh wound before one realizes that he has been struck. I have seen bodies of men dead on the field of battle where the brain had been pierced and death had been instantaneous. They would remain in every position of the 'manual of arms,' with an anxious look, a frown or a smile on their cold and rigid faces.

"My wounds received at Fair Oaks, Fredericksburg and Petersburg were flesh wounds and disabled me but a short time. While riding down the line at Chancellorsville one of the enemy's bullets struck my metallic belt plate with great force. This caused a slight deviation as it entered the body. The result was an instant deathly sickening sensation. My sword dropped from my right hand; my scabbard and belt dropped to the left. I was completely paralyzed below the waist. My horse seemed to realize what had occurred. He stopped, turned and walked slowly back, I holding to the pommel of the saddle with my hands. We soon reached a group of soldiers, who took me off and, placing me in a blanket, carried me to the Chancellorsville House and pulled a dead man off a couch to make room for me."

TOOK HIS TIME.

Bill Gave the Old Man a Long Wait For the Backlog.

Skipper Norwood was born in a little Nova Scotia town. During the long winter evenings young Bill used to lie out in front of the big open fireplace, and just about the time he had got warm and comfortable and a trifle drowsy Norwood senior would make up his mind the fire was getting low and send his son out into the snow to bring in a backlog from the wood pile. Eventually these nocturnal pilgrimages got on young Bill's nerves, and one night when his father sent him out after the backlog the son continued on past the wood pile and across country to the nearest seaport, where he shipped on a whaler.

Nine years later Bill came back. It was a bitter winter night, and the snow was falling. Bill sneaked up to the window and looked into the old sitting room. The fire was burning in the old fireplace, and Bill's father and mother were seated in front of it. He noticed that the fire was a trifle low. So he went to the wood pile, selected a big backlog, carried it into the house and stood for a moment by the fire with the log on his shoulder.

"Father," said Bill, "I've brought in that backlog you sent me after."

The old man never budged an inch. Instead he spat into the fire and retorted testily:

"Set it on the fire. You've been a long while gittin' it!"—Saturday Evening Post.

The Drug Clerk's Caller.

"A man came in yesterday and wanted something we didn't have. He had been looking into the window, and he must have thought this was a book store just because we were advertising some novels and stationery and dictionaries and a lot of that left over junk. Well, anyhow, he came to me and he says, says he, 'I want Lincoln's Gettysburg address.'

"'Look for it yourself, sir,' says I politely, like we're taught to do. 'There's a directory over there in the corner. But I don't think you'll find it. These directories only have the subscribers' city addresses.'

"Well, say, that fellow was so mad he wouldn't wait. Called me ignorant and all kinds of things. But that just shows you what us drug clerks have got to put up with."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Coal Bin Measurements.

A solid cubic foot of anthracite coal weighs ninety-three pounds. When broken for use it weighs about fifty-four pounds. Bituminous coal when broken up for use weighs about fifty pounds. The consequent rule for the approximate measurement of coal in a bin or box is to multiply the length in feet by the height in feet and again by the breadth in feet and this result by fifty-four for anthracite coal or by fifty for bituminous coal. The result will equal the number of pounds, and to find the number of tons divide by 2,000.—Popular Mechanics.

The Obliging Friend.

"You know that Griggs and I both love you. Can't you make a choice today?"

"A choice, indeed! When I do make a choice you can rest assured that it will not interest you!"

"Thanks! I'll tell Griggs."—Exchange.

Horse Drowns In Freshet.

New Brunswick, March 15.—In crossing the landing bridge at high tide, one of a team of horses driven by Morris Lenhardt, was drowned. He and a small boy were returning to this city from Somerville. At the New Brunswick end of the bridge is a causeway, which was under water because of the freshet. In driving through the stream, one of the horses caught his foot in some underbrush and fell, dragging the other horse down with him. The second horse was rescued.

Woman Dies From Fall.

Branchville, March 15.—As the result of a fall a week ago in which her left leg was broken near the hip, Mrs. George J. Bowman died yesterday, aged eighty-three years. She was born in Wantage Township and was well known for her charities. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Harriet Lee, in New York. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from her late home and will be conducted by Rev. F. G. Willay, of the Franklin Methodist church.

TAFT EDICT STOPS ARMS FOR MEXICANS

Proclamation Prohibits Shipments From United States.

Washington, March 15.—President Taft issued a proclamation specifically prohibiting the sale and shipment of arms by Americans to Mexicans who are not recognized representatives of the Mexican government. Conviction for the violation of the proclamation carries a fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

As soon as the proclamation was signed Ambassador Wilson at the City of Mexico and every consul in Mexico within reach of the telegraph were notified of the action taken and instructed to spread the news broadcast.

With the sending of instructions to the American representatives in the City of Mexico went an order from the war department to military commanders of half a dozen army posts to have their troops ready for duty on the Mexican frontier as soon as possible.

It was stated at the war department that in the next few days between 4,000 and 5,000 United States regulars will be sent to the border to reenforce the 3,000 troops there for the enforcement of the proclamation.

FORMER PRIEST WEDS?

Marriage License Was Issued to Dennis J. Driscoll and Marie Neihaus.

New York, March 15.—Records found on file in Jersey City showed that a marriage license was issued on Dec. 4, 1911, to Dennis J. Driscoll, aged forty-three, and Marie Neihaus, aged twenty-one.

It is said that the groom was Father Driscoll, recently deposed as priest of the Church of the Blessed Sacrament of New Rochelle, and that the bride was the daughter of Charles Henry Neihaus, one of the most famous of living sculptors, who lives with her father at Quaker Ridge, near New Rochelle. Miss Neihaus, when questioned, refused to confirm or deny the report that she and the former priest were married.

ANARCHIST FIRES AT ITALY'S KING

Three Shots Fail to Reach Monarch.

ESCORT COMMANDER HIT.

Queen Helena, Riding Beside Emmanuel as Shots Rang Out, Turns Pale and Throws Arms About His Neck, but He Calms Her and Procession Proceeds.

Rome, March 15.—An attempt which happily proved unsuccessful was made on the life of King Victor Emmanuel on the anniversary of the king's father, King Humbert, assassinated in 1900, by a young anarchist who said his name was Antonio d'Alba.

Several shots were fired at King Victor by the man from a crowd in the street as the monarch was on his way with Queen Helena from the palace to the Pantheon to attend the annual memorial service for his father.

The king was untouched by the bullets, but Major Lang, commandant of the royal guard, was shot from his horse.

When the crowd that was cheering the king realized what had happened there was intense excitement, and the people turned on the assassin and attempted to lynch him.

The procession was passing along the Via Lata when three shots rang out from amid the crowd. Consternation was on every face. The soldiers following the carriage immediately dashed forward and as they did so their commander fell from his horse. He was moved to one side by some of his men, while the others dashed up to the royal carriage, where they found the king and queen unharmed.

Queen Helena was on the side of the carriage nearest to D'Alba.

The king tried to reassure the queen, who turned pale and threw her arms around him as though to protect him.

He tried to comfort her by saying "Be tranquil; it is nothing," and, seemingly assured, she sat back as the procession went on.

After the service the king and queen returned to the Quirinal along the same route.

"Another man belonging to no country—a man without a fatherland," was his comment on D'Alba's act.

Despite his condition after the crowd's blows, D'Alba was subjected at the police station to a keen interrogatory.

He said he was a stonemason, twenty-one years old, and described himself as an "individualist anarchist." He made the attempt on the king's life as a protest against the organization of society.

He had put his bicycle in the doorway of the Salviatic palace.

He said he had taken up a position in the crowd near the Odescalchi palace and waited for the king's coming.

When the royal carriage arrived opposite the place where he was standing he fired three shots, intending to kill the king.

D'Alba pulled the trigger four times, but one of the cartridges did not explode.

All the circumstances lead to the belief that D'Alba was not concerned in any plot.

There was a touching scene in the Pantheon between the king and his mother, the Dowager Queen Margarita. After the mass he told her of the attempt upon his life.

Queen Margarita appeared stunned. She stood still and looked the king over from head to foot, as though to make sure that he was unharmed. Then she threw her arms around his neck and kissed him on both cheeks.

BLIZZARD HITS WEST.

Fourteen Trains Tied Up by Snow In Colorado and Kansas.

Chicago, March 15.—One of the worst blizzards of the season raged between the great lakes and the Rocky mountains. The snow fall was accompanied by a high wind, and railroad traffic is demoralized.

The traffic situation is regarded as the most serious with which the roads have had to deal in a decade. Fourteen trains are reported stalled between Arriba, Colo., and Mountain Kan.

WOULD FLY TO POLE.

Lieutenant Watkins, Now In Antarctic Plans Dash by Air Route.

Hobart, Tasmania, March 15.—The south pole will be reached by aeroplane if Lieutenant Watkins, an aviator who is with the Mawson Australian antarctic expedition, is successful.

The steamer Aurora, upon which the Australian party went south, is in the harbor here from Adelie land. Captain Davis reported that two parties had landed, one for scientific purposes and the other to attempt to reach the pole.

Delivering Bread on Skis In St. Moritz, Switzerland

ST. MORITZ is the most famous of all resorts for the devotees of winter sports, such as coasting, tobogganing, curling and skiing. The last named is not merely a sport, but a means of locomotion in the village streets with their frequent steep pitches, so that the baker's boy makes his rounds with the ungainly strips of seasoned ash strapped to his feet without attracting more attention than a messenger boy on a bicycle would here. In spite of its huge hotels St. Moritz still retains many of the characteristics of a Swiss village, and of a Sunday afternoon baker's boy and "duke's son, son of a belted earl," not to mention a few royal princes, may be seen skiing or tobogganing on the same slope. These are sports that level all ranks in more senses of the word than one.

BOARD LAYS PLANS FOR NIGHT SCHOOL

More or Less General Evening Course May be Established Next Term.

IT DEPENDS ON THE PUBLIC

If Sufficient Interest is Shown Classes Will Be Organized—Subjects Determined by the Number of Promised Enrolments.

Tentative plans are being shaped by the Board of Education for the establishment of a general evening school. The board's ideas on the subject were made known today by School Superintendent Henry M. Maxson in the following communication to the Daily Press:

"The Board of Education is ever anxious to make the school plant of the utmost use to the people who have created it. The lecture courses and the evening school for foreign speaking pupils have been so popular, that the Board is now considering for next year, the question of an evening school giving instruction in grammar school subjects and also more advanced work for those who desire it. It is the thought of the Board that instruction might be given in any subjects for which there is a demand by fifteen or more pupils.

"The school would run four nights a week for four months or more, from 7:30 to 9:30 each evening. If the work is to be undertaken, the board must ask an appropriation for it when it presents the budget for next year to the Board of Estimate and in order to determine how much would be needed it is desirable to get some idea of what subjects would be wished by pupils and how many teachers would be required. I am therefore making this appeal to any

ELOPER TO THIS CITY IS POSSESSOR OF 2 WIVES

Two wives in three years is the record of James J. Forsythe, of 259 West 116th street, New York, whose failure to dissolve the first union before entering into the second makes him a defendant in a divorce suit in which the complaint and summons were served yesterday. The action was begun by Loretta Laine Forsythe, with whom he eloped to Plainfield in June, 1909.

The couple were married by former Justice of the Peace Hezekiah Hand. In February, 1911, a month after wife No. 1 left him because of his continuous failure to remember his home address, he persuaded Father William B. Martin, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, to marry him with Carrie Higgins. He told the priest nothing of his previous marriage.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT.

ONE Solitaire Diamond Ring, Pure White Perfect Stone—over ¼ karat, any setting, now on exhibition at store of Charles E. Vail, 238 Park avenue.

FOUR Ladies' Solid Gold Watches, choice of Elgin or Waltham movement, now on exhibition at the stores of J. Hervey Doane, 115 Park avenue; Carl Silbert, 219 West Front street; L. Moraller & Son, 219 Park avenue; P. F. Delgyer, 130 Park avenue.

The intense interest shown by thousands of people throughout this section at this period in the Daily Press European Tours conests may be likened to the fervent impression produced on an audience which is witnessing the climax to the first act in an exicting drama on the stage. The question to whom shall be awarded the handsome jewelry prizes will be deterimend this evening at 10:30. The final count will be made at that hour and the winners of the diamond ring and the four solid gold watches will announced.

To day has been a busy one. The contestants have been making up for the rain-enforced lull of yesterday and have been working hard getting in their vote. Every mail has brought in its full quota of votes and subscriptions from the out-of-town candidates, in addition to those deposited at the office personally. Everything has moved along in a friendly and cheeerful manner, and now before many hours pass we shall know who are the lucky ones to gain the lesser, but very desirable, special prizes of the great European contest. We will then enter on the last three weeks of voting for the grand summer vacation tours of Europe, and tonight's vote will place all the contestants on equal footing for the final struggle.

Nearly all the active candidates are doing great work in the line of vote-getting, and there is no doubt but that there will be some surprises sprung when the results are made known tonight, causing a considerable shifting in the standings of the different contestants, which will be published Monday.

It is again suggested that subcriptions be turned in as early as possible before the final closing of the ballot box, and if it is so desired the candidates may retain possession of the voting coupons, casting them

PLAN TO REINCORPORATE BAPTIST CHURCH SOCIETY

Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor and the officers of the First Baptist church, are planning to re-incorporate the church society, whereby the plan of holding "parish" meetings will be abolished. Ever since the church was founded there has been a yearly parish meeting, in addition to an annual church meeting. The two have caused more or less confusion and as there is no real need for the "parish" meeting, it has been decided to abandon it after this year.

The annual meeting of the church will be held next Wednesday night, when written reports will be presented by each department, and they wil then be printed in pamphlet form for distribution among the memebrs. On April 1 there will be inaugurated the envelope system for church benevolences.

SIX JUDGES CHOOSE CAST FOR H. S. SENIORS' PLAY

The cast of characters for "Oliver Twist" the senior play to be presented May 4 at the Plainfield Threatre by members of the senior class of the Plainfield High School was picked yesterday afternoon after the final tryout before a committee of six trustees.

It was decided that Miss Helen Woolley should have the difficult part of "Nancy." The competition was closer for the role of "Oliver Twist" as it will be taken by a girl. Although Miss Margaret Loizeaux and Miss Viola Garda acted the part equally well, and was finally given to Miss Garda as she is the smaller of the two girls.

Rehearsels will be started at once, under the direction of Samuel B. Howe. The committee of judges included the Misses Ruth Maxon, Alice Forsythe and Sophia Woodman, Lindsley Best, Henry Hubbard, Samuel Howe and Charles Bostwick.

The cast of characters follow: Mr. Bube, Bruce Conlin; Harry Mayhu, Donald Webb; Mrs. Bedium, Katherine Webster; Mr. Brownlaw, Burnett Doane; Oliver Twist, Viola Garda; Maid, Alice VanHorn; Mr. Griming, Schuyler Line; Artful Dodger, Dixon Phillips; Charlie Bates, Egbert Fountain; Tom Chittry, Winthrope Phelps; Betsy, Dorothy Smith; Fagin, Elmer Hunting; Nancy, Helen Woolley; Bill Sykes, Roy E. Tilsworth; Monk, Raymond Manley; Mrs. Mayhu, Madaline Strader; Giles, Bruce Conlin; Brittles, Theodore Champlain; Cook, Janette Neighbor; Rose Mayhu, Mildred Brownlee; Mrs. Bumble; Ruth Douglas, and Susan, Helen Ryder.

MUSICAL LECTURE ADDS TO SUFFRAGISTS' FUNDS

A rare opportunity to enlarge their knowledge of the best modern music and to enjoy a delightful hour was given to the Equal Suffrage League and its friends yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Isaac Schwed, 1147 Evergreen avenue. In spite of the pouring rain a goodly number of interested women were present to hear a charming interpretation of Humperdinck's newest opera, "Koenigskinder," given by Mrs. Victor Goldberg, of New York.

"'A much more complex piece of writing than Haensel and Greter,' with a great number of wonderfully interwoven themes following the Wagnerian style, 'Koenigskinder' is full of exquisite melodies and has moments of extreme simplicity especially when the children appear upon the scene as they so frequently do," said the speaker.

Mrs. Goldberg shows fine judgment in the selections she makes to verify the story, and equal skill in eliminating the unimportant. Her voice, of a sweet lyric quality, is so well trained that she sings with perfect ease while accompanying herself at the piano, which she handled in a masterly manner.

Throughout the entire lecture recital Mrs. Goldberg made clear the symbolism expressed in the story and in the music and the evident thought of the great composer that "except ye become as little children (and old people) ye cannot know the things of the spirit."

Mrs. Goldberg will again appear in Plainfield on April 8 for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis League.

DROWNED BOY LAID AWAY IN ST. MARY'S CEMETERY

The funeral services for Joseph Hart, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hart, of Harmony street, who was drowned in Tier's pond Wednesday afternoon, were held yesterday afternoon at the home of his parents and St. Joseph's church. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

Many friends of the bereaved parents contributed floral tributes, mute messengers of the sympathy felt for them in the loss of their little one. The bearers were Daniel McCormack, William Walsh, Joseph McCullough and Henry Brynarski.

AND YET ANOTHER.

And still another feature is added to the re-built Daily Press today. It is a column of news and comment on Great White Plague work and is conducted by the Plainfield Anti-Tuberculosis League. This organization has some 1,200 members and its importance to the welfare of the community needs no explanation. "The Anti-Tuberculosis League's Column" will appear in this paper only every Saturday. See page today.

WILSON TO HAND OUT BIG PLUMS

Governor Will Probably Make a Number of Important Appointments Next Week.

VACANCY IN CHANCELLORSHIP

Pitney's Elevation to the Supreme Court Opens an $11,000 Berth—Lively Contest for Secretaryship of State—Middlesex Prosecutor.

Trenton, March 16—It is believed that Governor Wilson will make a number of important appointments next week, and it would not be surprising if he sent a batch of nominations to the Senate Monday evening. The most important appointment to be made is that of Chancellor to succed Mahlon Pitney, who has just been confirmed as an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. It is the general belief amog State house politicians and Supreme Court justices, Charles G. Garrison stands the best chance of winning this appointment. The salary of the Chancellor is $11,000 a year.

There is the liveliest contest on for appointment as Secretary of State between George S. Silzer, of Middlesex, who has been endorsed by practically all his colleagues in the Senate, and Surrogate David S. Crater, of Monmouth county, who is being strongly backed by several members of the Democratic State committee. Governor Wilson has given no hint of what he proposes to do.

Two other important posts to be filled are the Supreme Court clerkship and the Commissionership of Banking and Insurance and they will hinge on the selection of the Governer for Secretary of State. For the past week or two the chances have seemed to favor Senator Silzer, as the man to succeed Colonel Samuel D. Dickinson in the State department.

If the Governor shall appoint Mr. Crater as Secretary of State, Senator Silzer might be made Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. In case Mr. Silzer should go to the head of the State department, Mr. Crater, it is believed, might be appointed clerk of the Supreme Court, although Leslie C. Pierson, chief clerk of the Supreme Court office has strong endorsements for appointment to this place.

The Middlesex county prosecutorship situation is an interesting one and the development of the last few days led to the belief that the Governor may name to the place Assemblyman August C. Streitwolf, of New Brunswick. Mr. Streitwolf has been an active aspirant for the place for sometime and has had the endorsement of many Democrats in his county and has the additional advantage that he warmly supported Governor Wilson in the United States Senate and legislative contests last winter. Assemblyman Streitwolf is not the selection of Senator Silzer. Mr. Silzer's candidate is Joseph E. Stricker, of Perth Amboy, but Mr. Stricker is opposed by some of the county Democratic leaders.

SURPRISE LINEN SHOWER FOR PROSPECTIVE BRIDE

A linen shower was given at the home of Miss Edna French, on Craig place yesterday afternoon for Miss Myra Emmons, of Prospect place, whose engagement to Harold Millar was announced some time ago. Miss French and Miss Isabelle Williams, who are teachers in the North Plainfield kindergarten schools with Miss Emmons, arranged the affair.

Fifteen guests were present including little Miss Ruth Guth, who was dressed as a fairy and brought in the gifts, making many trips. The affair was a complete surprise to Miss Emmons and afforded all present a most enjoyable afternoon.

The dining room was handsomely decorated with jonquils, and daffodils and yellow candelabra.

Funeral of Theodore Smith.

The funeral of Theodore Smith, who died at Muhlenbery hospital, Thursday, will be held at Bethel chapel tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. D. Tildon, the pastor, will be in charge. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery. Those wishing to view the body can do so between 10 and 12 o'clock tomorrow morning at the home of Mr. Smith's brother, S. H. Smith, in the rear of the Woodhull & Martin building on East Front street.

W. D. Murray to Speak.

William D. Murray, of the Crescent Avenue Sunday-school, will address the Baraca class at the Temple Baptist church, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. He will speak along the line of men's work, and all men not otherwise engaged are invited to be present.

DAMAGE FOLLOWS IN WAKE OF RAINSTORM

Macadamized Roads Suffer In Rush of Surface Water--Cellars Flooded--Bound Brook Better Off Than on Wednesday.

Deep ruts cut in the streets of the city, the borough and the surrounding towns attest the severity of the tax put upon them by the terrific and continued downpour of rain yesterday. The havoc created by the storm to real estate and other property is impossible to estimate, but it will be months before all signs of the rushing waters will have been effaced. Much top dressing was washed from the macadam roads.

Despite the vast volume of water that poured into the Raritan in the vicinity of Bound Brook, that town was not as seriously affected as on Tuesday. The overflow filled the tunnel under the Central tracks but did not reach near as high a mark on Main street. This afternoon the river is more than 3 feet lower than at the same hour on Tuesday.

An unconfirmed rumor had a farm laborer drowned in trying to rescue three cows from a flooded field below Bound Brook. County Physician Long said no drowning had been reported to him this afternoon.

In North Plainfield all the streets in the outlying sections are rendered practically impassible on account of the washouts. Johnston's drive, upper Somerset street, Grove street, Jefferson avenue and other streets in that section, bore the brunt of the flood that swept down from the mountains and all are badly washed out.

In Fanwood the water flooded Midway avenue and King street to a depth of two feet and covered the Central railroad tracks. The bridge on Park avenue was inundated and the flood extended to Scotch Plains, where passengers were taken from the trolleys in wagons. All cellars in the low lying sections of both boroughs were filled.

At Greenbrook road and Somerset street the water completely filled the roadway and cellars even with the surface. The streets under the Central railroad bridges throughout the city were flooded for a time. At Clinton avenue home-coming commuters were seriously inconvenienced.

While trying to pass through the flood covering the Stirling road near the Passaic river, the horse David Levitz was driving was swept from its feet and drowned. Levitz was rescued from the marooned wagon some time later by men in a boat who noticed his predicament.

The continued freshet prevented reparis being made to the sluiceway gates at Spring Lake, South Plainfield, and when the tributaries to the lake began swelling yesterday, the weakened gates were unequal to stemming the flood. The released water again spread over the fields and meadows inundated Tuesday, washing out great area of the ground. The pumping station was surrounded as was also several houses occupied by Hungarians. No fatalities to man or beast are reported.

This is the first time that such action has been taken. Plainfield now has two past grand master workmen, V. W. Nash, Sr., and William Newcorn.

CHANCE FOR VETERANS TO ACCOMPANY KEARNY'S BODY

The commission appointed by Governor Woodrow Wilson, for the purpose of arranging the removal of the remains of the late Major-General Philip Kearny to Arlington Cemetery, Washington, has made the announcement that all veterans of the Civil War, who may desire to accompany the commission may do so by communicating with Charles F. Hopkins, of Boonton. Application must be made on or before April 1, accompanied by the sum of $8, or it cannot be considered. This amount covers the cost of transportation from Jersey City to Washington and return and luncheon each way.

SNEAKTHIEVES IN ORGANIZED BAND?

Police Think Young Idlers Are Planning Raids on Houses in Concert.

SIX MORE SWELL THE LIST

Light Hauls in Four Places and no Swag at all in the Other Two—John W. Fenton the Heaviest Loser.

Sneakthieves of the petty type, thought to be the same ones who have been prowling through the Netherwood and the East End for several weeks, atered six houses in the neighborhood of Netherwood avenue and East Second street, last night. The police heard from the victims this morning.

The thieves got a three books of trading stamps at the home of John Staats, 220 Netherwood avenue; a gold watch, a gold fob and two books of trading stamps at the home of John W. Fenton, 226 Netherwood avenue; an overcoat at the home of J. MacCollum, 310 Netherwood avenue; fifty cents at the home of John King, 319 Netherwod avenue. They entered but secured nothing at the homes of John Pierce, 317 Netherwood avenue, and D. Callora, Leland avenue and George street.

The police believe that the depredators are youths and young men, idlers and crap shooters, who hang somewhere about the city or its outskirts and plan theft in concert.

Seven houses were entered in Scotch Plains this week, and the same petty depredations marked the jobs. The authoritites wouldn't be surprised to learn that the same gang did all the jobs.

GIRLS IN VOCAL HIGH JUMP AND STANDING BROAD GRIN

Under the auspices of the Sigma Gamma Gappa, of the North Plainfield High School, a St. Patrick's Day party was given at the Y. W. C. A., yesterday afternoon. The affair took the form of a track meet. The girls were divided into two teams, one representing America and the other Ireland, and they contested for points in various events.

Some of the events were shot put, the 100 inch dash, vocal high jump, long word distance race and standing broad grin. The American team won the greatest number of points. After the games, lettuce sandwiches, lemonade and green frosted cake were served by a committee from the club.

FUN AT MOCK TRIAL OF "SUFFRAGETTES" IN CHURCH

The "trial" of two suffragettes for smashing windows in Mayor Robert Clark's residence in North Plainfield afforded much amusement to a large audience in Grace M. E. church, last night. The vote seekers were allowed to go, as the jury, comprised of six men and six women, were unable to agree.

Lucy Belmont and Carrie Pankhurst, portrayed by Miss Edith Major and Miss Florence Conroy, were the defendants. They were represented by Samuel S. Swackhamer, while Martin B. Stutsman was the prosecuting attorney. Charles E. Neier was the terrible judge.

The witnesses for the defence were three men and three women, while Mr. Stutsman summoned two women and five men to disprove anything they testified to and the testimony given by each kept the audience convulsed with mirth throughout.

The jurors were Rev. C. C. Cain, Dr. Raymond Stevens, Harvey Houston, Walter Smalley, Virgil Heath, Mr. Thorne, Mrs. Virgil Heath, Mrs. W. J. Conroy, Miss Hamlin, Miss Stella Vermeule, Miss Della Voehl and Miss Emma Smalley.

SEND DISCARDED KIDDIE CLOTHES TO "CHARITIES"

Almost as many cases of distress were brought to the attention of the Charity Organization Society in the short month of February as the longer month preceeding had done, 134. Two hundred and twenty-six calls were made at the society's office by those in need as against 274 in January. These calls in February represented 134 families or about 670 individuals. The Secretaries made 368 calls and wrote 256 letters in their efforts to solve these problems of distress and help make the families sulf-supporting. In this they were greatly assisted by fifteen volunteer visitors who helped with 22 families.

The ways of helping the people in distress were various. Work was found for 13 able-bodied ones, an equal number but more unlucky 13 were referred to the police. Eight children were placed in private homes and nine persons put in an institution. Twenty-two were referred to a doctor or clinic. Tuberculosis was found to be one of the factors o ftrouble in twenty-five instances during the month.

Sixteen patients who had been in the hospital were visited to see whether their home surroundings were not such as to cause a return of the ailment which brought them to the hospital. Their financial condition or ability to pay the hospital bill was also reported to the hospital. In this way it is hoped to conserve the free services of the hospital for those who are really unable to pay.

Last, but not least, the society assisted the suffering with material relief to the extent of $198.79. Of this $136.77 was raised for special cases of distress. Three tons of coal were given in one-quarter tons. Milk cost $46.29, groceries $17 and rent $22.50. There was $39.00 to be paid for children's board, their parents both being ill.

One of the most urgent needs of the month was that for shoes. The Charity Organization Society a number of years ago undertook to see that no child should be kept out of school because he had no shoes or clothes to wear. Most of the schools have taken advantage of this offer and consequently $19.45 was spent for clothing in February. The Society therefore makes a special appeal for second hand children's clothing or money to buy shoes. When one realizes a pair of shoes may cost one-fifth of a father's weekly wage and there are often five children all out of shoes at once, the impossibility of keeping all shod and fed at the same time is apparent.

Plan "Safe" Dance in Paterson.

Paterson, March 16.—Plans for providing "safe" places for working folks of the city to dance were made by the College Club, an organization of alumnae of various institutions, at a meeting in the Y. W. C. A. building, this place. It was decided to ask the Board of Education for the use of school buildings for the purpose. The committee will present the matter to the board March 19. It is intended to start with the Riverside School, holding dances two or three times a week. The club will provide music and chaperons.

SCORES OF ARTICLES LEFT BY STREET CAR TRAVELERS

Probably more articles, valuable ad otherwise, are lost every day on the street cars than in any other public place, not excepting the streets. Scores of articles found in the cars are turned over every day to the division superintendent and in a large majority of cases the losers regain their possessions by applying at the car barns. The lost and found department is one of the units of the trolley system, and is handled with the same care as the various other affairs of the traction companies.

People who lose their belongings in the cars stand an excellent chance of regaining them unless the lost articles are picked up by dishonest passengers. The average observed would say that umbrellas are lost more frequently than any other article. This, however, is disproved by the records of the Public Service Railway Company. While it would seem probable that the traveler would guard his purse more carefully than any other of his belongings, the records show that pocketbooks lead the list by a wide margin.

An article found on a trolley car is generally placed in the hands of the conductor. He takes it to the end of the line, hands it over to the man in charge of the carshed and he, in turn, notifies the division superintendent, giving the circumstances of the finding. Then when inquiry is made at the office of the superintendent he can tell the owner of the article where it can be obtained, and all the owner has to do is to identify it. There are very few cases on record of a would-be owner endeavoring to get what does not belong to him.

The corner of the offices in the car barns where articles picked up in the trolley cars are kept, has the appearance of a museum. Nearly everything that a man or woman could carry about is found in the cars. Money, pocketbooks, umbrellas, handkerchiefs, parcels of various shapes and sizes, pocketknives, wearing apparel and even hats are picked up in the cars and held for their owners. If these do not appear within thirty days the articles are given back to the conductors who turned them in.

Perishable goods are often found in the cars and these are held only a few days. One conductor recently picked up a package of cheese. He handed it over to the superintendent of the barns. Pending the arrival of its owner it was put out on the roof and the owner never appeared to claim it. Neither did the conductor.

Not long ago a conductor on one of the local lines picked up a woman's purse in his car. At the barns it was found to contain a gold watch and five twenty-dollar bills as well as some small change. In a few days a well-dressed woman called at the car station and identified the purse as one which she had lost. "Thank you," she said coldly, as she walked out of the office.

The attendance was slim at first but later on it increased. The net receipts were close to $100. The booths and contests afforded lots of interest but dancing was the attractive feature for the young people, music being furnished by Naylor's orchestra. New attractions will be offered tonight and those who wish to aid the company in securing new equipment should encourage them by attending. The committee which has general charge of the affair is composed of George Harris, Stanley Day and William Van Nuis.

PITNEY MAY TAKE SEAT IN WASHINGTON MONDAY

Washington, March16.—President Taft and Attorney-General Wickersham have signed the certificate of appointment of Mahlon Pitney as an associate justice of the Supreme Court, and it now ready to be delivered to him.

James H. McKenney, clerk of the Supreme Court, said that Mr. Pitney could be sworn in next Monday if he so chooses, but if he does not present himself at that time to take the oath of office he will be uable to go on the Supreme Court bench until April 1, as there will be no sessions of the court between next Monday and the end of this month. The rules of the court require new members to take the oath of office before the clerk in open court.

The late Justice Harlan, by whose death the vacancy was created which resulted in the selection of the chancellor, was assigned to the Sixth Judical Circuit, but it is considered improbable that the new judge will be assigned to that circuit. The assignments to circuit courts are made by the entire bench and it is likely that the New Jersey member will be assigned to the Third Circuit, which is composed of New Jersey, Pennsylvainia and Delaware. Justice Lurton now presides over this circuit and he is likely to go to the Sixth Cirucit in place of the late Justice Harlan.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

At the Episcopal Church Congress, to be held in St. Louis, April 16-19, some quite modern topics are to be presented in asigned papers for and against and by appointed debaters. Among the subjects are: "The Good and Evil in Trade Unions," Organic Christian Unity," "The Sanctity of Mariage," "Spiritualism, Pyschic Phenomena and Demonology," "Censorship in the Interest of Public Morals," and "Conversion as a Christian Experience." The Episcopal Congress is not a department officially of the Protestant Episcopal Church, but, like those of the Baptists and Methodists, is a voluntary body for discussion of the topic of the day, and is supported by low and broad clergymen, and in a very small way by the high churchmen.

Then central committees of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, of Newark, New York and Brooklyn, had a dinner Thursday evening at the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, when the leaders of the movement present, and the experts on the several commisions, Dean Charles Brown, of Yale University, and Rev. Dr. James A. Francis, of Boston, were the speakers on the significance of the movement, and Frederick B. Smith, directing head, reported on the progress of the campaign throughout the contry. The gathering was preliminary to the opening of the campaign in Brooklyn, March 20-26; in New York, April 14-18, and the conservation congress in Carnegie Hall, April 19-24.

FOR A COMMISSION ON HISTORICAL HONUMENTS.

FALSE DOCTRINE SEEN IN METHODIST BOOKS.

Asbury Park, March 16.—There was lively discussion in the Methodist State Conference over resolutions offered by the Rev. G. W. Ridout, directing the General Conference to a close scrutiny of the Methodist Book Concern on account of certain writings put out by the concern on the subject of infant conversion, which, it is charged, constitute false doctrine.

The Rev. Ridout made an appeal for old-fashioned Methodism. His statement brought an answer from the Rev. Dr. Stockdale, of Asbury Park, who said there was no minister in the conference who could stand alone and not be subjected to criticism on questions of theology. The ministers were of the opinion that old fashioned Methodist conversion was a good doctrine to hold fast to and they adopted the resolution.

The Rev. F. W. Johnson said that Sunday in New Jersey was a day of abject humiliation.

Charged with Inhuman Act.

Trenton, March 16.—Charged with placing the baby of her employer on a hot register, Mrs. Emma Scarborough was put on trial. The father of the baby is Edward Cherry, whose wife is in a hospital. Photographs were produced showing burns and the child, which is a little less than two years old. Mrs. Scarborough's defense was that the baby, while alone in a room, got down from its high chair and fell on the register.

COURTS AND JUDGES.

We hear much about the recall of judges these days. One eminent authority is even quoted as favoring the "recall of judicial decisions." Opponents of either or both these propositions declare them revolutionary. They predict "hopeless anarchy" and "common ruin to both justice and freedom" if the advocates of the new system succeed in having their idea engrafted on the laws and constitution of the states and of the United States.

Now whether the "recall" is right or wrong, whether the people should pass on the official conduct of an occupant of the Supreme Bench or not there can be no dispute about one point. American court procedure is sadly in need of reform and if the lawyers and the judges can't or won't do the reforming the people will.

First and foremost there must be no suspicion of the use of money in the procuring of nominations such as characterized a recent case in New York. If nominations to judicial office can be bought and sold, if the amount of money a candidate for a judgeship can put up is to be the test of his fitness there need not be much terror at the spectre of a recall.

Second, justice must be prompt as well as blind. New Jersey fortunately holds a position of desirable pre-eminence in this one particular, as far as the criminal law at least is concerned. In the matter of civil disputes her record is not so good. But in all this outcry against courts and judges New Jersey must suffer for the sins of her sister states and the "law's delay" is well up at the head of the list of these sins. It is perfectly possible for a poor plaintiff to starve to death, while a rich defendant, especially when that rich defendant happens to be a corporation, by a succession of appeals postpones a final judgment for years.

Justice must not only be prompt; it must be inexpensive, within the reach of the humblest litigant. Compare the cost of taking a case into an American court with the same cost in France or Germany if you have any doubt about the need of a change in this respect. It was these two factors, delay and expense, which drove New York business men only the other day to the re-establishing of the Chamber of Commerce's Court of Arbitration. It is a sorry reflection on our judicial system when injustice must be borne because the legal remedy is too expensive in time and money.

Third, the jury system as administered in most of our courts is vitally in need of reform. In New York jurors are selected apparently solely on the basis of their ignorance of the matters at issue Impartiality is surely desirable but so is intelligence. In New Jersey jurors are selected too often because they need the fees. A recall for jurors as well as judges is a real need of the times. Perhaps even the whole jury theory, sacred as it is, can be improved upon.

Fourth, whether by recall or otherwise judges should realize that they are in the last analysis responsible to the people who made them. No judge, no court can or ought to be exempt from honest criticism. In our very proper anxiety to cultivate reverence for the courts we have confused the man and his office or rather some of the judges have confused it and there has been a reaction. A judge is just as human and just as liable to err as an ex-President. Sometimes, too, the free use of the "contempt of court" power has helped along this reaction.

Fifth, more lawyers with a high standard of professional honor are needed. Bulldozing a witness who is anxious only to tell the truth may be good sport but it isn't calculated to instill respect for judicial procedure. More protection for the unfortunate non-combatant in the witness chair would go far toward popularizing courts.

And lastly—and here the newspapers have a great work to do—there must be the fullest publicity for every judicial proceeding. Such publicity is the best protection for court and contestants alike. Better far some inaccuracy in the published report than any attempt at suppression. If a judge's rulings will not bear newspaper reporting they ought never to have been made. A great field awaits some twentieth century Dickens who can portray the anarchronisms, the absurdities, the inefficiency of our American courts and it will be to the pen of that new Dickens rather than to the denunciations of any personage no matter how exalted or how anxious for a recall that this greatest of reforms will be credited. Personally I hope and expect that he will be a newspaper man as was the original Dickens

A New Campaign

By Mrs. E. F. Feickert.

Until very recently the war upon tuberculosis has been carried on entirely by the doctors, the charity organizations and a few philanthropists, which is very much as if the officers and non-commissioned officers of an army were sent forth to conquer a mighty host, with no army back of them to fight battles and win victories. The total extinction of tuberculosis waits only on the conversion of all the people from passive to active interest in fighting this terrible scourge, whose victims number more than those killed in all the battles of the world.

Realizing this, and as a first step in an effort to arouse every individual in our own community to a sense of his personal responsibility, the Anti-Tuberculosis League began its work this year with a resolution to increase its membership from one thousand to at least five thousand during 1912, and to put its official paper, The White Crusader, on a self-supporting basis.

Membership in the League costs one dollar a year, and this includes a subscription to The White Crusader, while a subscription to the paper alone, without membership in the League, is only twenty-five cents a year. When there are five thousand subscribers its managers can easily secure enough advertisements to not only make it self-supporting, but to bring in a small revenue to the League as well. Then its advertising space can be sold as a business proposition, and advertisers will not have to be appealed to on a charity basis.

The avowed purpose of The White Crusader is , "To help the well to keep so, to aid the ill to recover their health, to show the well-to-do of Plainfield how they may help their sick and less fortunate fellow citizens in an uphill fight against tuberculosis." It is a very attractive little paper, which tells briefly of the work being done all over the world, as well as of the work of the Plainfield League; which keeps track of the various cases under the care of the physicians of this city, describing individual cases from time to time (without mentioning names) so that kind hearted people may hear of opportunities for helping particularly deserving families and individuals in their struggle for health, and more than all it constantly sounds a warning as to the danger of contracting the disease from those already afflicted, and gives directions for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis.

If you would be willing to subscribe for The White Crusader, but do not care to read it, or if you are willing to pay for one or more subscriptions besides your own, or if several members of your family are members of the League, so that a number of copies come to your home each month, will you kindly notify the chairman of The White Crusader committee that these extra copies may be given away. The League has a list of people who would be benefitted by reading The White Crusader, but who cannot afford to subscribe to it, to whom it will be glad to send these extra copies.

Everyone knows of the importance of the welfare work of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, and every public spirited citizen should welcome the opportunity to help its work. The work in Plainfield has not as yet developed as much as that in Montclair, Orange and Newark, but it is the ambition of the Anti-Tuberculosis League to take front rank in the work being done in the State. Will the people of Plainfield help it to realize this ambition?

Senators Martine's explanation of why he joined with Reed and Lorimer in voting to the last against the arbitration treaties is not convincing. NEARLY DROWNED BY STORM.

Cruiser Crew Had Hard Time In Getting Unconscious Man Into Boat.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 16.—George Evers and Dan Jones, fishermen, returning from the fishing banks, narrowly escaped drowning in the terrific wind and rainstorm that swept the coast. Had it not been that a third man risked his own life to go to their assistance they would probably have been lost. As it was, one of them was tossed out of the boat.

Evers and Jones were off the inlet on their way in when the storm caught them. Evers was knocked down in the boat and then rolled unconscious into the water. Jones had to abandon his attempts to manage the boat and give his attention to his companion. The gale was tossing the craft about so Jones was unable to pull Evers in.

He had been holding Evers over the side for half an hour and was becoming exhausted when George Howell, in a cruiser, went to his assistance. A thirty-nine mile gale was blowing, and it was hazardous work to get the unconscious Evers into the cruiser. Jones nearly collapsed in the effort and was scarcely able to climb aboard himself.

Evers was revived with difficulty. Both are under the care of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Drake, formerly of Linden avenue, have removed to an apartment on West Fourth street, near John.

YEGGMEN'S ATTEMPT FAILED.

Tried to Blow Open Safe In Mount Holly Coal Office.

Mount Holly, N. J., March 16.—By not using enough explosive cracksmen failed in their efforts to blow open a safe in the office of Doughty & Co., coal and lumber dealers here.

The charge partly wrecked the safe, but the cashbox was not opened. With a jimmy the money drawer in a desk was pried open and a few pennies secured. The explosion awakened neighbors, but the yeggmen escaped. It is believed this is the same gang which ransacked the residence of Miss Ellen C. Curtis, on High street. The ticket office at Brown's mills also was robbed this week.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SOUPS WITHOUT MEAT.

GOOD nourishing soup may be made without the use of either meat or stock. Soups are just what we need for the last few days of Lent, when a special effort is made by persons who do not find it convenient to dispense with meat ordinarily.

The soups are not only nourishing, but they are so quickly prepared that they make excellent emergency dishes for other than lenten meals.

If the soup is not rich enough the quantity of cream or milk may be increased and an egg or two well beaten may be added.

Made With a Cereal.

Cream of Rice Soup.—Take two tablespoonfuls of rice, wash well, put on to boil in two cups of boiling water. Let it boil for half an hour. Put two cupfuls of sweet milk in the top of a double boiler. When the milk boils add the rice and the water in which it has been boiling. Take a teaspoonful of flour and rub into it a teaspoonful of sweet fresh butter. Drop this into the rice and milk. Stir and add a half teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, a quarter of a teaspoonful of curry powder and a teaspoonful of chopped parsley. Let this boil for about five minutes. Serve with croutons.

Vegetable Soups.

Cream of Potato Soup.—Take a cupful and a half of mashed potatoes, place them in the top of a double boiler on the stove. Add two cupfuls of boiling milk and a teaspoonful of grated onion. Bring to a boil and add two cupfuls of boiling water, a teaspoonful of salt, a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper, a tablespoonful of butter and a tablespoonful of flour after the four latter ingredients have been rubbed together. Stir until it looks creamy, then add a tablespoonful of chopped parsley and a little paprika.

Cream of Celery.—This enables one to use up the outer coarse stalks of celery, which are not so nice as the inner ones. Scrub the stalks well and cut into half inch lengths. Put into a saucepan, cover with boiling water and boil until tender. Drain and save the water. Mash the celery through a colander, return to the water and boil ten minutes. Then strain into a double boiler and to each cup of the celery water add a cupful of boiling milk. Season to taste with salt and pepper and to each pint add one teaspoonful of butter and one teaspoonful flour, rubbed together. Boil five minutes.

FADS AND FANCIES.

Tunics Have Taken a New Turn—Lace on Tailor Mades.

The fashionable tunics have taken a new turn. They are short at the back and long in front.

Some of the newest are bordered all around with frills of lace.

Ample flouncings adorn a number of the most successful.

Accompanying these, dainty muffs of shot taffeta are made.

The introduction of lace on tailor mades is a novelty of the season.

SEMI-PRINCESS COSTUME.

Lace in a deep shade of ivory is draped on the coats like a fichu.

Some of the skirts which are cut fairly long open up at the side front to show a panel of lace.

The lines in the dress are all girlish and simple. The costume may be made from wool, silk or washable material. In the cut it is made of mohair.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

This May Manton pattern is cut for small women and misses of fourteen, sixteen and eighteen years of age. Send 10 cents to this office, giving number, 7348, and it will be promptly forwarded to you by mail. If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery. When ordering use coupon.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

In the role of Snowflake Lincoln Crump, Jockey 7-11, in "The Dixie Derby," which is the new musical comedy portion of this year's all new show by George Evans' Honey Boy Minstrels, George Evans, "The Honey Boy," presents another characterization which is said to be a counterpart of Snowball Livingston, in "The Firemen's Picnic." While George Evans has admirers by the hundreds who never tire of his line of patter in his individual specialty or monologue, it is in these darktown afterpieces in which he plays the roustabout darkey roles that he proves the talented comedian and shows his real worth. "The Dixie Derby" is from Evans' pen and its music and lyrics have also been written by the Honey Boy. Evans will appear at the Plainfield theatre, Monday, March 18.

GILL BILL HEARING BRINGS SCHOOLMEN TO TRENTON.

Trenton, March 16.—That there is the liveliest interest all over the State in the proposal to repeal the uniform State examination section of the school law of last year was made very evident at the hearing in the Senate chamber on the Gill bill providing for such repeal. The chamber, floor and galleries, was filled with school teachers, principals, superintendents and representatives from all sections of New Jersey. The hearing was before the Senate Committee on Education.

Notwithstanding the hearing had been arranged at the request of Dr. William G. Schauffler, president of the State Board of Education, he failed to appear and there was no opposition to the Gill repealer, which has already passed the Assembly.

Frank E. Kister, of West End avenue, left yesterday for Chicago, where he will attend a conference of railroad men.

SAINTS' MANAGER GIVES GOOD ADVICE TO PLAYERS

John J. McGraw, the crafty manager of the New York National baseball team, is quoted, no doubt, more than any other man now active in the national pastime, and what he says is usually pretty good "dope," especially with regard to players and their requirements. During a recent discussion, among other things, he said: "What a player needs is speed, speed in his arms, speed in his legs, a good knowledge of human nature, and be a quick thinker, good habits and physical strength." Continuing he said: "You send me a player who has the strength and the desire to play but lacks knowledge of some of the fine points of the game and I will make a finished player of him, even in the improvement of his batting." "I like to work with country boys best, they don't think they know it all and will listen." The college boy is all right, but they are harder to handle and are more inclined to "grand stand" playing.

McGraw is opposed to winter training, and is of the opinion that indoor work is of but little help to the ball player. His advice to the players during the season is to abstain from drinking water during the game and to eat but two meals a day.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

Base Ball.

The Butchers and Grocers will play a game of baseball on the Somerset street grounds tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Young Bill Smalley will pitch for the Butchers, and he's a good one; while the Grocers have one of the finest catchers in George Townley. (The Daily Press, Tuesday, May 29, 1889.)

STATE Y. M. C. A. MEET TO BE HELD IN NEWARK.

The annual Y. M. C. A. State meet for boys under eighteen years of age will be held in the Newark Y. M. C. A. on the evening of April 6. This event has, in former years, taken place in Paterson on Washington's Birthday, and the local association has generally been well represented by its junior athletes. Newark, however, is more central to a majority of associations and the entries will probably surpass those of former years.

The program of the meet has also been changed to a considerable degree and the events have been adapted to the age and weights of the boys who are expected to contest them. Any Y. M. C. A. boy who is under eighteen years of age is considered eligible to enter the meet and can secure entry blanks and further information from E. S. Ostlin of the local Y. M. C. A.

A handsome silver trophy will be presented to the association scoring the greatest number of points in the meet. Individual awards will be made to winners of first, second and third places in each event and also to the first and second relay teams.

Chapin Receives Pennant.

President Charles T. Chapin, of the Rochester Hustlers, has received the pennant won by his club last season. The background is divided into three colors, red, white and blue. The flag will be raised at Rochester Baseball Park with appropriate ceremony on June 6, when Buffalo wil be the opposing club. The pennant is ten feet wide at one end, twenty-seven feet long and tapers to a point.

Rutgers College Notes.

New Brunswick, March 16.—A game has been arranged with the New Brunswick Catholic Club to open Rutgers baseball season on March 21. It will take the place of the cancelled game with C. C. N. Y. On Monday, March 25, Rutgers will go to Princeton to play the Tigers.

THE GINGER JAR

A recruit caught by fishing is generally a phenom of the first water.

Some players are bound to be heard from even if it is only along the coaching lines.

The baseball situation is uncertain. A player never feels sure of holding one.

"Life is what we make it" runs the adage. That perhaps is the reason some prefer to play through theirs.

Just because a player is freckled does not indicate that he is a marked man.

A managerial guide. "Look fierce, but let your boys alone when they are delivering the goods."

Abe Attell might not have been able to come back all the way, but he didn't come back as far as he should have.

When a boy in animated conversation is holding his hands apart as if giving the length of something, that means he is talking about fish.

Men who have been seeing baseball for a good many years do not expect to see the stunts that the recruits expect to perform.

Every fan who has a strong, wholesome voice and lets it out in his enthusiasm attracts a lot of attention, but players with just as worthy qualities are obliged to keep them buried and are never heard from except to disagree with an umpire.

If you had been down south yesterday with a pining to romp before the manager and show your skill and agility, wouldn't you have thought the weather was shy on decency? So would the manager.

Battling Nelson asserts that he will return to the ring in a month, but his broken hands will probably put him out of the game.

"Ball players are in a slavery similar to that abolished by Lincoln," said Representative Gallagher. And to think of the scorcs that are trying to become owned!

A school girl was told to write an essay of 250 words about a motor car. This is what she wrote:

"My uncle bought a motor car. He was riding in the country and it balked in going up a hill. My uncle tried to make it go, but couldn't, although he spoiled a $25 suit trying. I guess this is about fifty words. The other 200 words are what uncle said as he was walking back to town, but they are not fit to write down."

Had Wild Deer; Heavily Fined.

Atlantic City, March 16.—Fred Eckles, who conducts the only hotel in the heart of the deer woods of Weymouth township, was fined $400 here Thursday night by Magistrate Jagmetty on the charge of having the carcass of two wild deer in his possession on February 9, long after the season had closed. The case was the first of a series of prosecutions for wholesale deer killing in that locality, warrants being out for half a dozen other gunners, who, it is said, have been reaping rich reward by acting as guides to wealthy sportsmen and assisting them in slaying game illegally.

AUTO NOTES.

STEVENS-DURYEA GROWTH UP TO PREDICTIONS MADE.

No modern industry has developed so rapidly as automobile building—and none has had more difficulties to overcome in the way of public opposition in its early stages. It is amusing to look back at some of the objections to motor-cars that were raised a dozen or fifteen years ago and then to hear the common complaint nowadays that the horse is one of the greatest nuisances and annoyances of city life.

The early automobile enthusiasts were mostly designers and builders. They were pretty nearly the only defenders of the "horseless carriage" in those days; but their predictions have all come true. The Duryea brothers were among the best of the prophets. J. Frank Duryea had the vision to see the automobile in its final form and for its final purpose before most men formulated either. That is probably why in developing the Stevens-Duryea car he originated one after another of the features of construction that have become fundamental in all fine cars now. His brother, who did most of the talking for the family, made some predictions in Horseless Age in July, 1896 that are remarkable to look upon. They were based, of course, on a more intimate knowledge than most people had of what J. Frank Duryea was doing in developing the gasoline motor.

Clutch That Holds.

An announcement made this week, giving the list of the automobile manufacturers who are equipping their cars for 1912 with the multiple disc cork insert clutch is of very considerable interest to the automobile trade and prospective buyers alike. It shows a distinct tendency among leading manufacturers to adopt what has now come to be looked upon as the most efficient type of clutch. Among the builders regularly equipping their output with this clutch are the following companies: Pierce-Arrow, Peerless, Garford, Premier, Autocar, Pope, Hudson, Thomas, Paige-Detroit, Simplex, Chadwick, Moline and Knox, and among the commercial vehicle manufacturers the following are using the multiple disc cork insert clutch: Alden-Sampson, Garford, Premier, Peerless, Thomas, Pope, Chase, Pirce-Arrow, Knox and Autocar.

New Mercer Record.

From New York to Boston in 7 hours 45 minutes, night driving, is the latest achievement of the Mercer Raccabout, which holds the title of "Champion Light Car of America." Hughie Hughes, the Mercer racing driver, left Columbus Circle at midnight, Saturday, March 5, and arrived in Boston the next morning at 7:45. The distance by road between the two cities is about 260 miles, and the Mercer bettered the old record by 36 minutes. The car used was the one which captured the Savannah Challenge Trophy race at Savannah, Ga., November 27, 1911. The main object of the New York to Boston run was to give a convincing demonstration of the all-around every-day efficiency of Mercer cars. On the arrival of the car in the "Hub," it was placed on exhibition in the Boston show.

Vote On Bill Soon.

The New Jersey automobile bill, which was introduced by Assemblyman Stickel in the lower house and which passed there, will shortly come before the Senate for a vote. It was taken out of committee in the State Sneate to have an amendment made regarding the license fees. This bill provides for fifteen-day touring privileges to non-residents and does not demand the signing of a power of attorney by the foreign automobilist who uses the New Jersey roads. The passage of this bill, which appears to be likely, will bring New Jersey into the ranks and will leave no one outside of the universal reciprocity contingent.

Canada Orders the Ford.

An order has just been issued from Ottawa to the Ford Motor Co. of Canada, to supply to the department of militia and defense 12 Ford Model T touring cars. The nature of the order shows that these cars are intended for hard work, for among the specifications known to have been attached to the contract are given a full list of spare parts, such as extra tires, tire envelopes, tire holders, top envelope jacks, cut-out and the like. These are all in addition to the standard equipment.

Women Learn Quickly.

"Women, contrary to the general impression, learn the operation of a motor car much more readily than men," says Professor I. O. Hoffman, instructor in the technical school maintained by the manufacturers of the Franklin automobile at Syracuse, N. Y. Professor Hoffman has been instructing prospective drivers of motor cars for somewhat over seven years and says: "I have found that women are more susceptible to suggestions from the instructor than are men, and that their minds are more capable of receiving and retaining instructions.

Autos For Mexico.

Exceptionally numerous shipments of motor cars passed through New Orleans, La., during February, according to the report of the dock commission. The greatest number of cars were consigned to Mexico City 112 cars being billed from different points in the United States to the southern republican. Porto Rico was the destination of 84 cars. Guatemala was the recipient of 14 cars, which were routed through this port. Other countries in Central America received several cars.

Another Ford Factory.

A service depot, which will permit of the duplication of any part of the Ford car, is being stocked at the New Orleans branch of the Ford Motor Company. The selling agency has practically become a factory, as nearly any part of the car can be duplicated without going out of the building.

Chauffeurs Organize.

The Professional Chauffeur's Association, Syracuse, N. Y., will incorporate under the name of the Professional Chauffeurs' Association of Onondaga. An employment bureau has been opened at the clubrooms. The membership is now 75. The association is working with the Automobile Club for the suppression of the speeding evil.

To Have Clean Streets.

The City Street Department of Milwaukee, Wis., has purchased four street-flushing machines, making a battery of eight machines which will keep the asphalt-paved streets of the city clean during the summer. The department has purchased 700,000 gallons of asphaltum oil for macadam road preservation and dust prevention, as compared with 500,000 gallons used in 1911. It has been found that it will be unnecessary to treat the streets oiled last year until the spring of 1913.

P. H. S. WON ON FOUL IN LAST MINUTE OF PLAY

A foul thrown by Miss Stewart, of the P. H. S. girls' five in the last minute of play in the contest with the Nutley H. S. team, yesterday afternoon, won the game for the locals by the score of 14 to 13. The teams were evenly matched making the game close and exciting throughout.

At the end of the first period the visitors had a two point lead, the score standing 10 to 8. When the play was resumed this was soon evened and then the locals took the lead only to be tied again by their opponents. In this manner the game was nip and tuck, first one team and then the other being in the lead.

As the time for playing became less the girls individually assumed the responsibility of winning or losing the contest and this eagerness was the cause of the foul by Miss Lux, which cost her team the game.

The P. H. S. lineup: Stewart and Mehl, forwards; Douglas, center; Moy and Phillips, guards. Nutley H. S.: Witbeck and Searle forwards; Saunders, center; Taylor and Lux, guards.

ELKS EASILY CLEAN UP MOOSE IN LOCAL LEAGUE

The Elks bowling team administered a decisive beating to the Moose pirners last night on the Olympia alleys in a fraternal league match. The Bills took all three games by margins that at no time had the result in doubt. Double centuries bloomed in every game but the second in the marks returned by the tournament leaders as follows:

MARTIN, FIRST LOCAL RECRUIT OFF FOR CAMP

Jack Martin left this morning for Anniston, Ala., where he will join the Rochester club of the International League. He was given a farewell party last night at his home on West Third street by a number of fan friends, who did their best to inspire him with confidence against the trial he is to receive by Manager Ganzell in a fight for shortstop on the International's champion nine.

Other local youths who will depart for the spring training camps soon are Lou Slocum, who is slated for a box berth at Scranton in the New York State League. Lou will leave April 10. Cliff Randolph is to go to Binghampton in the same league and at the same time. Jimmy Emory has not as yet signed the contract sent him by the Middleport-Pomeroy club of the Mountain States League. He has a good job on Staten Island and unless the price named in the contract is increased, Jimmy may be seen in a local uniform again this year.

On the northern barn-storming trip the Rochester team will play two exhibition games with the Richmond club, the outfit Jack Martin was with last year, and the record he made there attracted the favorable attention of Manager Ganzell, of the champions. Jack is assured a warm welcome from the Virginia capitol fans.

RADIN AND MONTROSS STILL CLEANING UP.

Radin and Charley Montross took three straight from Haberle and Jones in a duck pin tournament match on the Olympia alleys last night by the following scores:

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

"Baron Trenck," the new comic opera with the score by Felix Albini, which made such a success in Europe several years ago, had its first appearance last night at the Casino under the direction of Mr. F. C. Whitney. It proved to be a worthy successor to "The Chocolate Soldier," which has made such a success here and throughout thec ountry in the past two years under Mr. Whitney's management. Prominent in the cast is Fritz Sturmfels, formerly leading tenor of the Royal Opera in Leipzig, where he created the part of "Trenck" under Albini's direction. Blanch Duffield, who sings the prima donna role of Lydia, has had a notable carrer on the concert stage and in grand opera with Henry W. Savage; John Slavin has the comedy role of Nikola, the dancing master; Perio Barti has the soubrette part of Mariza; Ethel Dufre Houston is the Frau Stecher; Pacie Ripple is the Major Domo; Charles Galagher is Alla Wunja, the bandit; Stanley Jessup is the Ambassador and the exponents of the minor parts have been carefully chosen as well.

Actor Louis Mann with his widely discussed comedy of laughs and thrills "Elevating a Husband," presents one of the most interesting situations of the current theatrical season in New York. Already the brilliant and temperamental star has been compelled to transfer his company to three different theatres in the short space of three months. Now his managers, Messrs. Werba and Luescher, announce a fourth move beginning Monday, March 11, when the star and his clever play will follow Ethel Barymore at the Criterion Theatre. When Mr Mann learned that he would have to give up the Liberty Theatre some time ago he declared he would petition his friend, Mayor Gaynor, to allow him to pitch a tent in Long Acre Square rather than give his consent to taking "Elevating a Husband" away from New York. Fortunately his managers have made it unnecessary to play in a tent because the announce that they have now secured a lease on the Criterion from Charles Frohman. Throughout the perigrinations of "Elevating a Husband" Mr. Mann has been followed by enthusiastic audiences.

In order to complete the repertoire agreed upon by Mme. Simone and The Liebler Co., the French player will be seen in "Frou Frou" at the Hudson Theatre beginning March 18. Rostand's poetic drama "The Lady of Dreams," will be played all next week and then will come the Meilhac classic.

The Liebler Co. yesterday issued a number of figures in connection with the business done at the Century Theatre during the first 165 performances of "The Garden of Allah" at that playhouse. During this period, 302,973 people have witnessed the big Oriental spectacle, paying with a few dollars of $100,00 in at the box office windows. These figures are obtained from the daily box office count up or statements. The fact that almost one half of the total sales have been affected through the out-of-town bureau, the box offices in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and Newark, seems to indicate that "The Garden of Allah" has been accepted as a national institution, and one of the sights of the city. The play has been seen by more people during one uninterrupted engagement in a single theatre than any other theatrical attraction in the history of the seage.

CAUGHT BURGLAR BY CLEVER RUSE

Man Used Empty Beer Bottle as "Gun."

"DON'T SHOOT," IS PLEA.

Up Went Two Hands, and When the Police Arrived the Intruder Had Been Disarmed and Was Harmless—Chagrined When He Learned Trick.

Newark, N. J., March 16.—You got me, all right, but if I had known your weapon was a beer bottle instead of a revolver there would have been a different story," said a prisoner when he learned that he had been tricked into submission by a beer bottle. The prisoner gave the name of Joseph Foster, twenty-four years of age, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Foster was arrested by Policeman McLaughlin, but all the credit for it is given to Edward Wells, who worked the beer bottle trick. Foster was found in the cafe of William Gavagan, 14 Mechanic street. Wells lives directly over the store, and he heard Foster at work.

Tiptoefng down the stairs, unarmed, he grabbed up an empty beer bottle as he made his way into the saloon, where he saw Foster trying to open the cash register.

Wells leveled the beer bottle at Foster and ordered him to throw up his hands. Foster, catching sight of the supposed weapon pointed at him, yelled "Don't shoot!" and held up his hands. Wells made him turn his face to the wall while he took a blackjack and knife from the prisoner.

Wells then summoned Policeman McLaughlin, who arrested Foster. The prisoner was visibly chagrined when Wells told of the trick that had been played upon him.

MRS. WEINBERGER BECOMES A BRIDE

Wedded to Leon Livingston Manager of N. Y. Clothing Company Store.

BRIDE OWNS THE BUSINESS

Mrs. J. Newman, of Tarrytown, N. Y., Matron of Honor and Bridegroom's Father the Best Man—House Attractively Decorated.

Mrs. Bertha Weinberger and Leon Livingston were quietly married yesterday afternoon at the bride's home on Grove street by Rev. Dr. Pulvermacher, of Brooklyn. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of relatives and friends of the bride and bridegroom, from New York, Newark, Rockaway Beach and this city. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston will reside at 7 Grove street.

The bride was attended by Mrs. J. Newman, of Tarrytown, N. Y., as matron of honor. Mr. Livingston's father acted as best man. The home was attractively decorated with cut flowers, palms and ferns. Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served and an informal reception tendered the newly married couple.

Mrs. Weinberger has been a resident of this city for many years, and is widely known through her business connections with the New York Clothing Company, of which her late husband, the late Max Weinberger, was founder. Recently she took full control of the business. Mr. Livingston was engaged as manager, and under his direction has flourished. Prior to coming to this city he conducted a store at Rockaway Beach and for a time was in business in New York.

NARROW ESCAPE APLENTY MARK HORSE'S WILD DASH

A spirited bay horse gave Harry B. MacDonald, proprietor of the Central Livery stables, and a colored employe several close calls from injury in a runaway dash on Somerset street to Front street early Saturday night. Neither man was injured, but the horse was badly cut and skinned by falling on the brick pavement on West Front street.

Mr. MacDonald was driving. At Mountain avenue the animal began quickening its pace. Mr. MacDonald let it go for a block, and then tried to pull it in, only to find that the animal had the bit in its teeth.

In front of Albert Steiner's residence on Somerset street another vehicle was met and in the effort to avoid a collision Mr. MacDonald, by sheer strength, swung the horse to one side. One wheel of the carriage hit a stone hitching post and snapped it off like a piece of chalk.

Several pedestrians and other teamsters who attempted to grasp the runaway's bride had narrow escapes. As the horse tried to turn east on Front street from Somerset street, it lost its footing. Before it could rise Mr. MacDonald leaped from his seat and held it down. A number of men went to his assistance in quieting the bay.

MANY CHURCH MEMBERS AT MRS. YOUNG'S FUNERAL

The funeral service of Mrs. David K. Young was held yesterday afternoon at her late home on Westervelt avenue, and was largely attended by friends, including many members of the First Presbyterian church in which Mrs. Young was an active worker for years. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the service. He read appropriate Scripture selections, offered prayer and made a brief address.

There were a great many beautiful flowers, including tributes from the church societies. The burial was in Hillside cemetery and the pall bearers were W. H. Shotwell, J. M. Bettman, F. T. Dickerson, E. D. George, Howard A. Pope and Dr. N. W. Currie.

Song Service at City Farm.

A good sized delegation from the Park Avenue Baptist Sunday-school visited the Industrial Home yesterday afternoon, and gave a service of song that greatly cheered and helped the inmates. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, the pastor, accompanied his singers, and gave a talk on "Jesus, Our Personal Friend and Savior." All those in the Home expressed their appreciation of the service, and asked the visitors to come again.

Attracted by the close of the special offer period, in the contest which the Daily Press is conducting to send half a dozen young women from Plainfield and vicinity to Europe next summer, over two hundred people crowded into the office of the paper to watch the count of the ballots on Saturday night. Exceeding the expectations of both the publishers and the contestants, the total vote was run well over the million mark. The contest developed many surprises, not the least being that the winner of the diamond ring offered for the most votes turned in during the preceeding three weeks has not the highest total of votes cast since the ballot box was placed six weeks ago.

Miss Theresa McGinley, of the second district, who was an active worker in the contest but one week, won the ring, having a grand total during the special period of 69,865 votes. The watches were won by Miss Agnes Leighs, first district, 66,215; Miss Ethel Hudson, third district, 59,675; Miss Louise Meyer, fourth district, 63,850; Miss Florence Stevenson, fifth district, 19,740.

Although Miss McGinley won the ring, she is led for the tours in her own district by Miss Mabel Vail and Miss Elizabeth Bartlau, and Miss Agnes Leighs has a higher total for the entire contest in the first district. Miss Vail's total since the opening of the contest amounts to 80,155, while Miss Bartlau has 75,420. This leaves these two young women very much in the running for the tour, which, after all, was what they started working for when the contest opened.

The opening of the ballot box on Saturday night disclosed a heap of ballots and special vote coupons which packed the receptacle to the lid. A full hour and a half was spent by the contest manager and six assistants in counting and tabulating the contents of the box, while an audience of men and women filled the office to overflowing, cheering when a big vote was announced for favorites. It was a good natured and interested crowd, and they remained until the final vote was announced.

Not only were those mentioned the recipients of large numbers of votes, but the standing of several others was materially increased as a result of the efforts to win the ring and watches. Miss Henrietta Hansen, Mrs. Eva Atkinson, Miss Wilhemina Vroom, Miss Henrietta Enander, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Ida C. Smith, Miss Annie Singeilton, Miss Elizabeth Kiernan, Miss Sadie Purcell and Miss Elizabeth J. Brown all received thousands of votes during the three weeks, and brought their grand totals well up, at the same time demonstrating that they have a great amount of energy and popularity. Many of those mentioned did not care about the special prizes, and made no great effort to get votes in, preferring to withhold their votes for the final count.

The young women who won the watches will receive them in a few days, it having been arranged to have them marked with the initials of the successful ones, should they desire to have this done. Miss McGinley received the ring today.

Now that the special period is over, the main of the contest again looms up, and all interest for the next three weeks will center in the eight weeks' tour of Europe, conducted by Thomas Cook and Sons, which will come to the young women who are successful in the five districts, as well as to a chaperone, who will be selected by the contestant getting the highest vote in the entire contest. Three weeks from today the Daily Press will tell about the closing night.

The fact that over 1,000,000 votes have been cast, marks the contest as one of the most successful ever held

Miss Ruth Harris Resigns.

Miss Ruth Harris, soprano soloist at the First Baptist church for the past two years, has tendered her resignation to take effect May 1. She has accepted a similar position in one of the New York city churches. At the morning service yesterday, Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, the pastor, announced the above fact to the congregation, expressing the deep regret of all that Miss Harris is to leave the church.

PISCATAWAYTOWN CHURCH ENRICHED

St. James Episcopal Comes in For $66,000, Left by Wealthy Spinster.

ENDOWMENT NOW $106,000

Second Big Bequest Ancient Piscataway Parish Has Received—Present Pretty Structure Replaced a Building Tornado Razed in 1835.

It was announced in New Brunswick Saturday by Rev. E. B. Joyce, rector of Christ church, and also of St. James church of Piscataway-town, that the Piscataway church will receive a legacy of $66,000 from the estate of Miss Ellen Coltheal, who died in New York about a year and a half ago and who was buried in the old burying ground at Piscataway.

Miss Coltheal had always been interested in the church. She was a brother-in-law of General Swords, in whose memory a handsome monument was recently erected in Trinity church yard New York.

Miss Coltheal made her sister, Mrs. Rhinelander, of New York, her residuary legatee, giving her the use of the estate during her life time and providing that upon her death it shall go to the St. James church. Mrs. Rhinelander died recently and the estate will now be transferred to the trustees of the Diocese of New Jersey, for the use of St. James. The money is to be invested by the rector, vestry and the warden of the Piscataway town church and the income devoted to that parish. Later the whole sum will revert to the church.

This is the second bequest of this nature that the church has received, the other being about $40,000. The church is one of the oldest in the State, having passed its two hundredth birthday. It is older than Christ church, New Brunswick. Rev. Mr. Joyce has been rector of it for over twenty years. When he came to New Brunswick as assistant to Rev. Alfred Stubbs he was placed in charge of this church and later he became its rector.

The old church property was entirely destroyed by the tornado of June 19, 1835, and the present pretty structure was then built. For many years the late Captain Smith was the chief supporter of the church and managed to keep it in existence.

SOMERSET BOARD VOTES TO REMOVE OLD BRIDGE

Stine's old bridge will soon be a memory. The relic of other days of bridge building perfection was inspected by the Somerset County Board of Freeholders this morning and at a meeting held in the North Plainfield Council chamber a resolution was passed declaring it inadequate to the needs of the community, besides being somewhat of a menace to the safety of the traveling public.

In place of the historic structure which spans Stony brook at West End avenue, will be erected either a single span of re-enforced concrete, or an iron-span concrete-floor bridge, of the latest pattern, with a throat not less than 60 feet wide and the bridge top the same width to conform with the approaching roadway on either side of the brook. The board members were unanimous for the change.

When the Freeholders were inspecting the bridge they were accompanied by Mayor Clark, former Mayor N. B. Smalley, and Councilmen Woolston, Milne, VanArsdale and Stahl.

SENATE VOTES $150,000 FOR FEDERAL BUILDING

Postmaster E. H. Bird has received a telegram from United States Senator James E. Martine informing him that on Saturday the Senate passed the bill authorizing $150,000 for Plainfield's proposed new Federal building. There was no word of explanation, but Mr. Bird believes that the action means that a total of $150,000 has been appropriated for the new postoffice. The original appropriation was $100,000, of which sum about $20,000 was expended for land on Watchung avenue. Then followed the introduction of a bill in the United States Senate to secure an additional $50,000.

It is Mr. Bird's opinion that it was this bill which passed the Senate on Saturday. It will now have to go to the House.

It has been estimated that an absolutely fire-proof building can be erected for $120,000. There seems to be no question but that the sum would cover all expenses

SURPRISE LINEN SHOWER FOR PROSPECTIVE BRIDE

Mrs. S. S. Schuyler, of Belvidere avenue, gave a linen shower at her home, Saturday afternoon, for Miss Grace Weeks, formerly of this city, but now of New York, whose marriage to A. L. C. Marsh, of this city, will take place in the near future. There were about twenty-five guests, all intimate friends of Miss Weeks.

The "shower" was somewhat in the nature of a surprise. After all had gathered in the parlor, Mrs. Schuyler's six-year-old son, Van-Rensselaer Schuyler, dressed to represent "St. Patrick," entered the room with an armful of packages for Miss Weeks. Each one was tied up with green ribbon. Much enjoyment followed in opening the packages. They contained beautiful gifts for Miss Weeks.

During the afternoon the guests enjoyed a game of bridge. The prize winners were Mrs. J. F. Trow, Jr., Mrs. G. H. O'Donnell, Miss Grace Weeks and Miss Bogardus. The decorations were appropriate to St. Patrick's Day.

GET-TOGETHER DINNER MARKS 2 ANNIVERSARIES

Two anniversaries will be marked by the Get-together Club at the Waldorf Hotel tonight, that of St. Patrick and its won. It will be the fourth formal dinner of the club.

It is expected that 150 covers will be laid. Andrew McCardwell will preside, and George J. Tobin will fill the role of toastmaster. Pierre P. Garven, of Jersey City, will speak on "Life of St. Patrick;" Charles X. O'Brien, of Jersey City, on "Irish in America;" Edward J. Sweeney, of Bayonne, on "Irish Character;" former Judge William N. Runyon, of this city, will make addreses on "The Success of the Irish;" and John J. Carroll, of this city, will speak on "Ireland: Her sufferings and Her Hopes."

As the topics asigned to the speakers, indicate the Club pays a good bit more attention to St. Patrick's anniversary than its own.

"HONEY BOY" MINSTRELS AT THE THEATRE TONIGHT.

In addition to being one of the singing stars of George Evans' "Honey Boy" Minstrels, Vaughn Comfort will again occupy the interlocutor's chair when the minstrels appear at the Plainfield theatre tonight. The position in the centre of the semi-circle of a minstrel first part is by no means an easy one to fill, and Vaughn Comfort is said to be the best interlocutor in the world of minstrelsy. The end man is dependent upon his co-worker in the centre for the success of his jokes, the leader of the orchestra takes his cue from the middle man for the introduction of the music for the sweet singers, the light effects are guided by a sign from the man who presides in the center chair, in fact, every detail of the introductory portion of a minstrel entertainment must be at the command of the interlocutor. He reigns supreme in this part of the show. Vaughn Comfort is particularly fitted for this important chair and has filled it for many years with the largest minstrel organizations in the world.

BORO SCHOOLS TO LOSE SUPERVISING PRINCIPAL

H. C. Krebs Will Resign In Order to Devote Full Time to County Superintendency, as New Law Demands.

H. C. Krebs, supervising principal of the North Plainfield schools and superintendent of the Somerset county schools, announced today that owing to the passage of a bill requiring county superintendents to devote their entire time to the position, he would give up his position as head of the borough schools. His resignation as supervising principal will be laid before the North Plainfield School Board at the April meeting. The new county superintendents' law goes into effect July 1. The North Plainfield school term closes June 30 and Mr. Krebs will serve until that date.

Regret is felt and expressed over the loss of Mr. Kreb's services as principal. He is to remain a resident of the borough. The law that compels him to give all his time to the superintendency increases the salary of the position.

Mr. Krebs announced his coming resignation in the following statement:

"While this bill compels a choice between the two positions I now hold, it is also true that I decided a year ago to resign as supervising principal of the borough schools, because after ten years of service in two constantly increasing fields of work such course seemed advisable. The county superintendency offers a broader field than a principalship, and is a State position.

"I greatly regret severing my close relationship with the teachers of the school, and with the pupils and parents of the borough; but for the reasons above mentioned I shall present my resignation to the Board of Education at the proper time, to take effect at the close of the present school year.

CELEBRATE THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Beeken, of Fanwood, Hold "At Home" on Anniversary.

GUESTS RECEIVE SURPRISE

Most of Them Don't Know the Entertainment Is In Honor of a Special Occasion Until They Reach the House.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. Beeken, of North avenue, Netherwood, issued invitations for an informal "at home," Saturday afternoon and evening, and when the guests arrived they were pleasantly surprised to learn that the occasion marked the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of the host and hostess.

Mrs. Beeken wore the gown in which she was married a quarter of a century ago. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Burton P. Hall, Mrs. William E. Gibbs, Mrs. William Hoar, Mrs. Wright Babcock, Mrs. R. L. Thomae and Mrs. J. H. Thompson, and they were assisted by Mrs. Oscar Graham, Mrs. Edward Howe, Mrs. Richard Tull, Miss Hazel Gardner, Miss Dorothy Hoar, Miss Florence Nicholl, Miss Bessie Babcock, Miss Janet Carter, Miss Ethel Kyte and Mrs. Dorothy Beeken.

An interesting feature was the presence of Mrs. Beeken's four bridesmaids, Mrs. E. T. Everett, Mrs. W. A. Beeken and Miss Anna Lazell, of Brooklyn, and Miss J. F. Darling, of Mendon, Mass. There were about 150 guests present during the afternoon and evening and all thoroughly enjoyed the informality of the occasion. The home was attractively decorated with yellow tulips and pink carnations, many of the flowers being gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Beeken.

Mr. and Mrs. Beeken were married twenty-five years ago Saturday in Brooklyn, their home, Rev. Dr. J. B. Thomas, who was then pastor of the First Baptist church, Brooklyn, performing the ceremony. Three years later the couple removed to Fanwood, where they have lived ever since. They are active members of the Baptist church at Scotch Plains, Mr. Beeken having served as a deacon for many years.

COLORED CHOIR SINGER ARRESTED DURING SERVICE.

Mrs. Mary Booker, colored, of East Third street, a choir singer at Calvary Baptist church, said something a few days ago to which the pastor, the Rev. G. W. Bailey, objected. He told her she would have to apologize before all the congregation before she could sing in the choir again.

She tried to sing in the church at a service yesterday afternoon, and the pastor is said to have protested. Hampton Probasco, who is a special policeman, left his place in the congregation and started to eject the woman from the choir. The uproar that followed terminated in the arrest of Mrs. Booker and her husband, Lewis Booker. It also broke up the service.

There was an animated hearing in the police court this morning, at the close of which City Judge William G. DeMeza dismissed the cases.

The third annual ball of the Yama Yama Social Club will be held tonight in Saengerbund Hall. This promises to be the most successful event ever given by the club.

MISS ANNA SHAW DIES AFTER LONG INVALIDISM

Miss Anna E. Shaw, aged about 70 years, sister of R. J. Shaw, the West Front street druggist, died this morning at her home on East Second street. Although an invalid for many years it was only during the past two months that her condition was considered critical. Miss Shaw was born near Newton, Sussex county.

Miss Shaw was a member of the First Presbyterian church. She is survived by two brothers, R. J. Shaw and William Shaw, both of this city. The funeral will be held at the late home Wednesday night at 8 o'clock and will be private. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

Special Solo at Trinity.

At Trinity Reformed church yesterday morning the congregation was favored at offertory with a soprano solo by Miss Lillian Danielson, of Plattekill, N. Y., a niece of A. L. Force. Miss Danielson is at present studying with Mr. E. S. Campbell, of East Orange, N. J., at his Newark studio. Her selection was "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings," by Liddle and was rendered in a very pleasing manner. Miss Danielson's voice is smooth, well sustained and sympathetic, and her rendition was especially creditable for its distinct enunciation, a feature so often disregarded by church singers, and yet so much value in rendering sacred music. Trinity hopes to be favored again by Miss Danielson in the near future.

CHIEF KIELY SEES GOV. WILSON HOME

Gets up Out of Bed to Pilot Auto From Here to Princeton.

AN EARLY MORNING APPEAL

Chauffeur's Lack of Road Knowledge Leads to a Pause in Plainfield on the Governor's Way From Montclair to His Home.

Answering an appeal for guidance that came into headquarters at 1 o'clock, yesterday morning, Chief of Police Kiely got out of bed and piloted an automobile in which Governor Woodrow Wilson was the chief passenger from this city to Princeton. Princeton is where the Governor lives.

The Governor spoke at a St. Patrick's dinner in Elizabeth Saturday night, and went from the county seat to Montclair, where he made an another address. It was late when the Chief Magistrate of the State was ready to go home, train connections were out of the question, so Mayor Hinck, of Montclair, placed his limousine at the service of the Governor.

The chauffeur knew the road from Montclair to Princeton as far as this city. Beyond this city the roads were totally strange to him.

Just before the party set out from Montclair at 1 o'clock, Mayor Hinck called up police headquarters here and asked that a man be detailed to meet the limousine and pilot the car to Princeton. Captain Frederickson called up Chief Kiely and told him of the request.

"Nobody in the department knows the road to Princeton any better than I do," said the Chief, "the Governor is the Governor, and I guess it's up to me to be the pilot."

The Chief was at headquarters door when the limousine drew up shortly before 1:30 o'clock. Following brief introductions, and general handshaking, the Chief climbed up beside the chauffeur and the Governor's uncertainty as to his chances of reaching Princeton during the night were over.

MAYOR MOY PRESIDES AT MT. OLIVE SERVICE

Dedicatory services were continued at the Mt. Olive Baptist church, colored, yesterday, and in the afternoon there was a citizens' meeting at which Mayor W. V. Moy presided. The Mayor is a Baptist. Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire, of the Park Avenue Baptist church, the Mayor's pastor, made the principal address. It was announced and expected that President W. L. Gloak and George S. Clay would also speak, but they failed to appear. Mr. Clay informed the committee that a previous engagement would prevent his attendance.

The pastor, Rev. Dr. M. W. Vaughan, introduced Mayor Moy. The latter gave a brief talk on "Character Building," after congratulating the pastor and members on the completion of a commodious and substantial house of worship. Mr. Moy said that if the church was to succeed its members must have strong characters, they must be good citizens and obey the laws and thereby help him to enforce the laws and ordinances.

"Go Forward" was the subject of a strong address by Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire. He urged his hearers to give their bodies as a living sacrifice to the service of God, to consecrate themselves and to give the very best that was in themselves toward the upbuilding of Christ's kingdom.

Rev. Dr. W. P. Lawrence, pastor of the Union Baptist church, of Orange, preached at the morning service, with T. C. Woody, of Roselle, presiding. In the evening, Rev. Dr. W. T. Watkins, president of the Baptist Young People's Union State Convention, preached the sermon, with C. H. Hunter, secretary of the Afro-American Sunday school convention, presiding. Tonight Rev. E. D. Samuels, of the North Clinton Baptist church, East Orange, will preach. Rev. A. D. Jones, of the Shiloh Baptist church, Elizabeth, will preside.

Plainfield, N. J., March 18, 1912.

A truly distinguished American, of whom in recent years we have heard but little, passed the "great bourne" when Rear Admiral George Wallace Melville died at his home in Philadelphia yesterday. He represented the old school of United States naval officers and by his death the navy's retired list loses one of its most picturesque figures. While in the public mind, he was known chiefly as a recognized authority on Arctic research, he had made his impress in other fields.

After receiving some education at public and private schools in New York city, where he was born, Melville entered the navy in 1861 as a third assistant engineer. From this humble position, by his own efforts, he rose to the exalted office he held at the time of his retirement. During the Civil War, he served with distinction with the North and South Atlantic Squadrons and also with the Wilkes Flying Squadron.

It was not until 1879 that Melville made his first trip to the Arctic. Three times he went to the North polar regions, the last being the historic Greely relief expedition. For sixteen years, subsequently, he was chief of the bureau of steam engineering, and finally in 1899 was made a rear admiral, being retired five years later. During his active career he had made designs for 120 ships of various types. Since his retirement he had been a busy man. What is known as the turbine reduction gear, in naval language, is among his inventions. This has been installed on several U. S. battleships and much is expected of it by the Government. The admiral frequently contributed to scientific and military journals. In recognition of his services to the Government as a writer, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Georgetown, Columbia and other institutions of learning had bestowed upon him honorary degrees.

Some highly interesting statistics regarding illiteracy in this country, as gathered from the thirteenth census enumeration, has just been made known by the Government. The figures are chiefly interesting because they show that the decrease in illiteracy during the ten years previous to 1910 was three per cent. In the latter year, there were 71,580,270 inhabitants of ten years or older in the United States. Of this number 5,517,608 were unable to read or write; that is, 7.7 per cent. of the population. Of the native whites, only three per cent. were illiterates; while 12.8 per cent. of the foreign born whites were in this class. The percentage of colored people who could neither read nor write was 30.5 per cent.

In 1900 the percentage of illiteracy was 10.7 and the decline for the succeeding ten years was 7.7 per cent. for the total population. Among the colored folks the decrease for the ten years was exactly 10 per cent. It is not to be wondered that the illiteracy is decreasing in this country, where the percentage of people who can read and write is the greatest of any country in the world, since this is the only land where education is absolutely free; in fact where education is compulsory.

No new bills will be introduced in the Legislature after tomorrow and the remainder of the session until the closing day, March 26, will be taken up with the final consideration and decision on measures of greater or lesser importance already presented. Nothing has been attempted with the Employers' Liability law or the Public Utility law and it is predicted by as well informed a correspondent as Charles R. Bacon that none of the proposed amendments to these statutes will be passed. Some few important amendments to the Corrupt Practices act have been under consideration but their fate is in doubt. If they go through the Legislature safely, it is not unlikely that the Governor may exercise his veto. One of the most important measures yet to be passed upon is the Congressional re-districting plan. Among the matters, considered by the politicians as of lesser importance, is the equal suffragists' resolution. It is generally believed that there is not the slightest hope for favorable action on this. As a matter of fact the resolution will be killed.

The reasons given by Senator Smith, of South Carolina, as to why Democrats have in the field. His work either Clark or Underwood, for the Democratic presidential nomination, expresses clearly the views of most men of that political faith. Of New Jersey's Governor, Smith says:

"He, of course, as a student, a college president, would be considered, and is considered by a great number, a theorist, that is, an impractical one. But his every utterance indicates that he has a clear comprehension of the fact that the so-called 'practical politics' is but another name for the corrupt and corrupting tendencies that must sooner or later undermine the very foundation of our republican form of government, but increasing the army of malcontents as well as the unjustly protected number of those specially favored.

"I believe that Governor Wilson is the most available candidate that the he favors Wilson, in preference to as governor of New Jersey in bringing into the fold of Democracy a State otherwise hopelessly Republican; his elimination of boss rule and corruption in that State illustrate his ability to put into practice as a national executive the theory that he advocates."

The bill passed by the Legislature requiring that county superintendents of schools devote their entire time to the duties of their office has caused North Plainfield to lost a most efficient and most likeable supervising principal of schools. H. C. Krebs, the honored incumbent of that office, has tendered his resignation. Under his wise administration the borough schools have been excellently conducted and the standard of work has been greatly improved. But what is North Plainfield's loss is Somerset county's gain, and it is very pleasing to learn that Mr. Krebs as county superintendent will continue to be of service to the borough. We speak, we believe, for the good people of the borough, at least for those who take an interest in its schools, in wishing the retiring supervising principal continued prosperity in his future career.

PHYSICAL WORK EXHIBIT BY MT. ST. MARY'S GIRLS

The pupils of Mt. St. Mary's college gave an exhibition of physical work and folk dances at the Park Club Saturday afternoon. The Glee Club and the vocal class of the college gave a number of selections. A large number of parents of the pupils and out of town teachers were present.

Miss Loretta E. Nolan delivered an address of welcome. Miss Isabelia Mullen sang and Miss Irene Duchesne made a short address.

Those taking part in the drills and folk dances were the Misses Marie Whalen, Marie Tobin, Minnie Taylor, and Catherine Schafer, of Plainfield; Alice Viola Lang, Margaret McCormick, Catherine Slattery and Elizabeth Hunt, of Bound Brook; Beulah Ayres, of Dunellen, and Pearl Jones, Trenton, Anita Maguire, South Bethlehem, Loise Scheafnocker, Pittsburgh. Scotch Reel, in costume, Marie Tobin, Pearl Jones, Lois Scheafnocker and Minnie Taylor. Csardas, Hungarian, by 20 young ladies and solo in costume by Frances O'Hara.

DR. HERRING ON LIFE AND FAITH OF ST. PATRICK

Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, delivered an interesting sermon last night appropriate to St. Patrick's Day. In part he said:

"Today is the anniversary of the death of the great apostle to Ireland, Patrick, and the study of the sincere Christian faith of this great missionary should be a great inspiration to every Christian man and woman. I am basing my knowledge of the Christian character of the man on his 'confession' and his 'Letter to Coroticus.'

"From these we learn that at sixteen years of age he was carried a captive to Ireland, and for six years after that he kept flocks for his master near Ballymena, thirty miles north of Belfast. Even though his father and grandfather were ardent Christians, he confessed at the time of his capture that he 'did not know the true God,' but that soon the consciousness of 'God's love more and more inflamed his heart.'

"Providence opened the way for his return home, but after some years, the desire burned in his soul to return to the Irish people whom he loved, and to whom he would preach the gospel. He labored in Ireland until his death, March 17, 455 A. D. Such are the simple facts of his life.

"These are the striking lessons of that life. His 'Confession' was written not for personal glorification but simply to acknowledge the goodness of the Lord to him. Not only does his humility exhibit itself in the 'Confessions,' but also his wonderful love for the Bible. In these two short compositions he quotes the Scripture some forty-three times.

"He was a believer in unceasing prayer. In the six years that he was captive, he tells us that he prayed a hundred times a day and as many times at night. Is it any wonder that he was a man of such spiritual wisdom? What a wonderful faith in God he had! There is inspiration in such a life. Let us follow Christ with this same devotion."

THIRD SERMON IN SERIES ON LORD'S SECOND COMING

"How Will He Come?" was the subject of Rev. Gabriel Read's Maguire's sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church, last night, the third of a series of special discourses on "The Lord's Second Coming." The church was filled to overflowing with worshippers and it was necessary to open the Sunday-school room for the second time since the series began.

Mr. Maguire said in part: "The coming of the Lord is often spoken of as the death of His saints. This is absolutely false. It is quite common to hear a minister of the gospel quote at a funeral service, 'In such an hour as yet think not, the Son of Man cometh.'

"How does He come? Our text declares that 'this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into Heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into Heaven,' meaning, in the flesh. There are three distinct points: First, Jesus was once in human form upon the earth; second, Jesus appeared in His resurrected body of flesh and bones forty days after His ascension; third, Jesus Christ in like fashion is coming back to this earth again."

MRS. ARTHUR McVOY GIVES CHARMING PINK LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Arthur McVoy, of West Fourth street, near Grant avenue, gave a pink luncheon at her home Saturday afternoon as a farewell to Mrs. Alonzo Brokaw, of Grandview avenue, Mrs. Harry Kartscher and her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Neff, of Grant avenue, all of whom are to leave the city in a short time. Sixteen guests were in attendance. Mrs. Neff poured tea and Mrs. Brokaw poured chocolate. The favors were miniature dress suit cases.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Neff and Mrs. Harry Joseph gave recitations and Mrs. H. W. Woodward contributed a number of delightful piano selections.

Mrs. Brokaw is to make her home in Virginia, while Mrs. Kartscher and Mrs. Neff will soon remove to Philadelphia.

Democrats to Meet.

The Plainfield Democratic Club will meet tomorrow night, when several papers will be read on the subject of "Commission Form of Government." Business of considerable importance will be transacted.

Rogers as Carlyle Saw Him.

Carlyle gives this striking picture of Samuel Rogers, the poet: "I saw Rogers awhile ago at dinner with Taylor, a half frozen, old, sardonic Whig gentleman; no hair at all, but one of the whitest bare scalps; blue eyes, shrewd, sad and cruel; toothless, horseshoe mouth drawn up to the very nose; slow, croaking, sarcastic insight, perfect breeding—staterooms where you are welcomed even with flummery; internally a Bluebeard's chamber, where none but the proprietor enters."

WILL NOT GO FAR FROM OYSTER BAY

Roosevelt to Make No Country Wide Tours.

WILL EVADE THE SOUTH.

Principal Tour of the Campaign Will Take the Colonel to the Middle West For a Few Days—Short Visit to New England Will Follow.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 18.—Colonel Roosevelt will make no country wide speechmaking tour during his campaign. A trip beginning this week and lasting only a week or less, in which the colonel will speak in St. Louis, Chicago and Minneapolis or St. Paul, will be the principal trip of the campaign.

The colonel will start out this week. On the return he will meet the people of a number of states, it is expected, in informal speeches from the rear platform of his train. It is definitely planned for him to do this in West Virginia, Governor Glasscock's state. This trip will be followed the week after, beginning April 1, by a run into New England, the colonel speaking at Boston and Concord. The visit to New England is regarded of much importance in view of the new direct preferential presidential primary law that has just been enacted in Massachusetts. The date for this primary is April 30. The colonel may also be heard at Portland, Me., although it is probable that he will not, as it is feared the primaries will have been held by the time he could reach there.

Following the New England trip comes a short junket to Philadelphia and Newark.

There is to be no speechmaking in the south. Workers in the Roosevelt cause feel that there is no call to contend against an organization in states where they declare the Republican party is nothing but a filmy structure of unrealities with a scattering of voters controlled by patronage and means other than political arguments; also the colonel is not going to Pittsburgh, which is construed by some to mean that the Roosevelt forces feel confident of success in western Pennsylvania.

It is considered that Colonel Roosevelt cannot make a broadly extended tour and will therefore spend the bulk of his time during the campaign for the nomination in Oyster Bay. The aim of the managers is that he appear before his own people and gather in support through the local newspapers in those strategic sections of the country where are located the people who believe in progressive Republican ideas. Therefore it is the concentration on the west, particularly Missouri and Kansas and the Illinois and Minnesota territory, from which the whole west may be tapped.

Before the colonel's traveling begins, however, there is work to be done in New York. The opening campaign speech in Carnegie hall on Wednesday night starts it off, but before the colonel leaves New York he is to get to the people that he considers his strongest friends in his fight for progressive ideas, the people of the east side. A big meeting in an east side hall is planned to follow the Carnegie hall speech on either Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week.

Colonel Roosevelt in reply to a question as to whether he would expect control of the national committee said that he did not. He did ask them, he said, for a square deal in seating delegates, but would ask nothing as to their position on President Taft or himself.

The colonel tomorrow will go to New York to meet Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel on their return from Panama, coming back to Oyster Bay with them the same day.

TAFT ON FIRST BALLOT.

President's Manager Claims One-fourth Enough Votes Already Pledged.

Washington, March 18.—President Taft will be nominated on the first ballot in the Republican national convention to be held in Chicago on June 18.

This is the substance of a statement made by Representative William B. McKinley of Illinois, director of the Taft campaign. Director McKinley pointed out that 135 delegates have already been pledged or instructed for Mr. Taft. This is about one-fourth of the number necessary to nominate.

Senator Dixon made public another letter to Mr. McKinley on the subject of presidential primaries, reiterating his challenge and announcing Colonel Roosevelt's indorsement of the challenge.

PRESIDENT AT BOSTON.

Will Make Three Speeches In Territory Said to Favor Roosevelt.

Boston, March 18.—President Taft arrived here this morning, where he is spending the day. Tomorrow he will make speeches at Manchester, Nashua and Concord, N. H., where there is said to be some Roosevelt sentiment.

Mr. Taft will return to Washington early Wednesday morning.

Rosewater Chairman.

New York, March 18.—Victor Rosewater of Omaha, vice chairman of the Republican national committee, has been appointed acting chairman of the committee in place of the late John F. Hill, ex-governor of Maine.

—They took the chevrons from his sleeve
And threw him out of the corps,
Because he always would believe
His daily drill was a bore.

Woman's World

Wives of Prominent Democrats to Have Harmony Feast.

MRS. CHAMP CLARK—MRS. WOODROW WILSON.

A Dolly Madison May time breakfast which will bring together the wives of Democratic leaders throughout the country is planned for May 20 by Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house; Mrs. Henry D. Clayton, wife of Representative Clayton of Alabama, and Mrs. Oscar W. Underwood, wife of the leader of the majority in the lower branch of congress. The breakfast is designed to bring together the women of the party in much the same fashion as the men come together from time to time at the festal banquet board for good fellowship and mutual acquaintanceship.

It will be held at one of the big hotels in Washington, and the list of those to be invited as guests of honor includes Mrs. Grover Cleveland of New Jersey, widow of former President Cleveland; Mrs. Bryan, wife of William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, who three times has been the national standard bearer of the party; Mrs. Alton Brooks Parker, wife of Judge Parker of New York, who once was the Democratic presidential candidate, and Mrs. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, whose husband was vice president during one of former President Cleveland's administrations.

Mrs. Clark is to be the toastmistress of the occasion, and the list of those who are eligible as guests will include the wives of Democratic members of the senate and house, of members of former Democratic cabinets, of the Democratic governors, governors elect or Democratic nominees for governor of the Democratic justices of the supreme court, of the Democratic national committee members and of prominent Democratic residents of the district and the country at large.

The occasion, it is pointed out, will take especial significance from the characteristic attributes of Dolly Madison, the patron saint chosen by the women of the democracy, who was one of the most forceful women who ever presided over the White House.

When a Woman Buys Pajamas.

The designing haberdasher can indicate the occupant of a polo coat that has just whizzed out his front door with a bundle under her arm.

"That young woman," said he emphatically, "bought those sunset pink pajamas to wear herself, and I deduce furthermore, that she is not married. You can't help noticing little things like that when you look at events with your eyes open.

"How do I know? Let your own ears be the jury. Here's what happened when she bought 'em:

"She wanted to look at some pajamas, and there was a sort of vocal blush in her voice when she added hastily that they were for her husband. What size did she want, I inquired.

"Well, er—a—she wasn't sure. But she just happened to remember that her husband was about as high and as wide as she was, and she could tell by holding up the garments and measuring the arms whether they would fit him or not. That ancient dodge is as transparent as a plate glass window fresh from the chamois—and they all use it.

"If she had really been buying a slumber suit for her husband she would have told me the size of his shirts and left me to judge by that. I would also call your attention to that sunset color.

"Accept direct from one that's in the business, the average man is about as conservative and careful about the shade of his mattress uniform as he is about that of his street clothes. He might let his wife buy him neckties—his pajamas seldom, if ever."

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

RHUBARB RECIPES.

ALTHOUGH rhubarb is not a fruit, but the footstalk of the leaves of the rhubarb plant, most of us are accustomed to think of it as a fruit.

Rhubarb has valuable medicinal qualities. Stewing is one of the simplest ways of serving it and has the advantage of preserving all its tonic properties. Rhubarb is an excellent food for those who suffer from impaired digestions or a sluggish liver.

Old Fashioned Ways of Serving.

Dates and Rhubarb.—This is recommended for breakfast. Remove the seeds from a half pound of dates. Place in a porcelain saucepan and cover with water. Cut enough rhubarb into one-half inch slices to fill a cup six times and put into the saucepan with the dates. Cook with the lid on the saucepan till the rhubarb is tender. Sweeten to taste.

Steamed Rhubarb.—Wash and cut up stalks of rhubarb without peeling. Put in the top of the double boiler to steam. Add sugar and cook until the rhubarb is soft. Use a cupful of sugar to a pint of rhubarb.

Never stir steamed rhubarb.

Pretty Desserts.

Rhubarb Mold.—Put a little water into a porcelain saucepan, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar. Allow to boil for five minutes. Wash and slice one pound of rhubarb. Add it to the boiling sirup. Allow to cook very slowly for half an hour. Then rub through a sieve. Add one tablespoonful of powdered gelatin dissolved in half a cupful of boiling water with a few drops of red coloring. Beat one cupful of cream till stiff, then fold carefully into the mixture. Pour into a wet mold. When firm turn out on a glass dish and ornament with lady fingers.

Rhubarb Cream.—Wash and cut up several stalks of rhubarb. Put it into a baking dish which has been rinsed with cold water, cover closely and let it cook in a moderately hot oven until it is quite soft. The rhubarb must be stirred from time to time to prevent it from burning. On taking it from the oven sweeten, add the grated rind of a lemon and pass through a sieve. Whip some cream, sweeten it and mix it by degrees with an equal quantity of the prepared rhubarb and add a few drops of red coloring. Fill some fancy dishes with the cream and serve with a glace cherry on the top of each.

Small Bows of Velvet a Favorite Trimming.

Small bows of black velvet are much used to trim blouses.

White velvet, perishable and pretty, is growing in favor for millinery, but, like all things white, must be spotless or it is inexcusable.

Tunic effects are very good style for the little girl this season, and this little dress is charming, while perfectly simple and youthful.

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

SOMERVILLE WATER CO., WON $80,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Somerville, March 18.—"No cause for action" was the verdict the jury in the $80,000 damage suit of Michael Baum, proprietor of the Carbon Stove Works, against the Somerville Water Company, brought in Friday night. It was an important victory for the company.

The suit, the first of its kind in this State, had been brought to determine the public duty of a water company to an individual in maintaining a reasonable amount of water pressure at the municipal fire hydrants to protect property against loss by fire. Plaintiff contended that through an inadequate water pressure his works and the Somerville Iron Works in East Somerville were destroyed by fire July 8, 1909.

The plaintiff has filed an application for a new trial, and the case is likely to come up for a hearing in the Supreme Court, April 16. It was understood at the beginning of the trial that the case in any event was to be carried up in order that Court of Errors and Appeals might pass on the question of the duty of a public service corporation to the individual as a decision in this case is of vital importance to the insurance companies and to the water companies doing business in the State. The insurance company paid fire losses aggregating $100,000 on the East Somerville fire which they claim could have been checked with a loss of a few dollars if the water company had fulfilled its public duty.

In view of Judge Benjamin Vail's charge to the jury, the verdict came as a surprise to even the defendants who expected nothing more than a disagreement.

Judge Vail charged the jury to the effect that it was the duty of the defendant as a public service corporation to keep a reasonable amount of pressure for fire purposes on its mains at all times and if the jury found the defendant had failed to do this and that Baum's property had been destroyed by fire, as the result of this neglect, then a verdict should be found for the plaintiff for the actual value of his building and their contents.

The court said that the amount of money which the plaintiff has received from the insurance companies was not to be taken into consideration. The court called the attention of the jury to evidence offered by the plaintiff to the effect that when the fire started in a small pile of lumber outside of the plant, three different lines of hose, two of which were attached to fire hydrants, when they found the pressure so weak that a stream of only two or three feet ran from the nozzles of the hose, which was insufficient to extinguish the fire which at the time had gained but slight headway.

SELECT NEW BRUNSWICK FOR C. E. CONVENTION.

Elizabeth, March 18.—The twenty-sixth annual convention of the New Jersey Christian Endeavor Union will be held in the First Reformed church, New Brunswick, October 2, 3 and 4 next. All Christian Endeavor societies in Middlesex county will co-operate in the welcome to be extended to the delegates, and a committee is securing funds and obtaining the names of those who will entertain visitors.

President Sproull has announced that, in addition to the usual awards for growth and excellence, he will present a suitable reward to the county showing the State convention the largest proportionate number of societies engaged actively in the efficiency campaign.

New Jersey Endeavorers have pledged $1,000 toward the fund for erecting a headquarters building at Boston for the United Society of Christian Endeavor. Effort will be made to secure this amount as speedily as possible, and all societies having in custody the dime banks distributed for the purpose of raising money for the building are asked to return them at once to Mr. Sproull at Arlington.

DENIED LODGING, HE STARTS SMASHING UP THE TOWN.

Netcong, March 18.—Because he had been refused a night's lodging earlier in the evening, Joseph Burke, thirty years old, who says his home is at 300 East Twenty-third street, New York, went on rampage early Saturday morning. Before he was arrested he had broken out half a dozen or more plate-glass windows, bombarded the home of Mayor Elmer King and smashed several signal lights along the railroad tracks. He has been committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Burke, who was a stranger to Netcong until Friday approached Patrolman Frank Boyer Saturday, asking for lodging. Boyer saw that the man was big and husky, and, as he explained afterward, "well able to take care of himself." His request for lodging was refused.

At 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning Burke began his rampage.

YOUNSTERS HOLD GOLF TITLES HERE

In Europe, Foremost Players Are Men Well on in Years.

M'DERMOTT A CONTRAST

When the Open Champion of the U. S. Plays in Scotland He Will Compete With Men Many Years Older.

The advance of John J. McDermott, open champion of the United States, on the British title at Muirfield, Scotland, will afford one of the most striking contrasts between golf in this country and Great Britain in that youth leads in the United States, while age is at the forefront abroad.

It has been suggested that if we were to select the twenty leading amateurs on this side of the big pond not more than five of them would be men who have passed the thirty-five-year-old mark. Chick Evans, the Chicago marvel, the first American amateur to win a big event open to professionals, left the Northwestern university when he was a junior to enter business. He is generally regarded as America's most representative golfer. Albert Seckel, who won the western amateur championship last year, is a student at Princeton. Henry Heyburn, the Pennsylvania state champion, is an undergraduate at the University of Pennsylvania.

Jerome D. Travers, the metropolitan and New Jersey state title holder, is still in the twenties. All the leading players in Chicago, a city famed for its big players, are men who are either in college or have but recently graduated. Prominent among them, in addition to Evans and Secke, are Mason Phelps, a former western champion; Warren K. Wood, national runner up in 1910; D. E. Sawyer and Paul and Robert E. Hunter. The same is true of the New York players. Of the older players there are only Walter J. Travis, Findlay Douglas and John M. Ward.

Our present national open champion, John McDermott, the Philadelphia boy who is the professional at the Country club at Atlantic City, is only twenty-two years old.

Abroad the leading golfers, both amateur and professional, are men in the forties. Harold Hilton, the international champion, is past forty, as is John Ball. These two men have held the British amateur championship between them for years. The leading professionals, Harry Vardon, James Braid, Taylor, Duncan and other big "pros," are approaching the half century mark.

LOCAL BOWLERS IN N. B. A. MATCHES TONIGHT.

Among the pinners at the National Bowling Tournament in Paterson tonight will be two local five-men teams bowling under the names of the Olympias and the Elks. Tuesday afternoon and night the same men will shoot in the two men and individual events.

National bowling tournaments are nothing new to the members of the Elks' quintet as the "big five" rolled in the New York and Baltimore tournaments. The Olympia representatives have not had the advantage of this experience, but are confident the showing they will make will put them in the money.

Scrappers Training Hard.

Both Carl Morris and Jim Stewart are hard at work for their ten-round bout at the Empire A. C., New York, next Wednesday night. The Oklahoma Giant is far from satisfied with the showing that he made against Stewart in their recent bout at the Carlyle A. C. in Brooklyn, and is confident that the next bout will show him decidely superior to the Brooklynite.

THE GINGER JAR

All players should be amiable even if their aim is poor.

When players disagree with an umpire's decision, if they would only talk to themselves they would have a much more appreciative audience.

A pitcher needn't worry about his batting average as long as his whip is right.

Some players are as important to a club as the C itself, while others are as useless as that letter in Czar.

Before the season opens the recruit exists on Hope; afterwards to exist it must be on acts.

Say what you please there is something lovable about a hard hitter.

Lew Smith, the Indian recruit shortstop picked up by Chance on the coast has been dubbed "Casey" Smith to distinguish him from Charley Smith the pitcher. Johnny Evers says it is a better name than the much overworked "Chief" title which has been applied to all the red skinned diamond stars. So say we all of us.

"'Bugs' Raymond would be a great pitcher, if he only had control—of himself," says McGraw.

Mike Murphy, after a short rest at Atlantic City, is again back at Franklin Field in the midst of the Pennsy athletes.

Henry Clauss, the Elizabeth bowler, who has the best mark in the individual event, is also the average leader to date. In his nine games he has toppled 1,806 pins for a mark of 200.6.

The latest report from the Giants' camp at Marlin is that Fred Snodgrass, the scrappy centre fielder, will be shifted over to right, and that Arthur Bues, the Western home-run king, will be in centre, and Josh Devore in the other garden.

New York boxing patrons are kicking against the great quantity of bandages used by boxers. A limit should be put on the length of bandages used. Two yards of electric tape should be the longest piece allowed.

The friends and fellow townsmen of Johnny Kilbane turned out in a big parade yesterday afternoon to welcome the new feather-weight champion to his home, in Cleveland.

Attell Sues Buckley for $20,000.

New York, March 18.—Abe Attell, erstwhile featherweight champion, yesterday filed suit for $20,000 against Jim Buckley, manager for Harlem Tommy Murphy, because Buckley is alleged to have charged Attell with having offered Murphy $4,000 if he would "lay down" in the recent fight between Murphy and Attell. The action was filed in the Superior Court.

Wagner Pirates' Captain.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 18.—Honus Wagner will be field captain of the Pittsburgh Nationals of 1912. Fred Clark, manager of the Pittsburgh team, who declares he has permanently retired as a player, made this announcement Saturday.

—H. S. Hancuff is announced as a candidate for a Shrievalty nomination at Holten, Kan.

ROSE, GREAT SHOT PUTTER, AFTER WRESTLING HONORS

Ralph Rose wants to attain other honors at the Olympic games in Sweden than as the weight man of the American aggregation. Lawyer Rose, in fact, doesn't see any reason why he should not add to his other laurels the title of amateur heavyweight wrestling champion of the world. And hereby hangs a story.

Once the idea entered his mind, Rose went to Professor George Meihling of the Olympic club of San Francisco and suggested that he would like a few pointers.

"Sure," answered Meihling. "Come right out on the mat."

Ralph, nothing loath, stripped for action.

Meihling explained a few of the holds and then proceeded to demonstrate them in person. That was where the trouble commenced. Meihling, a lilliputian compared to the giant Rose, discovered that he couldn't execute the holds on the monster. His arms were not long enough to reach around Rose's body, and, all in all, it was a miserable failure. So Meihling, full of resources, did the next best thing. He stood at one side and explained the holds in theory, if not in practice.

"The worst about the whole thing," was the comment of the instructor, "is that when I am on the floor with Rose on the aggressive the referee can't even see me, much less figure out whether Rose is entitled to a fall."

MOTORCYCLE SHOW PLANNED FOR NEWARK.

Local motorcyclists are interested in the project of Newark dealers to hold a motorcycle show at Electric Park. A canvass is being made of dealers by the promoters of the show and it will be decided during this week whether sufficient entries can be secured to assure a successful exhibition of the two-wheelers.

The show, if held will be run off early in April as the outdoor riding season will soon be in full swing and those who want machines will have purchased them.

BIG YALE ATHLETE GETS GOTHAM PLAYGROUND JOB.

New York, March 18.—Richard A. Oldensburg, a champion Yale oarsman and athlete, is to have a permanent place on the playground staff of the New York City Park Department. He is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 210 pounds. Last year he made aplication for the pob and received a temporary appointment.

"I wish more college men would try for these jobs," declared the superintendent of the parks department in making the appointment. "Men like Oldensburg have a pull with the boys. For one thing, he's so big that they never dispute his decisions in a ball game."

LOCAL SOCCER FANS SEE MIGHTY ST. LEOS DEFEATED

A number of local soccer enthusiasts saw the game between the champions of the West, the St. Leo team from St. Louis, and the West Hudsons at Harrison Oval, Harrison yesterday afternoon. The Harrison team won, 3 goals to 2. They were among the strongest contenders of the local team in the league last summer and the showing made against the champions was one of the finest exhibitions many of them had ever witnessed.

Fresh from their victory in Philadelphia, Saturday, where they disposed of the Taconys, the visitors were regarded as decidedly dangerous opponents and none of the Hudsons' supporters dared to regard the battle yesterday as anything but a most severe test for the trans-Passaic eleven.

The St. Louis team is a great combination, but it was the consensus of opinion after the game was over that the West Hudsons had something on their opponents. Only once during the game did the West Hudsons waver, and in the short period of two minutes the St. Leo's scored their only goals. During the time in which the visiting team scored its goals the Hudsons were literally swept off their feet. Try as they might, they could not pull themselves together to stop the enemy's onrush.

RATTLING THE SKELETON

Baseball.

On the two coming Saturdays, June 30 and July 7, the "Crescents" will play out of town and the Y. M. C. A. grounds may be rented on those days by other clubs.

The nine that will play today the Somerville team is as good as can be and a fine game is expected. The players are G. Cadmus, catcher; Lee, third base; Murray, left field; McMurray, first base; McCutchen, second base; Demarest, centre field; Dilts, shortstop; W. Cadmus, pitcher; Cornwell, right field. (Daily Press, Saturday, June 23, 1888).

GASOLENE HANDBOOK FOR AUTO ENTHUSIASTS.

One of the most comprehensive illustrated books giving descriptions of motor cars has just been issued by the Automobile Board of Trade. It is the Ninth Annual Handbook of Gasoline Automobiles, prepared annually for the information of the public who are interested in the manufacture and use of gasoline driven vehicles. The present volume is one of the largest ever issued and contains 207 pages, with illustrations of cars made by the leading manufacturers.

The illustrations, including various body equipments, cover more than 500 different models, giving particulars and prices of each, together with the A. L. A. M. horsepower rating, which is the standard form of rating and used by most of the States where horsepower rating is considered, and by insurance companies. Copies of the book may be had by sending 10 cents to cover postage to the Automobile Board of Trade, No. 7 East Forty-second street, New York.

Co. M Beat Champions.

The Co. M basketball team defeated the Crescent A. C. five, of Somerville, champions of Northern New Jersey, at that place Saturday night 38 to 30. A number of local court enthusiasts witnessed the game which was one of the fastest of either team during the season.

First to Apply.

D. A. Nelson, of this city, has the distinction of being the first applicant for an entry blank for the New Jersey Club run on Memorial Day. The blanks will be issued this week.

in this section of New Jersey, when it is considered that every ballot is a single ballot, and no "bonus" or "double" votes have been given for any reason to swell the total to misleading proportions.

In the three weeks left the most effective work remains to be done. Promised help must be realized upon as soon as possible, for the friends who have helped so loyally thus far will expect their favorites to show that the confidence which has been given them has not been misplaced. From now on the work will continue with renewed zeal, with each candidate making a gallant fight for the high honor at the finish. No contestant at the present time has any noticeable advantage in any district and it is anybody's race, for no contest is won until the last votes are counted.

HOBOKEN ELKS LEADING RACE BY SAFE MARGIN

Hoboken Elks are still showing the way both in team and individual standing in the league records by good safe margins. On account of having rolled no matches last week the locals are not as strongly intrenched in second place as they have been at the beginning of some other weeks in the past, and are not crowding the leaders near so hard.

Keeping Miller, of Hoboken, company in the individual standing with average of more than 190 are Starr, New York, second, 194-26; Campbell, Plainfield, third, 192-38; and Clauss, Elizabeth, 191-4.

Blatz is next highest in the standing of the local bowlers with a mark of 179-34. Nash is third with 177-4. Stout, fourth, 176-17, and Kiely, fifth, 173-39.

BOTH Y. W. C. A. TEAMS DEFEATED TO VISITORS

In the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, Saturday night, the Y. W. C. A. first team lost to the Trenton association five by a score of 17 to 10. The first half was played using boys' rules and at the end of it the two teams were only separated by one goal, the score being 6 to 4 in favor of Trenton. The second half they played regular girls' rules, and although the home team worked hard the visitors forged ahead.

Between the halves of the big game the Y. W. C. A. seconds played the Dunellen team. The seconds were outclassed from start to finish but took their defeat gamely. Many rooters from Dunellen cheered their team to victory. The score was 22 to 6.

Sues "Lanky" Bob.

Chicago, March 18.—Jack Taylor, the University of Chicago student who was knocked down by Bob Fitzsimmons last week, because the latter accused him of being too friendly with Julia Gifford Fitzsimmons, the pugilist's wife, has filed suits against the champion of other days for $50,000 damages on two counts. In one suit for $25,000 Taylor alleges that Fitzsimmons did him bodily injury and humiliated him beyond reparation by thrashing him. In another suit for a like amount Taylor declares his character has been injured.

HONOR MEMORY OF CLEVELAND

Seventy-fifth Anniversary of His Birth Observed.

A TRIBUTE FROM TAFT.

President In Letter Praises High Qualities of Former President—Mrs. Cleveland and Members of Cleveland Cabinet Present—His Birthplace Also Celebrates.

New York, March 18.—Hundreds were turned away from the doors of the great auditorium of City college because it was not large enough by half to accommodate the people who gathered to be present at the meeting in commemoration of the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of Grover Cleveland, late president of the United States.

The exercises commemorating the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Mr. Cleveland attracted a number of distinguished men who were intimate and long time friends of the late ex-president. Charles S Fairchild, who was secretary of the treasury in Mr. Cleveland's first administration, was chairman of the meeting. Eulogies were delivered by Hilary S. Herbert, who was secretary of the navy in Mr. Cleveland's second cabinet; President Schurman of Cornell, Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, who was Mr. Cleveland's physician and one of his closest friends; President Hibben of Princeton and Congressman Hardwick of Georgia.

Mrs. Cleveland, obviously in excellent health and retaining much of the beauty and charm for which she was celebrated as the young first lady of the land, occupied a seat on the front row with a party of friends, which included Mrs. John H. Finley, the wife of the president of the City college, and Mrs. Daniel S. Lamont.

Mr. Fairchild, opening the program, read letters from President Taft, Governor Dix, Oscar W. Underwood, Alton B. Parker and others. Mr. Taft wrote:

"Grover Cleveland earned the sincere gratitude of his countrymen and justified recurring memorial occasions like the one in which we are taking part. He was a great president, not because he was a great lawyer, not because he was a brilliant orator, not because he was a statesman of profound learning, but because he was a patriot with the highest sense of public duty, because he was a statesman of clear perceptions, of the utmost courage of his convictions and of great plainness of speech, because he was a man of the highest character, a father and husband of the best type, and because throughout his political life he showed those rugged virtues of the public servant and citizen, the emulation of which by those who follow him will render progress of our political life toward better things a certainty."

Caldwell, N. J., March 18.—Services in commemoration of the seventy-fifth birthday anniversary of Grover Cleveland were held in the Presbyterian church here.

The speakers were Dr. John Finley, president of the College of the City of New York; Dr. Paul Van Dyke, son of Dr. Henry Van Dyke, and Dr. John D. Bryant.

The church in which the services were conducted is situated only a short distance from the house in which Mr. Cleveland was born. His father was its pastor.

A movement has been started to establish the old Cleveland manse as a memorial to the late president, and a contract has been signed whereby the property is secured to the committee.

MISS MOISANT INJURED.

Woman Aviator Narrowly Escapes Fate of Brother Near His Death Place.

Shreveport, La., March 18.—Miss Matilda Moisant, sister of the late John B. Moisant, narrowly escaped her brother's fate when in descending after an exhibition flight her monoplane struck the ground at too steep an angle, bounded into the air and turned turtle.

Miss Moisant fell a few feet just as the body of the machine dropped. She was helped from the wreckage unhurt.

INSPECTOR OWEN EAGAN.

Of New York Police, Injured by Bomb In Judge's Home.

HUNTING A MANIAC.

Police Believe Demented Person Sent Bomb to Judge Rosalsky.

New York, March 18.—Hard work on the part of Police Commissioner Dougherty's detectives in search of the sender of the bomb that came through the mail to Judge Otto A. Rosalsky in his apartments on Saturday evening only strengthened the police theory that the man that sent that bomb was the same that mailed the bomb that killed Grace Walker and that they now have to deal with a maniac who may send bombs to other persons.

A man apparently demented was arrested at the door of Judge Rosalsky's apartment by the policeman who guarded the judge all day. The police think that he has no connection with the sending of the bomb.

Inspector Owen Eagan of the bureau of combustibles had the index finger of his left hand blown off by the explosion, the flesh of his hand cruelly torn and his face marked in six places by the parts of the water pipe that flew through the judge's library when the inspector put his knife into a corner of the package that held the bomb.

TRADESMEN GUARD RIGHT TO STRIKE

Threat of Greatest Struggle Meets Arbitration Talk.

London, March 18.—The question of a general strike of all labor unions in Great Britain in May which, it is claimed, will develop into the greatest industrial disturbance ever known, is certainly being discussed by the labor leaders, but no decision has been reached.

The threat is apparently prompted by the fear that an attempt is contemplated to restrict or remove the workmen's right to strike by repealing the trade disputes act of 1906 and introducing compulsory arbitration. Any such attempt, says Mr. Appleton, secretary of the General Federation of Trades Unions, will be met by action which will put such a proposal out of court for the next generation.

London, March 18.—The striking miners held meetings throughout various sections of the country. The keynote of the speeches made by the leaders was a determination to secure the utmost advantage out of the situation.

They were emphatic in declaring that the miners would not agree to compulsory arbitration of disputes which, it is reported, will be one of the provisions of the proposed government bill in regard to the minimum wage scale.

KNOX AT GUATEMALA.

President Cabrera Says His Country Is United States' Best Friend.

Guatemala, March 18.—President Cabrera of Guatemala gave a dinner in honor of Secretary of State Knox and the other members of his party. Mr. Knox in a speech warned Guatemala that the United States will insist upon the faithful observance of the Washington conventions, which provide for the peace and stability of the Central American republic through no meddling by foreign powers and the neutrality of the various states.

President Cabrera in an interview declared that Guatemala was the best friend of the United States in Central America and would welcome the introduction of American capital.

Secretary Knox and party sailed for Venezuela from Porto Barrios.

Dynamite River Ice.

Rochester, N. Y., March 18.—Ice formations of unprecedented thickness in the Genesee river and the rising of the waters following rains and a thaw threaten serious flood danger to Rochester. The services of a dynamiter were called in to try and avert the danger.

Opium Put Under Ban.

Shanghai, March 18.—A presidential decree issued at Peking forbids opium smoking. It also prohibits the importation or cultivation of the poppy.

PANCHO VILLA.

Mexican Bandit Whose Execution by Orozco Is Denied.

REPORT OF EXECUTION OF VILLA REBEL HOAX

Federal Leader Still With Troops and Not Captured.

Juarez, Mexico, March 18.—A private message from Chihuahua says that General Pancho Villa, reported to have been captured by General Pascual Orozco, the rebel leader, and executed at his orders, has not been captured, but is still leading the federal forces. The message says that the report, which was backed up with telegrams received here from General Orozco, was a carefully prepared hoax published for the purpose of dismaying the followers of Villa in northern Mexico.

Juarez, Mexico, March 18.—Four hundred rebel soldiers, commanded by Colonel Pascual Orozco, father of the leader and commander of all Mexican rebels heretofore styled Vasquista, have reached Juarez from Chihuahua. The soldiers are sent to carry out plans of the rebel chief to conduct an active campaign against the federals said to be gathering east and west of Juarez to assault and retake the town.

CHURCH A RIOT SCENE.

Scores Ejected In Cleveland During Mass—Police Surround Altar.

Cleveland, O., March 18.—Scores were ejected from St. Michael's church and arrested during a riot that continued for more than an hour. Children were trampled under foot by yelling men and women, who sought to drown out the reading of a letter by Father Paulus, the pastor, from Bishop Farrelly condemning the communicants for a previous riot.

Forty policemen answered the riot call, and the mass could not be resumed until the rioters had been taken out fighting and screaming, and the police officers surrounded the altar, remaining during the rest of the service.

As a result of the trouble the parish is practically under martial rule by the police and a guard surrounds the rectory, the doors of which have been supplied with heavy chains to prevent a possible attack.

The trouble started with the appointment of Paulus to the parish. A dozen were arrested last Sunday, and Paulus appealed to the bishop.

More than 200 were ejected during the 9 and 10 o'clock masses. These continued the disturbance outside the church until taken away to station houses.

ANOTHER TONG KILLING.

Chinaman Supposed to Be a Spy Shot In New York's Chinatown.

New York, March 18.—An unidentified Chinaman was shot in the second floor hallway of 2 Pell street, which is a stronghold of the Four Brothers tong and stands next door to Chinese Delmonico's, where the Four Brothers were at the same time holding their New Year's dinner. The injured man, with three bullet wounds in his right breast, was taken to a hospital, where he died.

Until his identity is disclosed the character of the shooting cannot be definitely determined. It seems more than likely that he was a spy from the Ong Leongs sent to cover the dinner.

ALL BELIEVED DROWNED.

No Hope For Seventeen Refugees Who Were In Boat That Capsized.

London, March 18.—The steamship Oceana, which was sunk in the English channel, remains in the same position, and there is every hope that it will be possible to recover the $3,750,000 in bullion which she carried.

The hope that some of the seventeen persons thrown into the water by a capsized boat have been rescued by a passing ship has been given up. It is now taken for granted that all were drowned.

Senator Smith For Wilson.

Washington, March 18.—Senator E. D. Smith of South Carolina, who has been claimed by both the Clark and Underwood clans, came out in favor of the nomination of Governor Wilson as the Democratic presidential candidate.

WOULD BE FIRST WOMAN IN CHAIR

"Baby Suffragettes'" Presidential Boom Launched.

PREDICTS VOTES IN 5 YEARS

Sixteen-year-old Dorothy Frooks, Who Expected to Speak to the Legislature In Favor of Suffrage, but Lost Her Opportunity, Talks at Hotel.

Trenton, N. J., March 18.—"I shall be the first woman president of the United States," boldly declared pretty sixteen-year-old Dorothy D. Frooks of Bayonne, fondly termed "the baby suffragette" by her sister suffragettes. This declaration was made here after starting her presidential boom, prior to her return to her school duties in the Bayonne high school.

The little suffragette with the big aspirations came to Trenton to make a speech at the legislative hearing in the statehouse on the resolution to amend the state constitution by allowing women to vote, but she did not get the opportunity. She frankly admitted that a man had taken the time allotted for her speech, but she did succeed in making her address to persons at the Hotel Windsor, where she was staying.

Miss Frooks was accompanied by H. W. Smith, a veteran of the civil war who knew Abraham Lincoln personally and who thinks the "baby suffragette" is a wonderful miss.

The girl is among the youngest of the militant suffragettes. She is a "suffragette," not a "suffragist." "There is a distinction between the two," says Miss Frooks, "for a suffragist is not a fighter, while a suffragette is a warrior"—and she is the latter.

There is nothing of the drone about the "baby suffragette." She intends to be a lawyer, then a judge; after that, a United States senator, and then the presidency!

Miss Frooks said that when she first enlisted in the suffragette army her family opposed the campaign for women's votes, but now she has converted them irrevocably to the cause. Her brother is a former representative from New York, and he also served in the state legislature.

In about five years she predicts the ballot will come to the women. She confided to the reporter that when she reaches the age of twenty-one she expects to cast her vote.

MOVES HOUSE EIGHT INCHES.

Trolley Car Knocks Building From Its Foundation After Jumping Switch.

Carlstadt, N. J., March 18.—A Newark and Hackensack trolley car, southbound, jumped the switch here, ran over the curb and crashed into the ice cream store of Mrs. Meada Burhop, a widow, who lives in the frame structure with her two daughters. The family was at breakfast in the rear of the store when the crash came, and they were carried along with the building, which was moved some eight inches from its foundation.

The trolley car carried away the corner of the butcher shop owned by August Drombroski, and then stuck fast in the narrow alley between the two stores. There were two passengers on the trolley car at the time, and they were not injured. None of the Burhop family was hurt.

The trolley track runs down grade at the point where the accident ocurred, and the car was going at a high speed. It took a gang of men three hours to return the derailed car to the tracks.

TAFT MEN SURE OF STATE.

President's Followers Expect Him to Get 24 Out of 28 Delegates.

Trenton, N. J., March 18.—President Taft will have at least twenty-four of New Jersey's twenty-eight delegates to the Republican national convention in Chicago, according to the Taft supporters in this state. Some of the Taft men expect that the president will have New Jersey's solid support.

There will be twenty-four district delegates and four delegates at large to the convention under the new congressional reapportionment. The only two doubtful districts are said to be in Hudson county, and they may possibly go for Roosevelt, the Taft men say, although many of the president's followers are of the opinion that they will finally cast their lot with the Taft forces.

UPHOLDS IMMIGRATION.

Governor Says We Are Getting Away From Racial Prejudices.

Elizabeth, N. J., March 18.—Responding to the toast "America, Our Country," at the annual dinner of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, Governor Woodrow Wilson spoke of the problems of immigration.

"Some people," he said, "have spread a fear that there is too much immigration; that the problem is too great for us to grapple with. I have no fear that these new people will not be absorbed as fast as their arrival. I have absolutely no uneasiness as to the immigrant. All of them are gripped by the spirit of America. We are getting away from racial prejudices. And this shows there is a common Americanism, for we are all Americans when we vote."

—They are organizing a bureau to handle all the War Department money, but judging by the economy fit on the Hill, it really isn't necessary.—Washington Post.

ADMIRAL G. W. MELVILLE.

Noted Naval Officer Who Is Dead In Philadelphia.

ADMIRAL MELVILLE DIES.

Was Noted as Civil War Hero, Arctic Explorer and Scientist.

Philadelphia, March 18.—Rear Admiral George W. Melville, retired, famous as a hero of the civil war, arctic explorer, scientist and student of naval affairs, is dead at his home here.

Although he suffered an attack of heart failure about a month ago, he recovered, though he was left in a weakened condition owing to his age. Last Friday night he suffered a stroke of paralysis and soon sank into a comatose condition, from which he never rallied. Funeral services will be held on Wednesday.

Rear Admiral Melville's name has always been associated with the Delong expedition which came to grief in an effort to find the northeast passage to the supposed polar sea in the arctic in 1881. It was he, then an engineer in the navy, who headed a division of the shipwrecked explorers after the ship, the Jeanette, had been crushed by the ice and finally brought them to safety on the Lena Delta.

He made three arctic voyages, one of them being in the search of Greeley's expedition. For his bravery he received a gold medal from congress and was advanced fifteen numbers.

Admiral Melville was born in New York on Jan. 10, 1841, the son of Alexander Melville. His engineering training he received at the Brooklyn Polytechnic institute.

OVATION FOR CHAMPION.

Cleveland Turns Out En Masse to Receive Johnny Kilbane, Prizefighter.

Cleveland, O., March 18.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion of the world, is home. He received the biggest welcome ever accorded a notable in Cleveland, a crowd estimated at between 150,000 and 200,000 strong greeting him at the Union station when his train pulled in and lining the streets over which the parade passed.

The parade, which traversed the principal downtown streets immediately after Johnny's arrival, was more than two miles in length. Johnny, with his wife and their infant daughter and Jimmy Dunn, his manager, occupied the automobile of state.

The parade was reviewed at the city hall by Mayor Baker and other city officials as well as a number of state officials from Columbus. Every sporting organization in the city had a section in the parade.

DR. MARY WALKER DYING.

Woman Famous For Dress Reform Ideas Critically Ill In New York.

New York, March 18.—Dr. Mary E. Walker, who for more than half a century has been wearing trousers and doing things that have made her name known throughout the country, is critically ill in the Presbyterian hospital.

Mrs. Nellie B. Van Slingerland, recording secretary of the Betterment league, who is with Dr. Walker, said:

"Dr. Walker, I fear, is dying. She developed a heavy cold weeks ago, neglected it and now has collapsed completely. She has bronchitis, pneumonia threatens her, and she is a very old woman."

Dr. Walker had been in Washington for several months pressing before the judiciary committee her contention that the constitution gives woman the vote. Recently she journeyed to Albany in the interest of the suffrage movement.

On her way from Albany Saturday Dr. Walker, who had taken a severe cold, fainted and was not revived for nearly an hour.

AMERICANS TO ANTARCTIC.

Captain Cleveland to Head Expedition For Museum of Natural History.

New Bedford, Mass., March 18.—A new expedition to the antarctic, to be undertaken by the American Museum of Natural History, is announced by Captain Benjamin D. Cleveland, the whaling master of New Bedford, who will conduct and assist the scientists.

The party will sail from the West Indies June 1 on the whaling brig Daisy, which has for many years been the only vessel afloat engaged in the sea elephant hunting.

Weather Forecast.

Increasing cloudiness today; probably local rains in northern portion; warmer tomorrow; fair, brisk southerly winds.

To Those Men and Women Who Believe in Plainfield.

In Paris a butcher named Dural had his wife cook scraps of meat into good soup, which he sold at the door of his shop three cents a bowl—a piece of bread thrown in. From that beginning he developed the admirable Dural restaurants. He left $20,000,000 when he died.

Excellent idea; wouldn't this be good if applied to any business? We think so.

We're going to try it. We're enthusiastic about it. We think it's great. And you know nothing great was ever attained without enthusiasm. We're going to back our belief with earnestness and enthusiasm, and incidentally money and work.

We intend making that admirable beginning by opening a new store and throwing all the "scraps" of our saving in expenses into the value of our merchandise. Our constant thought will be, "How can we better serve the public?"

With our efforts and your support—it should be profitable to both of us—for success lies in mutual interests. We'll deserve your trade, and think we ought to get it—you'll think so, too.

Convince yourself at our opening which is not far off.

Just one year ago when we opened our store here our friends said we could not exist on the small profit that we were making on our merchandise, but we argued that SMALL PROFITS AND QUICK SALES was our motto and we expect to follow it; and the great business we have done in the past year convinces us that our theory is correct.

CITYWIDE BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

To be Launched at a Meeting Called For the Night of March 25.

SCHOOLMEN ARE BEHIND IT

H. C. Krebs, Supervising Principal of Boro Schools, and Lindsey Best, Principal of Plainfield High School, Two of the Organizers.

A meeting will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Monday night, March 25, to launch a Boy Scout movement on a city-wide scale. H. E. Shaffer, field secretary for the National Organization of the Boy Scouts, will be present and deliver an illustrated address covering his three years in the work.

The meeting has been called by a volunteer committee consisting of H. C. Krebs, supervising principal of the North Plainfield schools, former City Judge William N. Runyon and Lindsey Best, principal of the Plainfield High School. They have authorized the use of their names in sending letters to all of the city churches and other institutions from which recruits may be drawn and will also act as managers in organizing the movement.

Three years ago a Boy Scout patrol was organized here with eight members. The patrol had one successful season, but since that time the organization has been more or less inactive.

A short time ago a patrol was organized. in the Netherwood section.

LIBRARY ASKS THE COUNCIL FOR $9,000 APPROPRIATION

The Plainfield Public Library directors, through J. Herbert Case, in a communication to the Common Council, last night, certified that $9,000 would be required for the institution for the coming year. This is $1,500 more than was appropriated last year for the library. The extra amount will probably be needed in connection with maintenance of the new Carnegie building. The communication was referred to the finance committee for consideration, to be reported upon later.

Andrew McClean Parker, who provided the new public playground, known as Parker Field, informed the Council, through Mayor Moy, that in the purchase and equipment of the field he had expended $22,000. Under the terms of the agreement whereby the city took over this field, the city has the privilege of purchasing the same an ytime within a period of ten years by paying the exact cost, plus interest on the investment. As far as known no steps have been taken toward the purchase of the playground.

In accordance with resolutions by Councilman Duncan W. Taylor, chairman of the fire and building committee, the contract with the Spicer Manufacturing Company for furnishing the power to blow the fire alarm was renewed for another year, the consideration being $515, and the contract was renewed with A. B. Laing for taking care and maintaining the Gamewell fire alarm system in the city for another year, for a consideration of $1,400. The contract prices are the same as last year.

Mayor G. W. V. Moy, according to the annual custom, appointed all of the janitors of the city schools as special policemen. They were referred to the police committee and will be reported upon when Councilman C. C. Randolph, the chairman, is present.

FOUR HORSES SAVED AND FIREMAN HURT AT BLAZE

Claasen Risks His Life to Rescue Animals From "Cadmus" Mill Storehouse--Callman Pinned by Falling Hay Bale.

Four horses rescued at the risk of human life and a fireman pinned by a falling bale of hay were incidents of a $4,000 fire in the storehouse of the Commercial Mills, South Second street, opposite Muhlenberg place, last night. The plant is better known to Plainfielders as the Cadmus mill.

The damage to the storehouse is estimated at $2,000 and a like sum is named as the loss in hay and straw burned, smoked, water-soaked or scattered.

The fire, supposed to have been started by a locomotive spark, was discovered by a passerby at 7:35 o'clock. It had a big start then, and smoke was pouring from the building.

The storehouse is a frame structure, covered with corrugated iron, 40 by 60, front and rear, and about 30 feet high. A shed separates it from the main mill building.

It contained 150 tons of hay and straw, and four horses were stabled in it. By the time Hose Company No. 3, the first company to reach the scene, arrived the interior of the storehouse was a furnace, and the shed between it and the mill was beginning to burn.

Three of the horses were neighing frantically. The fourth, into whose stall a blazing bale had fallen, was screaming with pain. Jens Claasen, driver of No. 3 wagon, swung an axe against the door and forced it open. He went into the little inferno three times, and brought a horse out with him each time. Lewis Drake, an employe of the mill, ran in and got the fourth horse. Neither rescuer was more than scorched, but it was touch-and-go with both of them while they were in the storehouse.

Hot as the fire was, the men checked it speedily, but they had six hours of work ahead of them before they finished the job. Every one of the bales of hay and straw had to be torn apart in the hunt for hidden or smoldering fire, and the recall did not sound until 1:06 this morning.

During the hook-and-axe work on the bales Edward McCann, a callman, was caught under a falling 200-pound bale of hay. It struck him on the hip, knocked him down, and rolled on him. Comrades released him, and Chief Doane rushed him to the office of Dr. N. W. Currie, the City Physician, in his auto.

Dr. Currie said there were no bones broken, but advised McCann to remain at his home for several days. He was taken there in the Chief's car.

The fire was virtually confined to the building in which it started, and the interior suffered pretty much all the damage.

MAKES NO DIFFERENCE IF HE IS A HOUN,' BUY A TAG

Through its agent, Mrs. S. G. VanHoesen, the Plainfield Branch of the S. P. C. A. has issued a warning to dog owners of the city that the State law requiring all dogs to be licensed will be rigidly enforced. Mrs. VanHoesen's warning, in the form of a statement given out today, follows:

"Under the State law all dogs must be licensed whether running at large or kept on private property. The police magistrates are empowered to impose penalties on persons keeping unlicensed dogs.

"Dog owners violating the law will be summoned to court. Dogs found running at large will be seized. The courts have held constitutional the State law requiring dogs to be licensed.

"Persons permitting vicious, trespassing or dangerous dogs to be at large are liable to prosecution. The license tag does not prevent the dog trom biting.

"If all dog owners would live up to the rules of law, and common sense," said Mrs. Van Hoesen with considerable emphasis, "there would be no 'mad dog' scares, and no cause for periodical attacks on dogs and their owners. Here are a few don'ts I want to address to dog owners:

"Don't let your dog bark or cry all night. Don't let him trespass on your neighbor's property. Don't let him become filthy or a nuisance. Don't let him run after and bark at passers-by."

Borough Court.

Recorder M. F. Gano passed sentence as follows on the prisoners arraigned before him yesterday in the North Plainfield court: William Clarkson, of East Second street, drunk and disorderly, fined $2; Hyman Fass, of Duer street, riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, fined $1; Richard Perrine, of Stoneybrook place, drunk and disorderly, 60 days in the county jail; William Sanders, of Grove street, drunk and disorderly, $3 fine suspended.

BIG BARN TO BE BUILT BY THE U.S. EXPRESS CO.

A deal was closed today whereby the United States Express Company will have a large new barn erected on Somerset street in the rear of the brick buildings from 77 to 83 Somerset street, recently purchased by the Hand Express Company. The work will be started immediately so that the horses and wagons of the U. S. Express Company, which have been housed at the rear of the F. L. C. Martin Auto Co. for many years, will be transferred to the proposed new structure by the first of July.

This is one of the most important realty transactions in the borough for many years. In addition to the large stables and wagon houses to be erected a large building for storage purposes of goods on hand will be provided. A number of old buildings will be removed to make way for the new structures.

CHARLES LEE MENTIONED FOR BORO SCHOOL BOARD

The annual meeting and election of trustees of the North Plainfield school district will be held tonight in the Somerset street school house. The polls for the election of four trustees, the passage of the budget and the granting or refusing permission to bond the district for $18,000 will open at 8 o'clock and will remain open one hour.

Three of the present members whose terms expire have announced themselves for re-election. They are Hiram A. Woodruff, Charles I. Nasn and Francis L. Sill. E. A. Overton, the other retiring member announced today that he would not seek re-election and in his place former Councilman Charles Lee is prominently mentioned. A bond issue for $18,000 will be voted on at the meeting.

William Day was mentioned today as a candidate by a number of his borough friends, but in a conversation with a Daily Press reporter this afternoon Mr. Day said that he had not been approached on the matter and was not a candidate.

AUTOMATON-LIKE FIGURE IN FORCE SHOW WINDOW.

E. L. Fields, of New Haven, Conn., is attracting large crowds to The White Store, on West Front street this week. Appearing in one of the large show windows as an automaton, attired as a Roman gladiator, Mr. Fields mystifies everyone who looks at him. Everything about his actions indicates the mechanical, and many refuse to believe that it is a live man who is going through the many poses.

Mr. Fields has been engaged in this work for the past ten years and is said to have reached about the highest point of perfection in the art of posing.

Varnish for Haiti.

Another commercial distinction came to Plainfield yesterday when contracts were closed by the Bond Varnish Company, to supply a large quantity of its new process spar varnish to the Haitian Government. The first shipment, which was on a rush order, left the factory at Fanwood this morning by express in time to catch a special steamer from New York, which will carry down supplies to replenish the stores damaged by the recent floods in the black Republic. Other rush shipments will be made for Haitian Government supplies from time to time as the boats come in to New York.

Three Toes Amputated.

Fred Nelson, aged 46 years, of 1026 West Third street, employed at Scott's Press Works, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, yesterday afternoon from a crushed foot, the result of a trip-hammer falling on it. The physicians were obliged to amputate three toes. Mr. Nelson returned to his home today.

St. Patrick's Party.

A St. Patrick's experience party and musical will be given by the Young Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church at the residence of Mrs. Martin I. Cooley, 2 Rockview terrace, on Friday evening March 22, at 8 o'clock. Women will tell how they earned $175 for missions.

Men's Club Affair.

The Men's Club of Grace church enjoyed an evening of bowling at the Hartridge Auditorium, last night. After the bowling there was a "spread."

—There is much of interest in the Press advertising columns.

COUNCIL LIKELY TO VOTE $3,500 TO THE HOSPITAL

Following the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night the members held a conference with eorge P. Mellick and J. E. Erickson of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, relative to the increased appropriation of the city for the hospital. Heretofore, the city has appropriated each year $1,500 for the care of the indigent poor, but this, the Board of Governors say is not sufficient, and they have made a request for an increase.

The councilmen went over the matter carefully, and decided to recommend that $3,500 be given to the hospital this year, on the basis of $1 per day per patient. With the proposed increased equipment at the hospital there will naturally be an increase in expense, and the Board of Governors is preparing to meet that condition.

NEW PARIS STORE TO OPEN FOR BUSINESS TOMORROW

The new Paris store on West Front street will open its doors tomorrow, marking an epoch in the business history of Plainfield. The concern has heretofore been handicapped by inadequate floor space, but the quality of merchandise, the fair and honorable treatment accorded patrons, laid the foundation upon which it has built a broad and lasting reputation and a growing success.

An important announcement is made in the fact that J. J. Varley, formerly of A. E. Force & Co., has associated himself with The Paris. He will carry a full and complete line of women's furnishings, including millinery, infant's and children's wear. The concern will open with an entire new stock of apparel for women and misses, including the most up-to-date department of ladies' tailoring in Plainfield.

The new store is magnificent and beautiful in all its appointments, including an inner balcony encircling the entire building, and with the great floor space, it is the equal of any in the metropolitan district.

TWO WHEEL CHAIRS ARE NEEDED AT THE CITY HOME

Overseer of the Poor Henry L. DeForest is very much in need of two wheel chairs for use at the city Industrial Home, and any one having this kind of a chair will confer a great favor by either loaning or giving it to the city. There are a couple of inmates of the home who, because of infirmities of old age are unable to get about and if they had the use of wheel chairs they could help themselves to a considerable extent.

Mr. DeForest would also appreciate the loan or gift of a talking machine. He has been able to collect a large number of old records and with the aid of a machine, would be able to furnish the inmates with an occasional concert to pass the time.

Award Lighting Contract.

The Union County Board of Freeholders, yesterday awarded a three years' contract to the Commonwealth Lighting Company of Summit, to light the Bonnie Burn Sanitorium. The company's bid was $774 per annum for 262 lights and $120 for power to operate the laundry machinery, making a total of $894 per annum, less 10 per cent. for cash.

Good Vaudeville at Proctor's.

"The Avenger," a cleverly written dramatic sketch by Mary Roberts Reinhardt, presented by Dorothy Richmond & Co.; William Sisto & Co., an Italian comedian; Lewis, Harr & Co., in a southern idyll "Along the Swanee;" Kaiser's trained dogs and Dolly Marshall, comedienne, comprise the vaudeville bill at Proctor's this week.

Appreciating the intense interest throughout the entire territory served by the Plainfield Daily Press, over a dozen of the most progressive merchants of the city have decided to combine with the paper to make the European Tour Contest now being conducted a greater success than ever. They have offered many attractive articles as special prizes to those who are competing for the eight weeks' tour of Europe which will be given to five young women and a chaperone by the Daily Press. Some of these special prizes will be given to those who win the tours, while others will go to those who have high scores, but fail to win the trip, and still others will go to contestants who turn in the most new subscriptions between tomorrow morning, March 20, and Saturday night, April 6, when the contest closes.

YAMA YAMA SOCIAL CLUB HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BALL

The third annual ball of the Yama Yama Social Club was held last night in Saengerbund Hall and was largely attended. The decorations were a distinct feature, the color combinations appropriate to St. Patrick's significance of the day offering plenty of opportunity to the decorators' art that was made the most of.

The affair was the best yet conducted by the club. The committee in charge was comprised of Percy Haberle, George Egel, Lester Hamilton, Charles Pauglica and David Weizs. Suhr's Imperial orchestra furnished the music, a number of special selections being on the program.

ST. PATRICK'S MEMORY HONORED BY GET-TOGETHERS

In conformity with a custom established four years ago, the Get-Together Club got together last night in the Waldorf Hotel on East Front street to commemorate the memory of St. Patrick. A number of guests were present from out of town and each diner was decorated with sprigs of green emblematical of the country to which they all claimed some connection for the occasion.

In addition to the appropriate trimming of the guests, the banquet hall was elaborately decorated with a blending of American and Irish flags, evergreens, cut flowers and colored electric lights.

George J. Tobin, of Grant avenue, was toastmaster. The speakers were Pierre P. Garven, of Jersey City, "Life of St. Patrick;" Edward J. Sweeney, of Bayonne, "Irish Character," and John J. Carroll, of West Fifth street, "Ireland, Her Sufferings and Her Hopes."

The menu and the decorations were of the noteworthy character that always mark the Waldorf hotel dinners.

PROF. G. M. PRIEST ON MODERN GERMAN DRAMA

"Modern German Drama, (Hauptmann, Sudermann.)" was the subject of a lecture by Prof. George M. Priest, of Princeton University, before the Monday Afternoon Club at the Hartridge Auditorium, yesterday afternoon. The speaker first took up the work of Sudermann, telling something of his early life, then in detail referred to some of the more important features of his writings. In his play called "Honor," Professor Priest expressed the opinion that Sudermann had established his fame.

The early life of Sudermann, the speaker said, seemed to be sad and serious, and to an extent this fact seemed to have considerable bearing on his writings, but through adversity he bore patiently all that was put on him until he had achieved success.

Professor Priest said that while Sudermann seemed to be deeply influenced by nationalism, Hauptmann on the contrary achieved his success through symbolism. The speaker contrasted the lives of the two men in a way that brought out the best in each and showed clearly what each had accomplished for the modern German drama. He said that in all Sudermann had written twenty-two plays, and in addition a number of short stories. In some respects he thought he was hardly equaled by other German writers.

Throughout his lecture, Professor Priest read short extracts from the works of the writers, those which he thought would give the audience the best idea of their style and purpose. This was a most delightful feature of the lecture which was considered one of the best in the winter's series.

Mrs. Sarah W. Jones.

Wack, of New York, and Alvah Wack, of Washington, Warren county. Notice of funeral will be given later.

The subject of sex-hygiene will also be discussed. All interested in the health of children are cordially invited to attend.

PRAISES POLICEMEN AND FIREMEN, HEROES OF PEACE

"The Patriotism of Peace," was the subject of a talk by Samuel H. Davis, of Westerly, R. I., before the Men's Club, of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, last night. Members of other men's clubs of the city were present by invitation and enjoyed the talk. Mr. Davis was for five years secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of Massachussets, and is now doing a similar work in Connecticut.

Mr. Davis after praising the work of firemen and policemen for their work during times of peace, devoted a considerable part of his talk to local option, and emphasized the importance of this movement throughout the country. He also referred to the evil influences of the saloon, adding that through local option much of this evil would be abolished.

Dr. Marcus L. Clawson, president of the club, presided, introducing the speaker, and Miss Jessie Utter was at the organ during the opening part of the meeting.

The hundreds of visitors to our formal opening last week were enthusiastic over the advanced showing in our Spring models. This year we have spared neither time nor expense to have our stock the most attractive in the city. The designs show careful and considerate thought. Careful to see that the designs shall follow the very latest edicts of the Parisian modistes. Considerate to see that it is kept within the reach of the average pocketbook. The artistic qualities will appeal to the discriminating woman.

Dunellen & Vicinity.

Alvin Shively, the eight-year-old son of Edgar Shively, was knocked down on North avenue opposite the postoffice, yesterday noon, by an automobile driven by Miss Louise Trust, of Mountainview terrace. The boy jumped from a wagon and ran directly in front of the machine. Miss Trust took the child to the office of Dr. T. H. Platt, where it was found he had only been slightly hurt. A few cuts and bruises are all that remain as evidences of the accident. Miss Trust was driving her car slowly at the time, preparatory to stopping, otherwise the victim might have sustained much more serious injuries.

Contractor H. Clifford Smith began work today hauling the big steel girders for the new bridge to be erected over Green brook on Washington avenue. In atempting to run his new Marion car out of the service garage for the first time, Sunday afternoon, J. Newton Apgar drove the machine into a wooden supporting post. Humorous Burglars.

Westfield, March 19.—Burglars evidently with a sense of humor entered the home of George E. Beaman on the mountain side Sunday morning and taking a hat belonging to Thomas England carried it outdoors and put it on a clothespost. They also cut down a piece of meat that had been left in the corncrib to cool and threw it into a wheelbarrow. The burglars made away with an overcoat, a pair of rubber boots and a bicycle. Entrance was effected through a window, just over a spot where a fox terrier was napping. The dog made no outcry and the thieves worked undisturbed. They passed a quantity of silverware.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

The first really adequate animated scenes showing the magnitude and efficiency of "Our Navy" will be presented by Lyman H. Howe at the Plainfield Theatre on March 23. Believing that the country at large should become more familiar with this important phase of our national life, and knowing the great popularity and prestige of Mr. Howe's Travel Festival, the Secretary of the Navy granted permission exclusively to Mr. Howe's photographers to accompany him on the U. S. S. Dolphin, in New York harbor last November to photograph the greatest naval review in American history. Every facility was granted them to insure a most graphic and impressive reproduction. Never before in the history of nations have government and exhibitor worked together so effectively to show a country's armada to its citizens. A serise which depicts the classic beauty of Italy, the land of history and romance; the wonders of the Grand River Canon, Colorado; the newest mode of locomotion through water and air by means of the hydroplane, and the daringf maneuvers of Italian cavalrymen are among other subzjects in Mr. Howe's "gallery of masterpieces" in motion photography.

Confesses to Stealing Traps.

Newton, March 19.—Confessing that he had stolen steel traps that Jackson Hendershott, of Blair, had set to catch fur-bearing animals, Linford Howell was held for the grand jury. Bail was furnished by Fish and Game Warden J. B. Hendershott. Constable Thomas Knoll visited Howell's home and found some traps. Later Howell admitted he had taken them from along the woods and streams in the district traversed by Trapper Hendershott.

NEW JERSEY MAN HEADS NATIONAL BRICK MAKERS

Charles A. Bloomfield, of Metuchen, has been elected president of the Naional Brick Manufacturers' Association, which has just held its annual convention at Chicago. He is president of the Bloomfield Clay Products plant, near Metuchen, and he has been largely instrumental in putting Metuchen on the map of important industries of the country. He was one of the leading movers in getting the manufacturers of the country together in a national organization. He has been devoting himself to the "back to back" movement and has aroused much interest for it throughout the country. He had a part in raising the funds and getting exhibitors from the East for the great clay show at Chicago this week.

Recent acquistions of plants along the Staten Island sound, the Raritan and South rivers and the establishment of important plants in the Bergen and Hackensack valleys and the development of the brick industry along the foot hills of the Watchungs in and around Union County have combined to put New Jersey in the forerank as a clay products State.

DRAMATIC SEASON BEGINS AT PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Princeton, N. J., March 19.—With the approach of Spring and the Easter vacation the season of dramatic activity in Princeton University has arrived. According to the schedule published today the Triangle Club the best known of the Princeton dramatic organizations, will give fifteen performances of their new play during the coming Spring, ten of which will be presented in various cities throughout the country. The English dramatic Association has arranged to give Marlow's "Jew of Malta" this season and they too expect to give several performances away from Princeton.

There are many extra-curriculum avtivities at Princeton in which the undergraduates, if they choose may spend the greater part of their spare time, but few of them are more valuable than the dramatic associations. They afford a wide field for the display of orginality and ability among the undergraduates and in some cases afford as much value as one of the college courses.

The best known of the Princeton dramatic associations in the Triangle Club, which is one of the oldest and most unique of the college dramatic associations in this country. It is not only composed entirely of undergraduates but the undergraduates are also the sole managers, performing practically all the work in originating and producing the play.

The designing of the stage costumes and scenry is also the work of students and the Club even has its own electrician and stage manager selected from among the undergraduates.

A dramatic organization that is of even more educational value, if not interest than the Triangle Club, is the English Dramatic Association which each year produces some old English play not commonly seen on the modern stage. It is of a more serious nature than the Triangle Club but is each year growing in popularity among the students.

RECIPROCITY IN DOUBT.

Prospects of the automobile reciprocity bill being passed at the present session of the Legislature are now considered to be slim. The bill went through the House of Assembly with a big majority, but it is said that it has struck a snag in the Senate, and that the backers are short two votes of the number necessary for passage. Assemblyman Stickel, of Essex county, who introduced the measure, announces that he is going to try to find some way of overcoming the objection to the proposed act. This particular opposition is due to the fact that foreign residents would no longer be required to give a power of attorney to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, so that official could accept service in case of damage suits being brought as the result of accidents which might occur within the State.

One suggestion made by Mr. Stickel is that he be permitted to present an amendment to the act as passed in the House, providing that reciprocity shall not go into effect until it has been approved by the people of the State at a referendum election on the subject. It is very evident that Stickel comes from one of the big counties, and does not realize that the people of the State as a whole do not favor reciprocity, and that all of the sentiment for it is being worked up by automobile owners and automobile dealers. What do the people at large care about reciprocity? How many who do not own automobiles, especially among the working men, want to see any more of them running about the streets, feeling as they do that the foreign license tagged car is rapidly wearing out the roads, which the working man is compelled to pay for by taxation?

Father Bernard M. Bogan, in a Saturday Contributed Editorial in the Daily Press recently, said that the "toiler is not discontented because he is obliged to work and walk. It is the auto of his neighbor speeding by and covering him with plebian dust that shuts out the horizon of his joy." No one can dispute the truth of this assertion by the beloved local priest, and it might well be paraphrased to suit the reciprocity condition in the State. No citizen of New Jersey, whether he be an automobile owner or not, objects half as much when he sees an auto tearing up the road, if it bears a State license marker, as he would object if he saw hundreds going by each day who do not pay a cent of tax toward keeping up this State's expensive system of roads, either by direct taxation or by a license fee on the automobile which is doing the damage.

If Mr. Stickel wants to secure the passage of auto reciprocity he had better not try to have the matter submitted to the people. We firmly believe that eighty-five per cent. of the people of the State would vote against the proposition.

This is the week when the Governor "shakes the plum tree" and we suppose that he never knew until now how many men were so interested in the welfare of his administration until they looked him in the eye, clasped his hand, told him what a big man he was and then whispered in his ear that Mr. So-and-So would make an ideal appointee for such and such an office. But, fortunately, the Governor has been an apt student of politics as it is played and is not to be fooled by the "soft-soapers."

The young man who is deluded with the idea that luck and influence are what make for success in life may learn a lesson from the career of Edwin Robert Walker. Yesterday he was raised to the exalted position of Chancellor of New Jersey. Thirty years ago he was a ten dollar a week clerk in the office of the Court of Chancery. Hard work with a determination to amount to something in this world was responsible for his gradual advancement until he fills the highest position on the Chancery bench.

The House has passed a bill which includes rabbis among those authorized to perform the marriage ceremony and making such ceremonies performed by them legal in all respects. It is hard to understand how such an important provision was omitted two years ago when the new marriage law was enacted.

Governor Wilson "put one over" on the political "wiseacres" when he sprung the nomination of Vice Chancellor Walker to the chancellorship. Garrison, Stevens and who not were "sure things," so the "know-it-alls" whispered. The incident illustrates just how reliable are the majority of political forecasts.

Gracious me! former Governor Franklin Murphy makes serious announcement that he is not a candidate for the Republican vice presidential nomination. My, but this country's going to the dogs!

Report has it that Joseph Tumulty is slated for the Supreme Court clerkship. That would be a rattling good appointment.

So Governor Wilson got lost in Plainfield the other night. But then he wasn't running for office.

AMPERE LOOKS AND ACTS LIKE A TOWN, BUT ISN'T

Although the town of Ampere, N. J., gives steady employment to over 1,00 people, transact millions of dollars' worth of business annually, and enjoys the distinction of a seperate railroad station, where a memorial tablet was formally unvieled by Ambassador Jusserand, of France, four years ago and has a United States Government Post Office exclusively forits use, it has no existence in fact.

It lies upon the border line between Newark and East Orange, N. J. but as there is no space between those two cities, it is partly included with both and under two municipal governments. The concrete evidences of its existence quoted above are due to the presence there of the Crocker-Wheeler Company, whose plant, occupying twenty-five acres, justifies its individual name. How jealous the town is of its exclusive name, given in honor of the great French discoverer of the measure of electric current, is shown by the fact that there is no other Ampere in the world. A town on the Northern Pacific Railroad was given the name some years ago, but the Crocker-Wheeler Company filed a prompt objection, and the town selected another title. There are fifty or more Waterloos in the world, and Londons and Parises by the dozens, but only one Ampere—and that does not exist.

THE FORUM.

The Social Disease.

Editors, Plainfield Daily Press:

Your new depature in obtaining editorials from writers not connected with your paper is admirable, giving your readers views upon subjects of current interest from another viewpoint than that of the editorial sanctum. I read with much interest Mr. Hughes' remarks in last Saturday's issue, and while I agree with him that our courts and our court procedure are open to criticsm, yet it seems to me that Mr. Hughes is discussing a symptom of the social disease, and not the disease itself; and this is the neglect of the voters to perform their political duty, and their utter indifference to politics generally except when they are startled into criticism by some particularly notorious legislative action or failure of justice. The selection of candidate for elective offices is left to a few who make that a business—and not, as a rule from disinterested motives. Eternal vigilance on the part of those whose only aim is to obtain good government, caring equitably for the interests of all and granting privileges to none, is necessary to the satisfactory working of any system for the nomination of candidates. The direct primary law as we have it in this State will not work automatically, and unless citizens are willing to make such sacrifice of time from business and pleasure as is required to secure the wished-for result, they may be sure that the old time machine leaders will be just as successful under the present system in procuring the selection of candidates amenable to them and to the corrupt business interests whose willing tools the bosses are, as under the old time hole-in-the-corner primaries. In the primary elections in Union county last September, less than one-half of the voters of each party participated and no concerted effort was made to eliminate unfit competitors.

In the States where judges are elected, and where most of the complaint referred to by Mr. Hughes arises, this neglect of the voters is alone responsible for any dishonesty or weakness shown from the bench.

If the voters will arouse themselves to an intelligent and active participation in politics by the formation of associations, institutes clubs, or whatever form of organization may be best adapted to the end in any particular locality, in which they may not only canvass primary candidates, but study the weak places in legislation and legal procedure that call for reform, and by co-operation make their influence so great that it will be felt by governors, legislatures and judges, lawyers and juries, they will not have to resort to the new remedies of initiative, reform and recall.

Far more important to the general welfare of nation, state and municipality than the rule of either great party is the character of the men chosen to exercise the powers of government. Cannot something be done to get the voters to take action, so that instead of being finally carried by a wave of excitement to the adoption of new fads, we may make the present system of representative government work smoothly?

R. F. D. CARRIERS WILL WATCH FOR FOREST FIRES

Trenton, Mar. 19.—As a further precaution to preserve the woodlands of the State, the rural mail carriers have been notified by the Postmaster-General to keep watch for forest fires and when one is seen to report it to the nearest fire warden. This information was received by the State Forest Commission from the Federal authorities. It is the outcome of a plan first proposed by the State fire warden to the Postoffice Department through the United States forest service.

Under the scheme each rural mail carrier will be furnished from Trenton with a list of the fire wardens in the territory through which his route runs. Also every fire warden will be notified of the arrangement and instructed to find out which carriers work in or near his district and let them know where he can be reached and how word may be gotten to him in the easiest and quickest way.

The commission has been notified by the United States Secretary of Agriculture that the fund allotted to this State for forest fire patrol in 1911, namely $1,000, will be made $2,000 in 1912. This allotment is made under the provisions of the Weeks law of 1911 and is applicable only to North Jersey, where the work done last year fully proved the value of an active watch on the woodlands when there is danger of fires starting.

STATE SEWER DECISION EXPECTED BY NEXT MONDAY

Supplemental plans for the proposed outfall sewer and disposal works on the Darling farm in Piscataway township, were presented by Councilman F. L. Holt at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council, last night, and a resolution approving the same was adopted. This action was taken at the request of the State Board of Health, that body desiring more definite plans concerning the improvement before giving a decision in the matter.

The plans and surveys were made by Street Commissioner A. J. Gavett and a duplicate sent to Trenton for consideration by the State Board of Health. Mr. Holt explained that inasmuch as the city was likely to get a decision from the State board within a short time, he would like to have the Council adjourn to Monday night, March 25, adding that if a favorable decision was given, immediate action on the part of the Council would be necessary. On his motion an adjournment was taken until Monday night.

VICE CHANCELLOR WALKER HEAD OF CHANCERY COURT

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Trenton, March 19.—Vice-Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker, of this city, who some 30 years ago was a mere clerk in the office of the Court of Chancery, was last night appointed by Governor Wilson to the office of Chancellor, thus making him head of the court in which he formerly served as a subordinate. Vice-Chancellor Walker succeeds Chancellor Mahlon Pitney, who was made Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Mr. Walker was immediately confirmed as Chancellor, owing to the necessity of not having even a day's vacancy in the office.

The appointment of Chancellor Walker changes the head of the Chancery Court from Republican to Democrat. It has been the custom to keep the Court of Chancery equally divided politically, and to do this now would require the appointment of a Republican Vice-Chancellor. Vice-Chancellors Emery, Learning and Howell are Republicans, while Vice-Chancelors Stevens, Stevenson and Garrison are Democrats.

Chancellor Walker was born in Rochester, N. Y., in 1862, but since 1869 has lived in this city. He was educated at the State Model School here, and in 1878 became a clerk in the office of the Court of Chancery. While serving this clerkship, he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1886. He was appointed Vice-Chancellor by Chancellor Magie on October 29, 1907, for a full term of seven years, to succeed Vice-Chancellor Bergen, who resigned to become a Justice of the Supreme Court.

GEO. EVANS' MINSTRELS SCORE A SMASHING HIT.

"Honey Boy" George Evans and his troupe of blackface funmakers held the boards before a capacity house at the Plainfield theatre last night, and incidentally put across one of the best minstrel shows ever seen in the city. It was a riot from start to finish, confirmed killjoys admitting at the performance that dull moments in it were as scarce as snowstorms in July. The first part and succeeding numbers were chockfull of ginger, while the closing afterpiece, "The Dixie Derby," had 'em falling out of their seats. Its worth three times the dollar-a-bottle for killing off mental depression.

While Mr. Evans was the bright, particular star, his monologue proving a big feature, he is surrounded by a galaxy of top-notch Ethiopian minstrels. John King and Sam Lee, on the ends, were just as funny as ever. Charles Hilliard's female impersonation was a fine bit of artistic deception and Master George Koty added a pleasing bit of juvenile comedy. The chorus work admitted of no adverse criticism. All-in-all, when the "Honey Boy" troupe comes again the local minstrel lovers will unite in saying "Welcome to our city."

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The Kitchen Cupboard

WHEN DUCKS ARE COOKED.

WHEN you select a duck try to get one under a year old. The windpipe should break when pressed. The fat is soft and white, and on tame ducks the feet should be yellow. Wild ducks have red feet. It is now too late in the season for them.

Some tests for a young duck are to examine the skin on the leg to see if it is smooth. If smooth the duck is young. The webbing on the feet should be soft and the breast plump and hard. The wings also should be tender.

Preparing the Fowl.

Have the dealer clean the duck, if he will, but you must look over it yourself to see that it has been picked clean, that the crop, all the entrails and oil bags have been taken out. Then singe, wash inside and out and rinse in water to which a teaspoonful of baking soda has been added. Wipe, truss, dredge with salt, pepper and flour after the dressing has been stuffed inside. Bake in a hot oven for half an hour. Serve with green peas.

Those who do not like the strong flavor which some ducks have should stuff the craw with apples cut into small pieces. The apples are not eaten They absorb the flavor.

A covered roaster is the best for cooking the duck. Unless the fowl is young and tender fifteen to eighteen minutes to the pound should be allowed for roasting. Pour a cupful of boiling water over the duck when putting into the pan.

While cooking baste the duck with gravy from the pan. Rub with butter, sprinkle with flour and allow to brown.

The Dressing.

To make gravy set the pan in iced water after removing the duck. This brings the fat to the top. Skim off, strain the gravy, add the cooked giblets chopped fine. Thicken with browned flour, color with herbs, boil for a minute, add pepper and salt as needed and serve in a gravy boat.

A plain bread stuffing is made for the duck in this way. Take enough dry bread crumbs to fill the inside of the duck. Mix with it a teaspoonful each of onion juice and minced parsley, a saltspoonful each of sweet marjoram, sage and summer savory and pepper and salt at discretion. Do not wet the stuffing, but soften it with a little melted butter.

Apple sauce should always be served with roast duck and currant jelly is also in place. So are green peas, onions or celery.

Celery or onions are often placed inside of duck which is to be roasted. This is supposed to improve its flavor.

Anna Thompson.

THE GARDEN.

It Is Time to Begin to Plan For Your Flower Plots Now.

It is time to begin to think of the garden. Settle in your own mind quickly those flowers of which you wish to make specialties in the spring and summer garden and prepare for them by deciding the composts they will require and laying these up ready for emergencies.

Whenever the beds require a dressing of fresh soil they should have it without delay.

Manure, if too abundantly applied, is apt to produce leaf rather than blossom.

If the soil is poor apply manure deep down and let it be well incorporated with the earth.

Polyanthuses, pansies, pinks and all flowers of the same nature want looking over, and the loosened roots should be set firmly in the earth; otherwise sharp frost may take you by surprise and every flower be hurt or killed.

For the Girl Who Sews.

A bright young girl whose pet fad is harmony in the matter of the little details of dress, devising always some original touch which will tell those who see that her costume was designed as a whole, not being merely a chance collection of dress and accessories, evolved a charming and graceful fichu and cuff set to which any color touch desired can be added, according to the dress with which it is to be worn.

The fichu itself is of the usual draped surplice shape, curved to fit over the shoulders and trimmed with dainty lace frills. The inner edge is also of lace. Along the middle of the fichu following its longest line is a strip of velvet ribbon or folded satin, of a tint to match the gown, that is held in place by little cross straps of lace about three inches apart, out from which it can be drawn when the fichu is laundered or when it is to be replaced by some other color.

The cuffs to match this were deep ones, turned back, with double rows of lace frills an inch deep at the upper edge. Around the body of each cuff went the strip of satin or velvet to match that used on the fichu, and this again was apparently secured by the tiny straps of lace which crossed it, but which was also, as in the case of the fichu, caught here and there by an invisible stitch to prevent any accident or slipping from place. The narrow girdle was also of the same material as the colored "inset."

—Persons who sit down on the spur of the moment usually make some very sharp remarks.

THE NEW LINGERIE.

Slim Lines the Thing In Modish Underwear.

THE BODICE CORSET COVER.

Pictured is the new bodice corset cover, which is a boon to the stout women. It is very much on the order of a brassiere, as it is perfectly fitted to the figure and boned in several places.

Another advantage of this corset cover is that it is attached to the petticoat, giving a smooth hip line.

The materials used are valenciennes lace and the sheerest of tucked batiste. Pink satin ribbon ties the cover at the shoulders and is run through the beading.

HERE AND THERE.

New Features of the Spring Corset. Fichus Modish.

The newest corsets preserve or mold the natural figure lines—the low, unconfined bust; the curveless waist, with the diaphragm slightly full; the perfect, curveless and slender hip line. All of the new corsets are more flexible.

Transparent fichus are worn over the prettiness of young shoulders, and their value in the toilet of madam is great.

There are many pretty bordered materials this spring, but none is better adapted to young girls' use than marquisette in a flowered design. The frock pictured is evolved from this material. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

VARIED TRAINING AHEAD FOR THE NATIONAL GUARD

In addition to the new outdoor training season, beginning in May, and the military maneuvers in August, more improvements will be introduced in the National Guard next summer than in any of the previous years—if the troops are not getting even better training on the Mexican border by that time.

For instance, under a recent order the New Jersey Infantry organizations are picking out men for their mounted scouts, that will allow greater freedom and mobility when cut off from a cavalry screen; there will be machine gun platoons attachpail—all under a seperate head and one New Jersey regiment, and possibly the New Jersey Signal Corps will have a war balloon for observation purposes. The New York Militia, it is expected will use an aeroplane during the maneuvers.

Then, of greater importance almost, than anything else, the troops will go into the field, accompanied by a reorganized hospital corps, with a new and up-to-the-minute field hoseed to several New York and possibly not subject to orders or changes by some officer of the line.

This is considered by the government one of the biggest of the many improvements of the National State Guard of this State. Then again, there may be another change; instead of two troops going there may possibly be a third troop organized, making a squadron of cavalry to offset the recently organized regiment of cavalry in New ork.

With all of these improvements and changes will be another experiment. The New Jersey troops will be commanded by Major-General Peter Farmer Wanser, and no regular army officer from another State will have any authority. The Jersey soldiers, newly equpped, well recuited, with all the improvements approved of by the government, will take to the field under its own officers and commanded by a Jerseyman and the guardsmen, officers and men are confident that the result wil reflect credit on the State.

While preparation is being made for all of this, Audjutant-General Sadler, through the bureau officers, is keeping his eye on the transportation problem between here an Texas and the government knows how many men, horses and guns this State can turn out on twelve hours' notice.

The scarcity of horses fit for cavalry, artillery or officers is growing to be a serious problem for the guard or New Jereey in connection with the federal maneuvers in New ork State next August, and Adjutant-General Wilbur F. Sadler Jr. and Quartermaster-General C. Edward Murray are greatly concerned over the situation.

The most thorough and accurate examination of the sight that is possible and there is no chance of any error being fitted to glasses by the DAMMER'S SCIENTIFIC METHOD—This examination is worth at least $5.00 of any one's money.

We make a pair of glasses as low as $1.00, with as fine a gold-filled frame as can be made.

When you are tired and sick of having your eyes fitted by the old style way of fitting glasses, or the so-called subjective test, of putting lines and letters on the wall and asking whether you can see this or that letter and line; when you have been all through this many times and have been unable to ge fitted correctly, come to us and we will look through your eyes and take the exac optical focus and error of your sight and give you comfort and relief.

If you have headaches, dizziness, nervousness, or any trouble resulting from eyestrain, come to us and have your eyes measured by the new system from which wonderful results are obtained.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

FAMOUS BASEBALL STARS OUT OF GAME

Many Veterans Missing From Big Leagues This Season.

SOME BACK IN THE BUSHES

Numerous Old Timers Will Cavort Around on Minor League Diamonds While a Number of Stars Have Quit Active Playing.

Though the season of 1911 was a banner year for the development and discovery of young phenoms, it also saw the passing of a remarkable number of old stars. Many of these veterans who drew their last major league salary check at the close of last season were stars of the first magnitude when some of the 1911 fledglings were being introduced to knee trousers.

There is always a pathetic side when a new find is discovered. Every time a Marty O'Toole, a Grover Cleveland Alexander or a Joe Jackson is discovered it means that some old fellow whose legs are beginning to stiffen and whose batting eye is getting dim will have to pack his grip and take the inevitable trip on the "minor league specials."

Among the former stars who have voluntarily retired from active service or have been released since the beginning of the 1911 campaign are such well known men as Fred Clarke, Fred Tenney, Harry Davis, "Kitty" Bransfield, Topsy Hartsel, Kid Elberfeld, Wid Conroy, Harry Steinfeldt, Charley Hemphill, Jesse Tannehill, Doc Gessler, George Schlei, Pat Flaherty, Charley Schmidt, Danny Hoffman, George McQuillen and Cy Falkenberg. Other players who have served in the big leagues for shorter periods and got passes to the bushes within the last year are Lew Moren, Jack Rowan, Amby McConnell, Bugs Raymond, Fred Beebe, Dolly Gray, Jack Lelivelt, Fred Beck, Bill Burns, Young Cy Young and King Brockett.

Concerning Frank Chance.

Father Time was particularly severe on former star first sackers. Though Frank Chance has announced he will again play first base this season, most critics seem inclined to believe that the season of 1911 marked the end of "Husk's" career as a playing manager. Frank may play this year, but it is doubtful if he will ever be the Frank Chance of old.

But even if Chance hangs on for another year, three former star first basemen, Harry Davis, Fred Tenney and Kitty Bransfield, have completed their big league careers. Davis, the Cleveland Naps' new pilot, has announced that he will be a bench manager, although he may occasionally take a whack at the ball in a pinch. However, he says he is through as a first baseman. Tenney will scout for Boston this season, and Kitty Bransfield will play with Louisville.

Fred Clarke has said he is through as a player. So sure is the Kansan that he will keep his word that he has wagered twenty-one suits of clothes that he will not even take up a bat in the pinch. As twenty-one suits would put a hole even in the buccaneer chieftain's pocketbook, it may be taken for granted that Clarke is sincere.

Griff, the Headsman.

Two former star outfielders will be managers in the minors this season. They are Charley Hemphill and Topsy Hartsel. The former New Yorker is in charge of the Atlanta Southern league club, while Connie Mack's one time speed merchant is looking after the destinies of the Toledo Mud Hens of the American association.

Clark Griffith chopped off heads right and left after he took charge in the Capital City. No less than five pastimers felt Griff's ax, the unlucky quintet being "Tabasco Kid" Elberfeld, his old time side kick, Wid Conroy; Doc Gessler, formerly with Brooklyn, the Chicago Cubs and the Boston Red Sox; "Dolly" Gray, the Golden State pitcher, and Jack Lelivelt.

One of the greatest third basemen the game has ever produced played his last game in the fast set last season—namely, Harry Steinfeldt, the former star third sacker of the Cubs. Steiny played with the Bostons last season, but illness soon compelled him to desist.

Jesse Tannehill, the former star left hander of the Pirates, Highlanders and Boston Red Sox, finished his big league career in Cincinnati.

That Big Deal.

It seems strange that all four of the pitchers involved in the big deal of 1910 between Griffith and Dooin should have been sent back to the bushes the same year. McQuillen, Moren, Beebe and Rowan were the men involved, and all of them had been in the big leagues from three to five years.

George Schlei, the former Giant and Cincinnati mainstay, got his unconditional release shortly after the 1911 season opened. George was recently signed by the Cubs, but he has been shipped to Louisville. "Dutch" Schmidt, the white hope of the profession, who at one time was almost the entire Tiger catching staff, has been sent to Navin's farm in Providence. Schmidt was the Tigers' first catcher in the world's series of 1907, 1908 and 1909, and his poor work proved a big handicap to Jennings' warriors.

N. P. H. S. BASEBALL SQUAD IN FIRST PRACTICE

Candidates for the N. P. H. S. baseball team to the number of nineteen all told, fifteen raw recruits and four of last year's nine, went out on Hyde field yesterday afternoon and began knocking the ball around. Although it was impossible to get a line on what kind of a team the school can produce this season, all of the youngsters are enthusiastic and willing to work hard.

The quartet of last year's club who are assured their places are Captain George Townley, pitcher; Frank Dunning, first base; William Taylor, second base, and Carroll Taylor, outfielder. With these players as a nucleus Coach Becker expects to put a fast team in the field and as soon as the diamond gets in condition he will take active hold of the material on hand and build the N. P. H. S. baseball machine.

Other promising candidates to answer the first call were Ashley Burner, Ralph Smalley, Roy Love, Alan Diman, Duclos VanMater, E. J. Kenney, Newton Spencer, David Levitz, Elmer French E. F. Lowe, H. A. Abrams, Edson Day, Raymond Kline, A. L. Schroder and Addison Newkirk.

THE GINGER JAR

Baseball weather.

Millinery openings today; baseball openings soon.

Have you noticed how some of the hats are supplied with whiskbrooms just like umpires?

Soon the shouts of the kiddies, the smack of wood on leather and the jingling of broken window panes will be familiar sounds.

A new player may drift to fame on a hit for they have been known to be more potent as arousers than storms.

A fan is never too old to enthuse over a timely hit nor too young to admire the hitter.

Fans are disposed to forgive an old player many follies, but when he actually goes bad they lengthen and highten the toboggan.

If Abe Attell persists in his slander suit against Tommy Murphy's manager the public may learn some real inside dope.

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turned to thoughts of love, so he picked him out a chicken and stole her left hand glove. He fondled and carressed it and all such things as that and three weeks later wore it when he went behind the bat.

Gabby Street is quite enthusiastic over the Yankee pitching staff. "Looks as if there are seven or eight good ones," he said. "Next to Walter Johnson, Caldwell has more smoke than any pitcher I ever caught."

Bert Tooley will have to hustle this year for Barney Reilly, the former Yale star, is hot after his job with the Superbas. The Eli looks to have the makings of a good shortstop.

Dahlen thinks Yunglin will make good as a big league pitcher. The rookie, however, needs more experience. First of all he must gain control. After he that conquered he'll be fit. He has a pretty good assortment of curves.

Yale's Contribution.

Walter Camp, of the Yale University Athletic Association has forwarded to Treasurer Julian W. Curtiss of the American Olympic committee a check for $300. Yale's contribution to the Olympic fund to defray the expenses of the American team to Stockholm. It is expected that Princeton, Pennsylvania, Dartmouth and the other leading colleges in the East and West will also contribute to the fund.

Will Dine the Athletes.

The N. P. H. S. senior class will give the boy's and girl's basketball teams and the faculty a reception and dinner in the manual training building Friday night. The committee in charge is comprised of Carroll Taylor, Henry Kline, Ella Miller, Madeline Ubrahahan and Helen Hummell.

PITCHERS NEED NERVE MORE THAN CURVES, SAYS BROWN

"Good curves are great assets," says Mordecai Brown, of the Cubs, "but there have been great pitchers who had hardly enough to fool an amateur. Speed? Another grand asset. But some of the great pitchers didn't have enough speed to break a pane of glass. Control? It's a great thing to cultivate. But some good twirlers were minus the article to a great extent. Head Work? Great! What's the use of having a pitcher who doesn't use his noodle?

Then what is the greatest asset a pitcher can have? Nerve. It isn't sufficient when it isn't backed up. But give a pitcher the nerve and anything else and he'll be a great pitcher. On the other hand, let him have everything else and no nerve and he'll be a dub. There's scarcely a day when the pitcher isn't called upon to use his nerve.

"It's the only requisite in the makeup of a really great pitcher, and I don't know a single other qualification that is absolutely essential. The pitcher depending upon his curve suddenly discovers that his curve ball won't work. The break isn't there. It's up to his nerve. If he has lots of it he may keep the opposing batsmen standing still until he recovers himself. If he has'nt the nerve he is in for a beating. So with the fellow that depends upon his speed. He discovers to his amazement that his fast ball is without the jump. If he has the nerve he may work along an inning or two or maybe for half a game. Suddenly it comes back and he's all right. If he hasn't the nerve he'll blow. Same way with control. A pitcher suddenly goes wild. The only thing in the world that will settle him is his nerve. If he loses that it's an ascension. There are times when the rule doesn't hold good."

NEW VERSION ON ORIGIN OF GREATEST MODERN SPORT

Cincinnati, O., February 19.—Eddie Wilbern, on his way home from the Dunbar in India, has taken time off to discover the origin of baseball. Ed is now travelling through Egypt and this is what he found out, contained in a letter to the Cincinnati "Enquirer:"

It may be of some interest to you to know that baseball originated in Egypt. On the walls of the oldest temple here in Thebes I saw a frieze showing the ancient Egyptians playing baseball with a cocoanut for a ball. They hit the cacoa with the butt end of a big bamboo and then ran to a base and return. They had a judge of play and there were spectators. This frieze on the sandstone wall in Thebes dates to 4000 B. C., and they must have had some idea of baseball at that time. At any rate it's here, and I'm going to try to get a picture of it. All of our games are played with a ball, polo, cricket, tennis, foot ball, rugby, bowling on the green in England, and bowling on the sand in France. So you see that our ancestors invented all the games played with a ball, and that ball was originally no doubt a cocoanut or some other tropical growth of a sound formation that grew on a tree, as our ancestors lived in caves and trees." This is the latest word on the subject from an original investigator who has traveled all over the world. Mr. Wilbern has still to visit the Soudan, Khartoum, Assouan, Karnak, Luxor and Victoria Falls before turning home, and he is likely to discover additional proofs of his valuable theory, which will be recorded in this place.

LOU SLOCUM LIKELY TO HAVE SUNDAYS OFF

The feeling of something more than strong rivalry between Wilkes-Barre and Scranton in the New York State League and the result of a scrap between the owners of these city's teams at the schedule meeting in Syracuse last week may result in the discontinuance of baseball games at Scranton this season.

Lou Slocum the local twirler, who has been farmed to the Scranton team, known as the Miners, will report early next month and by that time the question of Sunday ball will have been settled. He says he don't care anything about donning the flannels on Sundays and would be just as well pleased if owner Coleman sticks to his threat.

For a time the other managers took it as a joke, but when Coleman slammed his cane on the floor in front of President J. H. Farell and said "We'll see," the other seven cities in the league began to realize that the miner owner was in deadly earnest.

Coleman put up the fight of his life for that date. He has been seeking this extra favor from his fellow-magnates for five years and confidently expected they would decide in his favor instead of turning the plum over to Clymer.

But Coleman will fight back. He says there will be no Sunday ball and to prove his assertion has not signed the annual lease for Minooka Park which the team has used for Sunday games ever since 1904.

Coleman has further cause for grievance against Clymer since the meeting, when the latter, upon learning that Coleman was seeking Bill O'Hara, the star outfielder of the Toronto International League, started negotiations for the player, and as O'Hara lived in Wilkes-Barre, it is likely, if Toronto lets him go and gives him his choice the Barons will land him.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The girls' basketball team of the Plainfield High School and the girls team of the North Plainfield High School will meet this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. in the third contest for the interscholastic championship. Each team has won one game.

Allen S. Williams, who has already delivered two interesting lectures at the Plainfield High School will give an illustrated lecture tomorrow morning on "Indians."

Under the direction of Miss Ariadne Gilbert, of the faculty, pupils selected from the Plainfield High School are rehearsing regularly to give "Scenes From Literature" in the Plainfield High School auditorium, March 30, for the benefit of Doctor MacDonald's Sea Coast Mission.

BERKELEY HEIGHTS BRIDGE THREATENED BY ICE CAKES.

New Providence, March 19.—The sudden rise of the Passaic River last wek threatened to carry away the steel bridge connecting Morris and Union counties at Berkeley Heights. Joseph Kuntz, proprietor of the Pine Tree Hotel, remembering the danger that the bridge was in four years ago found that massive cakes of ice were being thrown against it by the current. Kuntz managed to get on the structure, when a small wooden bridge, followed b yhundreds of tons of ice, swept down the middle of the stream, striking the bridge, diving underneath and raising the ponderous structure over a foot. Kuntz concluded it was about time for him to seek a place of safety. He expected the bridge to go, but it dropped back on its foundations.

Kuntz telephoned for Freeholder J. Jones, who gave instructions to Kuntz to watch the bridge, and, if necessary, to get large chains and anchor it to keep it from being carried away. This is a comparatively new structure, being built only a few years ago, taking the place of one constructed of wood.

CONTEST OVER ESTATE OF MAN DEAD THIRTY YEARS

Newton, March 19—Although Edward W. McNish, a Wantage farmer, died in July, 1882, leaving an estate valued at nearly $7,000, Melvin J. Simpson, of Los Angeles, the executor appointed by McNish is just now atempting to settle up the estate. Various charges in his account are objected to by Sarah C. Harding, one of the beneficiaries.

The settling of the estate was prevented, according to the terms of the testator's will, which stated that the division of the property should not take place until the death of one of the beneficiaries.

The settling of the estate came up Friday in Sussex Orhpans' Court when the Harding exceptions were filed alleging six reasons why Judge L. J. Martin should not confirm the account.

The court set April 12 for a hearing in the matter.

THIRTY-FOUR KILLED; DYNAMITE IN ENGINE?

Terrible Explosion Occurs Among Railroad Strike Breakers.

San Antonio, Tex., March 19.—Thirty-four men, most of them strike breakers, are known to have been killed, fifty-four injured and several buildings were wrecked when the boiler of a locomotive exploded in the local yards of the Southern Pacific railroad. A report that the building was dynamited, causing the second explosion of the boiler, is being investigated.

Eighteen bodies had been recovered from the wreckage within two hours after the explosion. The roundhouse and copper shops were practically demolished, and many men working in them were hurt by falling walls.

The half ton jacket of the exploded locomotive dropped between two houses on Duvall street, several blocks distant, while the tender was catapulted several hundred feet and twisted into a big shapeless chunk of steel.

Mrs. B. S. Gillis, sixty-two years old, in her home seven blocks away, was probably fatally injured when the front end of the locomotive crashed into the roof, demolishing three rooms and continuing through to the ground floor of the house.

ASSEMBLYMAN'S DAUGHTER IMITATES HOUSE SPEAKER

Trenton, March 19.—Speaker McCran has made a record during the present session of the Legislature that has earned for him high commendation from the Asemblymen. The opinion is unanimous that the business-like vigor of the Speaker is worthy of imitation. However, one Assemblyman has dealized that a great deal depends on the person who does the imitating. The member upon whom this fact was impressed is W. De L. R. Anderson, of Watchung, Somerset's representative.

Mr. Anderson's wife and his five-year-old daughter Marie attended a session of the House last week. During a period of restlessness among the members, the Speaker had to rap vigorously for order. The Speaker smashed one gavel, so the members from Hudson County raised a subscription and presented him with a heavy bung starter. It was suited to the power of the Speaker's strong arm, but was not so beautiful, so the Speaker had it turned down until some grace was abtainted by rounding the square head of the mallet. That was the instrument of order the Speaker was using when the Anderson family saw him in action.

Marie was much interested in the Speaker's actions. She is a lively active youngster, and the athletic vigor of the Speaker appealed to her strongly. She watched him with intense interest, and she was reluctant to leave the assembly chamber until he had restored order permanently for the remainder of the sesion.

Speaker were still in the mind of Marie and she decided that her baby sister Carroll and she should play "Assembly." Marie elected herself Speaker and chose her sister to be the Assembly. Of course, a gavel was a requisite for the part of the yet been Speaker, so he did not possess a gavel. Marie had to find a substitute, and did locate a hammer.

The Assembly chamber that she selected was the dining-room of her home. Perched on a chair, the dining table made an appropriate Speaker's desk. Then Carroll made some motions and uttered some sounds that Speaker Marie ruled out of order. Nevertheless, Carroll did not subside. To produce order in the "House" Speaker Marie rapped on the table. Her muscles were not under such good control as Speaker McCran's and the result was not only the splitting of the mahogany, but also the demolition of a large ornamental lamp and the destruction of a large cut glass vase.

More articles might have been smashed if Mrs. Anderson had not been attracted in time to stop further damage. Since that time, Mrs. Anderson has instilled into Marie's mind that women are not yet Speakers of the Assembly and also that Senators are higher than Assemblymen and that they are more dignified than Assemblymen and should therefore be imitated rather than the turbulent lower house.

ATTRACTIVE PROGRAM FOR PRESBYTERIAL MEETING

An attractive program has been prepared for the annual meeting of the Presbyterial Society for Home Missions, to be held Friday, March 29, at the Presbyterian church, Westfield. The simliar meeting for the foreign missions society will be held in the Third Presbyterian church, Elizabeth, on Tuesday, April 9. Mrs. Augustus S. Crane is the president of the home missions organization and Mrs. John T. Kerr is president of the foreign missions body.

At the meeting at Westfield on March 29 there will be important addresses by Mrs. Dwight E. Potter and Marshall C. Allaben. Mrs. Potter is a young widow who is trying to carry out the wishes of her husband, whose life of marked usefulness was closed by death at an early age. She will speak particularly of the importance of unifying missionary endeavor and will urge the formation of Westminister Guilds for young women. More than 400 chapters have been organized—chiefly in the West. The work includes the study of both home and foreign missions and a Bible study course. The offerings of the guild are equally divided between home and foreign societies on special objects.

Mrs. Potter is secretary of the Women's Board of Home Missions and works to further the interest of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions in the New York territory.

Mr. Allaben who is superintendent of school work under the Woman's Board of Home Missions, will speak on "The Presbyterian Schools as a Socializing Factor."

EYES OF THE THRIFTY WILL TURN TO THIS CONVENTION

Atlantic City, March 19. — The proceedings of a convention to be held in this city during the week of July 8, will interest 3,000,000 thrifty Americans. The 3,000,000 are shareholders in the "local" building and loan associations, whose interests will be considered by the United States League of Building and Loan Associations.

Governor Wilson will deliver the chief address of welcome to the 2,000 delegates who are to attend the League conventioin.

One of the matters of foremost importance to be considered by the League which represents the thousands of associations throughout the country, will be the launching of a movement for the elimination of the practice of extracting a premuim for loans advanced to home-builders. These premuims which aggregate thousands of dollars in the course of a year, are favored by those who patronize building and loan associations as an investment, because they hasten the maturity of shares and are oneof the chief elements of profit from the saving standpoint. It is contended, however, that the premuim is a burden upon home-builders with whom every dollar counts, and backers of the movement to eliminate them by legislation, if necessary, are satisfied that the result will mean a greater number of homes owned by those the associations are primarily designed to benefit.

Another proposition before the National association is a movement to encourage saving money among the young by making school children members of home associations. Advocates of this plan, which has been taken up in New ork State with great success, would amplify the school savings of the pupils invested in shares which may be applied toward the purchase of real estate or in laying the foundation for collegiate education for many a poor boy or girl who would otherwise have no opportunity of enjoying this boon.

School saving funds which now command but three per cent. interest under the common banking plan, would, under the new system enable the juvenile members to share in the much greater profits of building and loan associations, which in New Jersey are said to average seven and eight per cent. The new plan would not only encourage greater interest in saving, it is contended, but would inculcate in children an ambition to possess homes years before that thought generally presents itself.

Another proposition before the National body will be a movement for legislation to prescribe uniformity in the matter of loans by the savings associations. In New Jersey these loans are limited to first mortgages and second mortgages are forbidden except where the association already holds a first mortgage. Pennsylvania and other States permit second Mortgage loans directly, and this rule also pertains, it is said, in other States. An effort will be made to put the associations in all States under essentially identical restrictions in this respect.

Delegates will also discuss the matter of greater compensation for officers of building and loan associations. Heretorfore the rule has been to regard the question of service from a philanthropic standpoint. But the whole plan is now so thoroughly developed and the associations have grown to such an extent in many cities that some of them do almost the business of a bank. It is becoming increasingly difficult to procure the services of competent officers whose time is valuable, and for this reason it is proposed that the question of adequate compensation shall be worked out upon a business basis.

To Form a Union.

All local horse owners and drivers are invited to attend the meeting to be held in Trades Council hall on Thursday, March 28, for the purpose of completing a union and discussing general plans for the benefit of all. A preliminary meeting was held at the home of C. H. Lippincott on Jackson avenue a week ago.

Will Buy Church Organ.

At a meeting of the Dutch Arms of the Netherwood Reformed church last night, it was decided to buy and install a pipe organ at the expense of the association. Various means will be employed to raise the funds.

Groves Will Amend Bill.

Trenton, March 19.—Assemblyman Groves, of Union county, has agreed with the House committee on education to amend his bill to make valid Board of Education consisting of nine members. Question was raised whether the bill in its original form would stand the test of the courts and it is thought that the commitee substitute on the measure will do this. It is the desire of Mr. Groves to continue Elizabeth's Board of Education as at present constituted.

After the Coal Trust.

Trenton, March 19.—Assemblyman Donnelly introduced a resolution in the House suggesting that the Governor invoke the assistance of the Federal Department of Justice and the Inter-State Commerce Commission to assist in suppressing the anthracite coal trust and that the Governor appoint a special commission to investigate the trust.

The address of welcome was given by William Oakley, of Elizabeth, who is a member of both organizations. Councillor Walter Muller and E. G. Smith were in charge of the affair.

DEFEAT WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

Trenton, March 19.—By the vote of 17 to 3 the State Senate, this afternoon, defeated the woman's suffrage resolution. The three Senators voting for it were Gebhardt, of Hunterdon; Davis, of Salem, and Gaunt, of Gloucester. Senator Pierce, of Union county, spoke and voted against it. The suffragists will immediately carry their fight into the Assembly.

DECLARES WIFE WAS A SUICIDE

MacFarland, Condemned Murderer, Makes Statement.

COULDN'T TELL STORY.

Counsel Prevented Him From Giving His Side of Case on Witness Stand, Which, He Says, Prejudiced the Jury Against Him.

Newark, N. J., March 19.—Allison M. MacFarland, the wife murderer, who was to have been put to death in the electric chair but got a thirty days' reprieve pending argument before the court of errors and appeals, issued a statement from his cell in the death house in which he tries to show his wife was not poisoned by him, but committed suicide.

MacFarland tells of the death of his wife at their home in Park avenue, Newark, Oct. 18, while he and his small son were in New York. He declares he was anxious to tell his story on the witness stand, but was prevented from doing so by his counsel.

"I believe this course prejudiced the jury and was a factor in bringing about the verdict of guilty," he continues.

Throughout the statement MacFarland shows he does not approve the way his case was handled by counsel. He goes on to say Mrs. MacFarland could not possibly have taken cyanide of potassium in mistake for bromide and attempts to show he could not have been a party to this mistake by substituting the bottles.

He contends that the wife, weary of their quarrels and having discovered letters sent him by "Bunnywife," his pet name for Miss Florence Bromley, the Philadelphia girl who came between him and Mrs. MacFarland, deliberately took the cyanide.

Then, in an attempt to prove that Mrs. MacFarland had prepared to die, he says she could not have got the poison bottle and measured out a dose without knowing what she was doing.

PLEADS GUILTY TO ARSON.

But Denies She Set Fire For Purpose of Obtaining Insurance Money.

Newark, N. J., March 19.—Mrs. Louis E. Tronson, who was proprietress of the Kopper Kettle, a tea room in Scotland road, South Orange, pleaded guilty before Judge Marlin here to an indictment charging her with arson in connection with the destruction of the tea room some weeks ago. To another indictment charging her with setting fire to the building with deliberate intention to defraud the insurance companies she pleaded not guilty. She furnished bail in the sum of $1,000 to appear in court again when wanted.

On the night of the fire Mrs. Tronson was found lying in the snow partly unconscious. She told a story of having been attacked and robbed by a negro and a white man, who then threw her from a second story window and set fire to the building. From the first the police were suspicious of her narrative, and they kept her under surveillance, and on Feb. 8 she was arrested and charged with arson. The Kopper Kettle was well known and was visited by prominent persons.

CHARGE BOYS WITH STEALING

Paterson Police Say They Are Desperate Burglars—Plunder Recovered.

Paterson, N. J., March 19.—The police here say Albert and Perry Vreeland and William Paton, from sixteen to eighteen years, are desperate burglars. Nearly a dozen complaints are lodged against the youthful prisoners. Plunder worth more than $1,000 has so far been recovered.

Robert McCrow, superintendent of West Side park, in the police court at Paterson identified Albert Vreeland as the youth who held him up in the park several weeks ago and forced him to do a buck and wing dance.

The boy was also charged with having entered the home of James Eastwood, 91 Twenty-third avenue. He robbed it, ate the pot pie Mrs. Eastwood had left cooking in the oven, played the piano and took a bath during his stay in the residence.

The police say the three entered the residence of Miss Marion D. Gail on Preakness avenue last week and stole several valuable pictures. All the boys are graduates of the reform school.

TWO HURT IN EXPLOSION.

Gasoline Tank Exploded in Newark Cemetery Pumping Station.

Newark, N. J., March 19.—An explosion of a tank containing sixty gallons of gasoline hurled two men through a frame building at the pumping station of the Holy Sepulcher cemetery here. Frank Cavanaugh, a former amateur bicycle rider, was severely injured and taken to the City hospital. John Murphy, who was in the room at the time of the explosion, was also badly hurt.

The gasoline tank fed an engine used to pump water from the low lying sections of the cemetery.

Pitney In; Court Now Full.

Washington, March 19.—For the first time in many months the United States supreme court has a full bench. Mahlon Pitney of New Jersey taking the oath immediately after court convened.

—Fully 1,000 singing societies with a membership of 100,000 are expected to take part in the "Concours International de Musique" to be held in Paris this summer.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

GRAND OPENING

AND EXPOSITION OF THE

NEW PARIS STORE

140 and 142 WEST FRONT STREET, PLAINFIELD, N. J.

WILL TAKE PLACE TOMORROW, MARCH 20

FROM 1 to 6 AND FROM 7 to 9 P. M.

This gala event, to which EVERYBODY IS INVITED, will be a revelation to the people of Plainfield, for no money nor pains has been spared to fit up a store worthy the patronage of those who appreciate the onward march to better facilities, better conditions and a broader view of the requirements of the shopping public. All of these things will be embodied in this magnificent emporium, where the requirements of the entire community will be studied with a keen sense of their proper wants.

The Main Floor

Is large, well appointed and splendidly laid out, the finishing and fixtures being finished in mahogany, the ceilings are of metal in pretty designs, the entire floor and upper floor being elegantly fitted up with beautiful electric fixtures in handsome designs.

This floor will be devoted to Ladies' Furnishings by JOHN J. VARLEY, formerly of A. E. Force & Co., who will carry the most exclusive and extensive line of Ladies' Waists, Hosiery, Gloves, Muslin and Knit Underwear Neckwear, Leather Goods, Corsets of the best known kinds, Kimonas, Parasols and Umbrellas, Millinery, Infants' wear, in fact everything that a woman wears will be found here.

Souvenir Bargains

In preference to giving away worthless trinkets as souvenirs, we have decided to give our visitors EXTRAORDINARY VALUES in the form of Souvenir Bargains, which will be on display, and so ticketed. We believe this method will be appreciated as being in line with the more modern methods.

Our Selling Policy

We guarantee all goods to be as represented at strictly one price, which will be lower in price than goods of similar quality can be sold for elsewhere and will never consider a transaction closed until the customer is perfectly satisfied.

Our Salespeople

Are the most competent, attentive and painstaking that money can employ. They will always be ready to please you in a most courteous manner, which will make it a pleasure to shop here.

THE New PARIS Store

Has been made possible by many years of honest effort, right storekeeping and square dealing in the old store, while in the new the methods will be more progressive, vigorous and a larger responsibility in catering to the needs of the buying public, who has made possible the realization of our aims.

This Wonderful Progress

Could never have been made without the confidence and patronage of the people and it is our aim in the future to merit a continuance of that confidence which has been largely instrumental in fitting up one of the handsomest and best appointed stores in the State of New Jersey.

First to Show Authentic Styles

In this opening announcement we have confined our efforts to a description of our store, its arrangement and policy, in preference to any attempt at picturing the new styles which we have gathered from the world's leading fashion centres.

Come Here and See for Yourself

Whether we have exaggerated our description: in fact we think we have been rather modest in our talk. However, we want to see and greet you personally, and please consider this a personal invitation, for we want you to feel that this is your store, for you certainly are welcome at all times to make yourself at home, having provided a place where you can rest, where you can have every convenience and comfort that this modern store can place at your disposal.

The Second Floor Balcony

This beautifully appointed floor and a space on the main floor will be devoted to the lines that J. A. FASS has been specializing for years, consisting of Cloaks, Suits, Silk and Wash Dresses, Evening Costumes and Furs. This floor is richly carpeted in Green Wilton Velvet, the walls being lined with the new modern Show Cases with panelled mirrors, well appointed try-on rooms, conveniently located, in fact no store in New York can boast of a more attractive floor than this.

The cleverest designers and most fashionable tailors have contributed to make this opening show of fashionable garments the most complete ever displayed in this city. The styles are so varied, assortments so great as to render a detailed description impossible.

Alterations

Everybody knows that The Paris is famed for perfect alterations and here lies the great secret of our success.

You take no chance here, for we employ only competent, experienced tailors, who make a study of this particular branch.

Furs Stored Here

We will have the most perfect cold storage plant in the State, where you can store your Furs. There will be a constant circulation of air at all times insuring absolute safety. The charge will be nominal, being only three per cent. of valuation, which covers loss from any cause.

BIG DEMAND FOR COAL IN THIS CITY

Fear of a Strike Has Led to an Abnormal Call For Fuel.

ONLY ABOUT 5000 TONS HERE

Dealers Won't Predict Strike, But Are "Covering up."—An Oddity of the Situation and Some Figures of the Trade.

The possibility of a coal strike is having its effect in this city where the local dealers are contending with an abnormal demand for coal of all sizes, while the daily supply from the mines is limited. It is estimated that the mines are now turning out about 45 per cent. of the amount required.

One of the big dealers in Plainfield said today that he did not think that at the present there is more than 5,000 tons of coal in the city. Last year the total consumption was about 75,000 tons.

This same dealer says that all of the local coal men have been drawing on their reserve stock since last December, while the operators have been sending only a limited daily supply. Several months ago the operators raised the price of chestnut size of coal, claiming a scarcity. Now, strangely enough, it is said there seems to be plenty of chestnut coal. There has also been a substantial increase in the price of pea coal, and in many instances pea and chestnut coal is being mixed and sold for $6.75 per ton.

While none of the local dealers are willing to admit that there will be a strike, they are endeavoring to protect themselves as much as possible. A dealer in discussing the situation today sought to explain who gets the lion share in the coal trade.

He said that the operators get $4.00 a ton for coal at the mine, to which is added $1.565 a ton for cartage from the mine, ten cents a ton for unloading at the dealer's yard and the dealer charges fifty cents a ton for delivering coal to the consumer, making a total of $6.15. At present prices the dealer makes sixty cent a ton and he has to run the chances often times of getting his money. The dealer who gave the above figures declared that it was about time that the retailer received a fair return in his business.

The fact that $1.55 is charged for hauling every ton of coal from the mines is considered exorbitant and it is predicted that the Inter-State Commerce Commission may take action on this feature of the business before long. That the price of all sizes of coal will be advanced is the general opinion of all the Plainfield dealers.

Times and Freeman, in commenting on the lecture, "Rags and Royalty," given by Dr. Austen K. deBlois, says: "Dr. deBlois is an actual observer, and has the faculty of turning his experience to account in his great work as a preacher. His lecture was a series of vivid pictures projected on the screen of a powerful imagination. With a few rapid strokes he delineates a character. WILSON CHIEF SPEAKER AT COMMERCE BANQUET

Wm. L. Saunders Gets the Executive's Promise to Attend Big Dinner at Truell Hall on March 30.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last night decided to hold the annual banquet on Saturday, March 30, at Truell Hall. Former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, informed the board that he had secured the promise of Governor Woodrow Wilson to attend and speak. Other speakers and details of the banquet, which gives promise of being the best in the history of the organization, will be announced as they are arranged.

The directors are anxious to dispel the impression that the dinner is intended for members only. Not only are all citizens of Plainfield and North Plainfield to be invited but invitations are to be sent to residents of all the surrounding municipalities. It is hoped to have the dining hall filled to its seating capacity.

The price of the tickets has been fixed at $5. The will be placed on sale tomorrow at Schreiner Brothers and Hodge's drug stores, and can also be procured from the members of the committee as follows: Alexander Milne, chairman; D. W. Littell, M. C. VanAsdale, H. A. Todd, A. E. Force and Secretary P. H. Burns.

POLICE GET ONE SUSPECT IN HUNT FOR SNEAKTHIEVES

The first arrest in connection with the police hunt for a clue to the sneakthieves who have been operating in the East End of the city, was made early this morning, when George Jones, colored, who says he lives at 263 West Forty-seventh street, New York, was taken on suspicion.

Patrolman Sweeney arrested the negro at Netherwood avenue and East Front street. Jones said he was making his way from Somerville to New York afoot. Sweeney took him to the station house, where several pawn tickets, and a bunch of keys were found in his pockets.

He was remanded by City Judge William G. DeMeza today to give the police a chance to look up his record.

MISS MARY A. GREGORY DIES IN HER 84TH YEAR

Miss Gregory was born in England and at the age of fourteen years, soon after coming to this country, she made her home with Isaac Vail's parents at Millington.

Miss Gregory continued to live in the Vail family until her death, making her home with Isaac Vail after the death of his parents. She had resided in this city about fifty years. The funeral will be held at the late home tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock and the burial will be in the North Plainfield cemetery.

TUTTLE MAY BE ABLE TO MAKE OUR P. O. A FACT

(Special from Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, March 20.—The bill introduced by Senator Briggs authorizing an increase in the cost of a postoffice building at Plainfield was reported to the House yesterday, having already been passed by the Senate. The original appropriation for the Plainfield project was $100,000, but as $35,000 has been paid for a site the balance of $65,000 was not considered adequate to erect a building sufficient for the postal needs of the Plainfield territory. By the passage of the Briggs bill $150,000, or $115,000 for building purposes will be made available.

It is a serious doubt if the House reports any public buildings appropriation bill at this session, as the Democratic caucus has decreed against it. There is some talk, however, that a public buildings bill which will give each Congressman one appropriation for his district, may be put through. In such an event Representative Tuttle, of the Fifth district, would probably have to pick either Plainfield or Morristown for his favor.

The Morristown bill also proposes to increase the appropriation to $150,000 and is now in the hands of the Senate Committee on Public Buildings, with a favorable report on it from Senator Martine, a member of the Committee. It will probably be passed by the Senate and in due time sent to the House.

SCHOOL PROBERS FOR PISCATAWAY

Voters Create a Committtee to Investigate Township Board at District Meeting.

DISCORD OVER APPROPRIATION

Taxpayers Dissatisfied With Answers to Requests for Information on Expenditures—Four of Five Probers Named.

The liviest district school meeting Piscataway township has held in years was conducted in the New Market school last night. More than 200 taxpayers crowded into the assembly room, the report having spread about that something spicy was going to develop. Nothing startling transpired but enough questions were raised to give the impression that some of the trustees' actions need a thorough examination. A resolution carried called for the appointment of an investigating committee and four of the members designated were named today, while a fifth will be added tomorrow. They will go over the Board of Education's doings and expenditures for the past year, reporting the result at a special meeting later.

The gathering was called to order at 8 o'clock and former Assemblyman R. T. F. vonMinden was elected chairman, with Everitt Marshall acting as clerk. There were five candidates in the field for election as trustees to fill three vacancies. These were John M. Evans and H. J. Piddington, of New Market; Oscar Liebe and Van Polhemus, of Lincoln, and Jeremiah F. TenEyck, of South Plainfield. Evans, Liebe and TenEyck were declared elected. There were three tickets in the field, resulting in a greatly split up vote.

The appropriation fixed for was $20,000 and although this was voted favorably, the sum led up to the discord in the gathering. Many of the taxpayers asked for information regarding certain expenditures but did not seem to be satisfied with the answers. Though none of them offered any suggestion of misappropriation or "graft" yet there were doings, they said, that were open to criticism. One item that was mentioned frequently was a bill of $400 paid a Plainfield contractor for "repairs to heating apparatus, etc." The bill was not explained and the objectors declared that under the terms of the contract, all repairs to the heating plants should have been gratis for a certain period

Other expenditures were bared to the limelight and finally the resolution calling for the investigating committee was offered and carried. Chairman vonMinden named the following today: P. F. Kaine, South Plainfield; L. S. Bache, East Bound Brook; H. L. Pierce, New Market; William B. Kurtz, Greenbrook. The fifth man will be named as soon as possible.

SAUNDERS MUSE IS INSPIRED BY JAPAN

Head of Ingersoll-Rand Company Reads an Ode Before Hope Chapel Club.

TALKS OF HIS RECENT TRIP

Says the Little Yellow Men Much Prefer to be Complimented on Their Progress Than on the Beauty of Their Country.

Former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield, head of the Ingersoll-Rand Co., who recently returned from a trip around the world, addressed the Men's Club of Hope chapel, on his tour, last night, speaking more particularly of Japan, the objective point of the party of American mining engineers of which he was one. He read an original ode to Japan. At the outset he told of his journey across the continent on the Chicago limited, and incidentally added that the American railway service was supreme in the world.

The party sailed for the East from San Francisco, disembarking at Honolulu, where they inspected the sugar cane and pineapple growing industries.

From Honolulu the party sailed for Japan, landing at Yokohoma. The first view meeting the eyes of the party entering the harbor of Yokohoma was the majestic mountain peak of Fuji. In the Japanese parlance it is one year in height, which means two and one-half miles.

The party was met by representatives of the Japanese government which was their host during their stay in Japan. Mr. Saunders said that there is a new and old Japan. The old Japan is a Japan of the archaic days before Commodore Peary opened its doors to the world. The new Japan is the Japan of unremitting industries, of building factories, mine industries, and Tokio is just as metropolitan as Berlin, having modern newspapers, well laid out streets and sewers and modern public buildings.

Mr. Saunders said that the Japanese do not care to have people compliment them on the beauty of their country, it is of their progress during the past forty-five years they wish to hear. He said that the Japanese are the greatest people in the Orient, and that within the next twenty years they will dominate Manchuria and possibly, if the Chinese nation does not wake up pretty soon.

The speaker exhibited a number of curios including Japanese paintings a letter from a Japanese woman journalist, who interviewed Mr. Saunders and his daughter in Tokio.

An "Ode to Japan," written by Mr Saunders, which has never been published in this country, was read by the speaker at the close of his talk. It is as follows.

Japan, Japan,
I sing of love and thee!
Thy mountains of celestial calm,
Thy glorious inland sea!
These isles of green that nestle near
The ocean's heaving breast
Are children of the sun and wave,
With life eternal bless'd.

Japan, Japan,
I sing of victory!
Of wars, where men have bled and died,
For emperor and thee!
But wreaths that crown the warrior bold
Like mortal man decay,
While deeds of worth in arts of peace
Live through eternal day.

Japan, Japan,
I sing of peace and thee!
With thee are all our hopes, our fears,
Our love, our faith, our prayers, our tears,
Long life and peace ten thousand years!
For thee, BANZAI TO THEE!

Dunellen Election Quiet.

The Dunellen annual district school meting was held in the Whittier building last night. The following appropriations were carried: Current expenses, $6,800; repairs $600, manual training, $500. Thirty eight men were present and of these eight voted against the sum for manual training. George Cameron, S. W. Neslor and W. S. Frederick were re-elected as trustees for three years.

Papers on Commission Government.

The Plainfield Democratic Club at its meeting last night elected four new members and listened to the reading of two papers on the commission form of government, one by Edward T. Lynch, and the other by L. T. Fetzer. Both were in favor of the new form of government. An informal discussion followed.

Annual Meeting Tomorrow.

The annual meeting for the election of officers of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will be held in the church parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2:45. A full attendance is requested.

Surprises follow surprises in the Daily Press tours of Europe contest, which closes on April 6. Charles E. Vail, the jeweler, of Park avenue, today makes an offer which is of greater interest than almost any yet disclosed. He has decided to offer an imported five-stone, diamond ring, of extra quality, and in giving it he has suggested that it go to the contestant who turns in the most subscriptions for one year or more between last Monday, March 18, and the close of the contest on April 6. Of course his suggestion will be followed by the publishers of the Daily Press, who appreciate his interest in the one subject which is attracting the attention of the people all over the city and surrounding territory. Each year, on a new subscription, will count one point toward the ring. Thus a one year new subscription counts one point; two years, two points, and three years, three points. The ring will be on exhibition in Mr. Vail's jewelry store window within a few days.

But Mr. Vail's offer is not all. Following the announcement made in last night's Daily Press that local merchants would give special prizes to the contestants in the tour of Europe contest now running in this paper, a number of others have added their names to the list. As a result an array of special prizes is offered such as has probably never before been equalled in a contest of the kind, the total value of the contributions made by the merchants reaching a point approaching the $500 mark. Beside the big list made public yesterday, Charles E. Vail, Tepper Brothers, E. F. Glover, H. A. Bonn, Ritz, Edward A. Laing, and the Public Service Electric Company, have made substantial additions to the list of prizes offered. The announcement made yesterday started the merchants thinking about the publicity they would gain because of the fact that the Press tours are being talked about by everyone in town, and they are pleased to have the opportunity to join in giving something to those who are showing their ambition by striving to win a trip. As a result of the generosity on the part of these progressive local business men, every contestant may rest assured that the hustle necessary to be with the leaders at the end of the contest will assure them some reward for their efforts, in case they do not win the tours.

The new prizes today, in addition to Mr. Vail's ring which is fully described above is the material for a bordered foulard silk dress, in polka dot design, from M. & A. Tepper; E. F. Glover adds a phonograph; Mr. Bonn's gift will be the choice of a handsome willow plume or a new spring bonnet of equal value. The gift from Ritz will be half a dozen sterling silver almond dishes from Gorhams, while Edward A. Laing offers a woman's writing folio with a Waterman fountain pen. From the Public Service Electric Co. will come two electric irons, one for the sewing room and one for the laundry. These will be demonstrated free at any time at the show rooms of the Pub-

SCHOOL ELECTION IN THE BOROUGH

F. L. Sill, H. A. Woodruff and C. I. Nash Reelected For Three Year Terms.

C. A. LEE IN FOR TWO YEARS

Bond Issue of $18,000 for Heating Plant and the General Budget Voted—Annual Discussion Over Manual Training Department.

At the annual meeting of the North Plainfield district school meeting last night, Francis L. Sill, Hiram A. Woodruff and Charles I. Nash were re-elected for three year terms, and Charles A. Lee was elected for a two year term. The bond issue for $18,000 to install a heating and ventilating plant was voted as was also the budget for current expenses.

The meeting was largely attended. A lot of questions regarding the necessity of the new heating plant were asked, although a public hearing was held on the matter by the board several weeks ago.

There was a disucssion regarding the amount asked for the maintenance of the manual training department. According to the report of the clerk there is a balance of $2,500 on hand. The amount asked for is $2,055, and this amount will also be received from the State, making a total of $6,600. The expense of the department last year was $5862.50. It was explained that one year the board had received two payments from the State, and that explained the balance on hand. The State is liable at any time to recall the second payment made and the board must be ready at any time to refund.

In addition to the four members elected, William G. Debele was placed in nomination and received 25 votes. Dr. J. H. Cooley, president of the board presided at the meeting. The tellers were J. W. A. Bauersachs, William J. Hudson, F. O. Dunning, J. V. E. Vanderhoef, Daniel Huffch, and Albert Bodine.

The pasage of the new bond issue will give the district a bonded indebitness of $63,000, $45,00 now being out at 4 per cent.

EASY WAY TO MAKE SURE OF CHRISTMAS-GIFT FUND

Everybody needs money for Christmas. Many people have trouble in providing a sufficient amount to buy all the presents needed when the time comes. The Plainfield Trust Company of this city offers an easy plan to meet such a contingency. On April 1 it will start a Christmas Savings Club. Members will pay in a small amount each week for thirty-six weeks and at the end of that time will receive checks for the total amounts they have paid in, plus an additional 3 per cent. interest. The plan is simple and systematic. There will be two classes of members. For instance, one class will start in by paying two cents the first week, four cents the second week, six cents the third week, and so on for thirty-six weeks, the last week's payment amounting to 72 cents. Members in this class will receive checks two weeks before Christmas for $13.32 with interest, or they may reverse the order of payments by paying 72c the first week and two cents less each succeeding week, which will bring the last week's payment down to two cents. There will also be a class starting with five cents and members in this class will receive $33.50 two weeks before Christmas. Payments must be made promptly every week or in advance for as many weeks as may be convenient.

Churches, lodges and other fraternal organizations will find that the plan is admirably adapted to raising funds for the reduction of debt or other specific purposes. To property owners it is commended as an easy way of raising money for taxes.

The Club will not only prove beneficial to grown people but will be very popular with the younger ones as well. It is simple and the details are easily understood when explained. Everyone is welcome to join and The Plainfield Trust Company will be pleased to have those interested call and learn all about it. Those desiring to become members may join after April 1st.

MERCHANTF OFFER PRIZES

lic Service Corporation, on Park avenue.

The offer made by Bonn is of especial importance to the contestants in the fifth district, for it will go to the young women in that district whose vote shows the greatest gain from last Monday, March 18, until the close of the contest, but fails to win the trip.

Although the special prizes offered by these merchants are valuable and handsome, the contestants must not lose sight of the fact that they are striving for a splendid tour of Europe, and that the prizes are to a large extent of secondary consideration, however valuable they are.

ONE JOYLESS STRETCH ON THE ROAD TO PRINCETON

As has been told, Chief of Police Kiely got up out of bed early Sunday morning to pilot Governor Wilson's automobile from here to Princeton. It has just developed that the trip was not entirely uneventful.

Somewhere on the road—the Chief cannot exactly locate the spot—the chauffeur of the automobile became uncertain as to the route. Chief Kiely was also in doubt as to the road. To be on the safe side the chief hailed a constable on night duty and received instructions from him. After going about three miles, the Chief estimates, the party reached the muddy stretch and concluded that they were on the wrong track.

There was some delay in getting the automobile out of the mire, but at last that was accomplished only to find that there was not room enough to turn around in, and a tortuous spell of "backing" ensued.

"I'm mighty g[illegible] one thing," said the Chief, in telling the yarn today, "and that is that we had a limousine for the trip. It was pretty comfortable inside. But just wait until I see that constable again."

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

One of the greatest successes in rdecent theatrical history is the presentation by Klaw & Erlanger of Otis Skinner in "Kismet" at the Knickerbocker Theatre, under the management and direction of Harrison Grey Fiske. "Kismet" has passed its one hundredth performance in New York city and will remain at the Knickerbocker Theatre until the extremely hot weather makes the nightly perofrmance by Mr. Skinner of an arduous part, impossible. "Kismet" is by Edward Knoblauch, a young American writer, who has just scored another success with Arnold Bennett in "The Milestones." It is a play of Oriental splendor and pageantry, with the scenes laid in mysterious, marvelous Bagdad of the year 1001. But underneath the pomp and circumstance of the fleeting day in which the action takes place, is a big human interest story of a father's love for his country. Mr. Skinner has made this father the most lovable, witty old rogue that has ever paced the boards. It is a wonderful bit of characterization, running the gamut from the whining beggar at the door of the Carpenter's Mosque, through the tender scene with his motherless daughter, to the chuckling revengeful murders of father and son, ending with the heart broken, deserted pilgrim asleep on the beggar's seat where his father sat before him and his father before that.

Plainfield, N. J., March 20, 1912.

WE THANK YOU!

Appreciating the extraordinary interest taken in the Daily Press European Tours contest, Plainfield's leading merchants are offering special prizes as extra inducements to the bright young women contestants. These merchants play an important part in the community and are quicker than the average man to realize what spells "success." Cognizant of the fact, therefore, that the offer of this paper to send five young women, together with a chaperone, on a two months' tour through Europe, including England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland and the Rhine, without cost to our guests is the "talk of the town," they are lavish in their contributions to the spirit of the plan.

It is unnecessary to dilate on the wide-awake enterprise of our merchants in this connection, but we desire to take this opportunity to thank them for their assistance in this unparalleled educational competition. The special prizes offered by them makes it possible, indeed most probable, that any contestant who displays any reasonable degree of activity during the three closing weeks of this sensational campaign will receive a splendid award for her effort. Indeed, it seems that none will go unrewarded so numerous and so varied are the special prizes for the climax of the campaign for votes.

The awards, enumerated on the first page of this issue, will be displayed beginning tomorrow, for the next three weeks of the contest in the stores of the progressive merchants who have so generously offered them. When requested by the contestants themselves or any of their friends, the merchants will gladly allow a close examination of the valuable prizes. All one has to do in order to inspect at close range the presents exhibited in the windows is to make his or her wish known at the given store.

It is far from our intention to be boastful in making the announcement today that the European tours contest on Saturday last reached a goal that we did not expect to get to even at the close of the campaign. The success of the enterprise was long since assured and now we aim for greater heights. While the primary object was to materially increase the circulation of the re-built Daily Press, it was our purpose as well to amply repay those who made possible the attainment of our plans. Moreover, in originating the European tours, we desired in a measure to make good our promise to the public to be a "live wire" in this community.

We wish to announce, in this connection, that the complete itinerary of the tour will be re-published in Friday's issue. As stated at the outset, it will be strictly first-class in every particular. The name of Thomas Cook & Sons, the world's leading tourist agency, which will have charge of the travel abroad, is a sufficient guarantee. The six lucky young women will be personally conducted by experienced and refined attaches of the tourist agency from the time they set foot on English soil until they re-embark at Liverpool for the "land of the free and the home of the brave."

The Philadelphia Record opposes the suggestion of the Library Committee of the House of Representatives to have a two million dollars appropriation for a Lincoln memorial used in building a boulevard from Washington to Gettysburg, declaring that "public sentiment and art alike demand a structure" to be built at Washington as a memorial. It argues that there are lots of Lincoln roads and streets now, but can't the same be said as to Lincoln monuments? Where the demands of "art" come in we fail to see and as for public sentiment in this practical age it is generally for something practical and useful rather than for something purely ornamental.

"In millinery the most startling novelty this season," says a dispatch from Chicago, "will be tiny electric lights, operated by very small, flat storage batteries worn in the corsage and highly decorative because of the artistic designs and jeweled effects."

But then a light-headed woman is nothing new in this frivolous age.

Congressman Palmer gives it out that Schwab's mills earn 500 per cent. And yet they have put some men in jail for making such claims.

"Wilson and Wiley" is a new slogan of some Democrats. That's putting the pure-food label on—"that's all."

SUGGESTS THAT NATION BUY JEFFERSON'S HOME

Washington, March 20.—Senator Martine, of New Jersey, yesterday introduced the following resolution which will be acted upon at a later date by the Senate:

"Whereas, the Declaration of Independence was a new light and gospel to the downtrodden of the world. Through the genius, splendid patriotism and teachings of the author, Thomas Jefferson, America was started on a career that has brought untold blessings to this country. Believing it most fitting and proper that the home of Thomas Jefferson, at Monticello, should be the property of the great nation and country he loved and served as well.

"Therefore, to this end be it resolved, That the President of the Senate be and is hereby instructed to appoint a committee of five members of this body to co-operate with a similar committee to be appointed by the House of Representatives to inquire into the wisdom and ascertain the price of acquiring said home, as the property of the United States that it may be preserved for all time in its entirety, for the American people."

TROLLEY WHEELS FATALLY CRUSH 5-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Bound Brook, March 20, (Special)—From the effects of injuries received here yesterday, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Suk, of VanKuren avenue, died this morning in the Somerset Hospital, Somerville. She was struck by a trolley car yesterday afternoon, a short distance from her home.

The car was in charge of Motorman Samuel Stryker and Conductor McCullen. Bystanders say the motorman was not to blame. One of the child's legs was amputated at the hospital in an effort to save her life. Both legs were badly crushed and she also sustained injuries about the head and body.

SENATE THINKS IT HIT THE INSURANCE TRUST

Trenton, March 20.—By the vote of 8 to 9 the Senate yesterday afternoon killed the bill, Assembly 221, by Mr. Anderson, of Somerset county, making it illegal to grant rebates for insurance policies. The bill went to defeat because several Senators insisted it was really in the interest of the insurance trust. Senator Smalley did his best to stem the tide of opposition, but to no avail.

TAFT TO TALK STRIKE.

Invites John Mitchell, Labor Leader, to Confer With Him.

Boston, March 20.—President Taft has invited John Mitchell, formerly president of the United Mine Workers of America, to meet him in Washington this week and talk over the threatened coal strike. Mitchell was head of the miners when Theodore Roosevelt appointed a strike commission in 1902 to settle the workers' differences with the operators.

The president indicated his interest in the coal situation, but wished it understood that he has no intention of interfering in the struggle.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

WHEN WE HAVE WATERCRESS.

WATERCRESS makes a useful spring salad. It may also be stewed, served in soup or combined with meat or vegetables. It is the best garnish for fish.

Placed between slices of whole wheat bread with thin slices of hard boiled egg and properly seasoned it makes wholesome sandwiches for the children's lunch.

Plain Salads.

The simplest salad is with French dressing.

Watercress With Oil.—Pick the cress carefully, removing all the fine rootlets, throw into cold water, in which it should be allowed to soak for a couple of hours. Dry with a cloth and serve with a French dressing made as follows:

To two tablespoonfuls of olive oil allow one of vinegar, a half saltspoonful of salt, a quarter of a saltspoonful of white and of cayenne pepper. Mix these ingredients well with a fork and serve with the watercress.

Combination Salad.

The cress may be combined with other vegetables, as in this case:

Watercress and Potato Salad.—Take one pound of potatoes, two bunches of watercress, a chopped onion, French dressing and a hard boiled egg.

Wash and peel the potatoes, boil them until tender, drain and while warm cut into thin slices. Wash the watercress, pick all the leaves from the stalks and mix with the potatoes and onion. Before serving pour the French dressing over the salad.

Soups and Stews.

Watercress Soup.—Take a pint and a half of white soup stock and heat it. Add to it watercress leaves that have been washed and parboiled and stewed in two ounces of butter for about five minutes and then passed through a sieve. Let the stock with the leaves simmer for a few minutes; then thicken with the yolk of an egg, butter and milk beaten up together. When serving garnish with a few leaves of watercress.

Stewed Watercress.—Clean the watercress by laying it in strong salt and water. Pick and wash it and stew in water for about ten minutes. Drain, chop, season with pepper, salt and butter and return to the stewpan until well heated.

Serve on slices of toast or fried bread with slices of hard boiled egg. A little vinegar may be added to the cress when it is eaten or it may be taken with melted butter alone.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

Conducted by the Equal Suffrage League of Plainfield and North Plainfield.

CONTRIBUTING EDITORS.

Mrs. Edward F. Feickert, Mrs. Louise Bryan Dorr, Mrs. Champlain L. Riley, Mrs. Vernona Henry and Mrs. Zoe Bateman.

Is Woman Suffrage Important?

MRS. LOUISE BRYAN DORR.

Is Woman Suffrage Important?

"No," answers Mr. Roosevelt, "I believe in it because I am a true democrat, but the cause is not yet of great importance."

"I do not believe in Woman Suffrage at all," said Miss Minnie Bronson at the great hearing in Trenton last Tuesday, "because it is not necessary to better the condition of women. Men in their chivalry have legislated better for women than for themselves." She blamed the evils of child labor upon the extravagance of the wives of working men and rehashed with a very glib tongue and positive manner all the old statements and arguments that have been answered and proven false hundreds of times.

I have had a long personal acquaintance with Miss Bronson, who was for several years a teacher in St. Paul, Minn., and I have reason to believe that her connection with the goverment at Washington has not been of sufficient duration or importance to make her an authority on labor conditions or the laws that govern women and children. But this I shall investigate further. Certainly she does not agree with Jane Addams, Florence Kelley or Charles P. Neil, United States Commissioner of Labor, whose latest reports are "arsenals of ammunition" against the antis. No one questions the authority of the above mentioned investigators.

Every fair minded person should read Jane Addams' series now running in McClure's Magazine and those of Florence Kelley on "Standards of Labor" in the Twentieth Century.

At a recent suffrage meeting in New York city, Samuel Untermeyer, the famous lawyer, expressed strong dissent from the assertion that women now get more than justice under the law. He said "The allowances made by the courts to deserted and betrayed wives are grotesquely inadequate. Under our divorce laws, as administered by the courts, the wife is absolutely at the mercy of her husband. After he has taken the best part of her life, he can put upon her the pressure necessary to get rid of her, if he happens to be a man of means. She is forced to choose between comparative poverty and the acceptance of his terms."

I have thought it worth while to select a few opinions of others concerning the importance of the cause now engaging the attention of all countries.

Women Save Seattle Again.

Seattle has a second time defeated Hiram Gill for Mayor, and a second time it was the women that did it.

Colonel Roosevelt says he thinks woman suffrage is right, but not important. A Suffrage Club has just been formed at Oyster Bay. Some of its members might call the Colonel's attention to the latest election in Seattle, and asks him what he thinks about the importance of woman suffrage now!

A. S. B.

The Independent Labor Party in England has passed a resolution that no bill broadening the suffrage for men alone will be satisfactory, and has instructed its representatives in Parliament to vote against Mr. Asquith's manhood suffrage bill unless it is amended to include women. Local labor unions all over Great Britian are passing resolutions declaring that no extension of the franchise from which women are left out will satisfy them, and calling upon the government to take the women in also.

This is a piece of true chivalry. It is the more remarkable when we consider that the working people suffer real and serious wrong from the unfair advantage given to the rich over the poor by England's present franchise laws. Altogether, it is one of the finest things that have happened since Wyoming came into the Union as a State, more than twenty years ago. Having had twenty years' experience of equal suffrage as a Territory, Wyoming was bent upon retaining it as a State, and the Constitutional Convention which drew up the constitution for the new State put in a woman suffrage clause by an almost unanimous vote. But the constitution had to be submitted to Congress for approval, and Congress was known to regard woman suffrage with an unfriendly eye. A suggestion was made from Washington that is might be well to leave woman suffrage out of the Constitution, temporarily; they could restore it by a constitution amendment when Wyoming was once safely admitted as a State. The Territory was eager for Statehood, but the answer sent back was "Wyoming will stay out for a hundred years, rather than come in without her women." Women have never forgotten to be grateful to those men of the West, and like gratitude is due to the workingmen of England today.

A. S. B.

There is not a greater disgrace in the world today than that our women should not be allowed to vote.—Luther Burbank.

Rights are not to be measured by the members who want them. So long as there is one woman who wants the right to vote, she is, according to the spirit of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence, entitled to that right.—Rabbi Charles Fleischer.

Under our present form of city life, housekeeping has become a public function and the ballot a domestic necessity. — Dr. Sophonisba Breckenridge.

The funeral of Mrs. J. S. Jones, mother of Miss Gertrude Jones whose death occured in Newark, yesterday, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at 402 Park avenue. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

Health Officer Engaged.

Paint that Stays Painted
That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

FAREWELL TO TRAVELLERS ON THE EVE OF DEPARTURE

Rev. Charles S. Sayre, of Dodge Centre, Minn., and N. O. Moore, of Riverside, Cal., who left this morning on the Lusitiania for an extended trip of investigation in Africa in connection with the mission and tract work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church, were given a farewell reception last night at the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

A large delegation of members from the New York city and New Market churches attended the reception and the informal program was much enjoyed.

Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor of the local church, presided. There were vocal selections by a quartet comprising Frank A. Langworthy, Frank R. Kellogg, Charles F. Neagle and George E. Davis, while Miss Mabel Manzon rendered piano solos.

Brief remarks were made by Rev. E. D. VanHorn, pastor of the New York city church; Rev. H. N. Jordan, of the New Market church, George B. Carpenter, of Ashaway, R. I., chairman of the joint committee of the missionary and tract societies, under whose auspices the men will go to Africa; Stephen Babcock, of Yonkers, N. Y., president of the tract society; A. L. Titsworth and Frank J. Hubbard, secretary and treasurer of the tract society, and Rev. Dr. T. L. Gardiner, editor of the Sabbath Recorder, who also made a closing consecration prayer. Mr. Moore and Mr. Sayre also made brief remarks.

Rev. Dr. T. L. Gardiner, Raymond C. Burdick and Rev. Edwin Shaw accompanied Mr. Moore and Mr. Sayre to New York, where a large delegation of other friends gathered on the Lusitania to bid the travellers goodbye. The investigators will go to London then to Cape Town, returning in about a year by the way of the Suez Canal.

CHAMP'S AUTO TALK.

The Athletics own and drive more motor cars than any ball club in the game, and when they gather at night and begin to "spark plug" about the merits of their cars, the average salesman of buzz buggies could gather information he never knew. Eddie Collins drives a Chalmers, and he was the first of the Champions to own a juice juggernaut. Chief Bender also drives a Chalmers; Frank Baker owns an Abbott-Detroit, Bris Lord pilots an E. M. F., as does Jack Barry; Cy Morgan runs a Reo and a Chalmers, Eddie Plank swears by a Thomas, and Captain Daniel Murphy chugs about in a Locomobile.

Under oath they all vow that they can do ninety miles an hour, none of them have ever had any expense bills, each of the cars is like riding on an arrow, but the climax came the other night in the Menger Hotel. John Shibe, business manager of the Champions, drives a Chadwick, and he was telling the circle of ball knights that his car had climed through the White Mountains, and not once did he have to come "out of high."

"That's nothing, nothing at all," chirped Eddie Collins. "That Chalmers of mine backed all the way through there." The circle broke up with disgruntled ejaculations of something sounding decidedly uncouth, while Collins grinned and walked away with Bris Lord.

NEW YORK HAD NO GROUNDS FOR OUTLAW LEAGUE CLUB.

New York, March 20.—There will be no baseball team to represent New York next season in the Independent United States League, Charley White who held the New York franchise announced yesterday to the club owners of the league, in session at the Hotel Imperial, that he had been unable to secure suitable ground and therefore, he returned his franchise to the league.

Applicants for the franchise from Buffalo, Chicago and Albany were on hand. The league voted to leave the selection of the city to Presiden Whitman. He is expected to make his selection in a few days.

KILBANE VISITS BOY HURT AT BOXER'S HOMECOMING.

Cleveland, March 20.—Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane yesterday paid a visit to Andy Debol' nine years old, at a local hospital Andy didn't see Kilbane's homecoming Sunday. While waiting for the champion with thousands of others an automobile struck him. He was taken to a hospital badly hurt, begging that he be allowed to stay long enough to see Kilbane.

The champion read of Andy's accident in the morning papers. "If he wants to see me that bad," he said, "he shall see me." He bought flowers and hurried to the hospital. Andy almost cried for joy.

CLEVELAND CLERGYMEN SCORE KILBANE PARADE.

Cleveland, March 20.—The Baptist ministers of Cleveland Monday night adopted resolutions condemning city officials who Sunday joined in a demonstration welcoming Johnny Kilbane, featherweight pugilistic champion, to his native town.

The resolution, introduced by Rev. Dr. W. W. Bustard, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, of which John D. Rockefeller is a member,, characterized the demonstration as a desecration of the Sabbath.

The parade, a feature of the welcome, was reviewed by Mayor Baker.

Austin Signs with Browns.

Jimmy Austin, third baseman of the St. Louis American League Club, who has been a "hold out," came to terms with the management yesterday and signed a contract to play with the Browns this season.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS CITY'S INTERSCHOLASTIC CHAMPS

The North Plainfield High School girls' basketball team won the deciding game for the interscholastic city championship yesterday afternoon by defeating the Plainfield girls 20 to 14. The contest was played in the Y. M. C. A. and was witnessed by an enthusiastic crowd of pupils who didn't stint their rooting.

The game was won on fouls. Both teams threw the same number of field goals—5. Captain Helen Hummell, of the winners, was the star of the game and made all of the points for her team except one foul thrown by Margaret Mair. The victors had a little something on their opponents at every stage of the game and maintained a safe lead throughout.

In the last five minutes of play the P. H. S. quintet took a spurt and by dent of much lively passing and accurate shooting closed up the gap in the score to where it stood at the finish. At the end of the first half he score showed only one basket for P. H. S. while N. P. H. S. had a mark of two and seven fouls.

The lineups follow: N. P. H. S.—Hummel and Mair, forwards; Carson (McAuliffe), centre; Smith and Debele, guards. P. H. S.—Stewart and Mehl, forwards; Douglas, centre; Moy and Phillips, guards.

NO NATIONAL RIFLE ASSO. MATCHES FOR NEW JERSEY

Although it seems doubtful if the Nationali Rifle Association matches will be decided on the ranges of the New Jersey State Rifle Association at Sea Girt, as first proposed, it is practically certain that the program of the State association will contain several matches of national caliber. While the New Jersey association was anxious to have the national matches decided at Sea Girt, it could not see its way clear to finance the proposition, which meant an expense of at least $9,000. This money would go to pay for range officers, markers scorers and dozens of incidentals that are bound to come up in carrying out such a large undertaking.

General Bird W. Spencer, head of the New Jersey State Rifle Association, had a conference a day or two ago with Adjutant-General Wilbur F. Sadler, in Trenton, and the various phases of the question were thoroughly gone over. It was thought to be unwise to ask the Legislature for an appropriation of $9,000, and the Jersey rifle shooting enthusiasts did not feel like going into their pockets to meet the expense. The result was that General Spencer has written General Robert Shaw Oliver, assistant secretary of war, that there is no appropriation available for paying the expenses of the national rifle association matches at Sea Girt.

GARDNER, BILLIARDIST, HAS BEEN SUSPENDED.

Edward W. Gardner, of Montclair, former National amateur billiard champion, and Joseph Mayer, of the Columbia Club of Philadelphia, have been suspended by the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players for competing last week in an unsanctioned tournament at the Arion Club.

Gardner maintains that the secretary of the association assumed too much authority in taking such action, but Dr. Douglas denies this, and said yesterday that the proceeding was in accordance with the rules of the association.

THE GINGER JAR

Looks as though that back was broken.

There are times when we should be profoundly thankful for what we don't get, but not so with yesterday's weather.

You may make a problem of a young player's future, but the veteran knows what is coming to him.

These are the days when the rookie expects to have a "Keep out" sign flashed on him any day in the shape of car fare to a bush league town.

It must be satisfying to managers to know that players will play even if it is work.

A manager also knows that every club his plays with is trying to get the best of the game.

The manager who is inclined to bawl 'em out is not inclined to do it under the grandstand nor back of it either.

A manager's idea of reciprocity is that if the recruit makes good, the manager is to get credit for the discovery.

Judging from the fine showing his Superbas made against Memphis, Bill Dahlen had the right dope when he had Willie Keler instruct the recruits in the art of swatting the ball.

At last it is out! That trio of recruits promised to Mobile by McGraw is composed of Jacobson, Cardella and Munsell, but the later shows a preference for Dallas and may be sent there.

Another cut made in the Giants' squad was the elimination of Harry Devore. He has been sent to Galveston.

In speaking with Herzog about the game, George Wiltse said baseball was a game of contradiction. "They pay a pitcher a big salary to keep the ball where a batter can't hit it and then pay the batter a big salary for hitting it," he said.

Manager Wolverton, of the Yankees, it is said, will name no field captain, but will lead the team in person either from the bench or third base line.

In the mater of having big men on the team Washington will compare favorably with any team in the country. Barring Guy Johnson, Boehling and Akers, every one of the pitchers is 6 feet or over, and no team has three catchers of the size of Henry. Williams and Ainsmith. These, together with Knight, Flynn, McBride, Moeller, will stack up pretty well with any team which can boast of giants.

Target Record by Woman.

Tacoma, Wash., March 20.—Miss Anna Hanson, of Tacoma, broke the world's record in target shooting Monday night, when she made 48 out of a posible 50 on a twenty-yard indoor range with standard targets. But one shot went out of the bullseye and then by a scant fraction of an inch. The record was made with a revolver instead of a target pistol, in the weekly competition of the Tacoma Women's Revolver Club, under the auspices of the National Revolver Association.

LOCAL PINNERS SHOW WELL IN N.B.A. MATCHES

As a result of their bowling yesterday in the National Tournament at Paterson, the local pinners are in enviable positions, both in the two-man teams and individual records. Stout and Blatz are second among the duets and Nash is eleventh in the individual record.

After completing their schedule in the national tourney, the "big five" rolled three games at the Entre Nous club and ousted the Elizabeth Elks from the lead for the silk banner offered by that club to the visiting Elks teams in the big show. The score tops that previously held by Elizabeth by 30 pins, as follows:

Blatz	167
Kiely	173
Stout	190
Nash	178
Campbell	226
	934

The scores returned by the two-man teams in the National Tournament matches follow:

Blatz	219	214	177

Nash	163	178	156
Campbell	156	154	190
	319	332	346	— 997

In the individual matches the scores returned by the local pinners were as follows:

Nash	164	238	174	—576
Campbell	163	199	166	—528

PLAINFIELD OUSTED FROM SECOND; HOBOKEN LOST 3.

By winning three games from the New York Elks on their own alleys last night, the Elizabeth Bills passed Plainfield for second place in the team records. The scores:

Elizabeth, 963, 934, 883.
New York, 816, 839, 862.

The leading Hoboken quintet lost three straight to the champion New Brunswick Elks at that place last night. The first game resulted in a tie and in the roll off the Germans got 85 pins to the champs 97. The scores follow:

Hoboken, 921, 871, 852.
New Brunswick, 921, 987, 901.

Columbia Basket Ball Captain.

S. Jacques, '13, of Elizabeth, N. J., was elected Captain of the Columbia basketball five for next year at a meeting of the championship quintet for the past season yesterday afternoon. Jacques played centre throughout most of the season, giving way to Osterhout in the last few games owing to injuries that the former received earlier in the season. The basket ball squad from Morningside Heights will hold their annual banquet at the Columbia Club next Friday evening.

Robert McCready Improving.

Robert McCready, of this city, who underwent a remarkable operation at Muhlenberg Hospital for bone grafting, continue to improve and it is the opinion of physicians that the bone will knit perfectly. Dr. Albee, a New York specialist, performed the operation several weeks ago in the presence of many of the local physicians and surgeons.

These trustees were elected for the coming year: John E. Flammer, John F. Mundy, William T. Gregory, three years; George Irving, Augustus Schumacher, John V. SHAKESPEARE WAS TOO HIGH FOR THE CITY EDITOR

AS TO CULTURE IN SUBMERGED STRATA

Dr. Groszmann Delivers a Scholarly Address Before Social-Scientific Society.

PICTURES VARIOUS TYPES

Pleads For a Reorganization of Criminal Laws and Institutions—His Formulation of "Culture Epoch Theory."

Before the German Social-Scientific Society of New York, at the Cafe Boulevard, New York, this week, Dr. Maximilian P. E. Groszmann, head of Herbart Hall, Wtachung Crest, and Educational director of the National Association for the Study and Education of Exceptional Children, spoke on "Types of Men and Culture Levels." The address made an strong impression.

The speaker introduced his lecture by calling attention to the fact that influence of a certain kind of life and of the limitations of such a life manifests itself in the development of a clearly circumscribed type of man. Similarly, it has been observed that certain professions and occupations leave an imprint of special characteristics upon their representatives. Further, he discriminated well as between the intellectual type, the artistic and Bohemian type, the type of the chafferer, the boor, etc. The evolution of these types and its determining causes are beginning to be investigated scientifically. It suggests itself that through the study of the laws of growth and of the phychological developments in the child, many harmful elements may be eliminated.

Nervousness, is in a measure the result of increasing civilization. Savage people are free from it. Of course, where are distinctly morbid disturbances of the nervous system, we should see to it that, as early as in the age of childhood, a clear diagnosis is made and further develpoment checked.

The speaker then devoted his attention to the various criminal types. He showed that it is not tenable to consider drunkeness in every case as a cause of crime. Apart from a inebriety is rather a symptom of a deeper disturbance of the system. We are dealing here, he said, with a distinct type of degeneracy in which this weakness appears as a heredity burden. In degenerate families we may observe a series of defects such as drunkeness, epilepsy, feeblemindedness, pauperism, prostitution, etc. He further showed that crime is sometimes caused by physical conditions which affect the psychic life temporarily. Juvenile courts have given opoprtunity for investigations which have shown that many juvenile offenders could be saved for useful life by the removal of adenoids, the relief of eye-strain, circumcision, or other medical means.

There is, indeed, another criminal type in which a distinct defect of the moral sense manifests itself. This type is related to feeblemindedness and exhibits the absense of the sense of responsibility or the ability to connect cause and effect. Here the speaker said we are dealing not merely with problems of the individual, but with problems of social layers. Then Dr. Grozsmann reviewed briefly some recent criminal cases. He spoke of the Brandt trials, of John Armstrong Chaloner, of the McNamaras, and of the Italian Comorrists. He further quoted an interesting experience with Zapatas Mexican rebels, who, he showed, represent a reversion to the savage type of their ancestors.

In all these cases we are confronted more or less primitive mental and emotional conditions; in part with symptoms which the neurologist and alienist can better judge than the jurist. Dr. Groszmann pleaded urgently for a reorganization of our criminal laws and institutions, so that the problem of the individual offender may be approached with scientific methods. Merely to punish is a very primitive method of treating the so-called criminal. With every court there should be connected an observation clinic, and the prisons should be so organized that they be educational institutions and hospitals rather than penal institutions.

Referring to his own formulation of the "culture epoch theory" which was first suggested by the German philosopher, Herbart, Dr. Groszmann showed that there are many individuals who represent reversion to earlier periods of civilization. In such radical upheavls as are brought about by the re-organization of our entire social fabric, these deeper levels of culture are sometimes brought to the surface, just as we observe in the formation of the crust of the earth earlier strata on top, having been forced up by volcanic action.

These lower civilization strata exist in every nation; conditions which cannot always be explained have brought it about that they were left untouched by the process of civilization, and they represent, to this day, medieval or even primitive life conditions and instincts. The great modern improvement in the means of travel, and the new migration of peoples, have mixed these various layers of human material together and have distributed them all over the world without their becoming at once a modern element of culture.

Likewise, there are entire races and people which must be considered backward as compared with modern civilization. Dr. Grozsmann mentioned the problem of the colored race the Filipionos, etc.

The development of culture and civilization is brought about by a process of mental maturing. The enormously rapid advance which has taken place during the last century in our life conditions, and the development of democratic forms of government, have made it particularly difficult for the backward types and culture levels to become assimilated. Even though it can be observed that vast numbers of our immigrants are quickly "Americanized," as it is called, we must concede that this process is rather a superficial one, and that it will take generations before these masses will enter fully into the inheritance of culture and liberal institutions of which the true American type is an expression. Again, this is a process of maturing, not merely of external coalesence.

Thus, the speaker unfolded problem after problem without attempting to offer solutions, as he had to be satisfied with pointing out the enormous perspective which all these great questions open to us. Solution can be found only through the cooperation of all thinking people. The lecture contained such a large number of details and suggestions, that it is impossible to do full justice to its argument in a brief abstract.

Lecture on Indians.

Allen S. Williams gave his lecture before the members of the Plainfield High School this morning on "Our South Western Indians" and the "Hopi Snake Dance." The lecture was illustrated with about a hundred slides, some of which were beautifully colored to show the surroundings and haunts of the people. At the close of the talk Mr. Williams showed several fine specimens of snakes.

FIRST M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL SWELLS ENROLMENT TO 430

Officers were elected and reports presented at the annual meeting of the Sunday-school of the First M. E. church, held in Vincent chapel, last night. The reports from the officers covering the work of the past year showed that the interest in the Sunday-school is increasing.

The total enrolment at the present time is 430; 355 in the main school, 51 in the Home Department and 44 on the cradle roll; 67 new members were enrolled and the average attendance during the year was 181, an increase of 21 over the preceding year. During the year the school raised $276.97 for missions an increase of $10 over the preceding year.

These officers were elected for the year 1912-1913: Superintendent, James R. Joy; secretary, A. P. Atwood; treasurer, Artur E. Crone; librarian, Leslie Leland; president missionary society, Maurice E. McGrath.

The association appointed a publicity committee consisting of Maurice E. McGrath, L. D. Albin and Miss Ida Angelman to formulate a plan for the advertising and stimulation of the interest in the work of the school. The annual outing of the school to Asbury Park and Ocean Grove will take place on July 11.

Dr. Hubbard on Hospital Staff.

Dr. H. V. Hubbard, of Central avenue, has been appointed junior attending surgeon in the eye, ear nose and throat department of Muhlenberg Hospital. The appointment was made by the Board of Governors upon the recommendation of the medical staff, and it is a step in the direction of a "broader policy" as outlined by the Board of Governors during the recent campaign for the hospital. Dr. Hubbard has been practising in this city for a number of years and he is also on the staff of the Post-Graduate Hospital in New York City.

COLLEAGUES ASK SENATOR TO QUIT

Address Letter to Dr. Fitzherbert at Home.

WOULD SERVE STATE BEST

Democrats of New Jersey Senate, Whose Votes Failed to Acquit Accused Member, Point Out That His Present Position Is Impossible and Ask Withdrawal at Once.

Trenton, N. J., March 20.—The Democratic senators sent a joint letter to Senator Richard Fitzherbert of Morris county, asking him to tender his resignation to Governor Wilson forthwith.

The letter was signed by the nine senators and mailed to Dover, Fitzherbert's home. The Democratic senators felt that they had stood by their colleague as long as necessary. They voted "not guilty" when Fitzherbert was tried on March 7 in open senate for "the commission of an offense inconsistent with the trust and duty of a senator." This trial resulted from charges that Fitzherbert had participated in an attempt to extort $5,000 from the Acetylene Gas company of New York for the withdrawal of certain bills.

The Republican members of the senate voted unanimously that Fitzherbert was guilty. A subsequent attempt to expel him failed because expulsion requires a two-thirds vote and the Democrats voted against it.

In the joint letter the nine Democratic senators point out to their colleague that his position is an impossible one and that he would best serve the interests of his county and the state by resigning.

TEARS IN CONVICTS' EYES.

Retirement of Warden, Loved by Men He Aided, Sad Parting.

Trenton, N. J., March 20.—Tears dimmed the eyes of many of the 1,400 convicts in the New Jersey state prison when they assembled to hear the farewell speech of convict No. 1,001 to George O. Osborne, chief warden, upon his retirement after ten years' service in that position.

Moved by his kindness in abolishing the lockstep, striped uniform and practice of shaving their heads, the convicts asked permission to say farewell to their humane keeper. Mr. Osborne was deeply affected when No. 1,001 declared that the warden had given many convicts a new lease on life and enabled them to resume wholesome and prosperous careers in the outside world by his humane treatment and refusal to regard them as brutes.

FIRE CAUSES PANIC.

Factory Girls In Newark Make Wild Dash For Safety.

Newark, N. J., March 20.—There was a panic among 100 girls employed in a shirtwaist factory in this city when fire was discovered on the top floor of that building. There were no girls employed on that floor, but when they saw the men rushing down the stairs and fire escapes to escape from the flames they likewise made a rush from the building, many of them forgetting their wraps and money in their dash for safety. They climbed down the fire escapes and rushed down the stairs to the street, but as far as can be learned none was injured. The fire, it is estimated, will cause a loss of $50,000.

ANOTHER VICTIM OF TRAIN.

Four Persons Killed at Orange Crossing In Less Than Three Years.

Orange, N. J., March 20.—Mrs. Margaret Keeley of West Orange was struck and instantly killed at the Lincoln avenue crossing of the Lackawanna railroad by a New York bound express train. The accident happened on a curve which is considered one of the most dangerous on the road. It is two blocks west of the Orange railroad station. Within the last three years four persons have met their death there.

$1,000,000 FOR PAINTINGS.

American Art Collector Breaks Price Record For Imported Pictures.

New York, March 20.—Benjamin Altman is the American art collector who has bought the Velasquez portraits of King Philip IV. of Spain and his powerful minister, Olivares. The portraits have already been hung in Mr. Altman's home at 626 Fifth avenue.

It is said they cost him about $1,000,000. The best previous price for a single painting sold in America is supposed to be $475,000, which P. A. B. Widener was reported to have paid last year for "The Mill" of Rembrandt.

Primary Bill Is Killed.

Albany, N. Y., March 20.—The assembly by a vote of 56 to 72 defeated Assemblyman Theodore Douglas Robinson's motion to discharge the judiciary committee from further consideration of his direct nomination bill. This action practically kills the bill.

Train Reported Held Up.

Memphis, Tenn., March 20.—It is reported that a Mobile and Ohio passenger train northbound was held up four miles from Corinth, Miss. The express safe is said to have been blown out.

—Mrs. Hoyle—My husband loved me at first sight.

Mrs. Doyle—I understand that you met at a masquerade ball.—Judge.

A GREAT NEW YORK PUBLISHER'S OFFER TO

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

To Those Men and Women Who Believe in Plainfield.

Remember Parisian butcher—sold soup—scraps of meat—three cents a bowl, bread thrown in, leaving $20,000,000 when he died?

Suppose someone would open a new store here, and sell you clothing and furnishings for cash only, with the saving of all the scraps of big expenses and losses on charge accounts thrown into the value of the suit!

Suppose this store would be opened, not as an act of philanthropy—for it is evident that no successful business can be carried on at a loss—but with the idea that every sale with a small percentage of profit will pave the way for another—for we will make money on our friends—our enemies will not buy from us. It is the volume that counts.
With these facts in view—

Suppose you could buy a suit of clothes to fit you;
Suppose you could buy a suit of clothes that would satisfy you;
Suppose you could do this each time you wanted a suit;
Suppose you could save money in buying a suit;

Would you?
Don't you think you should?
Why don't you?
Do! We open soon!

COMPANY K UNDER U. S. INSPECTION

Army Officer Comes Here Today For Annual Scrutiny of Men and Equipment.

LOCAL MILITARY AIM HIGH

Command is Ambitious to Be an Organization in Which Plainfield Will Take Unbounded Pride—Fifteen Laggards Have Been Dropped.

Lieut. Elvid H. Hunt, of the regular army, will visit Plainfield today to inspect Co. K. New Jersey has reorganized her national guard to meet the provisions of the Dick Law passed by Congress several years ago and therefore participates in the allotment made by the Government to maintain the organized militia.

For this reason the New Jersey troops are subject to inspection by the Government to determine whether they are properly organized, trained and equipped. Such inspections are made annually. This year Lieut. Hunt has been detailed to inspect the State's Infantry. He will arrive here this afternoon about 3 o'clock and be met at the railroad station by the local officers and escorted to the armory, where he will spend the afternoon going over the property and books of the organization. Dinner will then be taken with the officers of the company at the Queen City Hotel.

The company will be assembled in light marching order at 8 o'clock tonight, where it will be mustered and thoroughly inspected by Lieut Hunt, who will report to the War Department as to its efficiency and state of readiness for field service. On this report will depend the standing of the organization in the eyes of the military authorities; consequently a great deal of interest is aroused on the part of both officers and men. Strenuous efforts have been made to have everything in first class shape and to get out every man.

CROWDS ATTEND THE GALA OPENING OF THE NEW PARIS

The new Paris store is open for business. The formal opening, yesterday afternoon and evening, was a noteworthy event in the mercantile life of Plainfield. It was really a gala event, and in the afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock and in the evening from 7 to 10 o'clock, the new store was thronged with sightseers, men as well as women, who appeared amazed at the wonderful store transformation, embodying the very latest in all that makes for beauty and convenience in an up-to-date store.

Aside from the many attractions on the first floor, including the large and handsome show windows extending from the street to the store proper, the visitors were struck with the novel feature of a second floor balcony, with broad stairways leading thereto. The store is just brimful of new goods for women and children, and the requirements of the entire community will be studied as the business goes on. Visitors to the store yesterday showed keen interest in the many living models that mingled in the crowd, wearing the latest styles in women's suits and hats.

J. A. Fass, the proprietor, and his associate, J. J. Varley, were assisted yesterday in receiving the guests by Max Birkenfeld, of the New York firm of Birkenfeld, Strauss Co., underwear manufacturers; P. J. Connelly, of Samuels & Co., of Philadelphia, manufacturers of petticoats, and M. E. McHugh, of New York, an expert in millinery.

There was an attractive display of beautiful flowers, including gifts from manufacturing concerns, and a large bunch of American Beauty roses from the saleswomen of the store. A large floral horseshoe was also among the gifts. Throughout the afternoon and evening both Mr. Fass and Mr. Varley were showered with congratulations by their many friends who called to inspect the store.

Suspect Remanded.

George Jones, the colored suspect arrested at East Front street and Netherwood avenue early yesterday morning, in connection with recent sneakthefts in the East End, was again remanded in the City Court by Judge William G. DeMeza today. The police want another day in which to run out the investigation into Jones' recent doings.

Before the energetic candidates and their workers in the Daily Press European Tours contest had a chance to rest on their oars after the strenuous work done on the competition for the special jewelry prizes they were drawn back into the current of unflagging interest by the extraordinary announcement of the remarkable array of supplemental special prizes offered by the merchants of Plainfield. All the contestants state that they fully appreciate the exceptional opportunities presented them and have recovered their second wind and once more settled down to the gathering of the votes which are to count so heavily in the grand finale, which is rapidly drawing nearer.

It is now but a little over two weeks until the last vote shall have been cast and counted, and the winners of the great European tours announced. Two weeks seem short, but the amount of work that can be accomplished in that time with the proper energy back of it is inestimable. Now is the time when the candidates who hitherto have apparently been out of the running are commencing to slowly close in for the windup, and they will be factors to be reckoned with on Saturday night, April 6, you may be sure.

In the meantime, it is up to the young women who have thus far been able to hold such eminent places in their respective districts to continue the good work. Although the Trenton, March 21.—The Senate will probably confirm the long lists of appointments sent in by the Governor yesterday. It is not expected that there wil be opposition to any name mentioned by the Governor, although considerable dissatisfaction is expressed. There seems to be the impression that the Governor and the Senate have come to an understanding.

The Senate rushed through a bill providing for another vice-chancellor. This, it is said, was done to create a position for Senator George L. Silzer, of Middlesex. Mr. Silzer was a candidate for secretary of State to succeed Colonel Dickinson, of Hudson. It is understood that he was offered the prosecuorship of Middlesex, but declared he would accep no office other than secretary of State but the appointment will go to David Crater, of Monmouth.

There is considerable comment on the way an opening was made for Senator Silzer. The vice-chancellorship measure was introduced by Senator Edge at the request of Chancel-

INJURED BY MOTOR CAR HE SUES PLAINFIELD MAN

For injuries received when struck by an automobile after he had alighted from a Main line car at Elizabeth avenue and Bigelow street, Newark, May 6, 1911, George Comery, a hatter, of South Belmont avenue, sought $5,000 damages yesterday in the Supreme Court Circuit at Newark from Russell Van Buskirk, owner of the car, who lives at 226 West Second street, this city.

Trial of the suit was started with the plaintiff as the first witness. Mr. Comery told the story of the accident, claiming that the motor hit him as he saw it. The accident, he related, occurred on the west side of the street, and the auto was bound for Elizabeth.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN POST, SPEAKER AT C.OF C. DINNER

At the Chamber of Commerce dinner to be held in Truell Hall, Saturday, March 30, in addition to Governor Wilson, former Congressman George A. Post, of New York, will be a speaker. Like the Governor, Mr Post's promise to attend was secured by former Mayor William L. Saunders, of North Plainfield. He spoke at last year's dinner.

In conversation with the borough's former executive Mr. Post mentioned that he is building a residence on Union avenue, between Bound Brook and Somerville, and while now an honorary member of the Chamber of Commerce of this city, as soon as he becomes a resident of Somerset county he will have his name transferred from the charter roll to the active membership list. Mr. Post is president of the Standard Coupler Co., the Business Men's Railway Association and of the Machinery Club, of New York.

PARENT-TEACHER LEGAL COMMITTEE FILES REPORT

Plans for next year's work were discussed in general at the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Franklin, Stillman and Whittier Schools yesterday. Mrs. S. H. Voorhees, the president, was in the chair.

The Law Committee reported as follows:

"Through the courtesy of Assemblyman Babcock and Senator Pierce your committee has been favored with copies of all bills relating to educational matters that have been introduced into the Legislature. A number of these bills are of such character that they will not be considered favorably by any committee of the Legislature and we have not paid any attention to them.

"We have, however, done our best to secure the repeal of the law requiring a State examination for admission to the High Schools. We have talked with both Mr. Babcock and Senator Pierce about this on several occasions. The repealer has already passed the Assembly but has encountered opposition in the Senate. There seems to be a strong feeling on the part of a number of Senators that the State should have some close supervision over the schools in order to see that the attention given to pupils is really up to standard; the Senate therefore has endeavored to meet the situation on a compromise basis and a measure has been introduced to amend the law by providing that a State examination shall count for only one-third in ranking scholars for admission to high schools, and general term work shall count for the remaining two-thirds.

"Furthermore, the State Board is given discretion to admit pupils conditionally. It is impossible to say what progress this legislation has made during the present week as the committee has been unable to reach Senator Pierce, although frequent efforts have been made.

"We believe, however, that a distinct gain has been made in any event, as the form of the proposed law is so much less drastic and arbitrary than the present law. Many other bills are pending, some of which will prove of interest to Plainfield if they are taken up for consideration, but it is impossible to go into the merits of any proposed measure until it shows some prospect of being reported out of committe for action by the Legislature."

Funeral of Miss Shaw.

The funeral service of Miss Emma Shaw was held at the late residence on East Second street at 8 o'clock, last night, and was private. Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which Miss Shaw was a member for many years, officiated. The burial was in Hillside cemetery.

Sylvester Cuff.

Sylvester Cuff, aged 67 years, a respected colored man, living at 1112 Central avenue, died this morning. He has lived in Plainfield all his life. He leaves a widow, several children and brothers. The funeral will be held on Sunday.

COMMITTEE FAVORABLE TO BEARD SEWER BILL

Hearing Creates Impression That Measure Which Would Check City and Boro Will be Reported to Senate For Adoption.

The hearing on Assembly bill, No. 261, better known as the Beard bill, which is designed to prevent one municipality from establishing sewage disposal works in another municipality of the State without first getting the consent of the latter municipality and consequently affects this city and North Plainfield, attracted nearly two hundred people to Trenton, yesterday.

The bill was introduced for the particular benefit of Montclair, Belleville and Nutley, and for the purpose of preventing Orange from locating sewage disposal works in that territory. While the largest delegation present was from those municipalities Bound Brook, North Plainfield township and North Plainfield borough were also represented, there being at least fifteen citizens from North Plainfield township. Plainfield was not represented. W. J. Buttfield represented the borough, while W. A. Coddington was there in the interest of Piscataway township. Henry G. Opdycke and Garret Garrett represented Bound Brook.

The hearing was before a Senate committee comprising Senators Colgate, of Essex; Hand, of Gloucester, and Johnson, of Bergen. The merits and demerits of the bill were threshed out and it was the consensus of opinion that the bill will be reported favorably for adoption without amendment, that being the wish of the majority of those present at the hearing.

If the State Board of Health passes favorably on Plainfield's plans for sewage disposal works on the Darling farm, before the passage of the bill, the measure would not then affect the city. Otherwise it would be necessary for Plainfield to make a bargain with Piscataway township if it desires to locate in that territory. It was a matter of comment yesterday that Plainfield was not represented at the hearing.

The principal debate on the bill was among the representatives from Essex county, there apparently being an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the bill without amendment. Garret Garrett, of Bound Brook, read a brief, which he had prepared, urging the adoption of the bill, and George T. Hughes, of North Plainfield twonship, had also prepared an argument in favor of the bill, but did not get the opportunity to speak. Mr. Buttfield spoke.

It seemed to be the general opinion that Orange should join in the Passaic Valley trunk line sewer, but the debate brought out the fact that that municipality objected on the basis of cost.

Under the provisions of the present health laws, a community desiring to locate sewage disposal works in another municipality, makes application for permission to the municipality to be affected. If the permission is denied application can be made to the State Board of Health and that body may overrule the local authorities. The Beard bill provides that the permission of a municipality must be secured and if refused, that decision is final, there being no appeal.

Recently, the Plainfield Common Council passed a resolution requesting the Union county representatives of the Legislature to use their influence to prevent the passage of the Beard bill and in addition officials of the city conferred with Senator Carlton B. Pierce and Assemblyman George L. Babcock, in reference to the matter, expressing their desire that the bill should not be passed.

THE CASE AGAINST SEN. FITZHERBERT

Pierce of Union, Reviews Evidence Laid Against Convicted Morris County Man.

HOLDS ISSUE VERY SERIOUS

Fair Name of the State as Well as the Dignity of the Senate Involved in Question of Expulsion, Says Union Senator.

Cranford, March 21.— Senator Carleton B. Pierce, the Union County representative in the Upper House at Trenton said today that he doubted whether the general public had ever fully grasped the seriousness of the evidence p resented against Senator Fitzherbert, of Morris county, in the bribery investigation. In summing up the case on March 13 Senator Pierce said in part:

When the vote of the Senate was taken as to the guilt of the Senator from Morris, the reason assigned by memebrs voting "Not Guilty," was the existence in their minds of a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of he accused.

In my judgment as a lawyer, under well-defined rules of evidence, the situation does not admit of the aplpication of the doctrine of reasonable doubt.

In discussing the proposition, a brief review of the facts in necessary. It appears that in December, on the occasion of the dentist Ridner's first visit to the acetylene company, the latter reached the conclusion that "strike" legislation was to be offered against it, and determined to set a trap. On Ridner's second visit, January 3, three men were stationed in the hall to overhear the conversation, one of them a stenographer taking notes. The notes show blanks as to the portions of the conversation not distinctly heard, but they establish beyond qestion that Ridner was asked repeatedly what it would cost to kill the expected legislation, and replied "a reasonable amount," the precise sum not being fixed.

From the time of this conversation the course of the acetylene company was an openbook. One of the witnesses who overheard the conversation, placed the facts before the Senator from Hudson. The editor of the New York Evening Sun was taken into confidence, and assigned a reporter — Wisehart — to run the

MRS. THOMAS L. MELICK EXPIRES SUDDENLY, AT 32

Mrs. Lillie May Melick, aged 32 years, wife of Thomas L. Melick, died suddenly at her home, 612 East Second street, about 8:30 o'clock last night. She had gone upstairs to lie down, not feeling well, and when her husband entered the room she told him about the slight attack of illness she had experienced, but said she felt better. Mr. Melick went downstairs and had been there but a few minutes when his wife was taken with a coughing spell. Mr. Melick hastened to his wife's room and found her in a dying condition.

A physician was summoned, but by the time he arrived, Mrs. Melick was dead. The physician gave heart trouble as the cause. Mr. Melick had lived in Plainfield six years, during which time her husband has been engineer in the central division of the Public Service Corporation. Beside a husband, there survives one son, Richard Melick, aged 7 years, a mother, Mrs. Rella Johnson, and a brother at Hopewell. The funeral will be held at the late residence, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The burial will be at Hillside cemetery.

MR. STEVENSON ENDS HIS LECTURES ON HOLY LAND

Rev. E. Vicars Stevenson, rector of Grace church, gave the last of his series of four illustrated lectures on "The Land and the Book," at the church, last night. The subject of the lecture was "Jerusalem As It Is," being a study of Jerusalem as the tourist finds it. Mr. Stevenson, starting at Jaffa, took his audience up into the hill country to see the picturesque land of today and to feel the sacred significance of places hallowed by old associations with the life of Jesus.

The views were originals and faithfully portrayed the subject chosen by Mr. Stevenson. The other three lectures were on these subjects: "From Hermon to the Sea," "Round About the Sea of Galilee," and "Samaria and the Samaritans."

TO TRANSFER ROAD EXPENSE TO COUNTY

Mayor Clark Moves to Have Freeholders Shoulder Care of All Greenbrook Road.

COURT ACTION IS PROBABLE

Board Opposed Move to Make Mountain Avenue a County Thoroughfare, and Present Body Expected to Fight Greenbrook Proposition.

At the next meeting of the North Plainfield council Mayor Clark will propose another measure calculated to reduce the borough's expenses. The executive will request that proper steps be taken to have that portion of Greenbrook road for which over by the Somerset Freeholders.

At the meeting of the North Plainfield council and Mayor with the Freeholders Monday, Mr. Clark broached the subject of having Greenbrook road taken over by the board and was informed by John H. Frech, the board's counsel, that certain legal steps were necessary before the matter could be properly considered.

Mayor Clark's reason for wanting the borough relieved of Greenbrrok road is because it is a county road with exception of a stretch from This section is not three-quarters of a mile long and on the eastern side of Somerset street another county road, Mountain avenue, is maintained. The Mayor can see no reason why this portion of what is in reality a continuous thoroughfare through North Plainfield, shoud not be taken over by the county.

When Mountain avenue was taken over by the county thirteen years ago, Charles A. Reed was corporation counsel for the borough and the Freeholders bitterly contested the effort to have the street made a county road. Legal means were finally resorted to and Mayor Clark says that the same procedure will be probably necessary in them matter of Greenbrook road. The authority for taking these steps is what he will request of the councilmen.

The morning session will open at 10 o'clock with devotions led by Mrs. W. Andrews. Then there will be greetings from the entertaining union, the Willard, and the Rev. William Force Whitaker, D. D., pastor of the entertaining church. A county member wil make a response. Mrs. A. F. Schmidt will conduct a "Medical Quiz," Mrs. M. L. Rarick, of Dunellen, will speak on "The World's and National Catechism" and local presidents will give reports.

PARENT-TEACHER IDEA IN CONGREGATIONAL SCHOOL

The social conference between the teachers of the Congregational church Sunday school and the parents of the pupils, held last night in the church, was largely attended. James MacClymont conducted the meeting.

By means of questions and answers the qualifications necessary for properly instructing children regarding the Bible and Sunday school work were brought out and in the same discussion the teachers made known what they desire in the way of cooperation on the part of the parents.

In the afternoon the Girls' Club held its regular monthly meeting which was followed by a supper at 6 o'clock.

vote does not show extraordinary activity today may not tomorrow, there is no telling what day an upheaval in the standing of the candidates in any or all of the districts will occur.

It is hardly possible to form even a comparatively accurate estimate of the number of votes that might be picked up throughout this section. In one of the districts where the voting thus far has been light we personally know of a number of people who are only waiting for some fair contestant to come and ask for their votes. These same men may have turned down some of the more energetic contestants from other districts in hope that the girls from their town would come for them. No contestant, however, expect any one to come to them with votes. As it stands thousands upon thousands of votes are awaiting our candidates throughout the five districts, and all that is necessary to do to get them is to ask for them. Get them before someone else does. Now is the time. Tomorrow or the next day may be too late.

MORE PHONE STATIONS THAN POSTOFFICES NOW

The growth of the Bell system, its broader usefulness and resulting prosperity, are shown in the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company for 1911 by the financial statement and other comparative statistics.

In addition to this usual information, President Vail has made a very comprehensive statement of the policy of the company both in the management of its business and in its relations to the public.

The growth of the system is indicated by an increase of 749,906 in the number of stations, making a total at the end of the year of 6,632,625, of which 2,158,454 are operated by connecting companies.

The Bell toll lines now reach 70,000 places, which is 5,000 more than the number of post offices and 10,000 more than the number of railroad stations in the United States. The total wire mileage has been increased to nearly 13,000,000 miles, of which over half is underground, and the new 450-mile subway between Boston and Washington has been completed except for the drawing in of some of the cable.

The traffic over the Bell lines showes a daily average of 24,129,000, or at the rate of 7,770,000,000 connections a year.

Comparison of the local telephone, telegraph and first class mail traffic of the United States and of Europe, shows that telephone conversations are 58 per cent. of the whole in the United States and only 23 per cent. in Europe.

There was spent in plant additions $55,660,738, as against $53,582,800 the year before. Estimates for the current year are $56,000,000. There was applied to maintenance and reconstruction during the year $58,840,000, making a total provision for the last nine years of $342,300,000.

As to government ownership, the report says:

"The discussion of the government ownership of the wire companies is not likely to become anything more than academic, at least for the present.

"Even if the final conclusion should favor government purchase of all wire plants, there would be no unfavorable consequences to the sharehalders of the wire companies other than the obligatory liquidation. Any possible award for the property which the security holders would be obliged to accept would give them better than current prices for their securities."

The gross revenue collected from the public in 1911 for teleprone service by the Bell system—not including the connected independent companies—was $179,500,000; an increase of nearly $14,000,000 over last year. Of this, operation consumed $60,000,000; taxes, $9,000,000 or 1½ per cent. on the outstanding capital; current maintenance, $30,200,000; and provision for depreciation, $28,700,000.

WIDESPREAD PUBLICITY IN FIGHT AGAINST PHTHISIS

Publicity in newspapers and magazines to the amount of 1,500,000 inches a year on tuberculosis and its prevention is being given by the press of the United States, according to an estimate issued today by The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

If all the publicity on tuberculosis given by the press of this country in the year ending April 1st were gathered in one paper, the National Association estimates it would make a paper, of over 6,250 pages. In the last four years, during which time an active publicity campaign has been carried on, the National Association estimates that over 5,000,000 inches or over 90 miles of press notices on tuberculosis have been published.

"Publicity is the very heart of the educational campaign against tuberculosis," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, the Executive Secretary of the National Association. "Largely because of the intelligent co-operation of the press, has the anti-tuberculosis movement in this country, been able to become, as it is, the greatest organized movement of its kind in the world. When tuberculosis shall have become a rare disease, the American press may justly claim a large share in this gigantic achievement."

HOLD YEARLY MEETING AND A QUILTING PARTY

The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope chapel held its annual meeting and an all-day quilting party, yesterday, when these officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. James Heron; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Hanglighter; secretary, Mrs. Eckert; treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Brown.

The past year has been one of the best in the history of the society. The sum of about $370 was raised for all purposes. The society has a membership of about forty women, and greater things are promised for the coming year.

INSPECT COMPANY K

Law a great change has come over the national guard of this State. Fancy movements and "tin" soldiering are things of the past, having been replaced by simple movements and elastic formations. Everything is now intensely practical and the entire guard is rapidly being put on a basis which will enable it to take its place in the first line of defense as designed by the War Department. A regular army officer has been detailed as instructor and he has mapped out a course of work which has brough forth the best efforts of every officer and man really interested in the progress of the guard.

The local officers have been in no way behind in furthering the efforts of the instructor and, in fact, the character of the theoretical work done by both Lieutentants Peterson and Hort has elicited the highest commendation which he has given anyone. The character and ideals of both these men as well as those of the newely-elected lieutenant, Arthur R. Phillips, are the very highest and in the few weeks that they have been in control they have succeeded in effecting a throrugh reorganizatio.

Some fifteen men of the company who were lukewarm in their attendance and interest have been dropped from the rolls and are being replaced by men who are interested in obtaining a practical military training and can give the resquisite time thereto. The quality of the men recently enlisted has greatly encouraged the officers in their efforts to build up an efficient military organization which will reflect credit on the city of Plainfield. A man in uniform is conscpicuous, and the actions of one or two can bring discredit on a whole orgnization, so that mothers someties hesitate to permit their sons to enlist.

If the people of Plainfield, however, could know the motives by which the young men who are at present control the destinies of the local organization are actuated, the integrity of thir character, the high quality of thtir work, and the intense energy they are putting forth day and night for the success of the organization, they would realize that it stands for something that is real in the betterment and progress of the young men who comprise the personnel.

So anxious are the authorities to have competent military men at the head of companies that when the recent vacancy in the captaincy in Co. K occured they would not sanction the offering of the position to a certain local man of social prominence, as had been contemplated by the present officers.

MOVING PICTURE SHOWS SAVED FROM DEAD LINE

Trenton, March 21.—Moving picture shows and theatres are not to be barred from within 200 feet of a church or school house if the house continues its attitude on the measure. Mr. Pikaart, of Pasaic, the introducer, explained that moving picture places in Paterson are "becoming as thick as fleas" and that it was the desire of the authorities to protect the scholars from their allurement and escape the noise made in the places of amusement.

Mr. Richards, of Atlanta, did not see that churches had any superior rights and said they were only open when the amusement places were closed. He thought it would be as logical to forbid the places to be opened within 200 feet of an apartment house.

Moving picture places of Jersey City are regarded as educational in Jersey City, Mr. Donnelly asserted, and Mr. Hennessy thought the bill too general and drastic. It was lost by a vote of 16 to 29.

SUSTAINS PATERSON'S BAN ON SUNDAY TRADE.

Trenton, March 21.—That neither the constitutional nor common law rights of citizens are violated by an ordinance prohibiting the carrying on of certain occupations or businesses on Sunday, is the judgment of the Supreme Court expressed in an opinion sustaining the ordinance passed by Paterson regulating Sunday trade.

The ordinance was intended to prevent the sale upon Sunday of any clothing, shoes, leather, hats, or hardware, under penalties provided for in the enactment.

After remarking the powers given to council to pass ordinances under the Paterson charter Justice Minturn, in his opinion for the Supreme Court, said in part:

"It will be observed that the general and immemorial policy of the State, as indicated by the vice and immorality act, has been to set aside Sunday as a day of rest upon which the prosecution of any business or calling excepting those occupations specifically excepted in the act, is prohibited."

Edge.

"Yes."

"Do you consider that a fitting thing for a Senator from New Jersey to do?" asked Senator Read.

"I was indiscreet, I guess," said Fitzherbert.

The accuracy of the foregoing statement is vouched for by the three members of the committee present and by the reporter of the Star. I accept the Underhill notes as conclusive.

This brings me to the legal question with which I started. Weither with guilt admitted and recorded at the time, whether in such a situation the doctrine of reasonable doubt [illegible]

[illegible] Criminal Evidence, [illegible] rustic Agnew, of [illegible] is a good [illegible] defining [illegible] as follows:

"Reasonable doubt may be an honest uncertainty in the mind of a juror in believing the guilt of the accused, if it is caused by the evidence or lack of evidence, or by the absence of evidence, or by the weakness of the evidence, and not by fanciful or conjured up to escape consequences."

With this definition, let us consider the reasoning by which the Senator from Hudson reached his conviction of reasonable doubt. He tells us that though he left the judiciary hearing with the impression that Fitzherbert had made the admissions appearing in the Underhill notes, as time passed he found difficulty in remembering the conversation, and a doubt grew whether he might not have been mistaken, and whether Underhill might not have been mistaken, and as he considered the frailty of human memory, his doubt increased until it reached the proportions of a reasonable doubt, and he should vote "not guilty" accordingly. Led by the Senator from Hudson, other members of the minority discussed the matter and dwelt upon the tricks memory plays and finally reached the same conclusion. Let us consider this reasoning a moment. It is to be noted it does not rest upon the evidence at all. It is a mental process pure and simple. It is an excursion into the fields of mental philosophy. It is nothing Chief Justice Agnew says it should be, and everything he says it should not be. It discards the evidence instead of resting upon it; it is subtle, ingenious, fanciful, and, plainest of all, is conjured up to escape consequences. The doctrine of reasonable doubt has no application to this case.

The issue is very serious. Fitzherbert has ceased to be anything more than an incident. The honor and dignity of the Senate and the fair name of the State are involved. We of the majority are agreed. The responsibility rests with the minority whether justice shall be done, and the standards of the Senate maintained.

"PETE" FEIRING RELATES A WHOPPING SNAKE STORY

The springlike and balmy atmosphere of the past five days has aroused memories among local sportsmen of all manner of outdoor sports. While it is not the [illegible] hunting, the [illegible] arrives as a reminder [illegible] and discussions [illegible] last accounts [illegible] on the [illegible]

[illegible] in a [illegible] last night [illegible] reminiscences [illegible] for the [illegible] audience. [illegible] worthy [illegible] nature [illegible] Pete Feiring [illegible] this: [illegible] our adventures [illegible] fishing, [illegible] the gun- [illegible] that [illegible] I was [illegible] Mansfield-ers that [illegible] in quest of rabbits [illegible] beating over the ground in the direction of Cherryville and late in the afternoon descended into a small ravine that marked the course of dried up stream, overhung with a dense growth of small trees.

"I was leading the quintet when all of sudden I heard a loud hissing sound, not unlike that of escaping steam. It was only a few yards away and stooping low to get a better view my gaze fell upon one of the strangest sights I have ever seen. Gathered together in one squirming wriggling, writhing mass was fully 40 snakes ranging in length from 2 to 4 feet. They rolled about the pebble-studded brook bed like a ball, all the while emitting the peculiar noise which at first attracted my attention.

"Without thinking of what the result might be I aimed my gun at the serpentine sphere and discharged a load of No. 7 shot directly into it. The slaughter was something awful, but from out of the shattered mass six full grown healthy copperheads disentangled themselves and made straight in my direction, whether by accident or design I do not know. At any rate, I lowered my weapon and raked the ground with a second barrell of No. 7. It finished all but two and these Sergeant Overbaugh and myself quickly dispatched with sticks.

"The only way we could tell how many of the reptiles were in the group at first was by counting the heads scattered in all directions and as I said before the total reached forty. This is the first time I have related the story to anybody, and proof may be had from the other four hunters who accompained me. They are Sergeant Overbaugh, former Overseer of the Poor Alex Ayers, Sam Fields and Sam Adams.

CASE AGAINST FITZHERBERT

facts down. Later—February 14—the company through its representative, Ostby, placed the substance of the situation before the Senator from Atlantic.

On February 17, Wisehart visited Fitzherbert at his residence at Dover, and we reach the first evidence directly connecting Fitzherbert with the intended acceptance of a bribe. By this time Fitzherbert had, at Ridner's request, drafted and introduced the two bills, the first January 23 "by request," prohibiting the use of acetylene gas by railroads in passengers coaches and for headlights; the second January 30, prohibiting the manufacture of actylene gas for commercial purposes within a thousand feet of a factory or inhabited building. This second bill would put the plant of the acetylene company at Harrison, out of business.

Fitzherbert and Ridner were old-time friends and political associates. Their relations were so close they were occupying adjoining connecting rooms at the Trenton House, and had been since the beginning of the session. All this time, too, negotiations between Ridner and the acetylene company had reached the point where the sum of $1,500 had been practically settled on as the sum to be paid Ridner to kill the legislation.

Returning to the interview of February 17: Wisehart and Fitzherbert both testify that suggestion was made that the company pay $5,000 to close the matter without further trouble. Wisehart asserts Fitzherbert agreed to submit the offer of the backer of the bill, and that two nights later at the Trenton House in Ostby's presence, Fitzherbert reported the offer was satisfactory. Fitzherbert testifies he resented Wisehart's offer and practically showed him the door. Both agree that Wisehart asked and Fitzherbert refused to disclose the name of the backer of the bill. According to Underhill's notes, Fitzherbert made the same refusal at the judiciary hearing later. Let us consider this refusal a moment. Ridner was plyaing a double role. The instigator of the bills was pretending to the acetylene company that he was trying to kill them. It was essential to the success of the scheme that his connection with the bills be kept a secret, otherwise he would stand revealed a blackmailer, pure and simple. Upon this vital essential point we find Fitzherbert carrying out the necessary secrecy, and refusing to dislose his roommate's identity, even stupidly adhering to the plan after the exposure before the judiciary committee. In my mind the circumstance is of powerful probative force in determing Fitzherbert's guilt from the start.

I pass to the next point. The following Wisehart's offer. Fitzherbert testifies he called Ridner over and told him he would not stand for the bills. Why? There is no proper connection between the [illegible] and the merit of the bills. The greater their merit, the more [illegible] chance to pass, and the greater the occasion for a bribe. An innocent man believing in the bills would have pushed them and laid the matter of the bribe before his colleagues. I can reconcile Fitzherbert's subsequent act only with a guilty conscience, a sudden fright lest he was becoming involved, and a determination at the moment to get clear.

The night following, according to Fitzherbert's testimony, he was with Wisehart and Ostby at the Trenton House, telling stories for an hour or more. Can it be reconciled with innocence? Is it consistent with the duty and trust of a Senator from New Jersey, to fraternize with a man who two days before had offered him a bribe? Can the minority so declare?

But I pass to the final act—the complete admission of guilt made before the judiciary committee at the public hearing held February 29.

Fitzherbert rose, and gave in detail his version of the conversation with Wisehart in Dover.

"He asked me if the bill could be killed for a consideration," he said. "I told him I didn't know whether it could or not. I told him I would do with the bill want the introducer of the bill wanted me to do. He told me his company was willing to pay $5,000 to have the bill withdrawn. I told him I would tell that to the backer of the bill."

"Don't you think it would have been better if you had knocked someone down?" interrupted Senator Edge.

"Perhaps it would have, but the innocent man gets hurt," said Fitzherbert.

"Would the man who asked you to introduce the bill take money to have the bill withdrawn," asked Edge.

"I saw the man, and he said he would take the $5,000."

"You took that message to him," asked Edge.

"Yes, and I told these two men here in the Trenton House last night that he would accept."

"You told them that?" asked

THE GOVERNOR'S MISTAKE.

Contrary to the expectations of thousands of admirers, who felt confident that he would seize the opportunity to display a magnanimous spirit, Governor Wilson has appointed one of his former colleagues at Princeton university to be State Commissioner of Banking. The only excuse for this surprising nomination is the much-abused and often harmful political slogan "To the victor belongs the spoils."

For some years, Vivian M. Lewis, of Passaic, one of the most capable and cleanest officials this State has ever had, has occupied that important post and has discharged the duties in a way that has gained for him the admiration of all those familiar with the State's business. In the last gubernatorial campaign, Mr. Lewis, whom no one will deny is the best-informed and the most experienced man at the State House, having an extraordinary fund of knowledge concerning its various departments, was Mr. Wilson's opponent. The two fought a clean and fair fight, exchanging no personalities and not sinking to a level of the average campaigner for votes. Lewis was defeated. His services, however, were still at the command of the State, for his term as Commissioner of Banking and Insurance had not expired.

It is not exceptional for a Governor of one party to appoint one of another party to an office. Indeed, in recent years it has been quite a common practice in this and other States. But who did the Governor see fit to supplant this efficient man with? Professor Henry Jones Ford one of his personal friends, is the man. He has lived in this State but three years and during that time has been engrossed in his work as a pedagogue. We have great respect for the Governor, his administration has been a great credit to himself, to his party and to the entire public —at least the fair-minded people so acknowledge. But in appointing the college man to take the place of a tried and exceptionally efficient official, we believe he has not only lost a great opportunity, but has made a serious mistake.

It seems that Senator Fitzherbert's skin is as thick as an elephant's. The majority of his colleagues by a strictly party vote found him guilty of "conduct unbecoming a Senator." The members in his own party stood by him and in voting against his guilt made a feeble and foolish attempt to save him from disgrace as a man and as a representative of the people. These men expected that he would voluntarily retire. He did not do so. Hence they called upon him to hand in his resignation. He did not do so.

There is only one thing left for the minority, which stood by him, to do. It is to call for a reconsideration of the vote and then to join with the majority in ordering that this man Fitzherbert be kicked out. As the Trenton Times puts it: "The proper way to dispose of this scandalous case is to reconsider the vote on the question of expulsion. No Republican or Democratic Senator wants to associate longer with the man who has been convicted of "an offense inconsistent with the duty and trust of a member of the Senate." Eleven Senators have voted him guilty, and nine "feel bound to say that such a situation affects your usefulness as a member of the Senate and as the representative therein of Morris County." The sentiment is unanimous that Fitzherbert should retire; the only difference is over the method."

ABOUT A MAN.

In the Washington Valley lives a man whose name is known the world over by scientific men and by practical men.

It is because he has done something; something worth while.

By thousands of the really great men of this land he is known as one of the foremost, if not the very foremost, metallurgists in this country.

But that's not all.

This man is one of the very few who have been able to combine scientific with practical knowledge in the production of iron castings.

The improvements in malleable castings making for the highest grade of efficiency and economy in castings are due to his master mind.

He's a mining engineer, an internationally recognized authority as an expert in that profession. And he's known alike for his achievements in the iron, steel and coal industries.

Not only that but this man has built some of the biggest foundries in the world. The fact is that the one he originated and built at Pittsburg is the biggest in the world.

The United States Government years ago recognized the high value to be placed on this man's brains. President Roosevelt appointed him on the commission for the Government testing plant at Pittsburg; President Taft reappointed him. Then, too, he is secretary of the American Foundrymen's Association, which holds the leading place in the foundry industry in the world.

About twelve years ago the man we are referring to retired from active work and has since been busy as a consulting engineer. He holds degrees from Columbia University. Columbia made him an M. E., and also a Ph. D. Many other high honors have come to him.

So much at present about Dr. Richard Moldenke, who will be our Contributing Editor for Saturday's issue. Saturday Contributed Editorials are a regular feature of the re-built Daily Press. They are written by men who have done something in some particular line.

As we predicted a day or two ago, the Stickel automobile reciprocity bill was defeated in the Senate yesterday afternoon. Of course there was a heated debate, the Senators from the more thickly populated counties and particularly Senator Edge, of Atlantic, where "there's a reason" for the proposed law, fought hotly for its passage. On the other hand, the Senators from rural counties, where the farmers have their say, put up a successful battle against the measure. The vote was close, ten to eight, and the bill was killed. If a referendum clause had been attached to the bill, as we suggested, there is not the slightest doubt but that the people of the State would have voted overwhelmingly against it. If you don't believe it go among the people and find out.

What is termed as "by far the most sweeping arraignment of this country's courts and their methods" was made by Mayor Gaynor in addressing the Efficiency Society in New York one night this week. The assertion is confusing and misleading. Mayor Gaynor attacked the judges for the way they interpret the laws and for the way they get on the bench. What he said is not startling; it is general sentiment. An attack on the courts as courts is quite a different, a far more serious, matter.

No one would imagine for one moment that coal is scarce if they could see the coal trains being rushed through Plainfield from the mines to railroad sidings about Communipaw and other points. Pertinent question: What's the relation between a railroad and a coal company, what's the difference between the coal car and coal as to ownership.

The coal strike is coming and coupled with it bigger dividends for the railroads and the operators. It's the same old story, the people get pinched.

This is the first day of spring. But why call attention to it. Anybody looking out the window this morning knew it.

MILITARISM FROWNED ON IN THE BOY SCOUT RANKS

Since the first announcement of the Boy Scout movement to be started here Monday night, much interest is being manifested in the project and the committee of volunteers are daily receiving assurances of support from residents interested in the plan. One of these is William D. Murray, of West Ninth street, who told yesterday of a conversation he had with James E. West, National Chief Scout Executive, on his return from a tour of the country with General S. S. Baden-Powell.

An incident recounted by Mr. West emphasizes the spirit of the Boy Scouts. In Tenessee a large party with a brass band gathered at the station after a street-parade to welcome the chief scout. On learning what the demonstration was he refused flatly to appear, before the crowd because he is entirely opposed to this kind of a demonstration on account of its war-like aspect. He had the Mayor explain to the crowd that he would meet them at the meeting a little later in the day as arranged on the schedule.

Regulating Utilities.

Trenton, March 21.—Municipalities are given power to pass ordinances for the regulation and protection of electric wires, apparatus and current for light, heat and power in a bill by Senator Leavitt passed in the Senate yesterday afternoon. It provides for inspection, and companies must abide by the regulations.

Chimney Fire; Damage Slight.

No. 4 hose Company, stationed in Netherwood, was called to the home of Mrs. G. W. DuBois, on Belvidere avenue, this morning where a small chimney fire was burning. The damage was trifling owing to the quick response and effective work of the firemen.

Mrs. E. Newton Duryee, of Verdon street, received word from her sister, Mrs. Frank A. Church, formerly of Plainfield, now of East Orange, of their safe return last Friday from Europe. Five weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. Church sailed for England, Mr. Church going over on business. They visited England, Scotland, Germany and Paris. They went over on the Oceanic and returned on the Lusitania.

The Boy.

A writer in the Biblical World, speaking of "The Minister and the Boy," says: "To behold in the boy a rough summary of the past and to be able to capitalize for good the successive instincts as they emerge is to accomplish a fine piece of missionary work without leaving home. * * * The fire worshiper, the fierce tribesman, the savage hunter, the religion making nomad, the daring pirate, the elemental fighter with nature and rival of every kind, the master of the world in making, comes before you in the unfolding life of the ordinary boy. * * * He is an abridged volume on ethnology."

Apple or Onion?

No one would for a moment imagine any one mistaking an onion for an apple. But don't be too sure. Some day when you have nothing else to do cut a small square of onion and a square of apple of the same size, close your eyes and hold your nose tightly and then get some one to hand you one of the squares without telling you which one it is. You would be well advised not to wager any money on being able to tell by chewing which it is. The explanation is that a large part of what we call taste is really smell.—Pearson's Weekly.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The Kitchen Cupboard

SPRING LAMB WITH MINT SAUCE.

NOW is the time that we enjoy the spring lamb, best roasted and served with mint sauce.

String beans, peas or asparagus may be served with roast lamb.

Roast Lamb.—Go over the meat with a clean damp cloth before you put it into the baking pan. Season with pepper. Take a cupful of water and add a teaspoonful of salt to it. Use this to baste with.

Lamb should be roasted a quarter of an hour for every pound of the meat. The oven must be very hot. Serve with mint sauce or asparagus tips.

Stuffed Lamb.

A loin of lamb may be stuffed if the ends of the ribs are taken out so that it can be rolled.

Stuffed leg of lamb is also nice. The butcher will take out the bones for you.

Wipe out the meat with a damp clean cloth. Sprinkle with salt. Add the dressing.

If it is a loin then roll and sew up. Lay on a rack in a dripping pan. Place some of the suet from the lamb on the meat. Sprinkle with flour, salt and pepper and bake in a hot oven. Some suet should also have been placed in the pan. When the flour browns a little begin to baste the lamb.

To make the dressing use bread crumbs or, better still, cracker crumbs. Take about a cupful. Season with thyme or any herb preferred. Add salt and pepper and two ounces of melted butter and if it is still too dry a little hot water.

Stuffed Shoulder of Lamb.—Have the butcher take the bone from the shoulder of lamb. Wipe it off and make a stuffing of four ounces of shredded suet, four ounces of bread crumbs, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a pinch of thyme and marjoram, salt and pepper to taste. Bind together with egg. Put the stuffing between the folds of meat and fasten up with skewers. Roast slowly and baste well. Serve with peas or mint sauce.

Mint Sauce.

Mint sauce should be made an hour or so before it is to be used, as then the vinegar absorbs the full aroma of the mint. Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of fine sugar in one tablespoonful of boiling water. Add three heaping tablespoonfuls of finely chopped mint. Set away for half an hour. Drop in one tablespoonful of olive oil and half a cupful of good vinegar.

Anna Thompson.

Your Spring Hat.

A hat is the most noticeable feature of a woman's dress. It practically makes or mars her costume. The selecting of a good looking hat is simply a question of interest in the matter. The milliner is interested in selling what she has on hand. The trouble is the average woman is not as interested in selecting a becoming hat as the milliner is interested in selling what she has on hand. No milliner will take the interest in your appearance that you do yourself.

At least every woman should know her own limitations sufficiently well to be an intelligent factor in clothing her own head and not be a mere pawn moved about at the milliner's whim. It is all the matter of studying oneself, of being aware of one's own type. Don't be guilty of extinguishing a little face under an immense hat or load it with ornaments brighter than the sparkle of your own eyes or with colors that make you sallow by contrast. If you are built on the Juno type do not be persuaded into buying a toy hat regardless how your friends and the milliner insist that your classic braids are beautifully adorned with a Tommy Atkins toque.

Neither should one carry respect for one's own style to the monotonous extreme of never wearing but one kind of hat. Each year there are fashions which may be adapted to your knowledge of your own individuality. Each year it is possible for the woman who knows her own face and who has due regard for its possibilities to frame it becomingly without sacrificing every consideration of the modes. Adaptation of one's own individuality means harmony in hats.

A Joke on Father.

"Can you match this typewriting for me?" inquired a customer of the head of a typewriter's office. The head of the office looked up and saw a blond and blushing beauty of perhaps seventeen. She was well dressed and well groomed, and a Boston bull pup of parts strutted from the end of a leash in her hand.

"It's very important to match it exactly," insisted the young thing.

The head of the office just glanced at the paper in her hand. "Machine No. 3 matches it," she said. "Will you tell the young lady at machine No. 3 what you want?"

The blond beauty and the girl at machine No. 3 whispered apart. Machine No. 3 clicked for a moment. There was a frou-frou of skirts and a yap from an unwilling bull pup and the visitor was gone.

"Say, that was a queer thing!" remarked the girl at machine No. 3. "She had a receipted dentist's bill for $6. She had me insert on another line an item for $60 and add it up to a total of $66 above the signature. Say, do you suppose it was just a little joke on father—or what?"

EASTER FASHIONS.

The Bow Blouse Is a Charming Spring Novelty.

A dainty blouse for Easter is called the bow blouse. Made of charmeuse to match the costume with which it is to be worn, the blouse has a veiling of ninon in some contrasting color, and between ninon and foundation there is a huge bow in satin of some bright color which extends across the entire front of the figure. Black blouses in this style have bows of bright gold, royal blue or cerise satin, and very smart they look.

Illustrated is a morning gown of white printed batiste, which is very charming and dainty for summer wear. It is easy to make, and now that the shops are showing such delightful cotton materials a selection for the costume is a real pleasure.

Coiffure For the Elderly Woman.

After sixty the arrangement and care of the hair are of prime importance, and as the face fades the hair should be made as beautiful as is possible.

SIMPLE AND DIGNIFIED HAIRDRESSING.

This hairdressing is simple and dignified. The hair is waved and parted, a hair transformation being used under the sides and back. The soft knot is made with a switch.

A Late Fad.

The girls are carrying their handkerchiefs in the handkerchief rings which their grandmothers used long ago. The ring is worn on the little finger, and the wisp of lawn and lace is threaded through it. Another revival in line with this is the bracelet with the pendent ring through which the handkerchief is drawn. Another conceit is the long chain with a little clip in the shape of a hand, which grips the handkerchief and holds it fast.

Editorial.

Almost everybody is willing to help a child, and yet a great many people carelessly make the lives of some children harder than they ought to be. This is true of those who thoughtlessly buy goods manufactured by children because they cost less than those made by grown people. They know it is wrong to compel little children to work for long hours in ill-ventilated rooms for a few cents, but they do not stop to think that these children would not work if no one bought the articles they made; buying the goods is practically asking that the children be compelled to make them.

The National Child Labor Committee has recently bee investigating the tee has recently been investigating the work done by children in the crowded tenement houses in New York City and the results of these investigations are now being shown at the Women's Industrial Exhibition in that city. It seems to be hard to get people to believe that children are being abused by being forced to labor when they are so young.

A couple of years ago, at the Child Welfare Exhibit, a striking illustration of the subtle iniquity of child labor was shown. It had to do with the beautiful willow plumes which so many women wear on their hats. A real plume is very expensive, and yet we see plenty of plumes worn by people in very moderate circumstances. An examination would reveal the fact that a great many of them are not real. It would be found that the long, wavey effect was produced by tieing a number of short flumes together. That is, feathers with short flumes, and therefore not valuable, are taken; one feather is used as a basis, and the flumes stripped from the others are tied on to this one, thus producing one feather with long flumes. This is the one that is sold. The knots are very small—they can hardly be seen without close examination and these are the work of little children who should be outdoors playing. Their little fingers work, while into their lungs goes the destructive loose particles of the feathers, and their little eyes are strained and ruined in order to make the minute knots. Their pay is almost nothing. It ought to be stopped.

Our people can help stop it by ceasing to buy willow plumes with knots in them. The knot is the sure sign that some little life has been crushed so that the wearer of these willow plumes could save a few dollars on her feather. Is it worth while?

"How doth the manufacturer
Improve the ostrich tail?
By willowing the scraggy ends
Until they're fit for sale.
How cheerfully he sits and smokes
Through all the livelong day,
While children knot the tiny 'flues'
And make the plumes that pay."

Local News.

A series of lectures given under the auspices of the Plainfield Mother's Association on the "Prevention of Disease" has been most interesting. The last one will be given by Dr. Probasco, Friday afternoon, March 22, at the High School at 3:45 on "Prevention of Disease in Childhood and Adolescence." The subject of sex-hygiene will also be discussed. All members of Parent-Teacher Associations and those interested in the health of children are cordially invited to attend.

After April first the subscription price of the Child Welfare Magazine will be doubled. The price until that date will be fifty cents per year or one dollar for two years. This magazine contains much that is helpful in the care and education of children. Names can be sent to Mrs. Jos. Smith, 518 East Seventh street.

A meeting of the Bryant Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Herve Doane, president; Miss Griffen, vice president will be held at the Bryant School, Thursday afternoon, March the twenty-first. Mrs. C. J. Lawson will read a paper on "Sex-Hygiene."

National News.

Mrs. Charles R. Gantz, of Baltimore, has been appointed organizer for the Congress in Maryland.

Missouri is doing so many things through the Mothers' Clubs and Parent-Teachers' Association that it is not easy to select a few to report. One club has raised several hundred dollars for road improvements and organized a Father's Club to spend it. Another has installed a fireless cooker in a rural school and supplies warm lunches for the children. In Stanberry the mothers instituted a general collection of rubbish and induced the city to cart it away. This is to be an annual affair. In Kansas City a case of immorality in a home was reached by a general discussion of personal vice in children. The mothers' eyes were opened by this means. In another city talks were given on certain methods and purposes of the school and needed home co-operaton secured. "Circle Number One" of St. Louis has seventy-two members, forty-six of whom subscribe for Child Welfare Magazine.

MARYLAND NOW HAS A BRIBERY SCANDAL

Legislator Charges State Auditor With Attempted Bribery.

Annapolis, Md., March 21.—Just after the house voted to take up the local option bill William R. Smallwood, delegate from Prince George county, arose and charged that John F. O'Malley, state auditor and political lieutenant of Senator Gorman, had offered him $2,500 to vote against the bill. O'Malley, Smallwood declared, had informed him he had made a similar offer to D. F. Clendenin of Cecil county, and he had accepted.

Because of the prominence of the man accused the announcement caused a tremendous sensation. Delegate Cook, Democratic floor leader and leader of the antilocal option forces promptly moved the appointment of an investigating committee, which was done.

O'Malley declares he does not know Smallwood.

HOLDS OUTLAW SUSPECTS.

Sheriff Arrests Two Men, but Descriptions Do Not Tally.

Mount Airy, N. C., March 21.—Sheriff Smith has arrested two men supposed to be Freil Allen and Wesley Edwards. He says that they do not answer the description of Allen and Edwards and that they offered no resistance when placed under arrest. One of the men gave his name as Swain and wore a police badge and said his home was in Winston-Salem. The other gave his name as Cannie Lineback and says his home is in Winston-Salem.

Two boys fifteen years old visited several stores in the city and purchased bread and a quantity of canned goods. The officers were notified and pursued the youngsters, who had gone in the direction of the mountains, but were unable to overtake them. It is certain that these boys are doing the foraging for the Allen gang.

GRACE BOND CAUSES TALK.

Accused Wife, Released, Leaves Atlanta—Judge Is Criticised.

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—The secret release of Mrs. Daisy O. Grace, who is accused of having drugged and shot her husband, followed by her midnight flight from Atlanta for Philadelphia, has aroused the indignation of the state authorities and of the attorneys for her husband.

Judge Ridley, who accepted the $7,500 bond signed by two professional bondsmen, is being sharply criticised, and there is talk of an investigation.

When Grace was told his wife had fled he said:

"I do not care. It is probably the best thing for everybody."

BORN ON IMPORTED SOIL.

Prince Victor Napoleon and Princess Clementine Parents of a Daughter.

Brussels, March 21.—Former Princess Clementine of Belgium, the wife of Prince Victor Napoleon, gave birth to a daughter. This is the first child born to the couple.

It was stated some time ago that the prince was so anxious to have the child born on French soil that sacks of earth were brought here from France and placed in the room where the accouchement was ordered to take place.

Mrs. Newell Returns from Cuba.

Mrs. F. B. Newell, of West Seventh street, returned home Tuesday on the Ward liner, Saratoga, from Cuba. Mrs. Newell witnessed the impressive ceremonies connected with the sinking of the ill-fated U. S. Battleship Maine on Saturday, March 16, at five o'clock. Throughout Cuba and in Havana especially all business houses were closed, flags were at half mast and the entire population of Havana were out with thousands from the interior, perching on very vantage point watching the procession out at sea.

BORO POLICE IN EARNEST ABOUT LIGHTING ORDINANCE

The determination of the North Plainfield authorities to compel compliance with the ordinance relating to the riding of bicycles or driving without lights after dark appear to be slow in impressing itself on habitual offenders. As a rule for the first offence arrest it not made, but by this time, the police say, ample opportunity has been given all whose work requires the use of either wagon or bicycle to equip their conveyance with a lantern.

Last night Louis Preger, of Third place, and J. W. A. Bauersachs, of Grandview avenue, the latter a mail carrier, were arrested for riding bicycles without lights. When arraigned before Recorder M. F. Gano, this morning, fines of $2 were suspended over each with a warning. More than a dozen arrests have been made since Mayor Clark ordered the strict enforcement of the law.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

OLYMPIC GAMES' BRIGHT PROSPECTS

Contests in Sweden Promise to Overshadow Those in London.

AMERICA WILL BE STRONG

Although United States Has Lost Many Crack Athletes Since Last International Meet, There Are a Number of New Men in Line.

Great as were the Olympic games at London in 1908, far surpassing anything the world had seen in the athletic line, the battle of the champions in Stockholm in July promises to overshadow them completely. Gathered at Stockholm will be a galaxy of stars to fight for the athletic honors of their respective countries that promises to be the greatest in the history of athletics.

The huge stadium, more than 1,000 feet long and 700 feet wide, built to accommodate a crowd of 75,000 persons, in which the games will be held, dwarfs into insignificance in everything except beauty the one at Athens. The Hellenic stadium, lying under a sky of deepest azure, the blue Attican hills as a background, presented a picture which could not anywhere be duplicated.

Every contest in the 1912 games will be worth going miles to see. Sport followers in this country are bemoaning the turn of the wheel that prevents them from seeing America's brawny brood of red blooded sons vanquish the flower of the world's athletes in the great games. It is a strange whim of Dame Fortune that she should so arrange affairs that Sweden's people will have the privilege of seeing a greater collection of Yankee stars in action than ever measured strides in a meet in America. Uncle Sam's men should sweep the boards in the opinion of many.

Many a Slip.

There is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip, however, and to those who have been watching the tremendous interest that has been shown in athletics in the different countries since the revival of the games in 1906, with the resultant improvement, it looks as if the meet will not be so much of a cake-walk for America as were the 1908 games. The Swedish climate must be taken into consideration, and other conditions which may upset the best laid plans must not be overlooked.

A few years ago England, Australia and Sweden were America's greatest rivals, but such will not be the case at Stockholm. The athletes who will represent other nations are accustomed to the climate and they will not have to make long journeys to reach the battle ground. On the other hand, once again the Americans will be forced to make a long trip and then face conditions which will be anything but encouraging, for it has been proved in the past that our athletes always are at a disadvantage when competing abroad. Some of the best men in the United States may not be able to make the trip because of business connections, while the sea voyage is apt to affect some so as to make them unfit to compete. But despite these obstacles America should win, if past records count for anything.

Have Been Long Ones.

At all previous meetings in which our athletes have met the Britons in the quarter, half and mile runs, America's chances have been long ones at the best, but with the great group of middle distance runners which will be available for the 1912 team there may be a different story to tell next summer.

In order to muster the strongest team possible the American Olympic committee is losing no time in making arrangements for the trials which will be held in different sections of the country on the second Saturday in June. Mike Murphy, the veteran trainer of Yale and Pennsylvania athletic teams, has been engaged to condition the men who will be selected, and in this work he will be assisted ably by Keene Fitzpatrick, conditioner of Princeton teams, and Andy Mack, who looks after Yale athletes. Other well known trainers also will volunteer their services, while track coaches will flock to the aid of the athletes from all sections.

Will Be Depleted.

Although our ranks will be depleted by the loss of veterans who were factors in the Athens and London games, so many athletes have been developed in the last two years who have registered record breaking performances that it only is reasonable to believe that the 1912 team will be every bit as strong as former aggregations. Lack of experience in competing on foreign soil may handicap some of the athletes, but there will be enough veterans on the team, men who have been through the mill, to give the younger men all encouragement possible.

America's success in the Olympic games has been due to unselfishness on the part of its athletes. Working for a common cause, the men have gone into races and have carried out instructions to the letter. Some have sacrificed the personal honor which they might have earned by placing in contests, by going out at the crack of the pistol and running other contestants off their feet, thus allowing one of their teammates to either win the races or secure positions which helped to swell the American total.

"BAT NELSON WANTS TO MEET AD WOLGAST AGAIN.

Portsmouth, O., March 21.—That another Nelson-Wolgast bout for the lightweight championship of the world is only a matter of a few months is the opinion of Battling Nelson, the defeated champion, who is sojourning in this city, the guest of Carl Hansen, at his home on East Fifth street.

In his own mind, Bat has never been rightfully defeated, and since the forty-round go with Ad he has been continually on the trial of the new champion, trying to persuade him into another battle.

BLATZ AND STOUT TEAM SCORE BEATEN IN N. B. A.

Blatz and Stout were backed out of second place in the two-man team standing of the N. B. A. tournament at Paterson yesterday by Clapper and Westber, of Newburgh, who spilled the pins for 1195 against the total of 1178 made by the local pinners Tuesday.

Stokes and Neal, of Waterbury, Conn., are still leading with 1201.

Roller Skating Races.

New York, March 21.—Commencing with a one-mile event, tonight, a series of five events will be held weekly on Thursday nights at the Metropolitan Roller Rink to decide the professional roller skating championship of the East. Fourteen entries have been secured, which will bring together the speediest skaters in this vicinity, among them being William Blackburn, the national champion and record-holder; Harry MacDonald, of Brooklyn; Frank Brower and Harry Burke, of Bridgeport, and J. Mason, C. Launey and John Kirkbride, of Newark. The dates for the series follow: Thursday, March 21, one mile; March 28, two miles; April 4, three miles; April 11, four miles, and April 18, five miles.

How the Champs Pair Off.

The World's Champions are all chums, but as a rule the players have a pal who is closer to them than their batting average. Bris Lord, the .310 outfielder, and Eddie Collins are always within throwing radius of each other and one is lost without the other. Jack McInnes and Danny Murphy are never separated by anyone. Harry Krause and Johnny Lapp are shadows to each other. Ira Thomas can always be located if Jack Barry is near. Rube Oldring and Chief Bender are like the Tenth Ward and the Organization, though they have paired up differently since they have been at San Antonio, while Frank Baker and his pretty wife are inseparable.

THE GINGER JAR

March is a month of give and take—gives hope by a warm day and bright sunshine and takes it away with a mid-winter gale.

Mary had a litle calf;
She wouldn't let you know it,
But when she turned her back, the wind
Would blow her skirts and show it.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Winter officially ended yesterday. Look out for the spring love bugs.

A man's idea of a clever woman is one who understands and appreciates a game of baseball.

A girl is usually a great disappointment to a young man the first time he takes her to a ball game.

Usually when a player stands up for his rights with an umpire, he, the player, backs away.

Quite frequently before a recruit gets around to the big game that will bring him fame, he lands in the minors and loses his chance.

A promising youngster might break in upon the Athletics as a bat boy if he could hit .300 when the rest of Mack's men needed respite from the daily toil.

Mr. Amundsen traveled 8,000 miles to discover the South Pole when he might have stopped off in St. Louis and discovered the Browns.

Certain congressional solons are now planning to investigate baseball as a trust and monopoly. The only monopoly we know of in the game is maintained by Connie Mack and the Browns—a monopoly on the north and south poles of baldom's well-known sphere.

The toss of a coin decided the election of president of the Wisconsin-Illinois League. A tie vote between F. S. Edmison, of Rockford, and Frank Weeks, of Green Bay, brought the coin into play and Edmison called the turn.

Joe Jackson, of the Naps doesn't think he will do much this season outside of outranking Ty Cobb as batsman, run-getter, base-stealer and outfielder.

Happy glances will soon run up and down the runs, hits and errors columns. Later it will be, "What ails the team?" or "Say, that bunch is traveling some!"

The scribe, who gives Ah Wing credit for being the only Chinese boxer, has evidently to all intents and purposes forgotten the Boxer uprising which occurred a few years ago before China became a republic.

"The greatest hitting and fielding first baseman of the future," said Johnny Kling, "will be a left-hander. Of this I am certain, and I get my cue from the work of Daubert, of Brooklyn, who beat the Cubs in two games by perfect fielding stunts when the squeeze play would have won games from them last summer, prior to my trade to Boston."

Blow to Boxing Law.

Albany, March 21.—The bill repealing the Frawley boxing law, passed the Assembly yesterday by a vote of 76 to 46, just the required number. The bill has not yet been acted upon by the Senate.

PLAINFIELD ELKS EXPECT TO RECOVER LOST PLACE

Although the Elizabeth Elks slipped into second place in the race by defeating New York three straight Tuesday night, there is no despair in the Plainfield Bills' glen on account of it and when the Rahway Elks come to the Olympia alleys tonight, the locals expect to again be occupying the second position after the match. In fact, if all three are taken from the Rahwegians, the local antlered pinners will again be in the lead on a percentage basis.

Next Monday night the Plainfield five will roll the New York Elks at that place and should come away with the big end of the meet to their credit. This will give them a good grip on first place as the Hoboken quintet will be idle until Thursday when they try conclusions with the Jersey City team at that place. That match will be a particularly hard one for the leaders as the Skeeters are anxious to give their neighbors a tumble. April 3 the Germans will shoot a match at Elizabeth and that too will try their skill to the utmost.

Elizabeth will have an easier time sitting tight in their preferred position as the Rutherford team will be their opponents for the week. Whatever advantage the Betsytown bunch acquire from this match the locals expect to offset when they entertain Paterson here April 4. At any rate the race between the three leading teams is holding the attention of enthusiasts all along the circuit and before the tournament closes it will be next to impossible to name the winners.

JIM STEWART GAVE MORRIS GOOD LACING.

New York, March 21.—Jim Stewart, of Brooklyn, punctured holes in all that was left of Carl Morris as a white hope at the Empire A. C. last night. The Brooklynite had all the better of five rounds, while Morris did well to gain the honors in three sessions and to even up in two chapters. For 10 rounds the big men fought. Morris started off like a winner and smashed Stewart to shreds in the early sessions, but he soon tired under the strain of fighting and Stewart, recuperating, came back and beat him all over the ring in the last five rounds.

Both men carried out of the ring two badly damaged left eyes. Stewart fought a great uphill battle. He was seemingly beaten to a frazzle during the early part of the milling. But he apparently thrived under punishment and by driving right hooks to Carl's face and body soon had him tired and weak.

ACCORDING TO JACK, HE IS MAKING GOOD WITH CHAMPS.

According to letters received by Jack Martin's parents, he is quite well satisfied with the attention he has attracted from Johnny Ganzell, manager of the Rochester Club of the International League, in training at Anniston, Ala. Contrary to reports circulated early this week, Jack is being worked at short stop, not first base.

In the preliminary contests he has been accepting almost perfectly every chance and has stung the ball for a hit or two in every game. Saturday the Champs will play at Atlanta. This will be the first of a series of games the Rochester team will play in the hog and hominy belt on the trip North. The club is scheduled for two games at Richmond, Jack's old town, and a reception in his honor is being planed by the fans of the Virginia capitol.

For Team Equipment.

The baseball club of Hope chapel, recently organized, will give a supper at the chapel Tuesday night, the proceeds to go toward the fund to purchase new uniforms for the players and secure other equipment. The women of the chapel will assist at the supper.

HALL PRESS WORKS TO HAVE BASEBALL TEAM

The Hall Printing Press baseball club, of Dunuellen, held a meeting recently and decided to put a nine on the diamond this coming season. Several matters of importance were discussed. It is the intention of entering the nine in the factory league of Plainfield.

Fred Allen, formally with the North Plainfield baseball club, was chosen manager. He predicts a very strong nine as he has twenty recruits to select from. Several of the recruits are experienced players and need no introduction to the game. Mr. Allen wishes to hear from first class clubs in this vicinity to book games with.

The players who will try to make the nine are Fred Allen and Otto Rupert, pitchers; Francis Teeling, catcher; James Beattie and Peter Benson, first base; W. G. Pasch, Edward Gray and R. Fulton, second base; H. Wolferz, A. Zimmerman and J. Hallard, shorstop; W. Hoffman and J. Sepesi, third base; B. Block, right field; E. Waldron and R. D. Minnick, centre field; John Beattie and P. Duffy, left field.

LOCAL CINDER PATHERS IN FIVE-MILE DUAL RUN

The cups offered as prizes for the 5-mile dual run between two five-man teams of the Plainfield and Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. are on exhibition in a window of the Woodhull and Martin store on East Front street. One large cup is offered as the team prize and there are three smaller ones as individual trophies.

The race will be held Saturday afternoon, March 30. Starting at the local Y. M. C. A. building the runners will pass through East Front street to Terrill road, to Mountain avenue, to Watchung avenue and finish at the point of starting.

The local boys trying out for the team are A. L. Conant, who has been chosen as captain, J. G. Carty, Bert Trotter, Robert Manley, Frank Dunning, Alfred Day, William Peacock and David Schenck. Pitted against the five to be selected from this number will be Webber, who recently broke the interscholastic record for half mile, Wirtz, of Rosele, another crack half miler, the Reid brothers, who have cleaned up everything in their class in Elizabeth, and Parks, a miler with a string of victories to his credit.

NO FAITH IN "WHITE HOPES."

Fitz Doesn't Think Much of Their Chances With Johnson.

Bob Fitzsimmons does not think highly of the chances of any of our "white hopes" against Johnson.

"In my estimation Johnson is one of the greatest fighters that ever stepped into a ring," said Fitz recently. "He has everything that goes to make a champion fighter. His defense is so marvelous that I really don't think any of the big white men now on the scene could hit him once. Some man will eventually come along and beat Johnson, but it will not be for a few more years."

JOHNSON LOSES, JEFFERY WINS IN NEW PROVIDENCE

Berkeley Heights, March 21.—The surprise at the annual school meeting in New Providence Township was the defeat for re-election to the Board of Education of Dr. Willis Fletcher Johnson, president of the Civil Service Commission. Mr. Johnson is the chairman of the board. The ticket headed by William Jeffery was successful. On it, in addition to Mr. Jeffery, were the names of George F. Wahl, Augustus Davis, Charles Springsteen and E. B. Oechsner. Going down to defeat with Dr. Johnson was Angelo Delanco, who was a candidate for re-election. The majorities of those on the winning ticket ranged from four to eighteen.

Mr. Jeffery was formerly a member of the board, but he resigned because he was not in sympathy with the policies of some of the members. Simon P. Debbie had also resigned on account of ill health. Springsteen was on both tickets.

An appropriation of $1,100 was voted. Of thous amount $250 will be spent for repairs and the balance for current expenses. It was also voted to sell the old school building for a sum not less than $1,200. There was practically no opposition to the appropriations.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

That resonate tantara of merriment surcharging the circumnambient zone of laughter, particularly noticeable on Broadway at the intersection of 46th street, emanates from the Gaiety theatre where a congestion of amusement seekers are exhibiting unbridled expressions of joyiety effectively stimulated by the droll antics of Officer 666 and his frantic efforts t escape from the web of complicated situations subsequent the unguarded moment in which he is coerced, for a substantial monetary consideration, into parting with his insignia of authority for a few hours. It makes no difference in degree; old or young, fat or lean, short or tall, married or single, good natured or grouchy, the consensus of cosmopolitan opinion is that "Officer 666" is the most wonderful Cop in the world and notwithstanding the fact that he is eventually outwitted by that mischievous little god of love, Cupid, who plays a prominent part in Augustin MacHugh's melodramatic farce, is nevertheless voted the finest policeman on the force with a fixed post at the Gaiety theatre and no likelihood of transfer for many weeks to come.

Re-elect in Chatham Township.

New Providence, March 21.—The school meeting in Chatham Township resulted in the re-election of Edward W. Blazer, of Green Village; Fred Meille, of Long Hill, and Louis A. Noe, of Madison, as trustees. Daniel A. Pierson, of Hickory Tree, was elected to fill out the term made vacant by the resignation of Elijah N. Hines. Action on the appropriations was deferred until a later date.

Claims Chemicals Kill Fish.

Hackensack, March 21.—Charged with putting blue vitrol in its Wodcliffe Lake reservoir to kill germs, the Hackensack Water Company has been summoned to appear in the District Court on Friday. The action is brought by the fish and game authorities, which claims that the chemical killed many of the fish in the water basin.

T. R. TAKES NEW FLING AT TAFT

Says President Opposes Popular Government.

TALKS TO BIG AUDIENCE.

Wild Applause Greets the Colonel at Times—Many, Failing to Gain Entrance to Big Hall, Form Overflow Meeting Which He Addresses.

New York, March 21.—Speaking for an hour and a half before an audience that filled Carnegie hall to overflowing, Colonel Roosevelt declared that President Taft does not believe in popular government and that he favor oligarchy, the government of the many by the few, and asserted that representative government in this country is tending to oligarchy and must be altered to be a true democracy.

A great crowd of people who wanted to hear him were left outside in the streets. Some of these got a chance to hear the colonel after he wound up his principal address, for another meeting was arranged in Carnegie lyceum.

Colonel Roosevelt's subject was "The Right of the People to Rule." He had a prepared speech, which he held in his hand and from which he read the burden of his address. But he did not hesitate to depart from it frequently.

The audience followed the colonel with interest throughout his address and at times he was wildly applauded. In the audience were people of the regular Carnegie hall sort, with white shirt fronts and evening dress, but there were many others who wore whatever they happened to have.

Colonel Roosevelt did not call the president by name except once. Both he and Comptroller Prendergast, who was chairman of the meeting, made capital out of Mr. Taft's phrase delivered in his speech before the Massachusetts legislators on Monday, "a government of the people for the people and by a representative part of the people." The colonel hammered at it repeatedly, using his falsetto now and then to procure a comic effect. Usually the audience laughed.

He referred to a remark of Mr. Prendergast when the comptroller said that William Barnes, Jr., and Timothy L. Woodruff were advocates of a government by "a representative part" of the people. The colonel thought they would be the exponents of the doctrine in this state.

"I would rather govern myself," he said, "than have that particular representative class do it for me."

Colonel Roosevelt took pains to point out where he stands on various issues, such as the recall of judges. He declared that nobody would misunderstand him unless he did so wilfully.

Later on he threw away some of his notes and swept on to a parallel between this country and France in the revolution. These remarks were greeted with applause, and at the end of his address, where he declared that a leader worth his salt should be willing to be used and, if broken, cast aside, the audience gave him as generous applause as he received throughout his speech.

There were no interruptions except by way of applause when the colonel was talking. When he came in there arose the familiar shouts of "Teddy, oh, Teddy!" and "Cheers for Teddy!" But through the address the audience listened as though it wanted to know what he had to say.

With Mr. Roosevelt when he came in were Comptroller Prendergast and Robert E. Ely, executive secretary of the Civic Forum, under the auspices of which the address was delivered. Among those who sat on tiers of chairs on the platform were Oscar S. Straus, Truman H. Newberry, George B. Cortelyou, who were members of the cabinet in Roosevelt's time; Albert Shaw, E. J. Collier, Jacob A. Riis, Gifford and Amos Pinchot, Rabbi S. S. Wise, Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, and Charles Dana Gibson.

Oscar S. Straus, who spoke after Colonel Roosevelt went off to the Carnegie Lyceum meeting, said that this country's history had three parts, the revolution, the period of construction and the era of reform. In one Washington was the leader, in the second Lincoln, and in the third Roosevelt.

Washington, March 21.—The western itinerary of the colonel was made public by his campaign manager, Senator Dixon. The colonel will leave New York March 26. He will arrive in Chicago at 2 p. m. Wednesday, delivering speeches there until 11 that night, when he will go to St. Louis. He will leave St. Louis and reach St. Paul at 5 p. m. Friday, March 29, remaining there until 11:30 that night. He will then board a train for Chicago. Colonel Roosevelt's itinerary after he reaches Chicago is as yet undetermined. He may go to Detroit.

A Queer Remedy.

Francis Grose, whose work on the popular superstitions of the day was compiled in the year 1787, says: "The peasants of Suffolk have a simple and never failing cure for ague. It is this: Write the word 'abracadabara' in form as shown below, place it in a nutshell and wear the same about the neck." The form is here given:

A B A C A D A B A R A
B A C A D A B A R
A C A D A B A
C A D A B
A D A
D

It would be interesting to know in how many different ways in this arrangement of letters the word may be spelled.

THREAT FROM HUNTED ANARCHIST STIRS PARIS

Man Suspected of Crime Says He Will Slay Officials.

Paris, March 21.—The police, detectives and magisterial authorities were thrown into a state of consternation over a letter received at the office of Le Journal. The letter purported to be signed by Garnier, the noted anarchist, who is suspected of having shot the bank messenger in the holdup on the Rue d'Ordar. It said the writer was sick of the whole affair and had determined to surrender, but that he would do this in his own way. Garnier stated that he intended to visit the offices of either M. Lepine, the prefect of police; M. Bertillon, the finger print expert, or some other official, empty two revolvers on the occupants and then commit suicide with the last bullet. Beside the signature of "Garnier" was a finger print.

M. Bertillon, after an examination, declared the finger print and the handwriting of the letter identical with those possessed by the police which were known to be Garnier's. As a result all officialdom is awaiting a visit from Garnier, who is known to be capable of carrying out his threat.

MURDERED FOR REVENGE.

Harlem's "Hetty Green" Shot Down by Unknown Assassins.

New York, March 21.—The murder of Mrs. Pasquarelle Spinnelli, known as the "Hetty Green of Harlem's Little Italy" because of her wealth and business ability, occurred in a livery stable she owned opposite her home. She was shot twice in the head by two assassins who concealed themselves on the second floor of the stable and had evidently lain in wait for hours.

There was no attempt to rob the woman, who had a purse at her waist that contained several hundred dollars, nor was there an attempt to loot the office. The police say that the crime was purely an indirect method of obtaining revenge on the woman's daughter, Mrs. Nicolina Lenere, for killing Frank Monaco on Oct. 29 of last year.

REID QUERY WITHDRAWN.

Pressure by Government Prevents Investigation by Commons.

London, via Glace Bay, March 21.—Sir Henry J. Dalziell, M. P., has withdrawn the question in the house of commons in regard to the authenticity of the interview with Whitelaw Reid printed by a New York newspaper, in which the ambassador was quoted as comparing the present condition of Great Britain to that of France before the revolution.

It is admitted that pressure has been brought to bear upon Sir Henry to take this action. It is understood that the withdrawal was made at the request of the government.

GOVERNMENT IS READY TO QUIT

Strike Brings Political Crisis In England.

NEW ELECTION THREATENS

Dominant Party, Unwilling to Submit to Demands of Miners, Will Abandon Minimum Wage Bill or Resign if Measure Is Not Supported In Parliament.

London, March 21.—The coal strike situation, which has been the all absorbing topic for several weeks, is overshadowed suddenly by a political crisis growing out of the attempt of the government to bring about a settlement of the strike by legislation, a bill to that end having been introduced in parliament. The probable resignation of the government has become the subject of all discussion and, according to reports, Liberalist agents have been hurriedly notified to prepare for a general election. The Unionists are ready to take office in the event of the resignation of the government, it is said.

The parliamentary supporters of the government admit that the situation is acutely critical. They believe that the government is willing to yield to Laborite pressure and include 5 shillings a week as the minimum wage for adults and 2 shillings a week for boys, but in no case will they insert in the bill the miners' schedule, as demanded by the miners' conference. If the government is unable to get a majority without inserting this schedule it will either abandon the bill, let the strike continue or resign.

The announcement was made that Mr. Balfour would move that the second reading of the bill be postponed for six months. This came like a bomb to the Liberals, but they see a more serious danger in what they believe to be a tory plot to make a deal with the laborites to overthrow the government.

According to rumor, a number of unofficial Conservatives, disregarding Bonar Law's disavowal of any intention to make party capital out of a national crisis, have offered to support the Laborites if the latter introduced an amendment refusing to accept the bill unless it contains a schedule, but not the federation's schedule. If this matures the government is doomed. As the Laborites have agreed to support the second reading of the bill, the ultimate crisis is not expected until March 22, when it is sent to committee.

London, March 21.—The meeting of the miners' representatives adopted resolutions denouncing the minimum bill introduced in parliament and insisting on some amendments. The resolutions further demand the inclusion in the bill of the district schedules, which the premier had declared impossible.

The Scotch mine owners, it is learned, are determined to open up their mines with nonunion labor if the union strikers do not resume on Monday. They have asked for adequate police assistance.

MINERS TO QUIT TWO WEEKS.

Work Will Be Suspended on April 1 While Negotiations Are Going on.

Cleveland, O., March 21.—All the mines in the bituminous coal fields of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois will shut down on April 1, and 200,000 miners will quit work for at least two weeks, according to the operators and miners' union officials, who conferred here.

It will not be a strike, they say, but merely a suspension of operations pending negotiations for a two year wage scale to follow the present one, which expires March 31.

Taft's Conference Called Off.

Washington, March 21.—After a conference between President Taft and Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, the announcement was made that there will be no conferences in regard to the coal strike at the White House at this time. The president had indicated that he had invited President Baer and John Mitchell to attend such conferences. The conferences to be held at the White House were designed merely for the purpose of allowing the president to become acquainted with the situation. Notices will be sent to Mr. Baer and Mr. Mitchell that the conference will not be held. Mr. Taft had no intention of interfering in any way in the strike situation.

BEATS T. R. BY 12,000.

La Follette's Majority In North Dakota Will Not Exceed That Figure.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 21.—Senator La Follette's majority over Colonel Roosevelt in North Dakota's presidential election will not exceed 12,000, according to more recent returns, which take into account every county in the state.

In forty-four counties, 1,093 precincts out of a total of 1,613 gave La Follette 12,048, and Roosevelt 14,929, while Taft's vote is less than 1,000.

Arrest Germans as Spies.

London, March 21.—It is reported here that three German spies have been arrested on the Isle of Wight while in the act of photographing the fortifications. The men are being held for examination.

AVIATOR HURT IN AUTO.

Frank Coffyn Thrown on Head When Machine Skids Off Bridge.

New York, March 21.—Frank Coffyn, the aviator, was seriously injured and Edward L. Harvey, secretary to the commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity, was badly bruised in an automobile which skidded on the asphalt on Bridge 3 in Central park.

The machine dashed through the railing and threw the two men to the pavement, twenty feet below. Two other occupants of the car escaped injury, being thrown in the muddy embankment.

Coffyn was taken to Presbyterian hospital with a possible skull fracture and severe bruises on the face and head.

GAS EXPLODES; NINE DEAD.

Mine Settlings Believed to Have Caused Pennsylvania Disaster.

Scranton, Pa., March 21.—In a gas explosion caused, it is thought, by mine settlings nine persons were killed and two injured in Dunmore, near here. Two families, comprising two and seven children, were either blown to pieces in the explosion or burned in the fire that followed and destroyed three houses.

The dead are Mrs. John Cavella and her five children—Rose, aged three years; Dominick, eight; Lucy, eleven; Lizzie, fourteen, and William, twenty—Mrs. Vito Summa, Mrs. Cavella's daughter, and her two children—Mary, aged seven, and Frank, four.

The body of Mary Summa was found in the limbs of a tree fifty feet from the scene of the explosion half an hour after the accident. More than twenty dwellings were badly damaged by the concussion and the flying embers, and scores of persons were thrown out of their beds and bruised.

MRS. TOLLA, FREE, LEAVES PRISON

Sentence of Murderess Is Commuted.

THRICE NEAR GALLOWS.

Penitentiary Life Has Transformed Her, a Coarse, Uncultured Female, Into a Refined and Well Poised Woman—Joyful Meeting of Family at Prison Gates.

Trenton, N. J., March 21.—Thrice sentenced to death and thrice within the shadow of the gallows, Mrs. Antoinette Tolla, convicted of the murder of Giuseppe Sontarea following an attack upon herself at Lodi, Bergen county, N. J., was liberated from the state prison here. In all she has served six years of what, following final commutation of sentence, was intended to be a life term.

The release of Mrs. Tolla is termed a sweeping victory for thousands of women all over the country who not only attached their signatures to the many petitions circulated in the doomed woman's behalf, but who made a personal issue of the case, bringing powerful influences to bear upon those executives of New Jersey who had authority to pass on the case.

When Antoinette Tolla was first convicted and sentenced to die electrocution was not in vogue in New Jersey. As the day for her execution approached the gallows was made ready and all the final preparations for the execution had been perfected. A reprieve came on the eve of execution day. Again the date for the hanging was set, and still another reprieve came, and this was repeated a third time. Finally Governor Stokes in response to the earnest demand of a body of women who had journeyed to Trenton from Cincinnati bearing a petition signed by 180,000 names obtained by members of the Susan B. Anthony club heeded their plea, and the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Another petition containing 50,000 names arrived from Pittsburgh the day following this hearing.

Mrs. Tolla entered the Trenton prison a coarse, ignorant woman, accustomed to the hard life that is the common lot of a woman living in her environment. Few would have recognized in the well poised and apparently refined woman who has left the institution the self confessed murderess who entered the portals six years ago. She has devoted her entire time while in prison to close application and study of those subjects which were instrumental in bringing about such a metamorphosis. Then she spoke no English. Today she speaks the language fluently, and furthermore she is familiar with much that is good in its literature. She has taken up typewriting and now operates a machine with the celerity of an expert.

It was an affecting scene when the woman's husband and their sixteen-year-old daughter called at the prison for the woman. All wept for joy, for not only did she step forth a free woman, but she tightly clutched a purse containing $700, which women sympathizers had raised for her in the event of her liberation.

They at once took a train from Trenton and went to New York, where they will make their new home in a little flat already furnished in the Bronx.

TOWN ELECTS SOCIALISTS.

Party Wins In School Election at Haledon.

Haledon, N. J., March 21.—For the first time in the history of this village the Socialist party has succeeded in getting candidates into office, and the old party politicians are very much chagrined as a result.

The election occurred in the little old schoolhouse here, and the vote cast was the largest ever polled at a school election.

There were only two tickets in the field, the Republican and the Socialist, and out of 199 votes cast the latter received 113. The successful candidates, who will serve for three years, are Paul Hueck, who ran for congress on the Socialist ticket some time ago; Otto Weidenmuller and Harvey H. Oliver.

John C. Roe, Sr., one of the defeated candidates, had served on the board of education for over thirty years. The board now stands six Republicans and three Socialists.

WILSON SIGNS EIGHT BILLS.

Clergymen Shall Ride on Railroads at Reduced Rates.

Trenton, N. J., March 21.—Governor Wilson signed eight bills passed by the present legislature, which make a total of ninety-four since the session began.

The Republicans are planning to get all the important bills in the governor's hands this week so that he will be compelled to act upon them before final adjournment takes place next Tuesday. This will give the legislature a chance to pass over the governor's veto any bill that may meet with his disapproval.

Of the bills signed by Governor Wilson one permits railroads to carry clergymen as passengers at reduced rates. Another provides for the retirement on half pay of any veteran of the civil war who has been in public office for twenty years.

READERS OF THE PLAINFIELD DAILY PRESS

BY A SPECIAL arrangement never before made with any other newspaper, Doubleday, Page & Company, of New York, have agreed to combine five of their best known publications, issued from The COUNTRY LIFE PRESS, Garden City, with the PLAINFIELD PRESS. These yearly offers are extraordinary opportunities to get at rates much lower than the regular subscription price, these beautiful magazines and valuable books in combination with The Daily Press.

Magazines and Books at Reduced Prices

The World's Work

Is a magazine for people who think and act. It stands for independent political judgments, sound finance, conservation of national resources, and wholesome American ideals.

Throughout this Presidential year, World's Work will be a forum for the discussion of candidates and issues of the campaign. Its March number,—for instance, contains a really great article by Ex-Gov. J. Franklin Fort, of New Jersey, on Mr. Roosevelt and why he should be again elected President. Congressman Oscar W. Underwood tells, "What I Am Trying to Do." Wm. G. McAdoo bares "The Soul of a Coporation." These are the forerunners of splendid things to come Don't overlook the Biography of Woodrow Wilson, now running in World's Work.

You cannot do better than select World's Work for your home. Please investigate our special offer, made by virtue of an arrangement with Doubleday, Page and Co., the publishers of World's Work.

The Business Almanac

This publication contains a financial and historical calendar, giving days for the payment of dividends, maturing of bonds, annual meetings and annual reports; a glossary of technical terms on finance; an "Investor's Primer;" Wall Street crop and bank statistics; points on all kinds of investments; tables showing the yield on stocks and bonds; a chapter on insurance, fire, life, accident, etc., and other important features.

The Business Almanac is not a dry, statistical thing, by any means. Much of it embraces reading matter of vital and absorbing interest which can be read easily by the average person. "The Investor's Primer" is longer and better than most magazine articles on similar subjects.

This Almanac need not be withheld from ordinary purchasers—it is good for everyone.

Country Life in America

Issued twice monthly,—most beautiful and practical of magazines. Its regular departments cover architecture, interior decoration, arrangement of grounds, domestic animals, the motor, Nature Study and amateur photography.

Among its leading contributors are Jack London, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews, John Burroughs, Annie O'Hagan, Alice N. Williamson, Ernest Thompson Seton and many others. Here are some Special Numbers, still ahead of us for 1912.

April 1st—The Spring Building and Furnishing Number.
April 15—The Amateur Gardening Number.
June 1st—The Vacation Number.
August 15th—The Narrative Number.
Oct. 1st—The Annual House-Building Number.
Nov. 1st—The Middle Western Number.
Dec. 1st—The Christmas Annual.

Twenty-four members of Country Life in America cost, ordinarily, $4.00. Through our special arrangement with its publishers we can offer you a big reduction.

The Garden Magazine

is a publication which concerns itself with the "home outdoors"—little gardens, flower beds, small farms and horticulture for the average man or woman. Its aims are practical, its pages helpful.

"Our Longest Lived Trees," is the title of a series of articles by Wilhelm Miller on the most permanent material for home grounds and gardens, showing how money and time can be saved by planting the most enduring species.

Leonard Barron describes, in a most interesting series, "The Flowers the Americans Like Most." Roses, phlox, iris, chrysanthemums, cannas and dahlias come under this head, and Mr. Barron tells about the newest and best varieties, their breeding and cultivation.

Mr. Adolph Kruhm succeeds the late E. D. Darlington as our Vegetable Expert. Our regular Housekeeping Department tells you how to cook the fruit and vegetables you have raised.

The Garden Magazine will give prizes to children for horticultural successes.

The New Garden and Farm Almanac for 1912

is now ready, at your service.

Like its predecessors, this 1912 edition is the practical side of country and suburban life; the plants and crops, the live stock, the worth and welfare of farm lands, the arrangement and construction of buildings, the equipment for farming and gardening, and the house and home life of the owner. Its purpose is to supply, in compact, convenient form, authentic information on all these topics.

Scores of pages of valuable facts arranged in convenient tables will be found in this volume. All are based on the latest information obtainable, and all have been carefully edited. The publishers have taken great care that everything in the Almanac shall be thoroughly reliable.

SPECIMEN COPIES OF ALL THESE PUBLICATIONS CAN BE SEEN AT THE PRESS OFFICE.

POWDERED MILK HELPED SUSTAIN POLAR DISCOVERER

Interest in the recent discovery of the South Pole by Captain Roald Amundsen is increased locally by the display of samples of powdered milk and cream, such as was carried by the explorer, in the office of the Daily Press. Powdered milk and cream were among the principal articles of food on which the explorer depended and proved a strong factor in his achievement.

George M. Christian, of this city, who is connected with a powdered milk and cream company, is naturally pleased with the part that the product of his concern had in the achievement of Captain Amundsen.

There are nine plants located at different points throught this country where powdered milk and cream are produced, the daily output being about 100,000 pints, or pounds of liquid milk. The milk for drying must be delivered within twenty-four hours from the time the cows are milked, and after the water is taken out the material is packed in fifty-pound drums or barrels weight 151 pounds and in this form will keep for an indefinite period.

The process of removing the water is a simple one. The milk is sprayed on steam-heated drums, one revolution requiring three seconds, thus removing virtually all the moisture. The process also sterilizes the milk.

IRON COMPANY ATTACKS JERSEY CENTRAL RATES

Washington, March 21.—A vigorous attack was made yesterday before the Interstate Commerce Commission by the C. Pardee Works, manufacturers of iron and steel in New Jersey, on the rates of the Central Railroad of New Jersey for the transportation of steel bars and billets and scrap iron to destinations in New England. Perth Amboy, N. J., is the point of origin of the shipments.

The allegation is that the rates exacted by the Central of New Jersey, with all its connecting lines in New England, are excessive, exorbitant and discriminating as compared with rates on the same commodities from Pennsylvania points to the same destinations.

Demand is made that the rates from Perth Amboy be reduced, and that the complainant be paid a large sum in reparation.

REV. MR. HUBACH MAY NOT COME TO MONROE CHURCH

There is a possibility that Rev. Fred J. Hubach, of Phillipsburg, may not succeed Rev. C. S. Kemble, as pastor of the Monroe Avenue church. Sometime ago the local congregation extended a call to Mr. Hubach, but since that time he has received a call from another church, and a prominent member of the denomination in discussing the matter today said that he did not think the chances any more than even that Mr. Hubach would come to this city.

The fact that another church seeks Mr. Hubach's services has somewhat disturbed the local congregation and as their call to the minister preced the second one, they will make every effort to have the Bishop send Mr. Hubach to Plainfield.

FORMER GOV. FORT ADDED TO C. OF C. SPEAKERS' LIST

Guests at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, to be held Saturday night, March 30, will have the pleasure of hearing both former Governor Fort and Governor Wilson. At no time before in Plainfield have a governor and former governor, both of different political faiths, addressed an audience from the same platform and this fact, together with the announcement by President Babcock, of the Chamber, that George A. Post and other speakers of National prominence will be present makes it an occasion of particular importance.

From reports on the sales of tickets it appears that every bite of available seat will be filled. It is the desire of the committee to give the speakers a reception of exceptional nature.

BEARD BILL OPPONENTS URGE WILSON TO VETO

Governor Will Give Hearing on Sewer Measure Next Tuesday---Mayor Moy Stirred by Its Passage.

The Beard bill, originally introduced in the Senate to give Belleville and Bloomfield the right to say whether the proposed sewage disposal plant of Orange, East Orange and Montclair shall be located in their territory, but which affects Plainfield's and North Plainfield's present plans to locate sewage disposal works outside their own borders, passed the upper house at Trenton and now awaits only Governor Wilson's signature to become a law.

At the arnest appeal of those who opposed the bill, the Governor has consented to grant a hearing before acting on the measure. It will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Inasmuch as the law would materially affect Plainfield and North Plainfield, there is naturally considerable interest being shown in the matter by the officials of both municipalities. Both have plans before the State Board of Health for sewage disposal works, the city's objective point being the Darling farm in Piscataway township, and the borough's at the Zvolenck farm in North Plainfield township.

The Beard bill prevents municipalities from going into another municipality without first getting the consent of the latter, and for that reason efforts have been made by both the city and borough to prevent the enactment of the bill.

In discussing the situation today, Mayor G. W. V. Moy was inclined to take a rather hopeful view, believing that possibly the State Board of Health might pass on the city's plans before the Governor took any action.

Mayor Moy expressed the opinion that the people of the State could scarcely realize the wide-sweeping importance of the Beard bill, which, if it becomes a law, would prevent any municipality from establishing sewage disposal works, except within its own borders and that, he said, in many cases is not always feasible or practical.

Mayor Robert Clark, Jr., of the borough, when questioned on the subject, simply replied: "We must now stop and think. We can do nothing until the matter is finally decided and then it will be time enough for the borough to act."

Efforts were made to get in touch with W. A. Coddington, counsel for Piscataway township, in which territory Plainfield wants to locate its sewage disposal beds, but he was out of town. Mr. Coddington stated last week that under no consideration would the township give its consent to have the beds located within its territory.

If the Beard bill should become a law it would compell municipalities to bargain for sewage disposal sites, and whether Plainfield would be able to make any kind of a bargain with Piscataway township would become a matter of grave doubt.

SOUL UNDER RAGS VALUABLE AS THAT BENEATH ERMINE

"The man in rags has a soul just as valuable as the man of royalty, as much effort should be made to save it from evil influences," said the Rev. Dr. Austen K. DeBlois, of the First Baptist church, Boston, in a lecture on "Rags and Royalty," at the First Baptist church, last night. "Man is entitled to the fruit of his labor, no matter what his station in life may be."

Futher on in his lecture Dr. De Blois said: "We don't begin early enough with the boy and girl to train and discipline them for the struggle in life. In many ways we are breeding criminals.

The influences and temptations of the city are tense, intense and terrible, and there is no question but that the country boy has a decided advantage, living as he does in the free open air, where he stores up health and strength for the battles of life. The city boy gets his enjoyment too often on the waxed floor at midnight over a stein of beer, and too often his life is wrecked before he meets the greater problems of the world. But the boy in rags is worth saving at any cost."

The speaker referred to woman's suffrage. It seemed to him, he said, that the suffragettes lack a sense of humor. He believed in letting them have votes or anything else that they want, but emphasized the fact that woman's sphere is in the home. He thanked God that there are wives and mothers left of the old stock, whose impelling motive is love, and added that it is not so much the new woman that is wanted as the new man to be trained up in the old-fashioned way.

Dr. DeBlois made a plea for the rank and file of the labor unions, contending that all should not be condemned becaue two or three leaders who were found to be scoundrels.

THIRTY DAYS IN JAIL TO SAVE HIM FROM HARM

William Gordon, colored, of Westfield, was arrested as a suspicious character early Thursday morning by Marshal John Logan, while loitering about the Fanwood Station. When searched a large monkey wrench fastened to a belt was found on him.

When araigned before Recorder Charles Sheelen yesterday Gordon told the court that it was not safe for a man to travel nights without something to protect himself with, and for that reason he had armed himself with the wrench. The recorder said that he too was afraid something would happened to Gordon if he wandered around nights, and to make sure that it would not occur for a month at least, he gave the prisoner 30 days in the county jail.

WIFE'S WARRANT HALTS BROOKLYN JUNKMAN'S RIDE

Early yesterday morning the Brooklyn police telephoned police headquarters here that Frederick Whittemore, a junk dealer, of 1171 First street, Brooklyn, wanted in Brooklyn for alleged horse stealing, had passed through Plainfield, going westward, with the missing horse, a few minutes before. Mrs. Whittemore, it developed, with whom Whittemore was not on good terms, swore out the warrant. A friend of her's in this city telephoned her the tip on Whittemore's passing.

Detective-Sergeant Flynn jumped the first trolley car for Dunellen. He found Whittemore and Edward Beninger, employe, who accompanied him from Brooklyn, in a Dunellen hotel, and the horse and junk wagon in the hotel shed. Before taking Whittemore to the station house Flynn telephone to Brooklyn and confirmed the warrant.

A Brooklyn policeman and Mrs. Whittemore came out here last night. Mrs. Whittemore said the junk business and the rig were her's, and she intended to prosecute. Chief Kiely told the Brooklyn policeman that he couldn't surrender Whittemore without extradition papers, and the policeman went away. Mrs. Whittemore went back to Brooklyn a little later.

She telephoned to Chief Kiely this morning that she had decided not to prosecute. Whittemore will be kept here until tonight, because the Brooklyn warrant is still in force, but unless the Brooklyn authorities have started extradition proceedings by then the prisoner will probably be released.

Newark Jury Decides Russell Van Buskirk Was Responsible For Comery's Injuries.

DROVE HIS FATHER'S MOTOR

A verdict of $3,700 was awarded by the jury to George Comery, a hatter, of Newark, in his suit for damages against Russell Van Buskirk, of this city, in the Supreme Court Circuit at Newark, yesterday. The story of an auto ride which ended in an ambulance call and the hurried departure of a woman was a feature of the case.

Mr. Van Buskirk, who lives with his father David Van Buskirk, at 226 West Second street, was driving his father's machine along Elizabeth avenue, Newark, [illegible], 1911, when progress along the southbound car track on which the auto was traveling, according to witnesses, was blocked by a trolley car at Bigelow street. Mr. Comery was alighting from the car, when the machine hit him. He suffered internal injuries, and was in St. Michael's hospital two weeks.

On cross-examination by Duane E. Minard, Russell Van Buskirk, who appeared to be twenty years old, said that there were three occupants of the car, the "lady in the case," a chum and himself. The woman was married, he admitted. Mr. Van Buskirk did not name the woman, nor did Joseph Miller, who qualified as the chum.

From the testimony of Van Buskirk and Miller, the third occupant of the car went no farther with the auto ride. Where she went neither of the young men could say. The witnesses admitted, however, that the mysterious woman lived in Newark.

On the strength of admissions by the [illegible] that he had had "three s[illegible]," shortly before the accident defendant attempted to [illegible] Mr. Comery had become in[illegible]ated. The physician who at[illegible]ed him, Dr. James A. Blair, said that three minutes after the accident Mr. Comeroy's breath did not indicate even a trace of intoxication.

The New Market fire department has been presented with a fire tower and bell by Robert Fairbairn. They formerly did service on the Fair Acre farm, but was recently displaced. The fire company is highly appreciative of the gift and will have it placed in position alongside the Foster Sofield blacksmith shop. Later on it is proposed to arrange a signal code of taps that will indicate the district in which a blaze occurs.

It is reported on excellent authority that the Jersey Central has in contemplation, the abolishment of the grade crossings in Dunellen in the near future. While local crossings have been complained of to the State Railroad Commission, it is declared that this fact has had no bearing on the determination and the company's action is based on a desire to better the right of way in this vicinity.

The Dunellen girls' basketball team played a match game with the North Plainfield High School fire in Dobele's auditorium, North Plainfield, yesterday afternoon. The Dunellen girls were defeated by a score of 70 to 0. It is claimed by several of the spectators the result might have been different but for the glaring partiality shown the school team by Referee Read Clarke, of Perry, N. Y.

The musical and literary entertainment being arranged for the benefit of the library fund will be given next Friday night. Miss Ella Boice is in charge of the program.

Mrs. Evelyn Nelson continues to improve from her long illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles S. Day, of New Market.

Several hours later Krutol missed the money. THE FORUM.

Where Are We Drifting ?

Editors Plainfield Daily Press:

Over the signature of the Rev. Charles A. Eaton, D. D., and in the Plainfield Daily Press Contributed Editorial Columns, appeared on the 9th instant an article entitled "A Time and Task for Men." One cannot resist a compliment for its superb and classic Saxon, the magnet of which is an inspiration of acadameic beauty and rare scholarship.

From the personal viewpoint of the writer he voices the bewildering forces that make acute and aggravating any efforts at solution—the increasing tangles of an once happy and well balanced civilization.

Modern magazine literature, the editorial columns of which are models of progressive thought, and the contemporary forum, is not more concise and brief covering by a ratification of the same world-wide conditions of unrest of the people.

Looking upon the universal pain and passion of modern life the author says: "We cannot escape a serious question and he asks: "Is the world preparing for some frightful catastrophe, some vast collapse or relapse into general chaos failure?"

Surely the most indifferent and careless cannot fail to see we are up against it; something has turned bias. But what is it? Who knows the secret, the cause?

We know that the change has been sudden—and the learned doctor may recall such context of scripture as indicates the contrast and inferiority of nations, and the identity of of England and America as the head and exemplar of national honor. "They are the oracles of God." Apply the substance and volume, if you can, as the vital balance in religions and civic precepts and you may get the force of the original decalouge, which has ever stood as the covenant bond inviting Providential and exceptional favors to a wise and reverent people.

If you catch the inference you must accept the source of national blessings in special privileges as well as responsibility, which is known as the riches of the Gentile world.

It is not clear as an evidence of contrast to the Latin or other races that the substance and power of the decalouge has been the cause of national prosperity and world wide dominion? If you have visited the cathedrals of the Saxon Empire you have seen the stone tables of the law and commandments conspicuous as always from colonial times to the present, the same in the temples and places of worship in this the land of religious and civic liberty.

But what of the influence and purposes of the new philosophies that have crowded out the universities of England and America, the ancient oracle and its doctrine and supplanted it with a Pantheistic cult which has flourished for thousands of years in India as the fables of Buddha.

We are not interested in the divided schools of these philosophers, but the abridging of the traditionary confidence and introduction of idolatries, making void the commandments and devising principles revolutionary and resting upon a socialistic system; let it be Pantheistic or Monistic, it is a strange school of extremes. Yet popular in the curriculum of the universities of both England and America, not altogether in the open is this dark shadow of apostasy become the national blight upon traditionary ideals, as there still lingers by mere inertia the outward form—but the life is out of it.

We have hinted at the intrusion of these strange and destructive elements which threaten the chiefest among the nations, and the foundations of all true learning.

Not only this offense against the foundations of our civilization the commandments and oracles, but a momentous change has dispoiled the strong and reverant ties associated with the old St. James Bible. That book of all books which has been the cardinal influence in the exceptional prosperity of the Saxon speaking race, has been supplanted by a universal preference for the modern new version, which mutilates the old version and its liberal text out of all connected sense, presumably as the old stands as a challenge to the assault upon the common faith of this new school of Pantheistic scholastics.

Let me cite an instance: Jno. 7—where satanic cunning has removed—left out— from the popular modern version the seventh verse evidencing the conceit of carelessness and indifference as to the substance and context of with the volume of truth.

The "People's Pulpit" of Brooklyn declares it a meaningless interpolation, but the Bible scholar recognizes the works of regeneration as the witness of men and the record of Heaven, justifying the child of the Kingdom in a knowledge of the Father, the Word by the Holy Spirit, in the words of the great apostle, while the new version discards it entirely. It is not the intention of the writer to burden the causes by an encyclopedia of disturbing elements, but simply to awaken interest.

There are further evidences of evolution in the religious world like the woman of Christian Science so-called. Blavalsky, New Thought, Emanuelism and the organized clerical Fabians, who encourage the youth of our seminaries to believe that the modern young mind is vastly superior to men of light and learning of past generations. These have made prodigious strides and havoc of the common faith.

Many wise seers cite the disturbances in the Roman church called modernism, but this is but the factional element of changing forces moving in revolution everywhere, significant of the signs of ferment and unrest, ominous clouds in the religious horizon.

It is an old adage that history repeats itself. The history of the new calendar gives a long stretch when the gentile world has occupied the place of the chosen people of old in special favor and responsibility. For Israel's apostacy that people degenerated into chaos and disaster and the judgments of God were swift and severe when the Theocracy turned from the tables of the law and commandments for the groves of idolatry. Are we not reminded of the many heralds of conditions of the present by representative articles as well as the one already complimented for its brevity and entirety?

During all the history of mankind never has there been such a turning from the source of national blessings, and it follows that we are living under the dark shadow of a great national aspostacy and a repetition of divine wrath finds His spirit turned from the favored Saxon world to the pagan outcasts of heathen darkness.

Verily "we have a name to live and art dead," while thousands in the byways and hedges are moved in the common faith, and crowding the doors and altars of worship in far-off heathen lands.

Have we here something of an answer for the universal ferment and unrest — the vain contentions of statesmen—in the no lack of intelligent voices, yet confusion of tongue in a generation of men unwise and blind in their own conceit.

No wonder catch words and the cart of anarchy evidences of unrest and the birth panas of seeming dispair.

While Isreal was cast off for her apostacy they have still the covenant to their father Abraham, but the honors and favors of the Saxon gained among the nations while they held sacred the divine oracles, now have but slight hold upon the anchor of hope and their peace and rest has drifted into confusion and doubt because we have flouted the divine law, fail of government, while God repeats Himself in the removal of His Providence to the dark places of the Pagan world.

Some day we will tire of the unequal fight
And crave of thee Shepherds the full saving truth
And wave the old fetters of theologic doubt—
For the pearl and great price—the elixir of youth:
Then the star of the morning will be shivering
On turret and spire by the great highway,
And the chimes be ringing and voices singing
Glory to God for the dawn of a new day.

ANOTHER FITZHERBERT INVESTIGATION. MAYBE

Trenton, March 22.—Not a word had been heard at the State house yesterday from Senator Fitzherbert, whom his Democratic colleagues advised last Monday to resign. One of the Senators closest to Fitzherbert said that, while he knew nothing whatever concerning the Senator's views, he was of the opinion that he would not resign, and that he would appear next year to take his seat again.

That the Republicans in the upper branch do not intend to drop the Fitzherbert case became evident yesterday whenSenator Edge majority floor leader, said that it might be officially announced that the Republicans had begun investigations into the charge that Senator Fitzherbert had been guilty of conduct unbecoming a Senator in connection with the Morris Canal abandonment bill. He said that if the evidence seemed to warrant an official investigation by the Senate, the Republicans would take steps to bring about such an investigation.

CLOAK OPERATORS END STRIKE IN PERTH AMBOY.

Perth Amboy March 22.—The striking operators in the Manheimer & Kaase cloak factory in this ciyt voted to accept a compromise offer made by the company and they will return to work. The alleged attempt on the part of the New York union, which has jurisdiction over Perth Amboy, to force the removal of the factory to New York failed and plant will remain here.

Recognition will be given the union and there will be a slight increase in wages. A. A. Quinn, of this city, vice-president of the national organization of carpenters, and Alderman R. J. Galvin, acted as mediators between the company and its employes.

A SENSIBLE IDEA.

Manufacturers, workmen and the public generally will have an opportunity to obtain a thorough understanding of the Employers' Liability law, the Workman's Compensation act and other recent statutes enacted for the proper regulation of industries by a plan State Commissioner of Labor Lewis T. Bryant has devised. The commissioner proposes to visit the larger centres of popuation throughout the State where he will give a series of illustrated lectures on the labor laws. Information he obtained while making an investigation of labor conditions abroad last summer, together with a superb collection of pictures revealing factory conditions in foreign lands, will be furnished in these lectures to which the public will be given a cordial invitation. How blowers and other dust eliminating apparatus are installed in foreign factories and how machinery is safeguarded will be given particular attention.

Commissioner Bryant has started off right with his scheme by enlisting the interest of the labor leaders. Assemblyman Cornelius Ford, president of the New Jersey State Federation of Labor, and Samuel Botterill, president of the State Carpenters' Association, has agreed to join with him and both of these men will speak at all the meetings. Another feature, one to draw the crowd, will be orchestral music. The first of these educational lectures will be given at Trenton on Sunday afternoon and at an early date one will be held at Newark under the auspices of the board of trade of that city. We suggest that our own Chamber of Commerce or the Trades Council extend an invitation to Commissioner Bryant to arrange for a meeting here.

City Counsel James R. Nugent, of Newark, who made himself notorious by his unmanly and slanderous toast to the Governor, resulting in his being deposed as chairman of the Democratic State Committee, is up to his old tricks again. Like his crony, James Smith, Jr., he loses no opportunity to attack Wilson. He did so before the Krueger Association in Newark, last night. But the Governor really should welcome abuse from such sources, for as it increases sooner or later it may be said of him, too, "We love him for the enemies he has made."

The Saturday Contributed Editorial, a weekly feature of The Daily Press, will be written by Richard Moldenke, M. E., Ph. D., for tomorrow's issue. Dr. Moldenke is famed internationally among scientific men as a metallurgist and for his great achievements in improving methods in making iron castings. The subject he will discuss is a great problem of the day. It will be one of absorbing interest; above all it will do exactly what these contributed editorials are intended to do—to make you think.

Half a dozen men of National prominence have consented to speak at the Chamber of Commerce banquet but as yet the committee has announced the names of but three, Governor Wilson and his predecessor, former Governor Fort, and former Congressman Post. None of these is a stranger at such gatherings in "The Queen City of New Jersey" and it goes without saying that each will be given a cordial reception.

"Jim" Smith's Morning Star gives prominence to a dispatch stating that Senator Reed, of Missouri, wants to know where Governor Wilson gets his campaign cash. Well, no one suspects the Newark statesman.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana has declared a dividend of 2900 per cent. Pleasant little statistic for the trustophobe eye.

They say that "they never come back." Yet, there's that man Jeffery, of Berkeley Heights.

"Wool Trap Planned for Taft"—newspaper headline. Going to fleece him, eh?

This is not a backward spring: it's only a forward winter.

Wisconsin threw the Colonel's hat back at him.

Now keep your eye on Bryan and Hughes.

COMMITTEE PUSHES PLANS FOR BOY SCOUT MOVEMENT

The committee promoting the organization of a Boy Scout patrol in Plainfield met last night in the Y. M. C. A. and selected Lindsey Best as chairman. H. C. Krebs and former City Judge William N. Runyon are the other members of the committee. Letters were read from a number of business men who have been invited to participate in the movement and all of them expressed a readiness on the part of the writer to enter actively into the plan which will be formally launched at Monday night's meeting.

An excellent opportunity will be afforded at the evening meeting for those who are not fully acquainted with the spirit of the Boy Scouts to thoroughly familiarize themselves with the plan. H. E. Shaffer, field chief of the Boy Scouts organization, will be the principal speaker. He will answer any questions that may be asked.

The committee has invited about thirty-five business and professional men to serve on the council and every acceptance thus far has been a hearty one. The committee will be glad to have suggestions from every source as to who would be interested and willing to take part in this work. The full strength of a council for Plainfield ought to be 75 or 100.

Committee Awards Contracts.

The councilmanic street committee at its meeting last night decided to award the contract to the Blue Stone Company for furnishing cross-walks, curbing and culverts for the coming year, and the contract for furnishing crushed stone to The Trap Rock Company. The latter bid was the only one received for crushed stone, and the Blue Stone Company's bid was the lowest of two received for furnishing cross-walks, curbs and culverts.

COMING EVENTS.

TONIGHT—Bechtel Young, C. B. S., lectures on Christian Science at Hartridge Auditorium.

Frank MacDaniel, president of Pennington Institute, addresses First M. E. church Brotherhood.

TOMORROW NIGHT—Plainfield High School Pupils in "Pinafore" at H. S. Auditorium.

LIVING STATUE CONTINUES TO MYSTIFY STORE CROWDS

Edward L. Field, the human automaton, who is mystifying people at "The White Store," this week, has won distinction throughout the country by his clever work in posing as a Roman gladiator. There is a feeling of doubt among people who watch him during his performance as to whether he is really alive. This fact has been commented upon to a considerable extent by many leading newspapers.

Mr. Field now represents the Sperry & Hutchinson concern, originators of the trading stamp. During his career he has appeared in a similar role for many other large concerns. For one whole season he was one of the leading attractions engaged by Bostock at Coney Island.

CHRISTIAN FIELD.

The Rt. Rev. F. S. Spalding, Bishop of Utah, will be the special Lenten preacher at Grace church, Sundya morning, March 31, at 11 o'clock.

"The Three Intimates of Jesus," will be the subject of the special sermon at Hope Chapel, Sunday night, by Rev. F. L. Greene, the pastor.

The chorus choir of the First Baptist church, under the direction of Howard Case, organist, is holding weekly rehearsels of the cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," which will be rendered on Thursday night, April 4.

"When and for Whom Will He Come?" will be the subject of Rev. Gabriel Reid Maguire's special sermon at the Park Avenue Baptist church Sunday night, it being one of a series on "The Lord's Second Coming."

Those attending the prayer meeting at the Seventh-Day Baptist church, tonight, will be expected to contribute to the interest of the service by giving testimony growing out of some personal experience of the past week. Mrs. Sarah G. Davis, missionary at Shanghai, China, will speak to the Junior C. E. Society tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

"The Saloons and Their Allies" will be the topic for the Christian Endeavor Society meeting at the Seventh-Day Baptist church tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The meeting will be in charge of the temperance committee, of which Elmer L. Hunting is the chairman. Rev. Edwin Shaw, pastor of the church, will use as a Scripture text for his discouse at the morning service tomorrow morning, a verse in Acts 20, "Trouble Not Yourselves; for His Life Is In Him."

"Million Dollar Heir" Dies.

Long Branch, March 22.—James Nelson Paddock, of Atlantic Highlands, who had been a patient at the Monmouth Memorial Hospital since last May, died yesterday. He was sixty-five years old. Mr. Paddock was a brother of the late Simon Paddock, of Syracuse, N. Y., whose death early in the year was followed by a sensational report that he had left his brother here a million dollars. The report as to the legacy were true, but the amount was much exaggerated.

IN WOMAN'S REALM

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

NOW SHRIMPS ARE IN SEASON.

SHRIMPS are in season from March 15 to June 1 and may be served in many novel ways. Canned shrimps may be bought almost anywhere, and if you care to try them do not deprive yourself of these little crustaceans because you cannot get them fresh from the ocean.

Shrimps are very much like lobsters, only much smaller. If you are fond of lobsters you will probably like shrimps.

Fresh shrimps have the head and shell removed before cooking. They are boiled in salted water for five to ten minutes.

Served in Salads.

Plain Shrimp Salad.—Shell a quart of boiled shrimps. Lay them on lettuce leaves in a salad bowl. Chill some mayonnaise dressing, pour over the shrimps and serve.

Shrimp and Asparagus Salad.—Cut some asparagus stalks into short lengths so that the hard ends may be dispensed with. Add a small can of shrimps that have been drained and rinsed in cold water. Put in a saucepan on the fire. Toss in a little butter and onion juice, but do not allow to brown. Serve with mayonnaise or boiled dressing, using a few chopped capers, a little dry mustard and minced parsley. Garnish with lettuce.

Ways of Cooking.

Creamed Shrimps.—Take a can of shrimps and after removing the refuse melt four teaspoonfuls of butter, add one tablespoonful of flour and stir till smooth. Add one-quarter of a cupful of cream and the shrimps and stir very gently until they are heated. Then add the beaten yolks of two eggs, stirring all the while. As soon as the eggs are in, season with salt and pepper and serve on toast.

Fried Shrimps.—Fried shrimps are nice for luncheon. They may be prepared quickly. Open a can of them and after washing and removing the shells dip in egg, well beaten, and roll in cracker crumbs. Put butter into the frying pan, and when it is hot drop in the shrimps and fry quickly. Serve with tartar sauce.

A Novel Dish.

Shrimp Croustade.—With a big biscuit cutter stamp out as many rounds of bread as there are persons to be served, and with a smaller cutter stamp a round out of the center, leaving a hollow, but not cutting the bread clear through. Fry the cases in a basket in deep, hot fat and fill the center with shrimps picked into pieces and mixed with white sauce.

Spring Parasol In New Tan Shade.

IN SHADES OF TAN AND BROWN.

Natural shantung was used for the cover of this new parasol for use with Easter tailored costumes of mohair or worsted mixture. The parasol has a carved imitation ivory stick and a hemstitched border of cream colored taffeta. Such sunshades are going to be very popular this spring.

She Never Looks Tired.

Kitty Gordon, the actress, has been called "the woman who never looks tired."

To explain her secret, "Just take a vacation every two or three weeks," she advises with a prankish little smile playing about her mouth, as though she was well aware of the reply she would receive. But before one has an opportunity to answer she adds quickly: "Yet it's not nearly so difficult as it sounds. By a vacation I mean a whole day's rest—luxurious rest. Just go away alone where you don't see a soul you know and take a sunny, warm room where you can bask. If you can afford it, take along heaps of gorgeous, sweet odored flowers. If you cannot, then a bit of your favorite perfume and one or two flowers. But flowers you must have. There is nothing in all the world so restful or so wonderfully soothing. Then read your favorite poems, browse in them, play, sing. Forget you ever had a worry. If your clothes hamper you cast them off and dress in a single little robe de nuit. Simply relax every strained little muscle in your face and body.

"If you are fortunate enough, call in several little folks; be young again with them. When they want you to hide under a couch, hide under it even if you have to tip it over. It will take years from your age.

"I never fail to take this 'rest' cure ('sun' cure) every other Sunday. My stage work won't allow me to take them oftener. And, oddly, I never go into the country for my rest. I go to the city. There is too much temptation to go out of doors and romp in the country, and the result is that you don't allow yourself the delightful opportunity to relax that you desire. Then, too, in the city, away up in your apartment, you are isolated if you desire to be. You have but to leave word with the bellboy that you are 'out,' and not a soul knows otherwise. In the country every one knows whether you are in or out."

FASHION'S WHIM.

Checked Vests on Tailored Suits—New Face Veil.

Checked vests are seen in tailored suits and fold back at the top in small revers.

French lace veils are seen tied in a large bow of two loops and held by a bar pin in the center.

Strands of beads made of colored wood are used to fashion buckles, cabochons and cords to adorn the spring hats.

Mohair is one of the smartest materials of the spring season. This gown

Concerning Women.

Miss Louise F. Brown, an instructor at Wellesley college, is the first woman to receive the Herbert Baxter Adams prize of $200 offered every two years by the American Historical association for the best essay on European history. Miss Brown's essay was one of a very large number submitted by representatives of many leading colleges throughout the country.

The Countess of Warwick is planning a lecture tour in the United States and Canada, for which she has prepared three subjects. One deals with woman suffrage and the other two are on communism and celebrities she has met.

Miss Harriet Keeler has recently been appointed superintendent of schools in Cleveland, O. A woman is tenement inspector in that city, having charge of the sanitary policemen; a woman is assistant librarian, a woman has charge of outdoor relief, two women are on the school board, one having been elected clerk, making six important positions filled by women in a city which two years ago had but one woman in public office, a member of the board of education.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, ex-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs and a possibility as United States senator, in a recent interview said that a woman's party is under consideration in Colorado, as they have found both of the old political parties permeated with corruption.

Paint that Stays Painted

That has been my slogan for years. I aim to do the best possible painting—using only the best materials that the manufacturers can furnish and employing the most skilled mechanics that can be procured. I stand back of every job I do, and when I am allowed to use my own judgment in regard to the best method of doing it, I will gladly make good any work that by any chance proves defective.

BALFOUR'S MOTION BEATEN

Premier Asquith Still Thinks Bill Will End Coal Strike—Government, Which Had Expected to Resign if Balfour Won, Will Remain In Office.

London, March 22.—There will be no dissolution of parliament, followed by a general election, at this time, and the minimum wage bill, intended to end the coal strike, put forward by the government, which had suddenly seen defeat staring it in the face, will pass according to the latest indications. The situation was cleared materially and the position of the government strengthened when the motion of former Premier Balfour to postpone the second reading of the bill for six months, being in effect a motion to reject the bill, was voted down in the house of commons.

The change in public feeling, however, was due almost entirely to the assurance given by Mr. Balfour in his speech that his party did not want dissolution. This was received with a sigh of relief by the government, although there was evidence that Premier Balfour and his colleagues did not share the panic of their supporters.

Mr. Balfour's assurances calmed the feelings of the overexcited Liberals and confirmed what those who are closest in touch with the situation were confident would happen. It is now believed that the bill, futile as it is, will pass both houses.

Premier Asquith still seems to think that the bill will end the strike. If it does not the prime minister will be obliged to take the "further steps, which God forbid," that he had in mind when he indicated in the house of commons on March 19 that the government would not stop its active efforts for the resumption of work at the mines if the bill fails of its purpose. This is interpreted to mean that the premier expects serious strife in the event of the miners who accept the bill returning to work against the wishes of others, in which case the government will have to protect them with soldiers.

Mr. Balfour's statement to the effect that there will be no dissolution is taken to imply that it has been arranged for the Unionist peers to adopt the course pursued by them in regard to the compulsory insurance bill—namely, that there is no time to give the measure proper consideration, and therefore that it would be for the best to let it pass under protest.

The most picturesque feature of the debate in the house of commons was the reappearance of Mr. Balfour as the leader of his party. Although he referred to Mr. Bonar Law as the Unionist leader it is evident that the rank and file of the Conservatives thought it wiser to have an old and tried chief handle the situation. Mr. Balfour spoke in a temperate tone, for which he was thanked by Premier Asquith, but he showed much of his former form.

The division on Mr. Balfour's amendment was 225 in favor and 348 against it. This is the normal ministerial majority, with the support of the Laborites and Irish Nationalists.

LITERARY.

The Kaiser has the greatest admiration for the military abilities of the Duke of Connaught, says a writer in the April Strand, and during the many occasions that his Royal Highness has witnessed the work of the German troops in the field the Emperor has kept him constantly by his side and has eagerly discussed the various happenings of the day with him as they took place. "I never talk upon military matters with the Duke of Connonaught," he once remarked to a group of his officers, "but he teaches me something I did not before."

The Wide World Magazine for April contains a remarkable number of articles and stories dealing with different quarters of the globe. Major C. H. Buck discusses "The Servant Problem in India" and Mrs. Marguerite Roby continues her articles descriptive of her adventures in the Congo. Capt. A. H. W. Haywood begins a series of interesting and well illustrated paper, which he entitles, "From Sierra Leone to Algiers Across the Sahara." This is a feat which has never before or since been accomplished.

Study These Exclusive R-C-H Features

You'll See Them on Many Other Cars---Next Year

THE enormous demand for the R-C-H—greater by thousands than for any other car in the history of the industry during a like period of its existence—is not due alone to its wonderfully sturdy construction or its price. It is due to the number of advanced ideas in design—ideas which everyone recognizes as great improvements, but which has never before been incorporated in a car at a popular price. Look them over!

And here's a little side-light on construction strength—one of many. A well-known English explorer desired a car to take with him into Africa—a car staunch and sturdy enough to travel where anything on wheels could go. He selected the R-C-H after a thorough test of a number of cars, many of them costing several times its price. So will you if you make the same test.

"If you can't get an R-C-H, and want a car as good, you'll pay several hundred dollars more."

R. C. H. derives its name from the initials of R. C. HUPP world-famed automobile designer and builder.

Model SS---Five-Passenger Touring Car---110-inch wheel base

R-C-H $950

SELF-STARTER
32x3½ inch TIRES

Dual ignition, demountable and quick-detachable rims, gas tank, extra rim, top, windshield, 5 lamps, horn, tools and tire repair kit, LONG STROKE MOTOR, 3 SPEEDS, ENCLOSED VALVES, MAGNETO.

English-type Body

This marks a greater advance in body construction than the introduction of fore-doors. It is almost universally used abroad on high-grade cars, and a few of the very highest-priced American cars have recently adopted it; but it is exclusive to the R-C-H among cars at a popular price.

Its lines are exceptionally graceful and beautiful; it is more comfortable and offers a better protection from dust than any other type of body. The front seat may be so well heated from the engine that a robe is unnecessary except in zero weather. In summer large rainproof ventilators afford coolness and perfect ventilation.

The one-piece windshield—another European idea—affords much better protection from the elements than the common folding type.

Left-Side Drive—Centre Control

There are two more features that every manufacturer is bound to come to. A right-side drive on American cars is an absurdity. It was originally copied from European models; but in Europe the rules of the road are just the reverse of what they are here. And with few exceptions manufacturers have followed it blindly, much to the discomfort of the American motorist.

The ideal location of the control—in the centre—convenient to the operator's right hand, yet out of the way, is apparent at a glance.

A Real Long-Stroke Motor

Automobile engineers have known for a long time that a motor with stroke long in relation to bore would produce more power than the so-called "square" motors. European cars have featured the long-stroke for some time. But the R-C-H has the first long-stroke motor used in an American car in quantity production. In two years' time practically all motor car engines will be long-stroke.

It is of course possible to overshoot the mark and make the stroke too long; but careful study of the best European practice and exhaustive engineering tests have determined that the ratio used in the R-C-H (3¼x5) produces the maximum of power efficiency per fuel unit.

Standard Models

These are fully equipped with top, windshield, generator, horn, lamp and tools, and the specifications are the same as the SS models of the R-C-H. They have NOT, however, the self-starter and other special equipment quoted above. They are priced as follows: Touring car, $850; Roadster, $700.

General R-C-H Specifications

Motor—4 cylinders, cast en bloc—3¼-inch bore, 5-inch stroke. Two-bearing crank shaft. Timing gears and valved enclosed. Three-point suspension Drive—Left Side. Irreversible worm gear, 16-inch wheel. Control—Centre-lever operated through H plate, integral with universal joint housing just below. Springs—Front, semi-elliptic; rear, full elliptic and mounted on swivel seats. Frame—Pressed steel channel. Axles—Front, I-Beam, drop-forged; rear, semi-floating type. Body—English type, extra wide front seats. Wheelbase—110 inches. Full equipment quoted above.

We shall be glad to arrange demonstration to suit your convenience if you will write, telephone or call. But urge promptness, for we cannot increase our alotment by one car—and there won't be enough to go 'round.

N. P. H. S. GIRLS MAKE HIGH SCORE RECORD

The N. P. H. S. girls' basketball team hung up a high score record yesterday afternoon by smearing the Dunellen girls' team 70 to 0. The game was played in Debele's auditorium and was witnessed by a number of followers of both fives. At first the contest gave no indication of being so one sided, but as it became apparent the locals went after a high score record and got it.

The lineups follow:

N. P. H. S.—Hummell, Mair (Eaton) forwards; Carson, (McAuliffe) centre; Smith and Deble, guards. Dunellen—Stryker and Bennett, forwards; Fisher, centre; Morris and Runyon, guards.

TWO COLLEGE TEAMS CAPTAINED BY NEWARKERS.

New Haven, March 22.—Andrew Wilson, Jr., '13, of Newark, N. J., has been chosen captain of the Yale swimming team. Two other captains were elected. Homer D. Swihart, '14, og Coshockton, O., will head the basketball team, and P. C. Harper, '13 of Evanston, Ill., will be the water polo leader.

Providence, March 22.—Raymond Smith, of Newark, N. J., was elected captain of the swimming team at Brown University Wednesday night. Smith is a New Jersey Y. M. C. A. record-holder, and recently set a new figure for the twenty-five-yard swim at Brown. He succeeded Nicholas Mumford, of Providence, who will be graduated in June.

Trip for Tigers.

Princeton, March 22.—During the Easter holidays Princeton's swimming and water polo team will make an extended trip through the Middle West. Five dual meets in all will be held, three in Chicago, one at Urbana, Il., and the other at Pittsburgh. The schedule is as follows: April 3, Chicago A. A., at Chicago; April 4, Northwestern University at Chicago; 5, Illinois A. A. at Chicago; 6, University of Illinois at Urbana, Ill.; 8, Pittsburgh A. A. at Pittsburgh.

P. H. S. Class Nine Captain.

The boys of the senior class of the Plainfield High School chose James Lindsey captain and Egbert Fountain manager of their class baseball team yesterday afternoon. Practice will probably not be started for some time. The other classes will elect their captains in a few days.

CLOSE SCORES FEATURED WEEKLY "COLLEGE" GAMES

In the college tournament basketball games yesterday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A., Cornell, Brown, Pennsylvania and Columbia were the winners. Pennsylvania and Rutgers put up the best contest the score showing 4 to 0. Princeton and Cornell furnished the next best exhibition by returning a 7 to 4 score in favor of the latter. Columbia had an easy time disposing of Harvard and Brown also had some what of a cinch in smearing Yale.

The teams and their scores were as follows: Cornell 7, Princeton 4; Brown 10, Yale 2; Pennsylvania 4, Rutgers 0; Columbia 18, Harvard 7.

The team standing remains unchanged and with the wins and losses added to date is as follows:

	W.	L.
Pennsylvania	17	3
Yale	13	7
Rutgers	12	8
Columbia	11	9
Cornell	10	10
Harvard	6	14
Princeton	6	14
Brown	6	14

VETERAN JIM M'GUIRE DISCOURSES ON BACKSTOPS

Jim McGuire, the veteran scout who is in charge of the Tiger recruits at Monroe, La., vows there's as serious a shortage in good catchers as in "white hopes."

Jim ought to know. A decade ago he was touted one of the best backstops that ever donned the spangles.

A scouting trip last fall, when he tried his best to turn up a classy catcher for Detroit, soured Jim on the situation.

"With but few exceptions," he declares, "catchers in the big leagues to day are far inferior to the catchers of ten or a dozen years ago. Then there wasn't a major league club but what had one—and most of them had two—good men who would be classed as stars behind the bat today.

"I cannot give any reason for it. There are more baseball leagues now, and there are more baseball players. Naturally, then, there are more catchers. But a manager considers himself fortunate if he has one good catcher on his team. Players like Stanage, Bresnahan and Dooin are scarce, and the probabilities are they will continue scarce for some time.

"Ten or fifteen years ago a manager did not think of carrying three catchers on his staff. Today three is the smallest number a successful club has. But though there are three, the fortunate manager of today places his principal dependence on one backstop.

"The fact that the second string catcher of today does not get as much work as the second string catcher of yesterday has nothing to do with the ability of the man. If the backstop is a star he will not be a second-string catcher. Two star catchers on the same team would mean that the work could be divided evenly."

THE GINGER JAR

Consolation thought for today.

As "absence makes the heart grow fonder" so the separation of the fans from the diamond tends to stimulate the zest when the term of forced, prolonged retirement is over.

That back seems to be in perfectly good order yet—not even bent.

The man who argues with the umpire is the same kind of an idiot who contradicts his wife.

The time is fast coming when it will be well for wives to remember that if a man doesn't get sympathy at home he knows a place where it is on tap.

The recruit who is sent home seldom has to explain to his friends. They all know he was double crossed.

Women are supposed to be more graceful than men—especiall when the latter are doing the fall away slide.

—I'd rather be a Could Be,
If I couldn't be an Are;
For a Could Be is a May Be,
With a chance of touching par.
I'd rather be a Has Been
Than a Might Have Been by far;
For a Might Have Been has never been,
But a Has was once an Are.

Baseball sometimes appeals to managers as more important and weighty than it may appeal to the general public, which same shows the vast ignorance of the general public.

On the 1st of April the Chicago National League must pay to the Newark Club $3,000 and the Boston American League Club $1,500 for players taken from the Newark Club last fall.

When a rookie gets into a game with the big fellows, their assurance reminds him of the impudence of a well thatched man when in the presence of one who is nearly naked when his hat is off.

Tommy Murphy announces that counting his percentage, the money he made on bets and the tips from winning betters the fight with Abe Attell netted him $7,100.

The receipts of the Jim Stewart-Carl Morris contest were $2,618. Morris got 35 per cent., $916.30. Stewart's share was 30 per cent., amounting to $785.40.

Soccer football is not the only minor sport which is growing in popularity in the colleges. Lacrosse is being taken up generally. Amherst, Dartmouth and Trinity are new converts to the Canadian national sport, while Cornell, Harvard, Lehigh, Naval Academy, Swarthmore and Carlisle Indians already have teams which play the game annually.

MAKES NO HITS OFF WALSH.

Schulte Fails to Connect With Moist Fling of Chicago Star.

Frank Schulte, the Chicago Cubs' great slugger and champion home run hitter, has never made a hit off big Ed Walsh of the White Sox. Schulte has faced Walsh in three Cubs-Sox series.

"Give that big coal miner a canteen of soup to moisten the ball with and he could pitch a week without getting tired," says Schulte. "He puts a little more on the ball every time he pitches."

RAHWAY ELKS BROKE HIGH SCORE MARK AND WON ONE

Rolling an Elks' League match with the locals here last night the Rahway quintet broke their season's high score mark of 908 by spilling the pins for 972 in the second game. The first and last contests went to the locals.

While the humble tailenders were trouncing the locals the champion New Brunswickers were annexing all three on their own alleys from Queensboro by the following scores:

New Brunswick—905, 824, 888.
Queensboro—802, 744, 797.

The Rahwegians did not want to take any of the games from the locals but could not help themselves. In the ninth frame of the second the locals thought that the contest was as good as won. In the tenth frame the visitors began pinning in a form that they have rarely displayed this winter and under the watchful eye of the score keeper they just had to keep on shooting. In addition to breaking the team score Slater, Graves and McCartney handed themselves a surprise by breaking into the double century zone for 209, 211 and 213 respectively.

PLEAD FOR PASSAGE OF ANTI-PUMP GUN BILL

Trenton, March 22.—Over the signature of the four fish and game commissioners an appeal was made to the Legislature yesterday for the passage of one of the bills to prohibit the use of magazine guns in hunting. In the statement the commissioners say:

"The native game of the State is fast disappearing. Every member of the Legislature knows this, and the Game Commission is desirious of doing everything possible to prevent further destruction and to conserve what is left. The use of the automatic pump gun has done much to reduce the number of birds, and these weapons are known to be of the most deadly character in the hands of even a comparative novice.

"The Fish and Game Commission appeals to you to support either of these bills, and to stand shoulder to shoulder with it in the attempt to prevent our State, dear to all our hearts, from becoming a gameless waste for our children and those who come after them.

"The commission is heart and soul behind the principle embodied in these bills, and asks you, as a fellow State officer, to see that no argument or persuasion from outside the borders of the State is used to defeat a measure which is so vital for the interests of the people of the whole State.

"The commission is convinced that the further use of these deadly guns is a menace to New Jersey's game and a positive injury to the men who enjoy a day's sport."

RULE DESIGNED TO BAR SHEPPARD FROM M.A.L. GAMES

New York, March 22.—Mel. Sheppard, the middle-distance runner, may have still one more experience in his storm-tossed career as a military athlete. It has been learned that between this and the Military Athletic League championship games, on April 6, there will be an effort made to pass a law for the M. A. L. code that will bar any athlete from the big championship games who has not served 70 per cent. of duty since his enlistment in the National Guard.

Such a rule would bar Mel. and a number of other crack soldier runners from the biggest M. A. L. games of the year, but it will be aimed primarily at Sheppard. It is understood that the regiments that will vote for the enactment of the above statute are the Twenty-second, which Sheppard left to go to the Fourteenth, of Brooklyn, and the Twenty-third and Thirteenth, both of which organizations have always had the reputation of making their athletes do the same duty as an ordinary amateur soldier.

The Fourteenth Regiment, of which Sheppard is now a member, and the Seventy-first, will be the most prominent opposers of the advocated 70 per cent. duty rule, according to those who are well informed on the subject. The Fourteenth men will fight the rule because they do not want to lose the champion's services in the championships, and the Seventy-first because it is said the rule will bar several of their star performers.

PALZER'S OPERATION WILL KEEP MATT WELLS WAITING.

Matt Wells, the lightweight champion of England, arrived in New York Wednesday on the steamship Olympic. Wells is anxious to get on with Ad Wolgast in a championship bout. This is his second trip to this country since he won the title from Freddy Welsh.

Al Palzer, the heavyweight boxer, underwent an operation on his nose Tuesday which will prevent him from doing any more boxing for at least six weeks. The nose had been injured in such a way that Palzer could use only the right side for breathing and this handicapped him seriously in his boxing.

RUNNERS WORK OUT IN RAIN ON SNOW COVERED COURSE.

The runners who are trying for places on the five-man team to run against a quintet of sprinters from the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. had a trial run over a part of the course last night. The snow and rain handicapped them seriously but withal the workout was most satisfactory.

Day, of Dunellen was clocked in 30 minutes and Gleason also ran a wonderful race. The other aspirants showed up well and already are able to give the invading cinder pathers a contest worthy of their best efforts.

MOHA BEATS THE SAILOR.

Burke Saved from Knockout by Hugging and Running Tactics.

New York, March 22.—A sound thrashing was handed to Sailor Burke of Brooklyn by the Milwaukee boxer, Bob Moha, at the National Sporting club. The battle lasted ten rounds, but Moha came near scoring a knockout more than once. He showed tremendous punches with both hands.

Burke probably escaped a sleep wallop by his usual hugging and running tactics. Moha had every round.

Irvin J. Melick's Funeral.

Califon, March 22.—Funeral services of Irvin J. Melick, forty-seven years old, were held Wednesday at the home of Peter H. Felemly, near Mountainville. Rev. Harry J. Iobst, pastor of the Cokesbury Methodist church, officiated. Mr. Melick died Monday after a lingering illness. He was a son of the later Peter W. Melick, of Tewksbury Township, who lost a large sum of money in the Rockaway Valley Railroad. Besides a wife and daughter in New York city, he leaves four brothers, Tunis Melick, of Pluckemin; Robert Melick, of Long Branch; Frank Melick, in the West, and Whitfield Melick, in Canada.

EX-BIG LEAGUE PITCHER ADMITS HE HAD NOTHING.

"I never had anything."

This from Paddy Flaherty, who has been in and out of the major leagues for a decade and who at one time was rated among the first class southpaws, seems almost incredible.

Unblushingly Pat made the statement:

"On the lots I found that my curves only hurt my arm. Many youngsters fail because they keep trying the dinky curve. Control is the best thing a man can have, and this I worked to develop. Rarely did I use a curve ball in the National league. There are pitchers today in the big show who make curve ball pitching a minor feature of their work."

SPICY SPORT CHATS

By TOMMY CLARK.

Of the several managers who will break into the major leagues this season Jake Stahl, who will pilot the Boston Red Sox, will undoubtedly have the best chance to make a showing. Stahl will have a strong team under him, and the fact that he will greatly improve one position which he covers himself is going to make a great difference in the team's showing, provided Stahl has the ability to handle a ball team. Next to Stahl, Harry Davis of Cleveland seems to have fallen into a lucky spot, for, like Stahl, Davis has been handed a ball team which should not be out of the race next season. But because of the superior speed of the Red Sox and the fact that it seems possible to inject a good spirit into that team Stahl seems to have the better of the argument with his rival in the Ohio city, and the end of the next campaign should bear this out.

As for Wolverton, he hasn't much of a ball team unless some of the youngsters New York has picked up develop into stars. So far as ability is concerned, he must be classed with Stahl and Davis, as none of them has ever had an opportunity to show in fast company, though Wolverton has been a successful minor league manager for several years.

Although the American Olympic team will not be so strong in the swimming line without Charles Daniels, the human fish, who has announced that he will not accompany the team to the Olympic games in Sweden next summer, there are several men who figure out sure winners unless some foreign phenom pops up.

Among them are Bud Goodwin, the New York Athletic club crack. In fact, the experts declare he will be the main reliance of the team in the distance events. Goodwin, although he did not break any records the past winter, is now in better shape than ever and should annex several events. There has been some talk of Bud making an attempt to swim the English channel on his way home from the Olympic games. He has been quoted several times as saying that he would like to attempt the feat. Many believe that Goodwin would be successful. He is one of the best long distance swimmers developed in this country in many years.

BERNARDSVILLE WINS OVER BASKING RIDGE.

Basking Ridge, March 22.—Basking Ridge and Bernardsville lined up against each other for the election of school trustees in the annual school election of Bernards Township. The latter came out a winner with the ticket composed of Henry N. Tewes, Thomas Holmes and John I. Foley. Basking Ridge supported Mrs. Clarence Blair Mitchell and Fred C. Sutro. It was a bitter fight from the time the polls opened until they closed, and the campaigning done by some of the women would have done credit to a politician of the old school.

GETTING READY FOR COAL STRIKE

Operators Raising Funds For Protection.

CONTRACTS SUSPENDED.

Large Companies and Carriers Will Allow Small Operators to Market Their Product Wherever They Choose and at Whatever Prices They Can Command.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 22.—A temporary abrogation for three months of the contracts between the larger coal companies and coal carriers and individual operators of the anthracite field, which heretofore have been held inviolable even to the smallest detail, is announced. In consequence the individual operator will be permitted to dispose of his coal wherever he chooses and at any price he can command.

The action of the big operators in setting aside these agreements is taken to mean by mine leaders and miners in general that the coal companies are preparing for a strike and that some consideration is given the individual operator for the purpose of financially preparing himself for a struggle.

Nearly all of the smaller operators in the anthracite fields held contracts with such companies as the Lehigh Valley, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and the Pennsylvania. These contracts called for the smaller companies turning every pound of coal except that sold at retail at the colliery to the larger companies and the coal carrying roads. The individual operator accepted a basis of 65 per cent of the tidewater prices for their output, the transportation charges being borne by the road.

Desiring to let the individual operator share big profits and sell his coal at the best prices, the contracts were temporarily set aside, three months being fixed as the length of abrogation. With this step taken the individual operators have now secured their own selling agents. They have practically placed their product up at auction and are knocking it down to the highest bidders. As a result of this privilege they are enjoying extraordinary prosperity and thousands of dollars are being dumped into their treasury.

WILL FIGHT TO LAST.

La Follette, Preparing Long Trip, Calls Followers of T. R. "Soft Shelled."

Washington, March 22.—"Soft shelled" progressives is the new designation given to the followers of Colonel Roosevelt by Senator La Follette. In a statement by the insurgent senator, who has arrived in Washington fresh from his victory in North Dakota, he characterizes the Roosevelt brand of progressives as follows:

"I shall spend a few days in Washington and then begin a thorough speaking campaign covering all the territory I can until the last delegate is elected. In co-operation with state organizations and speakers we shall plan to reach the people directly with a discussion of the issues as we did in North Dakota, with, I believe, the same result.

"You will find all progressive territory against the surrender of the progressive movements into the hands of soft shell progressives and reactionaries. The people are not following the politicians in their hasty jump to what they believed to be a band wagon. The result in North Dakota is proof that the great body of the people are not willing to sacrifice the organization movement which has cost a quarter of a century of struggle to a policy of expediency and compromise."

Favish Damage Suit Ends—Charges Made Against Juror.

New York, March 22.—The suit against the Hotel Astor for $100,000 damages by Mrs. Helen Wise Favish and her husband, Edward W. Favish, came to a sudden ending in favor of the plaintiffs when charges were made to Justice Erlanger in the supreme court that one of the jurors had approached a witness for the defendant and wanted to know what would happen if he (the juror) held the jury up.

A conference was held, and Jabez Holmes, counsel for the hotel, agreed upon a settlement whereby $1,500 is awarded to each of the plaintiffs.

TWO KILLED, FOUR HURT IN NEW JERSEY WRECK

Long Branch Express Hits a Freight Train on Siding.

New York, March 22.—Two railroad men were killed in an accident on the Philadelphia and Long Branch railroad at Barnegat pier, on the Jersey coast, not far from Seaside Park. One passenger and three other men connected with the railroad were injured. The wreck was caused by a passenger train, the Long Branch express, from Philadelphia, running on a siding on which a freight train was waiting that the passenger train might pass. The dead are:

Howard Applegate, fireman on the freight locomotive.

E. C. Jones, fireman on the passenger locomotive.

The injured are Mrs. W. H. Rogers of West Mantoloking, N. J., injured internally; Frank Applegate, baggage master on the passenger train, arm injured and nose broken; G. E. Bouse, engineer of the passenger train, hurt about the body; Charles Meredith, engineer of the freight locomotive, injuries not serious.

What caused the passenger train to take the switch and move over into the siding is not known. The officials of the Pennsylvania who investigated the wreck could not say that the switch had been left open.

WOULD STARVE OUT REBELS.

Embargo Now In Effect on Border Expected to Be Widely Felt In Mexico.

El Paso, Tex., March 22.—In spite of the fact that the Mexican rebels hold all of Chihuahua, including the port of Juarez, not an ounce of food, not a cartridge, not a stitch of clothing, can they import from the United States. The embargo that has just gone into effect is watertight and applies even to supplies purchased in small quantities for residents of Juarez.

The embargo is the result of the recent act of congress making it illegal to export from the United States "munitions of war" into any state on the continent that is in rebellion. Every article that is supposed to be of any use or benefit to an army is under the ban.

FIND 26 MINERS ALIVE.

Fifty-Six Bodies Recovered from McCurtain (Okla.) Explosion.

McCurtain, Okla., March 22.—Twenty-six more living men and fifty-six bodies were brought out of the San Bois coal mines, in which an explosion occurred yesterday. Thirty-five men are missing.

Fifteen men rescued were found huddled in a room on the thirteenth level. They rushed there when they heard the explosion and kept themselves alive with an air pump. Searching parties were directed to the room by tapping on the air pipes. The condition of two of the men is serious but the others seem none the worse for their experience.

Weather Forecast.

Cloudy today, probably snow in the morning in southeast portion; tomorrow fair, moderate north and northwest winds.

ITINERARY OF TOURS

tional Gallery, the Parks, Thames Embankment and many other places. On Sunday night the party will leave by way of Harwich for The Hague.

On Monday the party will arrive early in the morning at Harwich, from which point a short trip by rail will be taken to The Hague, which has achieved the name of "the Washington of the Netherlands." In this city, laid out on modern plans, are to be found broad and handsome streets, lofty and substantial houses and spacious squares. The famous Spanish prison, the Houses of Parliament and the Museum are but a few of the sights of interest here, the day in the city including a carriage drive to the House in the Woods and Scheveningen, which is famous as the great seaside resort for the people of Holland.

The next morning the party will leave early for Amsterdam, the chief city of the Netherlands. Situated on no less than ninety-five islands, divided by canals, the city has been termed the "Venice of the North." In the city are 600 bridges. The finest building is the Palace, a magnificent pile, 282 feet long, and 146 feet high, exclusive of the fine tower. In the museum of this building, as well as in the Fodor and Van den Hoop museums will be found many splendid pictures. Carriages will be provided to drive about the city.

Wednesday, July 10, the party will arrive in the morning at Antwerp, the chief commercial city of Belgium. Here the Cathedral, a magnificent specimen of gothic architecture, one of the most beautiful churches in the country, and containing beautiful paintings by Rubens, will be the principal attraction. Two of these paintings are "The Elevation of the Cross," and the "Descent from the Cross." The next morning will find the tourists in Brussels, where a drive about the city will be the first thing on the program. The Column of Congress, the Chamber of Deputies, the Museum of Paintings and the Wiertz Museum, the Museum of Antiquities, the Palace of Justice, the Grand Square with the Hotel de Ville, one of the finest buildings in Belgium, the Cathedral of St. Gudule and the Martyr's Monument.

Friday will be spent in Cologne, visiting the Cathedral, the Church of St. Ursula, and on Saturday morning the start will be taken on the famous trip down the Rhine, for Biebrich and Wiesbaden. With favorable weather the day on this great river is one never to be forgotten. The voyage is made through the most picturesque and beautiful regions that border this romantic river, abounding in vine clad slopes, feudal castles and crumbling towers, celebrated in legend, history and song. Sunday will be a day of rest at Wiesbaden, which is one of the greatest summer resorts in Europe.

Monday, July 15, the party will go to Heidelberg, the famous University city. Here a visit will be paid to the celebrated castle, the most richly decorated as well as the most majestic ruin in Germany. In the immense cellars can be seen the famous Great Tun, capable of holding 49,000 gallons of wine; the Small Tun, 8,000 gallons; and the Jester's Clock. A carriage drive will also be taken. Tuesday the tourists will travel via Bale to Lucerne, where Wednesday will be spent visiting Thorwaldsen's immortal work, the "Lion of Lucerne," the Glacial Garden, the old bridges, etc. During the stay a trip will be made by steamer on beautiful Lake Lucerne to Vitznau, thence by rail to the Summit of the Rigi, 5,906 feet above sea level.

Thursday morning the party will leave Lucerne for Interlaken by rail to Alpnacht, thence by railway over the Brunig Pass. The mountain railway passes through Sarnen, by the lake of that name (4½ miles long), to Lungern, situated on another lake of that name. Here the ascent of the Brunig Pass commences, and just before the Hotel Brunig the summit is reached (3,379 feet), whence the line descends to Meiringen. The village of Meiringen is most picturesquely situated on the banks of the Aare, and is surrounded by lofty snow-covered peaks, from which romantic waterfalls descend to the plain. Proceed by railway to Brienz, and by steamer to Interlaken, passing the Giessbach Waterfall, arriving early in the afternoon at Interlaken. The next day an excursion will be made to Grindelwald to visit the celebrated Glaciers, returning to Interlaken for the night, leaving the next morning for Lausanne. Lausanne Cathedral (1235-1275) is picturesquely situated and commands magnificent and extensive views of the lake and Alps. Proceed in afternoon by steamer on beautiful Lake Leman to Geneva, where Sunday and Monday will be spent. Geneva is beautifully situated on the Lake of Geneva, or Lake Leman. The Cathedral, the Russian church, the Musee Rath, the Cemetery, the Font Mont Blanc, the Monument of the Duke of Brunswick, Rousseau's Island, the English Garden, the Meeting of the Waters and other places of interest will be visited.

Tuesday, July 23, will be given to travel by day express from Geneva to Paris.

From Wednesday, July 24 to Sunday, July 28, five full days will be spent in Paris. Carriages will be furnished for drives for visiting the principal places and objects in and around the city, including the Invalides, the Tomb of Napoleon I, the Palace, Gardens and Park of Versailles, Palace of the Trocadero, Palace of the Louvre, Cathedral of Notre Dame, etc. An opportunity to visit the stores will be given to all.

The party will leave Paris for London on Monday, July 29, travelling by daylight via Dieppe and Newhaven and reaching the English capital at night. The next morning all will leave the city by rail for Warwick and Stratford-on-Avon, where a visit will be paid to Shakespeare's home, tomb and memorial. The same evening a trip will be made to Chester, where the Cathedral, old walls, the Rows, etc., will be seen, after which the final trip by rail, to Liverpool, will be taken, leaving by American line boat for home. The party will arrive in Philadelphia on August 11, completing a tour which will be fully as long as hundreds of Americans take, and the finest that has ever been offered by a New Jersey newspaper. As stated, the tour will be under the direction of Thomas Cook and Sons, the only tourist agency which knows how to properly care for travelers down to the finest details.

LOCAL AMUSEMENTS.

Lyman H. Howe's Travel Festival which comes to the Plainfield Theatre tomorrow afternoon and evening is its own best advertisement. For every one who sees it for the first time, there are ten or more who attend next time. It seems to satisfy the craving for novel and wholesome entertainment as thoroughly as any attraction before the public. The legion of "Howe Tourists" may again gaze upon entirely new scenes, ranging from the sublime to those of a purely amusing nature. Perhaps the strangest journey of all is the trip to the "Roof of the World," starting with a ride on the Cog Wheel Railway of Montreux. After reaching the top platform, the audience is swung from one Alpine peak to another via the Wetterhorn Suspension cable. Then three guides roped together for mutual protection from the danger that lurks at every step, proceed on the last perilous stage to the summit. From this altitude the audience gazes down on the weird scene of a rolling sea of clouds, followed by glorious sunset and moonrise views over the icy peaks.

Prefer Death to Amputation.

Elizabeth, March 22.—The condition of Austin Kane, the young Port Reading brakeman, whose legs were crushed last Monday when he fell under a freight train at that place, is very low. He is at the Alexian Hospital. One of his legs was amputated below the knee Monday afternoon, and the hospital surgeons say the other leg must come off if his life is to be saved. To this the parents object and declare that if they do not have postive proof that operation will save their son's life they prefer he should die without further mutilation.

Raritan Man's Legs Cut Off.

Easton, Pa., March 22. — John Roach, of Raritan, N. J., is in the hospital here in a critical condition with both legs cut off. He was stealing a ride on a Central Railroad coal train yesterday, when he fell from the train near Hampton, N. J., and was run over by it. He was placed on an engine and brought to this city.

Cranford "Cits" Banquet."

Cranford, March 22. — The Citizens and Taxpayers' League of this place is arranging to give a banquet Thursday of next week in the hall on South avenue. Rev. Dr R. C. Ransom, of Bethel church, New York, wil be the principal speaker.

—Woman's suffrage will never change an election, since every dame will first find out how her husband, father or brother will cast his ballot, and then copper it.—Washington Post.

REPUBLICANS OF SENATE PIQUED

Don't Like Letter to Dr. Fitzherbert.

MAY ISSUE A STATEMENT.

And In It, if They Do, Besides Denying Hint of Partisan Vote, May Mention Some Reports Current Concerning the Accused Senator.

Trenton, N. J., March 22.—Piqued by the letter sent by the Democratic senators to Richard Fitzherbert, the Morris county member recently found guilty of conduct unbecoming a senator, in which he was asked to resign, the Republican senators are considering the issuing of a statement denying that politics played any part in determining their voting for the man's conviction and expulsion. In their letter to Fitzherbert the Democratic senators said:

"We are not sure that a partisan desire for your seat will not account for some of the votes against you."

This is the point that nettles the Republicans, and it is said that if they do issue a statement it will contain some references to the reports that Senator Fitzherbert solicited a retainer as counsel for a railroad company interested in the Morris canal abandonment proposal.

The Republicans' decision is being awaited with interest. As yet the governor has not received Senator Fitzherbert's resignation, which the Democrats are urging.

FEARING INSANITY, ENDS LIFE.

Newark Man Leaves His Will With Note Explaining His Act.

Newark, March 22.—Believing that he was on the verge of insanity Frederick A. Frisch, forty-nine years of age, a manufacturing jeweler of this city, killed himself in a city hotel by drinking hydrocyanic acid. He had also placed a cloth saturated with chloroform under his nose and then covered himself up with bedclothes Frisch left this note:

"I am living in constant fear, of going mad, and rather than become an object of pity of my family and friends I concluded to do away with myself and end it all. FRED."

The note was addressed to his brother, Charles H. Frisch. His will was also with the note, giving all to the brother, who also lives in this city.

TO SUPERVISE CHARITY WORK.

Montclair Not to Be Easy No More For So Called Paupers.

Montclair, N. J., March 22.—This town, with a population of 22,500, spends for charitable purposes in excess of $60,000 annually, exclusive of church donations for the same purpose The town has come to be regarded so "easy" that professional charity seekers immigrate there. A movement has been started to supervise all charitable work.

Some of the so called paupers are getting relief from a half dozen sources and many are putting money in bank as the result of the indiscriminate disbursements.

LIVE WIRE KILLS HORSE.

Also Set Fire to the Somerset Telephone Exchange.

Somerset, Pa., March 22.—Burdened by a heavy coating of sleet, scores of telephone, telegraph and electric light wires went down here. A horse driven by Deputy Sheriff Andrew Coleman was instantly killed when it stepped on a live wire, which set fire to the Economy Telephone exchange. The operator, Lottie Barron, aged seventeen, was saved after much difficulty by Superintendent Otis Dietz of the Somerset Telephone company, whose office was in the same buliding.

REDUCES PASTOR'S SALARY.

Members of Bridgeton Church Displeased at Appointment.

Bridgeton, N. J., March 22.—Members of Trinity Methodist church here at a meeting voted to reduce the salary of their pastor from $1,200 to $800 a year.

The reason for the change, it was said, was to show displeasure because of the appointment of the Rev. Dr. J. Ward Gamgie to the pastorate by Bishop Berry. The appointment was announced at the recent session of the state conference. Dr. Gamgie has not yet taken charge in Bridgeton.

BILL TO IMPROVE RIVER.

Senator McLean Also Introduced Measure to Pension Blind Soldier.

Washington, March 22.—Senator McLean proposed an amendment to the river and harbor bill providing for improving West river, New Haven harbor, at a cost of $50,000, with $4,000 annually for maintenance.

Senator McLean introduced a bill to pension Lyman H. Leach of New Haven, formerly of Torrington, late of Company 1, First Connecticut heavy artillery, at $72 a month. Leach is totally blind and needs the constant aid of another person.

Women's $15 Suits

Madam, if we could only tell you in person what we are about to say here. If we could show you these wonderful suits—try them on you and let you see your reflection in the mirror, it would not take you long to make up your mind or you would not be slow in arriving at the conclusion that there is a vast difference between the garments we offer at this price and those on view at other stores in Newark and New York. Many of these handsome models were intended for our $17.50 and $20.00 lines, but we have made up our mind to excell in the production of $15.00 suits, just as we excel in our $25.00 line. We have determined to acquaint you with the fact that this is the suit store of Newark. Come and see these suits—observe them at close range—study their lines—their materials—their style! Truly, you will be surprised. Mannish serge in black, navy and tan. Coats are lined with peau de cygne. Plain tailored models or trimmed—just as your fancy dictates.

CHARLES E. SPRAGUE DIES.

Financier Succumbs to Pneumonia After Long, Useful Life.

New York, March 22.—Charles Ezra Sprague, president of the Union Dime Savings bank of New York and a noted expert in accounting, died at his home here of pneumonia.

While in college Colonel Sprague's aptitude in the mastery of the Greek language was remarkable, and he was regarded as one of the first great scholars in America. Entering the army at the outbreak of the civil war, he was distinguished for gallantry on the field of battle and was severely wounded at the battle of Gettysburg, for services at which he received from New York state the commission as colonel by brevet. In 1870 Colonel Sprague became connected with the Union Dime Savings bank of New York city. For the past sixteen years he had been its president. During his connection with the bank its deposits increased from $3,000,000 to $26,000,000. Washington, March 22.—There was no official comment at the White House on Colonel Roosevelt's speech at Carnegie hall, in which he attacked President Taft. It was said Mr. Taft has no intention of making a direct and immediate reply to the speech.

It was pointed out, however, that Mr. Taft will continue his present policy of discussing the issues of the campaign without engaging in personal controversy with Colonel Roosevelt or any of the other candidates.

Middletown, Conn., March 22.—The students and faculty of Wesleyan university gave Taft a plurality in the straw vote. Mr. Taft led Roosevelt by sixty votes.

Man Claiming to Be Friend of Brandt "Confesses" In Florida.

New York, March 22.—A dispatch from Jacksonville, Fla., states that a man who gave the name of Fred Newsom and said he was a friend of Folke E. Brandt, the former Schiff servant, confessed to having mailed the bomb which exploded last Saturday night in the library of Judge Otto A. Rosalsky's apartments on Riverside drive.

Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty said he had received no official report, but that he would order a rigid investigation as soon as he gets such notice from Jacksonville. The detectives who have been following several possible clews told their chief at police headquarters that they believed Newsom faked the "confession" in the hope of receiving free transportation to New York.

"DOPERS," SAYS WILEY.

Retiring Government Chemist Talks Against Drug Manufacturers.

Washington, March 22.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, appearing as a private citizen before the pure food board in advocacy of a regulation guarding very strictly the use and sale of opium, morphine, cocaine and other habit forming drugs, aroused the anger of drug representatives by referring to them as "dopers."

A heated argument ensued, and for a moment it looked as if blows might be passed.

John F. McQueeney of St. Louis, representing the National Wholesale Drug association, objected.

"My voice is going to be heard. That is just what they are, dopers," angrily answered Wiley.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

Mr. Joseph Brooks is in London arranging for the presentation of Klaw & Erlanger's "Ben-Hur" at the Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, in Easter week. The American production will be shipped to London next week, but "Ben-Hur" will be played by an English company.

Henry Miller's new play, "The Rainbow," at the Liberty Theatre, has lived up to its title. This witty, human comedy by A. E. Thomas is full of color, and its bases are firmly fixed on the golden success that follows New York's approval. Mr. Thomas' new comedy is a departure from the mind he worked when he wrote "Her Husband's Wife" for Mr. Miller. "The Rainbow" is as clever as the earlier play, and it makes a far more potent appeal to the emotions. The story deals with a father's separation from his daughter because of an estrangement between husband and wife, and the final reunion of the three through the girl's influence. Mr. Miller has the big role of the father, and the girl character is played by Ruth Chatterton, a hitherto unknown young actress. Other important roles are filled by Laura Hope Crews, Hope Latham, Edith Barker, Charles Hammond, Effingham Pinto, Ethel Martin, Daniel U. Pennell and Robert Stowe Gil. "The Rainbow" is in New York for a long run.

The history of the first production of "Monsieur Beaucaire" in England is a story of worry and fear, which seems to be so often the case with the greatest successes. This play, in which Mr. Lewis Waller has appeared nearly 900 times up to date and which is now offered in New York City at Daly's Theatre, ran for ten consecutive months at the Comedy Theatre, London, when it was first presented in the English metropolis by the famous British actor-manager.

"Monsieur Beaucaire," although already an American success as presented by Richard Mansfield, was tried out in Liverpool by Mr. Waller before he took the piece to London, and there it was accounted a failure. Mr. Waller was, in fact, so much troubled by the manner in which it was received on the Monday night of the opening that he sent to London for Sir Charles Wyndham, asking him to come to Liverpool expressly to give his opinion. The opinion of Sir Charles, whom Mr. Waller regards as the best living English judge of plays, was given in one brief sentence, "This is another 'David Garrick.'"

DEVINE IDEAS AND HUMAN PROBLEM

Lecture on the Fundamentals of Christian Science by C. S. Bicknell C. S. B.

INFINITE SPIRIT, GOOD, LOVE

Some of the Words Best Used in Defining God, According to Lecturer—The Faith Stronger Today Than Ever Before.

C. S. Beknell, C. S. B., of Boston, member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureships, addressed a large audience at the Hartridge Auditorium last night, on the subject of "Christian Science." The speaker was introduced by Franklin B. Packard, of this city, who is identified with the Christian Science church. Mr. Bicknell spoke in part as follows:

"Christian Science is an educational system and uses such terms as may be necessary and helpful to clarify and magnify humanity's thoughts reg arding God. It dissociates mere belief from religion, and provides absolute knowledge by bringing to light spiritual facts. It enables one to recognize these facts and teaches him to adjust his life to them. Even the mose casual thinker, or one who scarcely thinks at all, is obliged to admit that creation, even in the limited sense in which he knows it by means of the physicial senses, reveals the fact that there is a creator.

"All knowledge consists of ideas. Even though in ordinary science we find ourselves involved in the observation of material phenomna, still science itself is not to be found in these phenomona. Such observations are classified and compared and wholly mental and they constitute all science, therefore, every science consists of thoughts rather than things. Consequently the fact that Christian Science leads us to deal with thoughts gives no basis of criticism of it.

"Ordinary philosphy deals wholly and ordinary science partially, with thoughts, but Christian Science, as both science and philosophy deals wholly with divine ideas and their application to human problems. No mortal or human mind ever originated divine thoughts. Whenever they have appeared in human history they were co-incident with some perception of what God is, with some incident or experience wherein human thought rose above the mere evidence of the senses, and this is none the less true even when such ideals were ignorantly supposed to be of human origin. In Biblical history thes ideas are called inspiration, and those who perceived them are counted as seers and prophets and relvators; some such persons were so clear of spiritual sight that they are said to have walked with God, which means nothing more or less than that they walked with Truth.

"Such teaching supercedes the finite and limited views which have been generally entertained concerning God, and the word God itself, takes a higher meaning through such education. It should take on the very highest meaning since it stands for all that is enduring and true, absolute, unchanging, infinite and good. God, so defined, in Christian Science is universally recognized to be power.

"Education has for its object the attainment of a scientific basis for observation and demonstration. Christian Science provides that basis by declaring that God is not a far off person, nor a personal at all, in the ordinary sense of the word. God is best defined to us through the use of the words Principle, Infinite Spirit, Good, Love. Recognizing this principle as Creator, we are obliged to acknowledge that this Creator is power and as in an infinite creation there can be only one creator, there is unquestionably only one power. This power is discernable through the ideas which reveal it and by means of Christian Science these right ideas of God, or of power, become not only the incentive of human endeavor, but the agency by which sin is overcome and disease healed. That such ideals should accomplished such results shoud not seem strange when we remember that they originate in the Infinite Creator, the one Spirit, or Divine Mind, and consequently must carry with them the power and presence, dominion and law which in Christianity, or true science, must be forever associated with the one God.

This clearly appears to be the method, the way, by which Christ Jesus accomplishes His wonderful works, and recognizing this fact we see more clearly than ever before that the Christ is eternal and ever available to mankind, and further, that the word Christ should not be associated exclusively with the personality of Christ Jesus, but with the enduring nature of His knowledge which was one with God. This was what he meant when he said: "Before Abraham was I am," and "Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world;" also what Paul

INTEREST IS TENSE AS CONTEST NEARS FINISH

Approach of the Last two Weeks Spurs Contenders to Bending of Every Energy in Rounding up Votes.

With the approach of the last two weeks of the Daily Press great summer Tours of Europe Contest, theinterest in the final result becomes more intense. The gaze of the contestants is fixed with growing eagerness not only on the splendid goal represented by membership in the travel party, but on the alluring special prizes; and they are bending every energy in corraling every last possible one of the subscriptions that mean so much in the vote.

Let no one think that the comparatively light vote cast this week means anything like a slackening of effort. None of the contenders who has been striving to get within grasping distance of the rich prizes that will fall to the share of the winners in this contest would dream of lagging now, as the last stretch of the race approaches. It is the usual thing in competitions of this sort, for a general falling off to follow the wind-up of such a tense sub-contest as the recent competition for the handsome jewelry prizes.

Contestants, striving to strike every blow that will tell in the battle for such special prizes as were included in the jewelry offer will throw in every last one of the votes in their possession leaving no scrap of the reserve votes that the strong contenders always like to hold against the inevitably hot finish. Most of the young women are now at work gathering other sheaves of ballots. Others, who have learned a thing or two about "approaching a prospect" and "closing a sale," and such other technicalities of the fine art of canvassing, are busily engaged in map-

STAR WITNESS IS MADE PARTY IN CASE AND FINED

Subpoenaed as a witness to the city court this morning to testify in the trial of Edward Miller, who was arrested yesterday for a violation of the Board of Health ordinance relating to the licensing of plumbers. Louis Goldstein was found to be responsible for Miller's offense and was fined $25.

Miller was formerly in the employ of Goldstein and while in his employ worked under Goldstein's license. After leaving his employment Miller alleged that Goldstein gave him permission to continue working under Goldstein's permit. When this fact was brought out at the trial, the charge against Miller was dismissed and a fine of $25 imposed on Goldstein.

Goldstein paid the fine before former District Court Judge William Newcorn, his counsel, arrived at the police station in answer to his telephone call. Mr. Newcorn expressed surprise at the action of the court, and intimated that the proceedings would be certioraried.

TRADING STAMPS DISCLOSE THEFT

Customer Discovers a Shortage and Saleswoman's Arrest Follows in Front St. Store.

HELD TO $1 OF THE FIRM'S

Poverty Drove Her to Dishonesty, Mrs. Mullock Tells Court, Which Is Moved to Release Her On Her Own Recognizance.

A customer's complaint over a shortage in trading stamps led to the arrest of Mrs. Agnes Mullock, of Dunellen, a clerk in a West Front street store, yesterday afternoon. She was arraigned in the city court before City Judge William G. DeMeza this morning and held under bonds of $50 on a charge of petty larceny to await the action of the Union County Grand Jury.

Mrs. Mullock had been clerking in the establishment for three weeks. Yesterday she made a $1.38 sale and sent only the 38 cents to the cashier. When the trading stamps came back the customer complained that she was short and in the investigation that followed the one dollar theft was discovered.

The woman's husband was in court. When bail was fixed he left the court room to sell his furniture in order to raise the money. The couple moved to Dunellen last October from New York, and since that time Mullock has not done a day's work. Their money all gone Mrs. Mullock was compelled to work, and she told the court she had been driven to dishonesty by need. Judge DeMeza's sympathy was moved when he heard that Mullock expected to sell his furniture in order to win his wife's release, and he freed the young woman on her recognizance.

SHOPMEN GIVE RECEPTION FOR DEPARTING PASTOR

The Rev. C. S. Kemble, of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, who is about to leave the city, was given a farewell reception last night at the Y. M. C. A. by a group of men from the Sauer Motor Works to whom he has been in the habit of making addresses. Mr. and Mrs. Parker were the reception committee.

Mr. Parker in a graceful speech, quoted appropriately from Henry Van Dyke's "The Legend of Service," to express the feeling of the men at the departure of the pastor. At the completion of his speech he presented Mr. Kemble with a book of poems by Van Dyke.

Later in the evening refreshments were served and motion pictures shown.

FIRE COMMITTEE STILL CONSIDER AUTO ENGINE

The councilmanic fire committee at its meeting, last night, considered at some length the question of converting the chemical engine at fire head quarters into a motor apparatus. A number of bids have been received from automobile concerns, including this city; the Locomobile Company the International Motor Company, o the Woodhouse Company, of New York, and others.

The bid of the International Motor Company, wich is a combination of the Saurer and Mack motor companies, was considered the most advantageous. Its bid is $3,700. The company agrees to make the changes according to plans and specification and the apparatus would be so constructed as to carry about 1,200 feet of hose, in addition to the tanks and other equipment; also a number of firemen. While no decision was reached last night, it is the belief that the committee will recommend that the contract be given to the local concern.

The committee also made arrangements with the Dunellen Coal Company to continue supplying coal for the fire department at $6.50 per ton. The old contract had expired with the company, but it signified its willingness to continue to supply the city with coal at the above named price. The Union Grain Company, of East Third street, was given the contract for supplying the department with oats at $1.55 a bag, while Joseph Harrigan was given the contract to supply the department with hay at $28 a ton.

Cake Sale Successful.

The cake sale conducted yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alexander Milne, on Willow Avenue, for the benefit of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A., was attended by a large number. All of the cakes found ready sale and the proceeds, $35, will be added to the treasury.

BUSINESS MAN TO TELL OF BOY SCOUT WORK

H. E. Shaffer, who is to be chief speaker at the Boy Scout meeting at Y. M. C. A. Hall Monday night, is field secretary of the Boy Scouts of America. He is a graduate of Blair Academy and Princeton University, at each of which institutions he was always prominently identified with Y. M. C. A. and settlement work. After leaving Princeton, Mr. Shaffer travelled extensively through Europe and in 1902 took up his residence in Porto Rico, where he remained for nine years engaged in railroad work. Beginning as private secretary to the manager, Mr. Shaffer within five years became the general passenger agent. While holding this position he promoted and organized the Porto Rican Express Company, and was the secretary and manager for four years.

H. E. Shaffer.

Mr. Shaffer has had a wide business experience, and is especially adopted to the organization work of the scout movement, which brings him into contact with the business men of the community. During the last year in Porto Rico he organized the scout movement and before returning to the States, he had organized 1,500 boys in different cities of the island.

Mr. Shaffer's lecture on the scout movement is most interesting and entertaining. Accompanying his lecture are 85 lantern slides which tell the story of a boy from the time he becomes a Tenderfoot until he is a First Class Scout, besides many views of the Scouts in their activities, such as camping hikes, tracking, marching, athletic sports and the like.

The choir will be as follows: Chas. L. Culick, organist and choirmaster; Miss Lillian Watt, soprano; Miss Mary Hubbell, contralto; Harry Heguer, tenor, and A. E. Betteridge, bass.

Grace Episcopal Services.

The Very Reverend Frank Du Moulin, D. C. L., of Cleveland, O., will be the special preacher at the evening service at Grace church, Wednesday, March 27. During Holy Week there will be services every morning, except Saturday, at 10 o'clock and every evening, except Good Friday, at 8 o'clock. Services will be held on Good Friday at 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning, 12 o'clock noon, 3 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The Passion service will be from 12 to 3 o'clock, with an address by Rev. Melville K. Bailey, of Grace church, New York.

Fire Chiefs to Meet.

The State Fire Chiefs' Association will meet at Paterson on Thursday, March 28, and Chief T. O. Doane, of this city, will be among the members attending. Additional interest is being shown in the meeting by reason of the fact that there is to be an exhibition of motor fire apparatus not only at Paterson, but in Passaic.

"Home Mission Sunday."

"Home Mission Sunday" will be observed at the Congregational church, tomorrow. At the morning service, Hubert C. Herring, of New York, will be the speaker. At 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a home missionary exercise by the senior and junior Endeavor societies.

The charges preferred against Captain George Feiring of the fire department by William Jaeger, a driver in the department, will be heard before the councilmanic fire committee on Wednesday night, March 27. This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee, last night, when Councilman F. L. Holt informed his colleagues that Captain Feiring, through his counsel, Judge W. G. DeMeza, had waived his rights to a public hearing. Corporation Counsel William M. Stillman wil represent the city at the hearing, which will be of a private character.

It is understood that the charges made against Captain Feiring involve a serious infraction of departmental rules of the department. Several witnesses in support of the complainant's charges will be given an opportunity to be heard on Wednesday night, and it is said, that Captain Feiring will also have several witnesses to testify in his behalf.

Several weeks ago Jaeger, the complainant, appeared before the fire committee on charges preferred by Captain Feiring and after an investigation, the committee imposed a nominal fine and transferred Jaeger from the West Second fire house to No. 3 house on West Fourth street.

GARAGE AND AUTO BURN LOSS $2,000-OWNER ESCAPES

E. B. Shoemaker's Stevens-Duryea automobile and the garage in which it was kept at his home on Kensington avenue, were totally destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock this afternoon. A still alarm of fire was sent in, but by the time the department arrived both the machine and garage were beyond saving. The loss is about $2,000.

Mr. Shoemaker was cleaning his car at the time. He had about finished his work and had shut off his engine, when the gasoline caught from a dormant spark. Instantly the machine was enveloped in flames and in a few seconds the garage was ablaze. Mr. Shoemaker escaped injury.

THIRD STROKE FATAL TO JOHN J. HICKEY AT 72

John J. Hickey, aged 72 years, a resident of this city for about forty years, died at 3 o'clock this morning at his home, 425 Spooner avenue, following a third stroke of paralysis three weeks ago. For many years Mr. Hickey was employed as a gardener by the late L. W. Serrell at his home on West Front street, and in recent years he held a similar position with C. W. Holland on West Seventh street. He always lived in the West End, where he was well-known by the residents.

Mr. Hickey was one of the oldest members of the T. A. B. Society. He is survived by a wife and four daughters, Mrs. William Spencer, Mrs. George J. Schroppe and the Misses Margareta and Nellie Hickey; also one son, William Hickey, all of this city. The funeral will be held at St Mary's church Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and the burial will be in St Marys cemetery.

Mrs. N. A. Saunders Buried.

The funeral service of Mrs. Nathaniel A. Saunders was held at her late home on Westervelt avenue at 8 o'clock last night. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends. The service was in charge of the Brethren, and brief addresses were made by F. C. Jennings and J. F. Parker, members of that religious body. The burial took place in Hillside cemetery at 10:30 o'clock this morning and the pall-bearers, four nephews of the departed, were Edward Hardington, Ivan Hardingham, Enoch Hardingham and Walter Sharrot.

SUSPECT WANTED BY N. Y. POLICE

Dougherty's Men Have Been Looking For Him Since Last Monday Night.

ATTEMPTED MURDER CHARGE

Negro Is Said to Have Fired Two Shots From Revolver At Opponent In Quarrel—Making Ready For Extradition Proceedings.

Word was received from the New York police this morning by Chief Kiely that George Jones, the negro arrested Wednesday morning at 1 o'clock in the eastern end of the city by Patrolman Sweeney as a suspicious character, was wanted in that city for attempted murder. Last Monday Jones, it is alleged, had a quarrel with another colored man and fired two shots at him. Since then the New York police have been searching for him.

A detective from the metropolis will arrive with a warrant for the negro today and he will be sent to the Union county jail to await extradition to New York. His capture by Patrolman Sweeney is a result of the police viligance aroused in the Eastern end of the city by the number of petty burglaries committed there recently. When examined at police headquarters after his arrest, Jones said that he had walked from Somerville and told a number of conflicting stories regarding himself. He was remanded three times to give the police a chance to trace his antecedents.

COMMITTEE ARRANGES FOR LATE COMERS AT DINNER

Inasmuch as the Chamber of Commerce dinner is to be held on Saturday night, March 30, it has occurred to the committee that a few of the merchants might find it inconvenient to be present at 7:15, the hour fixed, To meet this condition arrangements have been made to reserve as many tables as may be necessary for the late comers until 9:30 o'clock. In this way they will be able to enjoy the dinner and the speaking at the same time. The service at the tables of the late comers will be quick.

The committee in planning the dinner tried to get the speakers for Thursday night, March 28, but found it impossible. The only available date open to Governor Wilson and former Governor J. Franklin Fort, two of the principal speakers, was Saturday, March 30, and the committee felt compelled to change the date and accept the unusual opportunity of securing such able speakers.

REPORTED NOW THAT PASTOR WILL COME TO MONROE AVE.

Following the rumor that there was a possibility that Rev. Fred J. Hubach, of Phillipsburg, might not succeed Rev. C. S. Kemble, as pastor of the Monroe Avenue M. E. church, comes a well authenticated report that Mr. Hubach has not only accepted the call to the local church, but there is every reason to expect that the Bishop will transfer him from Phillipsburg to Plainfield when the conference meets.

The report that Mr. Hubach might not come here grew out of the fact that he had received a call to another church, and that strong efforts were being made to secure him for the other charge.

MAN MAY MIX BUSINESS AND RELIGION SUCCESSFULLY

"Can a Man Mix His Religion With His Business?" was the subject of an informal talk given by Rev. Dr. Frank MacDaniel, president of Pennington Seminary, before the Brotherhood of the First M. E. church, last night. In the opinion of the speaker, a man can mix his religion with business and he cited numerous instances to prove that some of the most successful rulers and Presidents of this country as well as Governors of States have been men who mixed religion with their business affairs.

Among those mentioned as being successful in this respect were Gladstone, Shaftsbury, President McKinley, former Governor J. Franklin Fort, Governor Woodrow Wilson and others. He cited several instances in the lives of these men to prove his assertion. Referring to Governor Fort's administration, Dr. MacDaniel recalled how he abolished strong drink from his headquarters at Sea Girt; also the State camp, until it became known as a "dry camp." He also told how the Governor regularly attended church while at Sea Girt, and assisted in the service by taking up the collection.

The speaker referred to the impressive scene at the death bed of McKinley, which proved conclusively to those present that he possessed a strong Christian characte- Dr. MacDaniel said that if a religion is worth anything it is worth being used and if a man cannot mix his religion with his business there is something wrong with the religion. He said that throughout the world men of prominence have at one time or another been called to take a positive stand in religious matters.

Again referring to Governor Wilson, the speaker said that he was a magnificent man morally. He cited an instance during Wilson's campaign when he refused to address a political meeting in front of a saloon at New Oxford, chosing another place further down the street. Dr. MacDaniel also spoke of the Christian atmosphere that permeates the Governor's home. In conclusion he paid a tribute to John Wanamaker and Mr. Osborn, who recently retired as State Prison keeper, as examples of strong Christian characters.

SILZER TUBERCULOSIS BILL PAST BOTH HOUSES.

Trenton, March 23.—Counties are compelled to care for tubercular sufferers under Senator Silzer's bill which was passed by the House. Representatives of the smaller counties maintained that the expense of constructing a hospital would be too great and they opposed the mandatory feature.

Mr. Holloway asserted that money is being freely spent for the construction of roadways and waterways and the victims of this disease should be thought of. Dellinger, of Camden, declared that his county was well able to build such a place but had neglected to do so. He strongly favored the mandatory feature.

Court for Family Squabbles.

Trenton, March 23.—Assemblyman Egan's bill giving the juvenile courts jurisdiction over disputes between husband and wife and parent and child, including neglect, was passed by the House. Senator Pierce's bill allowing dependent blind children to be brought to institutions in this State when bonds are given for their support was passed, as was that by Senator Silzer extending to two years the time within which action may be brought against railroads in case of injury or death.

MISSIONARY SUPPORTERS TELL OF MONEY-MAKING

Under the auspices of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church, a St. Patrick's Day entertainment was given at the home of Mrs. Gifford Cooley on Rockview avenue, last night. There were about one hundred members of the society and their friends present to enjoy the program.

Miss Margaret Goddard sang Irish ballads; Mrs. Maxwell Perkins gave several original monologues. The feature of the program was perhaps, the reading of an original poem by Miss Margaret McCutchen, in which the names of several members of the society appeared. Arthur M. Harris, attired in typical Irish costume, read the poem, and as the name of each member was read that person responded with an appropriate verse.

During the evening the members of the society told briefly how they had earned their contribution to the general fund. The various means of earning money included shovelling snow, mending and pressing trousers, baking and in self-denial. At the conclusion of the entertainment, Robin Brown read an original verse, thanking the hostess and all who had taken part in the program. During a social hour refreshments were served.

LAST OF THE LECTURES ON CARE OF CHILDREN

The last of a series of lectures under the auspices of the Plainfield Mothers' Association was delivered yesterday afternoon in the Plainfield High School by Dr. Norman H. Probasco. All of the series have been on the care of children at various ages.

Dr. Probasco's topic was, "Childhood and Adolescence." His remarks were as free as could be of technical terms and when these were necessary they were fully explained. It was replete with simple suggestions and easily applicable information in handling the development of growing children. He was greeted with a large audience, many mothers being present who have become interested in the broad work the association has undertaken.

PISCATAWAYTOWN CHURCH FEELS BURDEN OF WEALTH

Papers in Newark, Perth Amboy and other cities of the State are discussing the position of St. James P. E. church at Piscataway, which, as told, has just come in for a legacy of $66,000 under the will of Miss Ellen H. Cotheal, a former resident of the vicinity.

The following printed under a Metuchen date line, is from the Perth Amboy Chronicle:

"Too much money! That is the complaint today of old St. James' parish in the hamlet of Piscataway-town. The parish has so much money and so few ways of spending it that the rector, the Rev. Dr. E. B. Joyce, and his congregation do not know what to do with it.

"The historic Episcopal church in the New Jersey town has only forty communicants. Not long ago it received a bequest of $40,000. What to do with this was somehting of a puzzle, but the vestry was even more at sea when Dr. Joyce announced at service that Miss Ellen H. Cotheal, of New York, a member of the old Rhinelander family, who died a year and a half ago, at the age of 76, had left the church $60,000.

With more than $106,000 in its treasury, the church is much embarrassed, for it does not need the money at all. There is no need of a larger church, the hamlet is prosperous and there are no poor to be cared for. It cannot take up any institutional work, for all the girls are taught to sew and cook at home, the boys need no training such as city churches give in their institutions and all the church clubs are flourishing financially.

All the vestry can see to do now is to invest the money in various securities, but that will only add to the burden of wealth.

THE HUMAN PROBLEM

meant when he admonished us to have that mind which was also in Christ Jesus.

Mrs. Eddy discovered Christian Science for the simple reason that she was able to do it. To be the discoverer of a science that no teaching outside the spirtual meaning of the Bible has ever hinted at, demanded the highest altitude of discernment and appreciation.

"Today Christian Science stands stronger than ever, though the great leader of this movement is no longer personally at the head of it. Indeed, she knew, and prophetically said, that it would need no personal leadership, for the Divine principle perceived and demonstrated in the hearts of Christian Scientists throughout the world, constitutes the true leader which can never change nor pass away, and which is revealed to men and make practical through teaching of Christian Science as discovered by Mary Baker Eddy."

PLAINFIED, NEW JERSEY, MARCH 23, 1912.

The editorial columns of this paper are conducted on Saturdays by representative citizens who are free to express their own views. Richard Moldenke, M. E., Ph. D., of Washington Valley, one of the leading metallurgists in America and recognized internationally among engineers as a foremost authority on iron and steel, is the contributor today.

THE INDUSTRIAL PROBLEM.

In spite of the wonderful progress of civilization, there is no denying the fact that we have come upon evil days. Where there should be thankfulness for the material comforts of the age, there is discontent; where a prudent economy should conserve our natural resources to their utmost limit, we have unbounded waste. In plain words, we are living an artificial existence, and this bodes ill for the future of the Nations of the world.

As in these Saturday Editorials the personal views of the contributors are given, may I in a preliminary way justify the rather strong statements on the Industrial Problem which will follow, by claiming them through inheritance as well as personal contact with practically all phases of the subject. When one's maternal ancestors have fought with Frederick Barbarossa in Palestine, and those paternal have suffered religious persecution since the Reformation, and thus the inherited inclination toward bigoted warfare against freedom of thought is well balanced. When one has been in the midst of industrial achievement as well as the concommitant industrial warfare, one is apt to consider both sides of the problems presented fundamentally, to strike hard at the open and concealed evils, and to strive for rational and practical methods of solving the existing difficulties. I have therefore no delusions regarding the supposed inherent goodness of human nature in industrial life, whether this is claimed for the heads of great corporations when testimony is given on the consideration meted out to employes, or for blatant labor leaders who prey upon the oft deluded workingman.

The Industrial Problem, with its many component issues, has come about as changes in our ways of living took place. Perhaps therefore, by contrasting the present state of affairs with the fundamental work of our empire-building fathers, we may get to know the "why" of things, and as a consequence devise possible modes of procedure to counteract the deplorable conditions existing.

I once heard Andrew Carnegie tell his audience of steel manufacturers and experts that the present predominance of our country industrially is due not only to our wonderful resources, but to the indomitable spirit of our early immigrant-pioneers. When a family on the other side became uncomfortably crowded—the opportunities for business advancement being comparatively limited—the most active and enterprising sons would come over here. Thus a splendid stock of men laid the foundations for their eventual prosperity and distinction. To my mind Mr. Carnegie struck the nail on the head. "Individualism" has made this country great. Every one had to make his own way, and not all of our fathers took the modern way of doing it. Then men while struggling for themselves helped their neighbors, today they step upon them. Then we had no use for demagogues, men were too busy building up the country. They stopped only at times to fight for their liberties against aggressors from without and within. It was the American idea.

Then came the great European social upheaval, and from it the unprecedented influx of immigrants, many of whom remaining in our cities slowly but surely implanted that "Unamerican" idea which today is the curse of our civilization—namely, "Collectivism," whether in high places or low. In the meanwhile, however, the rush of crude labor accustomed to low standards of living was too great a temptation for their countrymen who had come earlier not to exploit, and soon the descendants of our pioneers followed suit. Capital and labor went widely apart, and are wider apart today than ever, in spite of all the platitudes one hears and reads. Industrial life expanded tremendously, as profits were big in the early days. Next came the Tariff with its hundred years of expansion condensed into ten. Colossal fortunes—most of which will not stand close investigation—were made. The man behind the gun wants what he thinks should be his share, and there we are.

Now what may be the remedy:—I feel that the only way to avoid the social revolution that is steadily coming closer, is to work for more genuine, effective, honest publicity. With this to foster general and industrial education in every possible way. These two general suggestions require some further explanation. Let me ask the public some questions, and see if you cannot hit the right answer in your own minds.

Some few years ago a very small group of men—but owning nearly all the visible iron ore supplies in the country that count—got together at a private dinner, and the result was the announcement later of a two dollar raise in the price per ton of iron ore. It was claimed that the cost of mining had increased, prices were too low anyhow—in fact they were not getting "theirs." What was the consequence: It takes two tons of ore to make a ton of iron, hence four dollars was added to the base price of one of the greatest commodities of the world, or some fourteen dollars a ton did it now cost to make pig iron where formerly it was ten dollars. Get your children to figure the percentage added as a result of that little dinner. If you had men in both houses of Congress who had the knowledge, and in addition the real regard for the rights of the plain everyday citizen, the next day after the announcement should have seen the passage of a bill cutting off all duty from iron ore. Was this done? Was this point even brought in the recent investigations? No. But if you let the loud-mouthed practical politician, who sits in the back room of saloons, make and unmake your representatives, who is to blame? This little dinner, let me tell you, cost the American people as a whole eighty-five millions of dollars the next year.

Again, you remember the much discussed and heralded "Gary Dinners." Prices were to be kept stable, the millenium was approaching. A great combination of capital—the greatest ever formed—arrogated unto itself the unmaking of the laws of supply and demand. For some time it went, until that corporation found that the independents were getting the better of the deal—then demoralization—as could have been expected. Instead, however, of all hands around taking their share of the bad times, and letting the price of living go down—yes even with soup houses if they had to be—and when things got brighter, as was bound to come everyone would feel prosperity; today we are in a condition with industry in a bad way, and the cost of living at the highest notch. When the history of this century is written, these years just past will be pointed out as of the most colossal industrial errors of judgment.

Now as to the other side. My professional work brings me into close contact with the iron industry as a whole, and the foundry in particular. Would you believe it possible in this land of the free that in Lawrence, during the scenes of outrage there, men working in plants beyond the affected districts, actually carried passes signed by the strike leaders, allowing them to go through the picket lines of the strikers unmolested. What has become of our boasted constitution? The right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The McNamara matter seems to have been taken as a matter of little moment after the press got through with it. Haywood, whose conscience must be a blistered affair, still holds a place on the public platform.

The coal situation is a deplorable one, but it might interest those who read these lines to know that I have time and time again passed through the coke and coal regions of this country in the course of professional as well as governmental investigations, and never have I missed the passing of the wagons piled high with empty beer kegs early in the morning. House after house furnished its quota of one or more kegs. You can draw the moral yourself.

Now there is where publicity comes in. The industrial press is published in the interest of the industrial public. There is no hope for the general public there. The labor press looks after interests just as selfish. The general public pays the bill in both instances. The general press is to a unit almost swayed by politics. Where—in Heaven's name—does the general public come in? Do you hear so much about the Recall? About the Initiative and Referendum? Is this not the expression of a yearning on the part of the people to govern themselves? They feel something is wong somewhere? Maybe they are wrong, but just think it over.

And what does it all mean. More and better education, and again education. We must be trained to think, and when we do, we are not apt to believe everything that is told us without investigating for ourselves. The industrial problem will only be solved through publicity and education. All over the country there is a movement for better industrial education. Look here again, and see what influences are at work. The manufacturer is strong for this movement. But see what he wants. Boys to be so educated that they have manual dexterity. If this is all, then let the manufacturer pay, and not the public. The labor unions are strong for this movement, if they can control it. Again the selfish interest, for who has yet seen the leader who advocates multiplying men to take the available jobs. Perish the thought!

What we must look forward to is that our public school system takes the lead and gives vocational teaching which grounds the pupil in the "principles" of the work he expects to follow in after life. Neither the representatives of capital nor of labor should do anything else but advise. The people, through their representatives, should direct.

Here you have my views. You may differ with them or agree. If they have set you to thinking, I have been well served.
